

BALLINGER GETS WHITWASH COAT BY A CLOSE VOTE

Majority Members of the Congressional Investigating Committee Vote to Clear Him of Charges.

FIVE HELD HIM GUILTY OF ALLEGATIONS MADE

Madison and the Democratic Members Insist Pinchot and Garfield Were Justified in Their Case.

Chicago, July 18.—John Callan O'Laughlin in a Washington dispatch to the Chicago Tribune says a wise, honest, conservative official, entirely qualified to discharge the duties of the secretary of the interior and fit to be trusted with the interests of the people of the United States.

This sums up the finding of the majority of the joint congressional committee which for five months has been making an exhaustive investigation of the conduct of affairs of the interior department, and also of the bureau of forestry of the department of agriculture. The investigators who concurred in these findings, which constitute a condemnation of the course of Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester; James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior; and Louis R. Glavis, former chief of a field division of the general land office, will be found to be the following:

Senator Knute Nelson, Minn., chairman.
Senator Frank J. Flint, Cal.
Senator George Sutherland, Utah.
Senator Elihu Root, New York.
Representative Samuel W. McCall, Mass., vice chairman.

Representative Edwin Denby, Mich.
Representative Martin E. Olinstead, Pennsylvania.
Minority reports disagreeing with the foregoing findings will be made by:

Representative Edward H. Madison, Kas.
Senator W. E. Purcell, N.D.
Senator D. U. Fletcher, Fla.
Representative Ollie M. James, Ky.
Representative J. M. Graham, Ill.

Nelson prepares the report. Madison is a republican and the last four named men are democrats. The Chicago Tribune correspondent has learned that since the adjournment of congress the members of the investigating committee have been drafting reports and their conclusions in the famous cause.

The basis of the reports for the majority was prepared by Senator Nelson and for the minority by Representative James. Mr. Madison is writing his own opinions. It is understood that the results of the labors of Mr. Nelson and Mr. James have been submitted to the members of the committee for criticism and for addition. By the time the committee reassembles on September 10 it will have in practically final shape the reports which it will make. It is intended to give the reports to the press without delay in order that the charges shall not be uttered that the republican party deliberately suppressed the findings because of the fear of the effect upon the impending congressional campaign.

The report of the majority will be what the friends of Gifford Pinchot have expected for some months. It will be found to be a long resume of the testimony of numerous witnesses and deductions therefrom.

Holdings of Majority Report. The majority report will declare: That Mr. Ballinger is a wise, honest, conservative officer of the government.

That Mr. Ballinger acted entirely within the record and displayed proper judgment in his attitude with respect to the Cunningham coal claims.

That Mr. Ballinger was justified in his criticism of the reclamation service. That nothing was developed to prove any monopoly or improper granting of water power sites.

That Mr. Ballinger was justified in abandoning the policy of Mr. Garfield, expressed in a "co-operative agreement" whereby absolute control, management, and direction of certain employees in the Indian service were given over to the forestry bureau of the department of agriculture.

TO FACE THE MUSIC

(American News Service)
Evansville, Ind., July 18.—John W. Burns, former city attorney of Rockport, Ind., was arrested at the home of his attorney, W. B. Mason, at Rockport this morning, but was later released on a thousand dollar bond. After Burns disappeared a month ago it was alleged a twenty-thousand dollar shortage was discovered in his accounts. He went to Texas, but his conscience drove him back to "face the music."

FATHER OF THE YOUNG WOMAN TODAY ISSUES A PATHETIC APPEAL TO HIS DAUGHTER TO RETURN HOME.

(American News Service)

London, July 18.—The police today abandoned, for the time being at least all hope of finding in America, or England, Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen, wanted in connection with the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, and the hunt for the American doctor and Ethel Clare Le Neve, his companion, is being concentrated on the continent. Paris is the center of interest, and the British authorities have requested Prefect Lepine of the Paris force to ransack every quarter and suburb of the French capital. The man is thought to be disguised as a woman. This and the direct result of the reporting of the first definite clew the police have received since the physician disappeared on June 9. Although in some quarters the clew is regarded as of small importance, the leaders of the search believe in the truth of the statement that the couple were seen in Dipeppe on July 12 and entrained there for Paris.

Had Little Evidence. Though the inquest was set for today, the police had little evidence at hand upon which to act. Under the direction of Sir Melville Macnaghten, head of Scotland Yard's criminal investigation department, additional information has been sent to the police of every continental city, and in America as well, informing them that Crippen may have disguised himself as a woman. The first description of the fugitive said that Miss Le Neve might be dressed as a boy. The father of Miss Le Neve, having made an open plea for her return, today reiterated his belief that Crippen had hypnotized the girl or done away with her.

"If she saw my letter, she would come to me," he said. His appeal reads: "Dear Ethel—Should this letter by any chance come before your notice, I fervently appeal to you with all a father's and mother's love to return to London or to give yourself up to the police authorities of whatever country you may be in. Every hour you are away you make your situation terribly worse for yourself. Do wire me instantly. I assure you of my devotion and protection through this trouble."

"Your affectionate Dad."

Free at Home. The funniest thing is a married man paying money to hear a lecture—Cleveland Leader.

Helen Gould, the amount of publicity given to her family last week has been most distressing. While the divorced wife of Frank Gould was busy dodging detectives, said to have been employed by her former husband to keep watch over her movements, prior to her marriage to Ralph Thomas, Katherine Clemens Gould, the "grass widow" of Howard Gould, was in court pleading irresponsibility for a tradesman's bill. The pittance of $32,000 a year she receives from her husband as alimony is not quite enough, she thinks, to maintain an establishment for a member of the Gould family. From across the water, the Princess Perigord de Tallyrand (Anna Gould) is reported to be much concerned over a rumor which has recently reached her that Helen Gould intends making the two children of Frank Gould, the heirs to her millions. The Princess de Tallyrand has four children, three by Count Boni Castellan, her first husband, and a baby by her present consort, Prince de Tallyrand. She has counted upon her offspring sharing in the millions of her sister, and the suspicion that this is not to be the case is said to have greatly disconcerted her of late. It is no secret that the Princess de Tallyrand has lost most of her influence with her relatives, especially with the two stalwart oaks of the Gould family—Helen and George. Her marriage to the Prince de Sagan, now the Prince de Tallyrand, for many years regarded as one of the most polished nakes in Europe, against the earnest entreaties of her brother and sister displeased them immensely. Helen Gould has taken a deep fancy to the two pretty children of her brother Frank and has arranged to take care of them for him during the six months of the year when the court allows them to be in his custody. With no apparent regrets at the parting, their mother—now Mrs. Thomas—sailed for Europe Tuesday on her second honeymoon. While in Paris, it is probable that she will meet her former husband, who not to be undone by his ex-wife took unto himself another spouse last week—a but-tercup of the footlights. Young Gould has bought a string of race horses and from now on intends to spend his immense fortune in developing a stable which he says will be the best equipped in the world, to draw down the big purses at Chantilly, Epsom Down, and elsewhere.

Paris, July 18.—Fifty thousand troops were today rushed by special train to every strategic railroad point in France following the authorization of a general strike by the National Railroaders Union Central committee. Deserctions from the railroad ranks at many places were reported today. The general strike will involve 100,000 men.

Every mile of railroad will be protected as far as possible, the government protesting by the night attacks made during the telegraphers' strike. Special trains provided with searchlights will be run over exposed lines at night.

Minor clashes were reported within a few hours of the final action by the labor men here late last night. It is believed on all sides that the strike will prove one of the worst in the history of the republic with far greater effects than the postal strike of a few months ago.

A Special Meeting. A special meeting of several cabinet members, who as minister of the interior, has the situation in his hands. The minister of commerce, labor, posts and telegraph and war, respectively MM. Dupuy, Viviani, Millerand and Gen. Brun, were called upon for advice for the premier. President Fallieres is deeply interested in the situation and requested to be kept informed of every development.

WOULD NOT AUTHORIZE ISSUANCE OF BUILDING PERMIT UNTIL PLANS WERE INSPECTED—RATES PROVIDED.

A building ordinance, drawn up by the Commercial Club, is in the hands of the ordinance committee of council and will be ready for presentation within a few weeks. City Attorney A. M. Gardner says that Richmond has been in need of such an ordinance for many years because many buildings here are being constructed without proper supervision. Besides the construction of buildings the ordinance establishes the office of building inspector and fixes the fire limits of Richmond. The ordinance has over forty pages and is very complete.

By the new ordinance all building permits are taken out after specifications and plans of the structure to be built are approved by the building inspector. The rate for permits is one cent for each hundred cubic feet of volume. Permits for building or altering houses is not to be less than $1.00 while house moving permits can not be taken out for less than $5. Special temporary permits must not be less than $1. For improvements which can not be classed by volume, the rate is 50 cents for each $500.

A section of the ordinance deals with material which is to be used in construction of buildings. The quality of brick, lumber and metal, strength of the building and tests for material as to strength are given. Provision for the depth of excavation in different classes of buildings and tables for the thickness of walls are included for buildings of from one to six stories. Instruction for building chimneys, electric light wiring and fire-protection devices are outlined.

ROOSEVELT WILL GIVE PRAISE TO PRESIDENT TAFT

Semi-officially Announced the Ex-president Will Shortly Indorse Administration of Successor.

WANTS MORE PRUNING OF THE TARIFF RATES

He Will Touch Lightly Upon the Ballinger-Pinchot Controversy—Will Act to Save the Party's Defeat.

(American News Service)

Oyster Bay, July 18.—Theodore Roosevelt will come out with an indorsement of the Taft administration before starting on his speech-making trip through the west. This is the word that comes today from a semi-official source.

Roosevelt will not go so far as to praise unreservedly his successor in the White House, but in the main he will place his stamp of approval upon the president. Roosevelt believes that in a large measure Taft has tried to follow out "my policies." He will indorse the president's fight for lower tariff but will make it plain that the president's endeavor has not gone far enough. Roosevelt will suggest that the tariff be submitted to another pruning so as to get it in line with promises made by the republican party in the last presidential campaign. Concerning the Pinchot-Ballinger controversy, it is expected Roosevelt will stand fast. While Roosevelt is a steadfast admirer of the former forester, whom the president removed, the colonel is declared to have had some understanding with Taft as to controversy which developed while Roosevelt was in Africa.

Gets Ballinger's Scalp. The true in the Pinchot-Ballinger matter is said to have been patched up while Roosevelt was at Beverly. Roosevelt still stands by Pinchot as an aggressive advocate of the ex-president's conservation policy.

It is regarded here as certain that before Roosevelt makes his utterances indorsing the Taft regime, the ex-president will have the resignation of Secretary Ballinger. Roosevelt will be actuated in making his indorsement, it is stated here, to avert what he considers the possibility of a defeat of his party this fall, with divided ranks. In recent talks the ex-president has indicated that he is trying to draw opposing elements together. In his second speech making tour, starting in September, Roosevelt will talk for both insurgents and regulars and he wants it to be understood that he is not taking sides in the war of the administration and anti-administration forces. Roosevelt dictated more than a hundred letters to his secretary today, replying to invitations to drop off and make speeches at various cities along the line of his itineraries for his two trips.

He will make no stops, he said today, other than those already scheduled.

NEW YORK'S POOR ARE ON INCREASE

There Is Constantly Multiplying Demands for Assistance There.

MANY WIFE DESERTIONS

PARKS, BY THE ORDER OF MAYOR GAYNOR, HAVE BEEN THROWN OPEN TO UNFORTUNATES AS SLEEPING PLACES.

(American News Service)

New York, July 18.—While the rest of the country is prospering, poverty continues on the increase in New York according to the New York association for improving the condition of the poor. Coincident with the constantly multiplying demand for assistance reaching the organization there is a noticeable increase of wife desertions. A white oppressive burden to many, the excessive heat of the last month in New York has been a blessing to the homeless hordes of men and women that daily and nightly fill the parks of the city. A visitor to any of the pleasure grounds any evening will find thousands of these unfortunates stretched upon the grass asleep. Mayor Gaynor's recent order removing the signs, "Keep off the Grass" which have for years been a barrier to the use of the parks for sleeping purposes has proved a grateful relief to the poor derelicts, helping to lighten the burden under which they struggle. Tagging at the apron strings of half-dressed mothers may be seen famished children, whose pinched and wan little bodies would wring the heart of the world's most unimpassioned stoic. The solicitude of the poor women for their little ones is inspiring to those more fortunate in this world's goods. With their little brood trailing after them you can see the mothers going daily from door to door asking food to put into the empty little stomachs. When nightfall comes, back to the sheltering parks treks the little cavalcade. When the day's search for food is unfruitful, you'll find the worn mother in the breadlines at midnight waiting for the warm loaf distributed by kindly persons to the unemployed. Its a spectacle that chills and forces upon one the awfulness of that low estate to which humanity can sometimes descend, when like the mongrel dog in the street, it has to forage for its sustenance and from house to house for its sustenance and find rest upon door steps and in the city parks. By way of contrast the customs house this week reported the receipt at this port for the last ten months of diamonds valued at $46,000,000.

ARGUMENT BY BOND

Attorney William Bond, representing Mrs. Stella Oler, of Dublin, a property holder who will be damaged by the vacation of streets in Dublin by the Pennsylvania railroad company, presented argument in the case this morning in circuit court. Attorney Bond pointed out that by an act passed in the state legislature in 1907 it would be unlawful for the company to vacate the street. He said it would be sacrificing the rights of one property holder for another. He said the law by which the company is attempting to proceed is unconstitutional. Final arguments will be made Wednesday morning when the court will take the case under advisement. The Dublin property owners expect to win their case.
