

Johnny Evers Picks the Cubs and Tigers to Win Pennants

John J. Evers, the brilliant thinker and regarded by many men as the best second sacker in the business, picks the Tigers to land the American League pennant this year and in the same article, published in the Metropolitan Magazine for August, he declares that it is a 2-to-1 bet that Chicago will land the National League flag, so, if Johnny's predictions come true, the Tigers and Cubs will be fighting out a third world's series next October.

He predicts the National League clubs will finish as follows: Chicago, Pittsburgh, New York, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Brooklyn and Boston.

"I would bet 2 to 1 that Chicago wins," Evers says. "I frankly believe the race is over."

The Cubs have been far below their real strike, because they have been playing their worst ball for five years, and the pitching staff has been the weakest for three years, due to the late spring holding the veterans back.

Brown, Overall and Reulbach will round to form and be as good as ever. Cole, McIntyre and Pfeffer have strengthened the pitching staff, and Kroh, a young southpaw, who has been with the team two years, is rounding into one of the best left-handers.

A Big Advantage.

"Then again, we have an immense advantage over any other team because we have good emergency men who can fill positions almost if not quite as well as the regulars themselves.

Perhaps the most important reason why the Cubs should win is that we have Frank Chance, the best leader of men in base ball. Chance stands for team work, for the spirit of the team and for hustling work all the time. "There has been a lot of talk about our condition this year; they say that Kling has seen his best days and that Steinfeldt and some of the others are getting old. Such statements are silly. Kling is as good as he ever was. And as for our advanced years—our oldest member is Steinfeldt, who has now reached the ripe old age of thirty-four but he is well preserved and manages to hold his own. Clarke, Leach and Wagner, Pittsburgh stars, are all older than Steinfeldt, who is one of the three great third basemen. The other two are Byrne and Devilin."

Pirates' Weakness.

Evers says the Pirates' pitchers are not strong enough to beat the Cubs, and their batting strength is too much for the other teams.

He picks the Giants to finish third on account of their pitchers and hitters. Evers pays Mathewson a high compliment.

He says: "In my estimation Mathewson is about the greatest man that ever tossed a base ball. I consider him the best pitcher today."

The Cubs would rather go against Mathewson than against any other great pitcher. Evers says, because he always pitches for the plate and does not try to scare a batter by throwing at his head or shins. Maty's style gives the Cubs confidence and they are always willing to take a chance on hitting often enough to win.

He Roasts Giants.

Evers roasts the Giants for playing the old "win at any cost, but win" game. He says the Giants try to get hit and use other obsolete and unsportsmanlike tactics on their home grounds. This makes them a different team at home than on the road, and harder to beat at home.

Cincinnati lacks pitchers now, but will be a great team in a couple of years, Evers predicts. Philadelphia will finish fifth on account of interference by the owners. St. Louis is a shade better than Brooklyn, he says, and Boston has a better team than last season, but not good enough.

He Prefers Tigers.

Evers prefers the Tigers because they have won most of their games with the Athletics. He says Boston has a fine chance. The Yankees are hard to guess, he says, because of the sudden development of pitching strength.

The White Sox are the biggest disappointment to Evers' way of thinking, because of their pitching strength. White, Walsh, Smith, Olmstead and Young are great pitchers, he says.

He picks Cleveland, Washington and St. Louis to finish in order named.

The Crown of England.

From the financial standpoint the crown of England is worth about half a million dollars.

UNIONS FOR WOMEN.

Only Way to Gain Their Rights, Says Rose Schneiderman.

Rose Schneiderman, a prominent leader in the Women's Trade Union League and one of the strike leaders who contributed to the success of the general strike of shirtwaist girls in New York city, is conducting an agitation tour of the country for the purpose of exhorting working girls all over the country to join the ranks of organized labor.

Miss Schneiderman in her appeal to the 6,000,000 working girls of the country to form unions says: "The need for organization among the women wage earners is just as great in Holyoke mills as in New York sweatshops. The girls must take united action. If one girl should demand a fifty-two hour working week the employer would tell her she was crazy and could look for a job somewhere else. But if all girls demanded a fifty-two hour week in a shop, and if all the other wage earners in the city or even a part stood back of these girls, the company would have to grant their demands. The women wage earners must learn the value of bargaining collectively, of the strength of working together and of the power of the working people."

"The employer doesn't want his girls to organize because he knows their power. He will give all sorts of bribes in order to prevent organization—among these is welfare work. He is willing to pay a girl's doctor's bill, but he has ruined her health by hard work; he will furnish a couch for them to faint on when overcome by long hours; he will give money to hospitals to take care of the injured; but he will not give fair wages and short hours."

There will be no law but the umpire and he has not been selected. Linus Meredith has nominated former Governor J. Frank Hanly for the job, and if possible he will be pressed into service. The Enquirer's special sporting staff will be present and Jack London will write about cave men and brute strength. One of the Meredith brothers has elected to be Casey at the bat.

LANGE VS. KETCHEL

CHILDREN UNDER FIFTEEN MAY NO LONGER WORK AT NIGHT.

New Jersey takes a step forward.

An effort has been made for five years to restrict night employment of children in factories which operate a double shift, writes Owen R. Lovejoy in the Survey. This has been opposed by glass manufacturers on the ground that the industry could not succeed unless children under sixteen years were permitted to work at night.

The committee was able to show that the glass industry has steadily increased in states which forbid such employment—notably in Ohio and Illinois—and after a lively campaign in which the New Jersey child labor committee and the Consumers' League, labor unions, women's clubs, churches and other organizations took an active part, a bill was passed providing that after July 4 no child under fifteen years of age may work at night, and after July 4, 1911, no child under sixteen may be so employed.

This places New Jersey with Illinois, New York and Ohio among the glass manufacturing states which forbid child labor at night and gives the most substantial encouragement yet reserved to the effort which will be pursued next year to secure similar legislation in Pennsylvania, Indiana and West Virginia.

Western Union Sued For Boycott. Because the bosses told their non-union telegraphers not to patronize his place Arthur O. Simpson of Chicago, proprietor of a restaurant in the Western Union building, has brought suit for $15,000 damages against the Western Union Telegraph company. He alleges that his business was damaged two years ago when the telegraphers employed by the company were on strike and the strike breakers were not permitted to eat at his place.

Open Shop Declared. The United Metal Trades association of the Pacific coast recently posted the following notice:

"For the protection of our employers and the business upon which they and we depend for our living, we have decided that from June 24 this plant will employ only independent nonunion workmen."

WORKERS' COMPENSATION.

New York Carpenters to Try to Compel It by Law.

The New York state council of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners has drafted an amendment to the state constitution, to be presented to the legislature at the next session, providing for compulsory compensation for carpenters injured at their work. The amendment provides that one-sixth of the annual taxation for the compensation fund shall be levied on the workmen, three-sixths on the employers and two-sixths on the state.

It is proposed to ask all candidates for the legislature how they stand toward such a measure before election. The Brotherhood of Carpenters is one of the largest organizations in the American Federation of Labor. There are about 19,000 in New York city alone.

HOT-WEATHER LIVER TROUBLE

Many people who generally enjoy good health suffer from biliousness in the summer time. Rich foods served ice-cold are difficult to digest by the majority, and often produce a chilling of the entire digestive tract. The liver thus becomes sluggish, when the condition known as biliousness results. This is often accompanied by constipation or indigestion. Serious as it may seem, however, to the unfortunate person, it is easily curable with a remedy such as the well-known Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Peppermint, which is a great laxative and tonic, and which contains ingredients that act upon the liver and stimulate it. It will relieve a hot-weather liver complaint over night and cure it lastingly in a very short time. If you have any indisposition of the stomach, liver or bowels, your first concern should be a supply of this grand remedy, which you can obtain of any druggist for 50 cents or $1.00 a bottle. There will be enough and to spare for your complaint and that of your family. A FREE TRIAL BOTTLE will be sent to those who have never used it if they send their name and address to DR. W. B. An Announcement of Appreciation

It is a busy world, and in the stress of life and work we sometimes forget to say the word of appreciation and gratitude that is in our hearts. But here it is now, to you, just this little word of appreciation for all the co-operation you have lent us in building up one of the largest Retail Grocery Stores in the city of Richmond. We could not have done this alone—a business is built by its patrons, quite as much as by its managers.

We may at times have taxed your patience, for if there are perfect people in the world, we have so far been unable to employ them—but in spite of occasional errors and lapses you have stood by and shown your confidence in the only way that really counts. For such consideration we thank you.

Our business has shown a substantial increase in the past few years, a fact of which we are justly proud and
