REGULARS PROMISE TO SUPPORT WHOLE
TICKET IN INDIANA

Speaking for that branch of the Republicans, James E. Watson declares there will be no split.

STAND-PATTERS WILL STAND BY THE PARTY

This course assured, even though a Republican Legislature means the return of Beveridge to the Senate.

Indianapolis, July 15.—"I am exceedingly anxious to see our state ticket successful this fall and I urge on my friends the necessity of standing together for that purpose. I am equally solicitous for the welfare of our legislative ticket, and whatever I can do, either publicly or privately, looking to either result shall be done."

This declaration made by James E. Watson in his speech at the First district republican congressional convention at Boonville yesterday, is in itself the answer to those who have been saying that the standpat republicans of Indiana were going to knife Senator Beveridge this year. Watson, James A. Hemenway and Winfield T. Durbin are the most prominent leaders in that element of the party which does not believe as Beveridge does on the tariff question, and an utterance by any one of the three is taken as representing the views of that section of the party. This is not the first time that Watson has made the same declaration. Some weeks ago he expressed himself as ready to go out and work for the success of the entire republican ticket, state and legislative, but even after that declaration had been made there were still those who believed that he did not mean it.

However, his statement at Boonville made yesterday, is taken here as additional proof that whatever of factionalism there was in the party some time ago has to a large extent disappeared, and there is every indication now that harmonious conditions will prevail throughout the campaign.

It is recognized that the stand taken by Watson in his Boonville speech does not mean that he loves Beveridge any better than he has ever loved him, but it means that Watson proposes to stand regular with his party in the Indiana state fight, just as he insists that he has stood regular with his party on the tariff question and in other national matters. To defeat Senator Beveridge it would be necessary to elect a democratic legislature, and this would send a democrat to the senate in the place of Beveridge. It has not been reasonable at any time to suspect that Watson, Hemenway and Durbin and the other republicans who believe with them would prefer a democratic senator to Beveridge.

Beveridge Praised.

Another indication in this same direction was given at the Boonville convention yesterday, when Hemenway insisted that the resolutions commend Senator Beveridge's course and his vote on several of the important matters which were before congress at the last session. Some of the politicians wished to ignore Beveridge by failing to mention his name in the resolutions, but when Hemenway heard of this he headed it off, and as a result the resolutions gave praise to Beveridge for his work for the statehood bill, child labor legislation and other matters. The Payne-Aldrich tariff law was not mentioned by name, being referred to as "the present tariff law."

The declaration by Watson will do much to clear up the political situation, for it shows that the republicans will present a united front this year instead of the demoralized, split-up condition which the democrats have been predicting.

Along this same line it is pointed out that the republican state committee is carrying on the work of organization of the party to the fullest extent and that the committee realizes the need of a close organization. At the state headquarters Secretary Hays is working out a plan by which he can keep in touch with all of the 3,700 precinct committeemen in the state as well as all of the sub-committeemen who will be appointed to work with the precinct committeemen. Through these committee members he believes he will be able to reach every doubtful voter in the state, and this is a very important feature of campaign work.

Party Workers Interested.

Many of the committeemen have already called at the state headquarters and there is scarcely a day that some of them do not come in. Secretary Hays says he takes this as a good indication that the party workers are interested in the success of the party at the election and that they are getting ready to do real work when the campaign is opened in earnest. ARGUE DUBLIN CASE

Remonstrators Against Closing of Center Street Are Waging Strong Fight.

RAILROAD MAKING A FILL

Arguments against the vacation of Center street in Dublin for the benefit of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, will be made by attorneys representing Martha Butler in the circuit court tomorrow morning. Stella Oler, another property owner in Dublin who remonstrated against the closing of the street, had her case submitted in part this morning, but no decision was rendered by Judge Fox.

The railroad company is making a large fill in Dublin in carrying out its double tracking improvements. It wishes to avoid the construction of concrete arches over all the grade crossings and has asked the circuit court to declare several of these vacant. City in the instance of the remonstrance against the closing of Center street has the company encountered any difficulty. In the remonstrance of Stella Oler many technicalities of law have arisen.

TELLS ROOSEVELT OF THIRD TERM TALK

Leading Republican from Nebraska Visits Ex-president With His Message.

"FROM MEXICO TO DAKOTA"

FORMER AMBASSADOR TO BRAZIL
DECLARES THE MIDDLE WEST
DEMANDS THAT ROOSEVELT
ACCEPT NOMINATION AGAIN.

New York, July 15.—David E. Thompson, of Lincoln, Neb., former ambassador to Brazil and later to Mexico, today visited Theodore Roosevelt to tell him that the far middle west is solid for a third term, according to reports from Thompson's lieutenants.

When he called at the Outlook office the contributing editor greeted him effusively with a strenuous slap on the back and talked rapidly for some moments to the exclusion of a hundred others waiting for an audience.

Thompson declared he had not time to lay his idea fully before Roosevelt but would seek another opportunity later.

"From the Dakotas to Mexico," he said, "the sentiment for a third term is strong. I came on to lay the idea before Mr. Roosevelt. I have covered the territory closely through my political friends and know what's what."

Thompson quit the Mexican ambassador last December after he had become president of the Pan-American Railway in Mexico. Much criticism was aroused because of his official position when he became interested in the railroad. He started his career as a brakeman.

DEMOCRAT IS NAMED

Indianapolis, July 15.—Harry Darling, editor of the Laporte Argus-Bulletin, was today commissioned by Governor Marshall as a member of the state pardon board, succeeding John J. Gillette of Lagrange. Darling is the first democrat ever to become a member of the board.

HE BEAT A BOARD BILL.

Marshal Dan Drischel of Cambridge City brought Jack Donlin to the county jail this morning to lay out a fine of $9 and costs assessed in a "Squire's court for beating a board bill of $8."

FIRST WHEAT SOLD

Clem Miller, Southwest of the City, Brings in Newly-Threshed Product.

SELLS AT NINETY-FIVE CTS.

Wheat was harvested on the farm of Clem Miller, southwest of the city, yesterday and the first new grain of the season to be sold in the city was disposed of by Miller to the Richmond Roller Mills. It graded No. 2 and was of good quality for this grade. It weighed 59 pounds to the bushel. Although all of Miller's crop has not been threshed he expected the crop to average 16 or 18 bushels to the acre. No. 2 wheat is now selling for 95 cents a bushel.

SERVICES AT BOSTON.

Services will be held at 11 o'clock on Sunday morning at the Boston Universalist church. The Rev. L. P. Jones will preach.

MOVES TO RETAX COST.

A motion to retax the costs in the case of Alice Shew, widow of the late Matthew Shew, against Lee Pitman, on replevin action was filed in the circuit court this morning. The petitioner avers that several witnesses claimed fees which should not have been allowed.

S. R. O.

Today we are carrying a lot of advertising.

There's a practical lesson for some one's profit if he'll come around and look at our composing room.

The stones are all full and the hook is full of copy.

Some men who wanted to advertise are left out today.

They didn't get their copy in early enough and there is a limit to our capacity even.

As a rule we can stretch the capacity to the breaking point.

BUT IT STANDS TO REASON THAT WE GIVE BETTER SERVICE WHEN THE ADVERTISER GIVES US TIME.

Some men put off advertising to the last minute.

The most successful advertisers in this town prepare their copy ahead of time, have their position, read their proof, and do not have any changes to make.

It's the difference between a seat in the Fifth Row on the Aisle and Standing Room Only.

A LITTLE FORETHOUGHT WILL GIVE YOU THE BEST SERVICE.

In our composing room we have the best ad compositors in this part of the country. They do their work exceedingly quickly and intelligently. It is natural that when they have time for a job and good clean copy—it's the advertiser who profits.

Growth of City Principally in the Extreme Southern and Eastern Parts—Will Have New Mail Carriers.

Extensive building as well as the scarcity of suitable houses in Richmond are reflected in statistics gathered by Lawrence Handley, superintendent of the city mail delivery, with a view of securing the appointment of two new mail carriers at the Richmond post office. Since October 1, 1908, 447 new buildings have been added to the post office directory, making the total number of stops approximately 6,000. A great majority of these new stops are residences.

The bulk of the new building has been in the extreme south and east portions of the city and in West Richmond. Route No. 11, covering the south and east parts has been increased by 94 houses in the last twenty-one months, while during the same time, 128 houses have been constructed on the west side. Route No. 10, north of Main and east of Seventeenth street has been increased by 50 houses. On North F street, from Seventeenth to Twenty-third street, 19 new residences have been constructed and all of these homes are well built.

Ask Two New Carriers.

Postmaster E. M. Haas will make an application to the post office department for two new carriers as soon as Handley gets the statistics in shape.

At present, the city delivery includes Spring Grove and much other territory just outside the city limits. The limits are being extended in Spring Grove, the same as in the south and east, and if new carriers are obtained the city delivery will be extended to meet the demands. No extension can be made, however, until new carriers are provided. Mr. Handley says, however, that he does not expect the appointments to materialize until the fall season when mail increases.

Approximately 25,000 people are now benefited by the city delivery.

In the course of his investigation, Handley has found that there is a great scarcity of houses obtainable at a low rate of rent in Richmond. For this reason the factories are having difficulty in holding labor for any length of time, and he said that there is a change in the laborers at many of the big factories every day. Men come to Richmond and work for a time, but as they are unable to find houses with rent in proportion to their pay, they cannot bring their families and hence stay only a short time.

Suggested Remedies.

The South Side Improvement association has recognized this fact and attempted to organize a company to build cheap houses in Beaverville, but the proposition did not materialize as no stockholders could be obtained.

Adolph Blickweld, president of the association, stated yesterday that the matter was not entirely dead and might be revived. The National Automatic Tool company of Beaverville, had a large number of men under contract to come, but no houses could be found for them.

COMPLETES PAYMENT

South Side Improvement Association Will Turn Over
Last $5,000 of Bonus.

SECURED NEW TOOL WORKS

The final payment of $5,000 on the building occupied by the National Automatic Tool Works in Beaverville, will be made to the Industrial Realty company, who constructed the building, by the South Side Improvement association at its meeting Tuesday night. Adolph Blickweld, president of the association, stated this morning that the money would be raised by Tuesday night if possible. The Industrial Realty company was organized by men interested in the Tool Works. A bonus of $20,000 was given by the South Side Improvement association, to be paid in for parts. There will be other important business at the meeting Tuesday.

Society Leader Leaves Newport

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish. The Newport cottage settlement mourns

Mrs. Fish's decision to abandon Newport this season for her country home at Garrison, N. Y. Her absence will be felt socially, for no matter how bright or dull a season might be, Mrs. Fish by her original entertainments was a Newport fixture. Mrs. Cornelius is now hailed as the colony's new leader.

A LEGACY OF DEBTS LOVE AND MEDICINE

Estate of Late Matthew Shew of Cambridge City Found to Be Insolvent.

WAS FORMERLY WEALTHY

Insolvent to the extent of $5,000 is the estate of the late Matthew Shew of Cambridge City, at one time reputed to be worth several thousand dollars and one of the leading saloonists and politicians of the county. Today a petition of the administrator, Frank C. Mosbaugh, of Cambridge City, to set aside the estate as insolvent was approved by Judge Fox of the circuit court. The deceased died in May.

According to the petition filed in the probate court none of the unsecured claims have been allowed, but there is $175.50 worth of claims pending settlement. In addition the incumbrance of the estate includes about $4,500 worth of claims not as yet filed. The decedent's other debts consist of a mortgage for $3,000 on real estate which is of the probable value of $3,500 and a tax lien against the property for $69.31. The widow, Alice Shew, is allowed by the statute to take $500 as the widow's share of the estate.

In addition to the real estate the decedent's personal property, which was largely vested in his saloon, was valued at $2,136.65. The administrator is permitted to apply the personal estate to paying off the mortgage indebtedness, while the residue of the estate will be pro rated among the holders of unsecured claims.

VERDICT OF SUICIDE

A verdict of suicide will be returned by acting Coroner J. M. Wampler in the case of Mrs. Mary Saunders, the insane woman who threw herself in front of a Pennsylvania train at the asylum yesterday. No blame will be attached to the attendants who had charge of the woman. The body was taken to Anderson this afternoon to the home of Frank Saunders, a son. Burial will take place from his home Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

FOREIGN SUPPLY OF NATURAL GAS
IS NOW ASSURED

Syndicate Which Obtained Options on Property of Richmond Gas Co. Will Take Over Holdings Tomorrow.

STOCKHOLDERS WILL GET OVER $100,000

Natural Fuel Will Be Piped Into Richmond Mains from West Virginia Fields, Via Hamilton.

An important meeting of the stockholders of the Richmond Natural Gas company will be held tomorrow morning at which time the question of disposing of the property and franchise rights of the company to Henry C. Starr of Chicago, and James P. Goodrich of Winchester, and C. W. Hooven of Anderson, will be considered. A meeting between E. F. Hatt of the Dickinson Trust company and representatives of the probable new owners of the plant was held today at Indianapolis.

If the transaction is consummated, the city will be supplied with natural gas from the West Virginia fields as will also Hamilton, O., and other cities between here and the fields. Anderson was considered but it is understood that it will not ask the company to extend the lines to that city at the present time.

Options on practically all of the stock were secured by H. L. Ashby, representing the Starr-Goodrich-Hooven crowd, several weeks ago. Although the options did not call for the purchase or reversion of the stock until August 24, the plans are to take charge of the property tomorrow. The distribution to the stockholders will be made through the Dickinson Trust company. The aggregate sum to be paid for all the stock on which options have been obtained will amount to over a hundred thousand dollars.

At the meeting tomorrow, Starr, Goodrich and Hooven will attend and make known their propositions to the stockholders. The meeting is to be held at 10 o'clock at the Gas Company office, 43 North Eighth street. Secretary E. G. Hibberd said today that he did not know what would be done tomorrow. The notice calling the stockholders together states that it is for the purpose of authorizing the sale of any part or all of the property, rights and franchises of the company. Other business which may arise as a result of the meeting will be considered.

Inasmuch as options on the greater portion of the stock have been obtained, it is expected that no opposition will be offered by any of the stockholders to the sale of their holdings, even though they refused to give options.
