

FALL FESTIVAL TO HAVE HIPPODROME

Contract Signed with Barnes Theatrical Exchange of Chicago Today.

WILL BE A GREAT FEATURE

THIS MEANS THAT PATRONS OF THE FALL FESTIVAL WILL HAVE AMUSEMENTS DURING THE IDLE HOURS.

"Final papers were signed this morning," said Charles M. Marsh, representative of the Barnes Theatrical Exchange, Chicago, as he was leaving his hotel at noon, "which will give Richmond's Fall Festival one of the best hippodrome performances offered any place in the country at present. The fact that we have engagements at Indianapolis for the state fair and at Dayton for their festival, is instrumental in securing the acts for Richmond at a figure, which I must admit could not be considered under ordinary conditions.

"This is our first organized advance into this section of the country and if our success in other localities is to be a prototype, I think the patrons of the Quaker City event will be more than delighted with our efforts to amuse and entertain them.

"The meeting Monday afternoon in the offices of Attorney Reller, was particularly pleasant. The consideration for the acts is $2,000."

What Reller States.

In speaking of the proposed plans for the festival of this year and of the main feature, the hippodrome, Mr. Reller said:

"The committee in charge of this branch of the work believes they will take such a step in advance of former years that this year's festival will be one rather difficult to reproduce later. Our main center of course, is the hippodrome and after several months of casting about, it seems chance has given us something far in excess of our expectations. Should this act fall below its representation the committee will be more disappointed than those who will patronize it. Our efforts for months has been to secure features which will appeal to the people."

The exact location of the hippodrome amphitheater has not been decided upon by the committee but that it will be in the central district is the mutual idea. The seating capacity will be for 4,000 persons. Mr. Reller says efforts are being made to secure an air ship exhibition.

The hippodrome will consist of the following acts: Chefoo, feat of looping the loop and flying the flame; Scheppe's Dog, Pony and Monkey show; the Four Amessens Troupe, a head and balancing act; Signor Goshell, equiblist; the Three Raschetta Bros., barrel act; the Zamora Family, aerial act; the Warwicks in a trick club house act, and a colony of clowns.

Appetite Gone

Indigestion is the Cause of It—Get Rid of It.

People go on suffering from little stomach troubles for years and imagine they have a serious disease. They over eat or over drink and force on the stomach a lot of extra work.

But they never think that the stomach needs extra help to do extra work. If these people would take a Mi-o-na stomach tablet with or after meals it would be a great help to the stomach in its strain of overwork.

Mi-o-na is guaranteed by L. H. Fibe to cure indigestion or any stomach disease or money back.

MAXIM'S MAXIM.

Modest Claims Often Carry More Conviction Than Loud Boasts.

When Maxim, the famous inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be considerably below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a triumph of surprise instead of disappointment as it might have been if he had overestimated his gun's efficiency.

Fruits and Nuts in Commerce

Washington, July 19.—Fruits and nuts valued at 458 million dollars have passed through ports of the United States during the last ten years. Of this amount, 285 million represents the value of imports from foreign countries, 156 million exports to foreign countries, 12 million receipts from non-contiguous territories of the United States, and 5 million shipments to those territories.

The value of fruits and nuts imported into and exported from the country in the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1910, was in round numbers 55 million dollars, of which about one-third represented exports. A compilation made by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor states the year's imports of fruits and nuts at 36 million and exports at 19 million dollars.

A study of the commercial movements during the last decade or two develops the fact that domestic production is rapidly supplanting certain classes of fruits, formerly imported in large quantities. This applies especially to raisins, prunes and oranges. Certain other lines, in which local production is still insufficient to meet home consumption, continue to increase in value of imports; notably bananas, figs, walnuts, coconuts and almonds.

Comparing the imports of the year just ended with those of one and two decades ago, imports of fruits and nuts as a whole have increased from 21 million dollars in 1890 and 19 million dollars in 1900, to about 36 million dollars in 1910. Oranges, which in 1890 showed a total importation of 2 million dollars had by 1900 decreased to 1 million and by 1910 to less than 100 thousand dollars value. Raisins in 1890 were valued at 2 million dollars, in 1900 at a half million, and in 1910 at less than one-third million dollars. Prunes showed in 1890 an importation of 1 1/2 million dollars; in 1900, 48 thousand dollars, and in 1910 even less value. Lemons were imported in 1890 to the value of 3 1/2 million dollars; in 1900 were 3 2/3 million, but in 1900 decreased to 3 million, or less than the figures of 1890. On the other hand bananas valued at 4 2/3 million in 1890, increased to 6 million in 1900, and nearly 12 million in 1910. Almonds, valued at less than 1 million dollars value in 1890 and 1900, showed in 1910 imports to the value of more than 3 million dollars. Coconuts in 1890 were imported to the value of $22 thousand dollars; in 1900, 703 thousand, and in 1910 were about 1 1/3 million dollars. Walnuts, first separately enumerated in 1903, have increased in value of imports from a little over 1 million dollars in that year to 3 1/2 million in 1910.

On the export side a far more rapid growth has occurred since 1890. In that year the total value of all fruits and nuts exported from the country was but 4 million dollars; in 1900 the total had increased to nearly 12 million, and in 1910, about 19 million dollars. The principal articles contributing to this growth are apples, prunes, oranges, raisins, apricots, canned fruits and nuts. Exports of dried apples have increased from 1 million dol-

RASH APPEARS AGAIN.

Summer Eczema and Hot Weather Skin Troubles Demand Prompt Treatment With Poslam.

All skin troubles which are prevalent in hot weather—rashes, inflammations, so-called summer eczema, itching spots, hives, pimples, etc., demand the use of poslam for their prompt eradication. Their causes are found in overheated blood, skin irritation, digestive disorders, etc. In some persons the eating of fish or berries in certain months always brings them on. For clearing the complexion, red or inflamed noses, sunburn, mosquito bites, burns, etc., poslam should be used in preference to aught else, surprising results being noted after a single application.

The readiness with which poslam heals small surfaces and minor troubles is but an indication of its rapid action in curing eczema, tetter, scabies, itch, etc., on hands, limbs, scalp or any part of the body.

A special 50-cent package of poslam is prepared for minor uses, and this, as well as the regular $2 jar, is on sale by all druggists, particularly W. H. Sudhoff's.

But a free sample, which will afford a convincing test, may be obtained by mail, by writing to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th street, New York City.

supplies most of the imports. Raisins formerly coming in at the rate of 2 million dollars per annum, chiefly from Spain and Turkey in Asia, have practically disappeared as an article of importation, and as above indicated, are now becoming an important article of export.

Kaid Belton, the young English officer who, at the age of twenty-six, became commander-in-chief to Mulai Hafid and helped him win the throne of Morocco, has had a stranger-than-fiction career. At nineteen he received his commission for bravery in South Africa, soon after achieved his captaincy in Somaliland, entered Mulai Hafid's service in 1908 and now everybody in Morocco calls him "the kingmaker."

Paulhan, the French aviator, pronounces his name as if it were written "Panyan" and not "Paulhan." The name of another magnate of the flying world, Archdeacon offers still greater difficulties to the French tongue, and it is said to be rare to find two Frenchmen in a company pronouncing it the same way.
