

Edited By Miss Elizabeth R. Thomas.

TO GIVE DINNER PARTY.

Miss Sarah Hill will entertain with a dinner party Friday evening at her home in East Main street, in honor of the members of her Sunday school class of the First Presbyterian church. The affair will no doubt be a most charming event. Among the members of the class are Mr. Philip Robbins, Mr. Rodney Foulke, Mr. Charles Nye, Mr. Raymond Mather, Mr. Mathew Kelsey, Mr. Stanton Knott, Mr. Harry Costello, Mr. Harry Lantz, Mr. Walker Land, Mr. Roger Smith, Mr. Roland Coate, Mr. Jeff Meyers and Mr. Stanley Schaefer.

WILL LEAVE FOR AN OUTING.

Mrs. Otto Helms, Miss Josephine Fleming, Mrs. D. C. Genn, Mrs. Edward Hunt, will leave for a two weeks outing at Cedar Point, Detroit and Cleveland, Ohio.

HAS GONE SOUTH.

Mr. George Brown has gone South on an extended trip. Mr. Brown will visit in Kentucky for several weeks.

A GUEST HERE.

Miss Blanche Weidner, of Cottage Grove is the guest of Miss Pearl McMillan at her home in North B street.

FOR HOUSE GUESTS.

A number of pleasant social events are being arranged for the guests who will be entertained at a house party next week given by Mrs. O. G. Porterfield at her home in East Main street. Wednesday evening a reception will be held at the Porterfield home. Thursday morning the hostess will give a porch party. There will be guests present for four tables. Thursday afternoon and evening a picnic and dance will be held in Jackson park. A thimble party will be a feature of Friday's social schedule, the hostess to be assisted by the Misses Ethel, Elizabeth and Hazel Thomas. Saturday evening a theater party will be given at the Murray. Sunday the guests will be entertained to luncheon at the Hotel Westcott by Mr. and Mrs. Porterfield. In the evening a dinner will be given at six o'clock at the Porterfield home in East Main street. Mrs. Clarence Davis, of New York City, who will be one of the chaperons arrived in the city late last night.

FOR CLEAR LAKE.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Nubbaum and family with Mr. and Mrs. Francis Edmunds will leave Sunday for Clear Lake, where they will spend a month.

ARE ENTERTAINING GUESTS.

Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Markley are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Markley of Cincinnati, this week at their pretty home in South Seventh street.

BEAUTIFUL COTILLION.

One of the most beautiful cotillions given recently in this city was the affair for last evening which had for its hostess Miss Gwendolyn Foulke. The function was held at the Foulke home in South Eighteenth street and was in honor of her guests Miss Jones, of Glendale, Ohio and Miss Ellen Boyd, of Indianapolis. The favors were especially attractive. Hick's orchestra furnished the music. The cotillion was led by Mr. John Clements. The guests were Miss Carolyn Hollingsworth, Miss Margaret Wilkie, of New York, Miss Helen Nicholson, Miss Juliet Swayne, Miss Edith Nicholson, Mr. Burton Carr, Mr. Roger Smith, Mr. Willard Carr, Mr. Dudley Cates, Mr. Carl Burnhardt, Mr. Manuel Barrios, of Riva, Nicaragua; Mr. Warren Clements, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Comstock, Mr. Raymond Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Gayle, Mr. S. E. Smith, Mrs. Daisy Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Leeds, Miss Mary Carr, Mr. Forbes and Mrs. J. E. Cathell.

ARE AT MUDLAVIA.

Dr. D. H. Douglas, wife and daughter arrived yesterday at Mudlavia, the celebrated health resort, and today commenced a series of the unique and

SUMMER HAIR DRESSING

Ask L. H. Fife for Parisian Sage, if You Want the Best

Almost everybody in Richmond knows that there is no preparation for the hair that can compare with Parisian Sage.

It cures dandruff, stops falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back.

It puts radiance and lustre into that dull, lifeless hair that many women possess, and does it in a few days.

It makes hair grow; prevents hair from turning gray and is without doubt the most refreshing and invigorating hair tonic in the world.

It is daintily perfumed and is not in the least sticky or greasy.

In summer, people of refinement use it regularly, because it keeps the scalp cool and free from odor of perspiration.

On March 23, 1910, Lulu D. Fife, of Raphine, Va., wrote: "Parisian Sage is a wonderful hair restorer; it stopped my hair from falling out and stopped the scalp from itching; also cured the dandruff. I only used one bottle, but I like it so much I am going to use more."

Parisian Sage is sold by druggists everywhere and by L. H. Fife for 50 cents a large bottle. Mail orders filled, charges prepaid, by American makers, Glenside Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

rejuvenating Moor-Mud baths which are attracting health seekers to Mudlavia from all over the world.

HAVE RETURNED.

Mr. Philip Starr and Mr. Richard Lackey have returned from a five weeks stay at the Lackey cottage, near Kalamazoo.

ARE AT HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rethmeyer and family have returned from a two weeks' visit in New Madison and Southern Indiana.

ARE IN WHITEWATER.

Miss Esther and Miss Dorothy Hennings, of North Eighth street are the guests of relatives near Whitewater, Indiana.

ARRIVES THIS AFTERNOON.

Miss Estelle Dalbey, of Vincennes, Ind., is expected in the city this afternoon for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dalbey at their home in South Twelfth street.

ENTERTAINED FOR GUESTS.

Miss Marian Russell entertained at her home in West Richmond last evening in honor of Miss Frances Cheeseman, of Greenville, Ohio. The evening was spent in a pleasant social manner. Refreshments were served. In the party were Miss Ruth Taylor, Miss Vera Zuttermeister, Miss Mildred Parker, Miss Blanche Compton, Miss Edna McMahan and Miss Ione Lamb.

TO COME TO THIS CITY.

Mrs. Carver and daughter, Miss Clara Carver, of Irvington, will leave September first for Richmond, to stay a year. Miss Carver will attend Earlham college—Indianapolis News.

DINNER PARTY.

Miss Imogene Millikan will give a six o'clock informal dinner this evening at her country home, east of the city, in honor of Misses Marie Kaufman and Hilda Shute of Richmond. Other guests will be Messrs. Ralph Barnard, Oakley Polk and Arthur Saint—New Castle Courier.

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE.

The announcement of the engagement of Mr. Hugh Morris of Cambridge City and Miss Lela Jones of Hagerstown has been made. The wedding will take place at the bride's home Wednesday, August twenty-fourth. The couple will reside at Mt. Auburn. Miss Eva Worl will entertain for the bride to be with a china shower Saturday afternoon. Other social events are scheduled for Miss Jones.

A GUEST HERE.

Miss Moseille Erk, of Columbus, O., is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Harry Holzapfel (nee Irene Schumann) of West Richmond.

ARE VISITING HERE.

Mrs. Josephine Davis, Mrs. Turaska and son Willis are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Hilling and family at their home in North Sixteenth street.

OF LOCAL INTEREST.

The following was received from New York today: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fred, of Richmond, Indiana, are among today's arrivals registered at the Hotel Woodstock, Times Square, East, New York.

GUESTS OF PARENTS.

Professor W. L. Twank and family of Marion, Ohio are spending several weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Riffe of South Twelfth street.

TO KOKOMO.

Mr. Ralph Hasemeier has gone to Kokomo, Ind., for a ten days visit with relatives. He will be accompanied home by Misses Mable Hasemeier and Pearl Haner, who are now guests there.

PICNIC AT GLEN.

The following persons formed a picnic party today at Glen Miller park: Mr. E. G. Hinshaw and wife, Mr. S. O. Adams and family, Mr. A. O. Frazier and family, Mr. J. A. Hinshaw, of Lynn, Indiana and Mr. O. B. Hinshaw and family of Fountain City, Indiana.

ATTENDED WEDDING.

Miss Marie Kaufman attended the Jones-Goodwin wedding which was recently celebrated in New Castle, Ind. The bride is well known here. An account of the wedding as published in the New Castle Courier is as follows:

The wedding of Miss Helene Goodwin and Everett E. Jones occurred at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Goodwin, South Main street, Tuesday evening. The guests, numbering about twenty-four of the nearest relatives, were informally received by the bride and groom-elect in person. At 8:30 the couple, unattended, took their places amid a bower of ferns and American Beauty roses and were made husband and wife by Rev. Thomas Maguire of the First Presbyterian church, the ring ceremony being used.

After congratulations the guests repaired to the dining room where refreshments were served by the sisters and cousin of the bride, Misses Adda Frances and Harriett Goodwin and Dorothy Coffin. The dining room presented a beautiful scene, a pink and white color scheme being used in both decorations and refreshments. Long festoons of white wedding bells hung from the chandelier to the corners of the room and on the center of the table stood a huge French basket filled with garden flowers. The bride was becoming attired in white with Irish-point trimmings and carried an attractive bouquet of Shasta daisies and fern asparagus.

Mrs. Jones' social popularity needs no comments. She was born and reared in New Castle and has always been one of its most popular young people, evidenced by the handsome wedding gifts bestowed by her many sincere friends. Mr. Jones came here from a highly esteemed family of Delaware, O., and for a number of years has held a responsible position with the Hoosier Manufacturing company. Though naturally reserved, he has made many friends and established a reputation in keeping with his genuine qualities.

The couple left at midnight for Chicago and Waukegan Lake. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping in their new home on Fair street in the picturesque Jones-Slough addition.

PICNIC PARTY.

A merry crowd of young people enjoyed the picnic party given yesterday in Jackson park by Miss Mona Porter and Miss Lydia Needham. Mrs. Will Porter and Mrs. Harry Needham chaperoned the party. Among the guests were Miss Dorothy Jay, of Kansas City, Misses Gladys and Elizabeth Bailey, Miss Elizabeth Kolp, Miss Eleanor Gifford, Miss Marie Kauffman, Miss Marjorie Thomas, Miss Dorothy Land, Miss Mary Converse, Miss Anna Nicholson, Miss Mary Mather, Miss Cornelia Shaw, Miss Mary Clements and Miss Eleanor Seidel.

PICNIC PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dickinson entertained with a picnic party last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parsons in South Eighteenth street. The guests were Miss Ella Dickey, Mr. Charles Roser, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gard and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Crane.

WELL ATTENDED.

A large number of persons attended the lawn social given last evening by the members of the Penny club at the home of Mrs. McDivitt in Kinsey street.

TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT.

St. John's Young People's society of St. John's Lutheran church will give an entertainment Thursday and Friday, July 28 and 29. The program follows:

Overture—Prof. J. F. Hunziker. Atsinger and Dunsing—Parallel bar artists.

Carl Maier—German Dialect comedian.

Pat and the Genie. A mythical comedietta in one act. Cast: Pat, the Gardner—Gus Kauper.

Sarah, the Housekeeper—Cora Kemper.

The Genie of the Jar—Alberta Hoppe.

Ben Al El Hamrash—George Kauper.

Said Paska El Hemerson—Ed Helmick.

Scene—Prof. Griffith's library.

Harry Schuerman—Blackface Monologist.

The Metropolitan Quartet.

Sketch—"No. 973." Cast: Thomas Campbell, Dist. Atty of New York—Ray Dunsing.

Little Margery, his Daughter—Ruth Hohnhaus.

Dr. Frank Larkin—Harry Schuerman.

"No. 973"—Ed Helmick.

Scene—Library of District Attorney of New York at his home on West Forty-eighth street, New York City.

Time—Last night.

DANCE AT PARK.

A dancing party was given last evening in the pavilion at Jackson park by Miss Lucile Carney, in honor of her guests Miss Nellie Clark of Cincinnati and Miss Margaret Grady, of Logansport. Piano and drums furnished the dance music. There were twenty-five guests.

WILL MEET FRIDAY.

A meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Methodist church will be held Friday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock in the church parlors. All members are invited to be present.

PICNIC AT GLEN.

The Sunday school of the Third Methodist church enjoyed a picnic at Glen Miller park yesterday afternoon.

MET LAST NIGHT.

A meeting of the Knights and Ladies of Honor was held last evening in the Red Men's hall. A number of business matters were considered.

The ladies of the United Brethren Church will hold their all day market Saturday in the McConaha Bldg. It spite is back of the warrant," said Sheriff Meredith to the Palladium.

REV. A NEEDHAM MAY BE VISITED BY A COMMITTEE

(Continued From Page One.)

Yesterday's chase of McMullin by Sheriff Meredith, Chief of Police Gorman, Officers Vogelsong and Westenburg, Frank Newman and a Palladium representative in a Palladium motor car came near ending in injury or death when an advance was made on McMullin's supposed hiding place in the northern end of Fayette county. Had it not been for Tice Hollingsworth, McMullin's father-in-law who had been picked up on the road and deputized by Sheriff Meredith, it is believed Elihu Hollingsworth would have opened fire with a shot gun.

Punishes Young Son.

The report that McMullin had beaten his crippled daughter was found to be wrong after investigation. The child whipped was a boy of about six years of age.

McMullin is believed to be hiding in the woods on the Lambert farm near his relative's home.

Before Meredith's posse of seven left Richmond yesterday afternoon a warrant was sworn out by Prosecutor Ladd for McMullin's arrest.

That a minister of the gospel and his aversion to "white trash" is responsible for the wild exchange of shots, the hounding of a father through woods and fields and the deputizing of over fifty man hunters, is the opinion of many of Dublin's residents.

According to about twelve of Dublin's property owners Alvernia Needham, a Christian preacher belonging to the Campbellite church, who lives within a hundred yards of McMullin's home has been desirous for sometime of getting McMullin to move.

The warrant to which Needham swore in Justice Bowmaster's court charges that McMullin inhumanely beat his child. The mother of the boy stated to the Palladium yesterday afternoon that the lad needed a whipping, and that she did not believe her husband overdid the chastisement.

Sympathy for Fugitive.

"No later than Tuesday afternoon," says Mrs. McMullin "that preacher (referring to Rev. Needham) came to the fence and said abusive things to me, and made insinuations against the children. They had taken a few plums which had fallen to the grass near the fence. He said then he wished we would move away."

Bert Hiatt, for whom McMullin worked, said to the Palladium, "McMullin is more to be sympathized with than persecuted. The man has had a hard time of it. He and his wife are the parents of seven children. The man has told me time and again that the only way he could get through life was with trouble and that he'd have to bear it. He said that at night after a hard day's work he would return home tired and hungry and that there would be trouble. Not long ago the boy threw a stone through the glass front of a motor car. McMullin whipped the lad for the offense. McMullin is a good worker so far as I know, and he has been with me for years. He will not seek trouble."

Following the notification of the man hunt at Dublin yesterday the Palladium secured a motor car and on the way picking up Sheriff Meredith, Prosecuting Attorney Ladd, Chief of Police Gorman, Officers Vogelsong and Westenburg, and Frank Newman, dashed for the riot zone at Dublin. At Cambridge City Marshal Dan Drischel with a deputy was picked up and the run for Dublin continued.

Pursuit of McMullin.

At Dublin it was learned that McMullin was believed to be at the home of his father-in-law, at the Lambert farm, four and a half miles south of Dublin. Sheriff Meredith, Chief Gorman, Bert Hiatt and William Sullivan, mail carrier on Dublin rural route No. 1, and a representative of the Palladium were sworn in and armed by Sheriff Meredith. The Palladium motor carried the squad to the south. On the road Tice Hollingsworth, father-in-law of McMullin, was seen.

Hollingsworth denied that he had seen his relative, but admitted the wife and seven children had arrived in the morning telling them Emanuel had been in trouble and that the law was "shootin' and chasin' him."

"I allow," said the old Kentuckian hill man, "that Mac will come snoopin' in here tonight—but I swear to God I don't know where he is now."

Hiatt and Sullivan talked with the man trying to get him to understand that McMullin is not wanted on a very serious charge and that the shooting was the work of an excited crowd of young men.

Takes the Posse Home.

Hollingsworth at last consented to return with the posse to his home and allow his daughter to be interviewed. Had it not been for the presence of Tice Hollingsworth it is very likely that some one of Meredith's party would have been shot.

Hollingsworth lives on the Lambert farm south of Dublin. Bumping and swaying over a dirt road the Palladium car was stopped a half mile from the Hollingsworth home. The party alighted and made their way up a winding lane, which suddenly left the woods giving a view of the house a hundred yards away.

The party had gone but a few feet when a barefooted girl was seen to spring from the door step and dash toward a dilapidated carriage shed a few yards away. The party spread out and guns were eased in holsters.

"That Boy Means Dirt."

Within a few seconds the girl dashed back to the house with Elihu Hollingsworth, the eighteen year old crippled son of Tice, hobbling after her.

"That boy means dirt," yelled Tice and dashed for the house followed by the squad.

Just as the old man sprang through the doorway he bumped into the lad who was leveling a single barrel shot-gun.

Father and son struggled across the floor; women screamed and children began to cry.

By the time Meredith and Gorman with the others reached the door Hollingsworth had persuaded the boy to give up the gun.

Sheriff Meredith and Chief Gorman finally secured, after an hour's talk, the promise of the family that when McMullin showed up last night they would try to persuade him to give up. It is believed the charge against him can be wiped out in view of later developments.

Look Like Arsenal.

The house of Hollingsworth looked like an arsenal. Several loaded guns were propped against the walls within easy reach and had a larger party charged the house, blood shed would have followed.

"My woman's been sick for nigh onto nine months—she broke her hip, and by dern, ef any crowd of hoodlums had a come prowlin' round here with guns—I'd opened on 'em—this yere's my home," sizzled old Tice Hollingsworth, with the only show of temper he made.

In speaking of the opening of fire yesterday morning Bert Hiatt said to the Palladium that when he went out to one of his fields yesterday morning he saw McMullin with his gun. McMullin seemed desperate and declared he would shoot any body who tried to catch him. After Hiatt had reasoned with him and explained the lightness of the charge McMullin was about ready to go back to Dublin. Hiatt says that at this stage several men appeared in the rear and yelled "Halt," beginning to fire into the air.

Between Two Fires.

As McMullin had started to run, Hiatt was between two fires. He dropped to earth. He says that McMullin ran quite a way with the shots breaking out behind him. Then the man dropped to a knee and fired.

"Gosh, that man's shooting to kill," Hiatt says he heard one of the pursuers say.

McMullin is a Kentuckian of the mountains and comes from a feud territory. The man is unable to read or write and has very little knowledge of law or the rules of conduct in communities. The man, it is stated, has never been in trouble before and outside of trying to keep his pack of boys in order has not been in the public lime light.

Tice Hollingsworth is also a mountaineer.

Views of Gorman.

"McMullin's most serious offense now," said Chief of Police Gorman, "is his evading Sheriff Meredith. I can't see the seriousness of the charge which seemed to arouse the blood thirst in the hearts of some of Dublin's citizens. I'm glad I talked to a number of the cooler heads and each seemed to lament the exchange of shots in the morning, describing the volleys as uncalled for."

"Did you see those guns stacked up against that Dublin drug store and stacked against the walls in Hollingsworth's house?" recalled Meredith. Then in a louder voice to the rest of the party: "And say, I thought I'd die laughin' when the commotion started at Hollingsworth's, that Palladium reporter got caught on top of a fence and pulling out a pack of cigarette papers leveled them at the house. That cuss thought they were a gun, he was so scared."

"There was no occasion," said Prosecutor Ladd, "for a demonstration as Dublin had yesterday. The warrant and the offense did not call for such extreme measures."

shots in the morning, describing the volleys as uncalled for."

"Did you see those guns stacked up against that Dublin drug store and stacked against the walls in Hollingsworth's house?" recalled Meredith. Then in a louder voice to the rest of the party: "And say, I thought I'd die laughin' when the commotion started at Hollingsworth's, that Palladium reporter got caught on top of a fence and pulling out a pack of cigarette papers leveled them at the house. That cuss thought they were a gun, he was so scared."

"There was no occasion," said Prosecutor Ladd, "for a demonstration as Dublin had yesterday. The warrant and the offense did not call for such extreme measures."

shots in the morning, describing the volleys as uncalled for."

"Did you see those guns stacked up against that Dublin drug store and stacked against the walls in Hollingsworth's house?" recalled Meredith. Then in a louder voice to the rest of the party: "And say, I thought I'd die laughin' when the commotion started at Hollingsworth's, that Palladium reporter got caught on top of a fence and pulling out a pack of cigarette papers leveled them at the house. That cuss thought they were a gun, he was so scared."

"There was no occasion," said Prosecutor Ladd, "for a demonstration as Dublin had yesterday. The warrant and the offense did not call for such extreme measures."

shots in the morning, describing the volleys as uncalled for."

"Did you see those guns stacked up against that Dublin drug store and stacked against the walls in Hollingsworth's house?" recalled Meredith. Then in a louder voice to the rest of the party: "And say, I thought I'd die laughin' when the commotion started at Hollingsworth's, that Palladium reporter got caught on top of a fence and pulling out a pack of cigarette papers leveled them at the house. That cuss thought they were a gun, he was so scared."

"There was no occasion," said Prosecutor Ladd, "for a demonstration as Dublin had yesterday. The warrant and the offense did not call for such extreme measures."

shots in the morning, describing the volleys as uncalled for."

"Did you see those guns stacked up against that Dublin drug store and stacked against the walls in Hollingsworth's house?" recalled Meredith. Then in a louder voice to the rest of the party: "And say, I thought I'd die laughin' when the commotion started at Hollingsworth's, that Palladium reporter got caught on top of a fence and pulling out a pack of cigarette papers leveled them at the house. That cuss thought they were a gun, he was so scared."

"There was no occasion," said Prosecutor Ladd, "for a demonstration as Dublin had yesterday. The warrant and the offense did not call for such extreme measures."

shots in the morning, describing the volleys as uncalled for."

"Did you see those guns stacked up against that Dublin drug store and stacked against the walls in Hollingsworth's house?" recalled Meredith. Then in a louder voice to the rest of the party: "And say, I thought I'd die laughin' when the commotion started at Hollingsworth's, that Palladium reporter got caught on top of a fence and pulling out a pack of cigarette papers leveled them at the house. That cuss thought they were a gun, he was so scared."

"There was no occasion," said Prosecutor Ladd, "for a demonstration as Dublin had yesterday. The warrant and the offense did not call for such extreme measures."

shots in the morning, describing the volleys as uncalled for."

"Did you see those guns stacked up against that Dublin drug store and stacked against the walls in Hollingsworth's house?" recalled Meredith. Then in a louder voice to the rest of the party: "And say, I thought I'd die laughin' when the commotion started at Hollingsworth's, that Palladium reporter got caught on top of a fence and pulling out a pack of cigarette papers leveled them at the house. That cuss thought they were a gun, he was so scared."

"There was no occasion," said Prosecutor Ladd, "for a demonstration as Dublin had yesterday. The warrant and the offense did not call for such extreme measures."

shots in the morning, describing the volleys as uncalled for."

"Did you see those guns stacked up against that Dublin drug store and stacked against the walls in Hollingsworth's house?" recalled Meredith. Then in a louder voice to the rest of the party: "And say, I thought I'd die laughin' when the commotion started at Hollingsworth's, that Palladium reporter got caught on top of a fence and pulling out a pack of cigarette papers leveled them at the house. That cuss thought they were a gun, he was so scared."

"There was no occasion," said Prosecutor Ladd, "for a demonstration as Dublin had yesterday. The warrant and the offense did not call for such extreme measures."

shots in the morning, describing the volleys as uncalled for."

"Did you see those guns stacked up against that Dublin drug store and stacked against the walls in Hollingsworth's house?" recalled Meredith. Then in a louder voice to the rest of the party: "And say, I thought I'd die laughin' when the commotion started at Hollingsworth's, that Palladium reporter got caught on top of a fence and pulling out a pack of cigarette papers leveled them at the house. That cuss thought they were a gun, he was so scared."

"There was no occasion," said Prosecutor Ladd, "for a demonstration as Dublin had yesterday. The warrant and the offense did not call for such extreme measures."

shots in the morning, describing the volleys as uncalled for."