BLINDING A SHARK.

A Pearl Diver's Ruse by Which He Made Good His Escape.

A successful diver must possess great courage and nerves of steel. Such a man connected with a large wrecking company was visiting some years ago the pearl fisheries in the Gulf of California, where sharks abounded. On one of his trips in quest of the pearl oyster he had a narrow escape from a fearful death.

He had been instructed never to stir from the bottom until he had looked up and around. Fortunately he heeded the advice. Having filled his bag, he glanced quickly about and caught sight of a huge shovel nosed shark watching him.

In an emergency men think fast. Near the diver was a large rock. He moved quickly to the other side of it, hoping to dodge the ferocious monster, but the maneuver did not work. The shark watched every movement, changing his position by a slight motion of his powerful tail.

Time was precious, and the diver conceived the idea of blinding the shark by stirring up the mud. Under cover of that he might escape. He worked for dear life and had the water thick with mud in less than half a minute.

Slipping around the rock again, he rose to the surface, having barely strength enough to reach the side of the boat, and was hauled on board just as the voracious man eater made a rush for him.

AUTO STRUCK A CAR

Chicago, July 26.—An auto containing five men collided with a street car at Lexington avenue and Western avenue early this morning. The auto was hurled far to one side of the car and the occupants scattered about the pavement. Three of the men are perhaps fatally hurt. They are William Clark, John Cleary and Benjamin Green.

Samples of the Literature.

This vast amount of campaign argument consists, besides many others of the following speeches:

President Taft's defense of the Payne tariff and denunciation of insurgents, delivered at Winona, Minn., also his Lincoln day address at New York.

Speaker Cannon's Kansas City denunciation of insurgency.

Defense by Congressman McKinley of Illinois of the Payne tariff and review of recent legislation.

The only insurgent whose utterances were selected by the committee for campaign arguments is Gardner of Massachusetts, and the subject is innocuous from the standpoint view. Standpat congressmen have been falling over each other in getting the committee to send parcels of this literature into their districts. Requests from insurgents for the committee's literature, however, are conspicuous by their absence.

A Louisiana man has patented a combined pickle fork and tongs, the latter operated by a ring in the handle.

The alloy of cerium and iron, which emits sparks when rubbed, has been introduced in a recently invented gas lighter.
