CUTICURA CURES
STAY CURED

First Father is Cured of an Eruption that Burned and Itched Day and Night. Then Baby is Cured of a Distressing Rash.

Neighbors Pleased to Find a Sure Cure for Skin Afflictions.

"I suffered for eight years with what the doctors called the 'seven year itch.' This was like small red pimples such as form on the face but they burned and itched, day and night. These pimples were from my ankles up, but made me unable to stand on my feet. I saw a doctor after doctor but their medicines brought no relief. But at last I struck the right treatment — this was Cuticura. I bought a set of the Cuticura Remedies — Cuticura Soap, Oil and Ointment and the applications brought relief. When I had used about half the set I was nearly cured and after using two full sets I was well and best of all, I have stayed cured."

"About four months ago, our baby began to be covered with rashes and his skin would scratch till it bled. He worried, cried and could not sleep. Then we bought a set of Cuticura and a few applications of the salve and liniment to the baby stopped worrying and could sleep. The rash had gone and we had no use for any more as baby was never troubled with the disease again. The neighbors who saw the condition of the baby all asked what cured him and we told them Cuticura. They all agreed and planned to find a sure cure for these skin afflictions. Edward H. Carter, 322 North 37th St., Camden, N. J., Mar. 6, 1910."

A small set of Cuticura Soap and Ointment is only $1.00. Send for the free catalog and treatment for afflictions of the skin and scalp. Sold throughout the world. Foster Drug & Chem. THE SCRAP BOOK Caught Him Both Ways.

While Chauncey Olcott was chatting with a friend on Broadway, New York, one day a young man whom he had noticed in conversation with two other men in front of a theater left his companions and, crossing the street, said:

"I beg your pardon, but are you Chauncey Olcott?"

"No," responded the comedian; "I'm his brother."

"Then I lose my bet," exclaimed the stranger, darting in front of a car and running his companions.

Mr. Olcott saw him hand one of the men a bill, and, not wishing the stranger to lose his money, he started in pursuit to explain. But there was a rush of traffic at that moment and he lost sight of them.

An hour or so later Mr. Olcott was walking up Broadway when the same young man approached him with another man.

"Are you Chauncey Olcott?" asked the man.

"Yes, I am, and I want to say that when I told you a little while ago I was not I didn't know you had a bet on it."

"Well, I'll be blown!" exclaimed the stranger as he turned disgustedly away. "That's two bets I've lost on you this afternoon. I just bet Jim here a five spot that you weren't Chauncey Olcott, and I thought I had a cinch."

Anticipation.

It is a mystery of the unknown. That fascinating "We are children still, Wayward and wistful. With one hand we cling

To the familiar things we call our own. And with the other, resolute of will, Grope in the dark for what the day will bring."

—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Honesty.

I was sitting at my desk when black Sam, who sometimes waits on me at my restaurant, entered my office.

"What can I do for you, Sam?" I asked.

"Ah got a chance to change mah situation, Misses Clark," he said. "Yo' kin seah a good wif' fo' me, can't yo' tell 'em Ah'm honest 'n' sicht."

"Of course," I hesitated, "you're a good waiter, Sam, but I don't know anything special about your honest."

"Well, tell 'em dat an' say yo' thinks Ah's honest. Dat'll be enough."

So I promised I would.

"Thank yo', thank yo', Misses Clark," he said, with a deep bow.

"When yo' come over tomorrow sit at mah table, 'n' Ah'll give yo' a shot check." —Success Magazine.

The Break in the Fog.

There had been half a dozen stories of thick fog, but Captain Mansfield had waited his turn with patience. It came at last, and the other captains turned their weather beaten faces toward him with an expression of cheerful credulity.

"Was told me of a house setting pretty nigh the shore along halfway down the coast of Maine," said Captain Mansfield. "I could show you the house if it came right. It has a curiously lopsided portico on it, and one day I asked the man that lives there why it happened to be built that queer shape."

"Well," says he, "the talk is that the man who lived here first had a cousin that was an architect up Boston way, and one time the fellow was down here in a terrible foggy spell, and he was figuring out to his cousin how he could build a little portico of such and such.

GOLDSBORO

HEARD FROM

A Lady Who Lives in Goldsboro Joins in the Chorus of Praise for Cardui, The Woman's Tonic.

Goldsboro, N. C.—"A physician treated me for many distressing symptoms," writes Mrs. Etta A. Smith, "but gave me no relief."

"I suffered with neuralgia around the heart and was troubled at times with my head. I had pain in my left side, bowels, left thigh, shoulders and arms."

"After taking Cardui, I am now well and can recommend it to other suffering women."

Just such doubtful symptoms, as those from which Mrs. Smith suffered, are the ones for which it will pay to take

Cardui, the woman's tonic.

It is at such times, when there is nothing to show, for certain, the real cause of the trouble, that you need a tonic, to give the body strength to throw off the illness that evidently threatens.

Take Cardui, when you are ill, with the ailments of your sex. Take Cardui as a tonic, to prevent illness, when you feel it coming.

Your druggist keeps it.
