MOORE IN COURT
BESEECHES WIFE
TO MAKE A TRUCE

After Woman Had Deluged Him With Vile Allegations He Stepped from Stand and Pleads With Her.

SHE ASKED ALLOWANCE
BUT COURT DENIED IT

After Ruling Had Been Made Moore Again Approached Wife Who Will Consider Petitions He Made.

Successful in the fight waged by his wife for support, Jacob S. Moore, after being deluged with a flood of vile, licentious allegations, stepped from the witness stand yesterday afternoon and said: "Cora, Cora, won't you come back—if not for me—just for the children?"

With an upturned twitch of her features, a sarcastic laugh, Mrs. Moore flounced from the chair beside her counsel and walked into the corridor.

Through her attorney, Will Reller, Mrs. Moore petitioned for a weekly allowance of $12 and a certain portion of the $285 which her husband had in bank. Judge Fox held for the defendant. The decision no more had been pronounced than Moore accompanied by Attorney John F. Robbins started to leave the court room after his appeal to his wife.

Seeks Out His Wife. "Wait a minute, lawyer," said Moore, "I'm going to talk to my wife." "Better not," laconically advised Mr. Robbins.

Moore sought out his wife and after she had secured permission from Attorney Reller to talk, the husband and wife with their lawyers went into consultation.

"If you will come back, Cora," pleaded Moore, "I'll pay all the costs of this case. Everything I have on God's earth is the team of horses and that $285 in bank. Come back and we will start anew. Come for the children's sake." The woman after some time of persistent argument told him she would take a week to arrive at his decision.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore are the parents of six children; the oldest 19 years and the youngest 4 years of age.

Hurling sensational charges against her husband, Mrs. Moore revealed in their relation while on the stand. With compressed lips and a determined, vengeful look on her face she recited alleged ill-use after ill-use.

Would Do His Best. Moore when placed on the stand repeatedly averred that if his wife would come back he would do the best he could to make her life pleasant.

"Judge, I'll do what God will allow me to. Why after my wife left me this last May, Nellie, our little eight year old daughter stayed there with me. She cooked, she swept, she watched the younger children while I took out teaming. And the little girl took ill; I had to work, we had an awful time."

The testimony of both sides was spotted with the name of John Moon, brother-in-law of Mrs. Moore. Although no direct evidence was offered which closely implicated this man with the matrimonial difficulties of the two, his influence seemed to have been the point on which the difference gained its birth.

HE LOST BET; DIES

Chicago, July 23.—Harry Michaels, secretary of the Michaels Furniture company, killed himself because of the loss of a $10,000 bet on Jim Jeffries in the Jeffries-Johnson Reno fight of July 4. This developed today at a meeting of Michaels' creditors. He shot himself at his desk after receiving a telegram telling of his loss, while his brother from New York was waiting to see him. At the time of the suicide, ill health was given as the reason.

RAILROAD PRESIDENT
AN ALLEGED SUICIDE

Ira G. Rawn, president of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville railway, the Monon system, who was found shot through the heart in his summer home at Winnetka, a suburb of Chicago. The police scout the family story that a burglar did the shooting. The coroner stated that the bullet was fired at close range, in fact so close that powder marks were found on the night clothes and also imbedded in the flesh. Friends and business associates of the dead man say that he had been looking badly for several weeks and believe that he was much worried over the investigation of the conspiracy by which the Illinois Central railroad claims it was mulcted out of hundreds of thousands of dollars. The case is now going on in court.

CITY WAS INVITED

St. Paul Wants Richmond to Attend National Municipal Meeting.

GREAT TIME IS ASSURED

An invitation to the fourteenth convention of the League of American Municipalities at St. Paul, has been received by the city administration. The meeting takes place August 23 to 26. St. Paul intends to have the biggest convention in the history of the league and is making elaborate preparations for the event. An auto excursion will be the feature of the first day; the second will be spent in Minneapolis; a municipal parade will be held on the fourth, and an excursion on the Mississippi river will be held on the final day.

Among the best authorities in American will discuss many subjects of municipal importance among which are home rule for cities, government by commission, simplified city government, what other cities are doing, and lines in which some cities excel.

The invitation will be read at the next meeting of council and it is probable several men from here will attend.

SHERIFF IN FLOOD

Just because Sheriff Meredith had to wade through three feet of water yesterday morning to arrive at his work laden desk, an indignation meeting of the several county officials was held. A night watchman is to be had, that is, of course, providing the aforementioned rolled officials can influence the county commissioners.

Some time during Friday night a safety water cock broke just above the sheriff's office and allowed a dribbling stream of water to penetrate into the Wayne county secret service headquarters.

"If there had been a sucker any place in that pond, I would not have minded the flood," boomed Meredith of Williamsburg.

Not since the court house has been in public use has there been a watchman or other person to guard the place at night time. It is rumored that the open doors offer hidden and safe trying places where the youth and other exuberant individuals of the city congregate during the darkened hours.

REPUBLICANS IN OHIO ARE FOUND
AS PROGRESSIVES

Poll Taken by a Cleveland Paper and Announced Last Evening Show Leaders Are Roosevelt Backers.

GARFIELD IS FAVORED
OVER ALL CANDIDATES

Poll Also Shows That Convention Delegates, Opposed to Garfield, Will Control All the Delegates.

(American News Service) Cleveland, July 23.—In a newspaper poll taken among prominent republicans of Ohio and of delegates to the republican state convention the rank and file of Ohio republicans of Ohio are shown as progressives in full sympathy with Roosevelt policies and favor James R. Garfield for governor. The poll further shows that a majority of delegates will be voted by the bosses for anybody to beat Garfield and the nominee to be picked by Senator Burton, Wade Ellis and George B. Cox.

KINKADE IS OUT.

Toledo, July 23.—Judge Reynolds R. Kinkade of Toledo, who is said to have been President Taft's and Theodore Roosevelt's choice for the republican nomination for governor, today issued a statement declining to be a candidate under any circumstances. Nicholas Longworth now is to lead the opposition to Judge Brown.

Political savants think they see a possibility of Mr. Roosevelt swinging his influence to Longworth for the gubernatorial nomination in Ohio as a dark horse candidate. "He came out for Robinson, his nephew, in New York state," they argue. "Why not for Longworth in Ohio?"

In view of the mixed up situation in Ohio, the visit of Longworth is anticipated with eager interest.

CASHIER IS THIEF

(American News Service) New York, July 23.—The theft of $80,000 in securities from the Russo-Japanese bank was committed by the cashier, Erwin Wider, according to an announcement by the bank officials today. It is added that he had confessed. His present whereabouts are unknown.

Attorney Goldman of the law firm of Steinhardt and Goldman, representing the bank, said: "I can not say whether a warrant for Wider's arrest has been issued. It is sufficient to say that the man has confessed. The matter is being thoroughly prosecuted."

(American News Service) Weehawken, N. J., July 23.—Five masked men tonight held up the New York, Ontario and Western passenger train outside the city limits. The four robbers entered one of the coaches from both ends.

Two stood in the forward end of the car and covered a score or more passengers with revolvers while the other two advanced from the rear and proceeded to go through the pockets of the passengers. The four robbers sprang from the steps before the train stopped and dashed off in the darkness.

ROOSEVELT CALLS
LOUDLY FOR HELP

Ex-president Is Swamped with Letters and He Wants Halt Called.

REQUIRES TOO MUCH TIME

TO ANSWER ALL OF HIS CORRESPONDENCE AND BESIDES HE REALLY HAS SOME OTHER WORK TO TRANSACT.

(American News Service) Oyster Bay, July 23.—"Help" was the cry that went up from Sagamore Hill, the home of Theodore Roosevelt today. He requested that less letters be sent to him, in order that he may have time for conducting his other affairs.

"I am simply swamped with correspondence," he said. "It would take all the time of my secretary for the next month to begin to answer the letters I have been getting daily. I can reply to only a very few of them and as it is, I must work on Sunday to do this."

Average of 180 per Day. Since his return Mr. Roosevelt has received no less than 5,000 letters and telegrams, an average of 180 a day. This batch includes nearly 2,000 invitations to make speeches. Thus far he has arranged for nearly fifty addresses, including those he is to make on his western and southern trips, beginning with August 22.

Among the visitors expected at Sagamore Hill next week is Congressman Nicholas Longworth, the ex-president's son-in-law. His proposed trip is said to bear in the fight in Ohio. Mr. Roosevelt desires, for one thing, to talk with the congressman concerning the platform to be presented by Longworth in the state convention in which the Taft administration is to be endorsed.

REBELS ARE ACTIVE

Washington, July 23.—Revolutionists under Estrada are waging an aggressive campaign against Madrid in Nicaragua, carrying the war into Madrid's territory, according to reports received at the state department today. Consul Olivares states that in an engagement between revolutionists and government troops at Comatape, about 400 revolutionists and as many government troops were engaged. The casualties on both sides were heavy before the revolutionists were routed. Gen. Valdez, a Madrid follower, was killed. A series of sharp conflicts is reported between the two factions in Granada and Managua within fifty miles of Managua, the capital.

FOIL THE BANDITS
BUT A PAYMASTER'S CLERK WAS KILLED IN THE FIGHT WHICH RESULTED.

CONSTABULARY ON TRAIL

(American News Service) Kittanning, Pa., July 23.—Frustrated in an attempt to secure $5,000, masked bandits today shot Horton Craig, a paymaster's clerk. Feeling they were cornered in an abandoned mine by state constabulary, the robbers threw up a barricade. It is believed that the same criminals this morning chloroformed the family of John Lockhart at Moose Grove, four miles from here, and ransacked the whole house. Lockhart, his wife and three children were found in a critical condition.

The attempt to get the $5,000 was made in an attack on the paymaster of the Widnoon Coal Mining company who had two weeks' wages of the miners. A pitched battle followed the holdup.

H. M. Hammond, president of the board of works, made an inspection of bridges of the city yesterday and finds new floors will be placed on both the North Tenth street and Doran and that the North Twelfth street and Main street bridges needed repairing. DEMOCRAT MAYORS
TO MAKE CHOICE

City Executives of New York Are to Help Name Man for Governor.

THIS DECIDED SATURDAY

NEW YORK DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE HELD A LONG CONFERENCE YESTERDAY REGARDING THE CAMPAIGN.

(American News Service) Saratoga, N. Y., July 23.—A conference of the democratic mayors of New York state will be called to help choose a candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination in September. This announcement was made by Chairman John A. Dix of the democratic state committee, at the close of the new executive committee this morning. The conference lasted until 2 a. m. and at its conclusion Chairman Dix said:

"The conference is merely for the purpose of getting together and getting acquainted. The political situation was gone over and each one present expressed his views."

"No reference was made to candidates or the place and time of the state convention. Another conference will be held early in August, either in New York or Albany. "It is also planned to have a conference of the thirty democratic mayors. In September a general conference of all democrats will probably be held in New York."

Other members expressed themselves as well pleased with the conference. They said that the whole situation had been discussed in a full and free manner.

While the discussion of candidates was tabooed, there were plenty of booms around the hotel. Congressman Sulzer was there championed by Col. Alex S. Bacon.

John F. Dailey of Rochester advocated James S. Havens of Rochester, the man who beat Aldridge for governor. The name of Martin S. Glynn, former controller, was mentioned and his friends say if they want a man with a record Glynn is the one to be chosen.

DENIAL BY HARAHAH

(American News Service) Chicago, July 23.—President Hara denied today the rumor that he or any official of the Illinois Central railroad had received a letter from Rawn a few days before the latter's death which had to do with the revelations of graft in the Illinois Central railroad and contained an intimation that the writer contemplated suicide.

HALF A MILLION
WOMEN MARCH IN LONDON STREETS

Greatest Demonstration of Its Kind Ever Seen in British Capital Promoted by Suffragettes.

FIFTY MASS MEETINGS
HELD AT HYDE PARK

Many American Women, Including Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Took Part in Parade—Had a Jiu Jitsu Corps.

(American News Service)

London, July 23.—Half a million women marched through the streets this afternoon to urge the woman's suffrage bill recently passed by Parliament but laid over for an opportunity to be heard. Never before in history had there been such a demonstration of women. Police lined the streets and at many points the spectators gave trouble.

The march of suffragettes terminated at Hyde Park, where nearly 200 speakers addressed fifty mass meetings, attended by the half million marchers and the crowds. There were many American women present, including Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont. The parade resembled the great demonstrations of the uniformed men, and a prominent feature was the suffragette band, neatly attired in a distinctive dress.

The Place of Honor.

The place of honor was held by the 617 women who have been imprisoned as the result of the agitation. Addresses were there too, more than 800 strong, and women in the professions, doctors, lawyers, nurses, newspaper women and others from many divers walks of life went singing along the line of march.

It was an international demonstration, every country of Europe and all the colonies being represented.

Banners in every language were carried. Most of them, however, were in English and there number was beyond counting. Some were carefully guarded. These were the "battle flags," the banners and transparencies carried in previous demonstrations in which the police took a hand. Scotch women had their share in the procession as did the Irish. The latter were clad in green.

The suffragette Jiu Jitsu corps, which has been recently organized for the preservation of order at public meetings, marched as special guard of honor to Mrs. Pankhurst and her two daughters, leaders of the cause here.

The rear guard was composed of the suffragette cavalry, uniformed and well mounted. The marchers were apparently well received for the most part. The parade is believed to be of great significance as giving the political leaders a line on the public's attitude toward the recent bill which led to the demonstration—that of giving the franchise to 1,000,000 women property holders.
