

STYGIAN DARKNESS AT GRAND CENTRAL

New York's Negro Population
Turns Out En Masse to Greet Their Idol.

POLICE PROHIBIT PARADE

THOUSANDS OF BLACKS IN AUTO-MOBILES, STREET CARS AND
ON FOOT FLOCK TO WELCOME
"DAT JACK JOHNSING MAN."

New York, July 11.—One hundred and twenty-five policemen were called out today to control the thousands of negroes that gathered at the Grand Central station to welcome Jack Johnson, heavyweight champion of the world. The police under Inspector Walsh, were on hand to keep the madly enthusiastic welcomers in order and to prevent race riots.

Refused permission to hold a parade, as they had planned, the negro leaders who had called every man, woman and child of their race they could muster, were on hand with all available automobiles, prepared to hold an impromptu procession.

Johnson's train from Chicago was nearly an hour late because of the wreck at Newton Hook, N. Y., but that merely gave the opportunity for the late ones to get into the crowd and work up enthusiasm. Before the negro fighter was on the outskirts of the city, the great black crowd was as wrought up as if the occasion had been a Class A revival meeting.

Sixteen thousand circulars had been distributed by the reception committee in every negro settlement and quarter of the greater city. This dodger read:

"To every colored man, woman and child in Greater New York:

"Be at the Grand Central station at 9:30 Monday morning and let us all shake the glad hand of the stalwart athlete, the greatest of the 20th century. Come any way you can. Come in vehicles or on foot. Come any way. Only be sure to come.

"All be there!"

"The Committee." They all came, from the looks of the Grand Central depot. Stygian darkness would look like sunlight compared with Fifty-second street today.

Every automobile that could be rented, bought or commanded by negroes within fifty miles of Broadway, was on hand. In the city there are two negro proprietors of taxicab garages and they stood ready to loan their cars if they couldn't rent them. But they rented them without difficulty. Besides their machines, there were all of the 75 automobiles owned by negroes in New York.

When the blacks began to gather, a fringe of whites formed, and the police had difficulty in keeping Caucasians on the move. There were several small clashes before Johnson arrived, but the culprits were whisked away posthaste.

THREE DIE IN WRECK

Express Train on New York Central Flies Into Ditch at 60 Miles an Hour.

DEAD WERE ALL TRAINMEN

(American News Service) Newton Hook, N. Y., July 11.—Fireman Jim Tyndell and Fireman Bob Holes, both of Rensselaer, N. Y., and Jack Ray, of Croton, bagagemaster, were killed and scores of passengers badly shaken up when the Buffalo express, which left New York over the New York Central at midnight, was derailed and wrecked near here early this morning. Holes was scalded to death beneath the engine. Ray was killed by flying trunks in the baggage car while Tyndell jumped, but died while surgeons were sawing his leg off on the grass beside the tracks. A car door which had failed to the tracks from a south bound freight caused the wreck. The Twenty-sixth Century limited, on which Jack Johnson was a passenger, was delayed several hours in consequence.

Ben Price, John Bayer and Arthur Burr will go to Detroit tonight at 9 o'clock to attend the Elks national convention which opens tomorrow for a four days session. The local delegation will line up with Indianapolis in their attempt to get the 1911 national convention. Boston and Atlantic City are the only contenders. Richmond delegates favor August Herrmann for national president. So far Herrmann is the only man in the race, but a dark horse is expected. Walter Eggemeyer, the delegate from the Richmond Elks, went to Detroit on Saturday.
