FOOD FACTS

What an M. D. Learned.
A prominent physician down in Georgia, went through a food experience which he makes public.

"It was my own experience that led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients that the food is a wonderful rebuilding and restorer of nerve and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients always gain just as I did in strength and weight, very rapidly.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely and go to the mountains of this state, but two months there did not improve me; in fact I was not quite as well as when I left home. My food did not sustain and it became plain that I must change, then I began to use Grape-Nuts and in two weeks I could walk a mile without the least fatigue and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life."

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers I consider it my duty to make these facts public."

"Trial 10 days on Grape-Nuts when the regular food does not seem to sustain the body will do miracles."

OF INTEREST TO GIRLS.

An exchange publishes the following of interest to girls and prospective brides:

Sensible girls whose position when married will be a comfortable middle class one, will be well advised not to indulge in a long honeymoon. The ideal wedding tour should be short, quiet and not expensive. There are many comfortable hosteries in the quiet beauty spots where a young couple can enjoy each other's society undisturbed by the quizzing glances usually leveled at a nervous bride when she makes her appearance at a crowded table d'hote, says Home Notes. A wise bishop said: "As long honeymooners * * * they are a waste of money at a moment when every shilling is wanted for much more pressing objects; they are a loss of time, which soon comes to be dry and weary. Six days by all means and then, oh, happy friends, go straight home; and the sooner you are at home the sooner you will find out what married happiness means."

WEDDING IN DAYTON.

A partial account of a brilliant wedding celebrated in Dayton and which is of local interest is as follows: The most brilliantly beautiful wedding that has been recorded in the annals of Dayton society in many seasons was that celebrated Tuesday evening at the First Presbyterian church when Miss Charlotte VanAusdal, the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Ausdal of Plymouth avenue, and favorite granddaughter of Mrs. H. H. Weakley, of West Second street, was united in marriage to Neal Bradford Farwell, a lieutenant in the United States navy, passed assistant paymaster, assigned to the paymaster's office of the United States navy, in New York City. The wedding was the culmination of a very pretty romance and delightful courtship, and was one of the very happy events celebrated in this city in a long time.

Ever since her debut into society, Miss VanAusdal was one of the most popular of the leaders in the exclusive social set. Her beauty and board will be called on the green carpet tomorrow and friends of the governor say that if matters turn out as he has heard that they will indulge in one of those old fashioned tongue lashings for which Tom Marshall has been noted in Northern Indiana in days past, but which he has not used very liberally in the last few years. Governor Marshall can say the meanest things of any man in the state if he takes a notion to break loose and go after him, as is well known to those who have known him for years and who have seen him in action.

Spaunhurst Wants Redress.

Spaunhurst is preparing to appeal to the governor for redress against the board, and already he has taken up the question with the attorney general.

An effort has been under way for some time to have the governor remove Dr. G. S. Smelser of Shirley, one of the regular representatives on the board and preparations were almost complete for Smelser's withdrawal so it is said. Dr. Wishard, who is chairman of the council of the association of regulars in this state, was one of the chief objectors to Smelser, and was aiding the governor in adjusting this phase of the state board muddle. The resignation of the entire membership of the state medical board would not be a surprising result of this latest tangle. The members are W. A. Spurgeon, Muncie; James M. Dinnan, Foti Wayne; W. T. Gott, Covington; M. S. Canfield, Frankfort; S. G. Smelser, Shirley; J. F. Spaunhurst, Indianapolis.

Reed Takes Responsibility.

Dr. Reed of the Indiana university school of medicine states in an interview that he was the author of the petition. He says he gave it to a member of the graduating class with the request that he get the signatures. The report of Spaunhurst made to the governor, aroused the chief executive, as he is a close personal friend of Dr. Wishard, and was looking to Wishard to help him clarify the medical board atmosphere, rather than to add to its murkiness. The governor was riled as he has not been riled before since he took office, and it is said that there has not been as much tension in the governor's office before since Governor Hanly called the recalcitrant members of the legislature into his office and informed them that they had to pass the county option bill. It is expected that the members of the
