

T. CARPENTER AN AGED MEMBER OF FRIENDS DEAD

Age of Ninety-nine Years and Seven Months, Patriarch of the Church Died of Senility.

WAS ONE OF FOUNDERS OF EARLHAM COLLEGE

He Was Connected with that Institution When It Was a Friends Boarding School—Church Elder.

After being unconscious for many hours, Walter Totten Carpenter, one of the oldest members of the Society of Friends in the world, died last evening at the age of 99 years and seven months. Death resulted from senility. He had been weakening for the last few years, although he was never troubled with any kind of illness. Last Thursday he lapsed into unconsciousness.

On account of his prominence the funeral will be held in the East Main Street Friends church, and will likely be as large as that of the late Almon May, who died several months ago, the day after returning from Chicago, where he had been soliciting funds for Earlham college.

Funeral is Saturday.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock. Professors Elbert Russell, of Earlham college, and Professor David W. Dennis, of Earlham, will be in charge of the services. At a special request of the family the Rev. Samuel R. Lyons, Reid Memorial church, will act as special minister at the funeral.

The pall bearers for the funeral have not yet been chosen, but will be members of the Society of Friends, probably being representatives from the board of trustees of Earlham college, of which the deceased was a founder, and from the South Eighth Street, East Main Street and West Diamond Friends meetings.

At death with the exception of being an elder in the West Richmond Friends meeting, the late Mr. Carpenter held no official position. It was forty-five years ago that he was appointed an elder in the society by Whitewater Monthly Meeting. He held this position all his life, being always a hard and conscientious worker in the meetings.

Although never a public speaker he often made short talks in the Monthly meetings. His style of address was peculiarly unique, being extremely concise and to the point.

Charles G. Carpenter, of Carpenter Milling mills, a son, and Mrs. Elizabeth Marmon, of Indianapolis, widow of the late Daniel Marmon, of the Marmon & Nordyke company, with headquarters at Indianapolis and Mrs. Carolyn M. Wright, wife of Henry Wright, of Kokomo, Ind., daughters, survive the deceased, besides a number of grandchildren.

The late Mr. Carpenter was born January 1, 1811, near Albany, N. Y.

MEET WITH JORDAN

The Wayne county board of education, which includes county superintendent C. W. Jordan and the trustees of the different townships held their regular meeting Thursday at the courthouse. The discussions were on the board of accounts and the matter of transferring pupils from one school to another.

No criticism was offered by the board on the system of field examinations auditing the books of the trustees. All trustees serving now were recommended by the field examiners on the manner in which they conducted their offices. The few suggestions made by the examiners were appreciated.

CHANGE ALARM BOXES

Close Proximity of High Tension Wires Cause of This Action.

IT MADE THEM DANGEROUS

Several changes in locations of fire alarm boxes have just been made by Chief Miller of the department. No. 6 was changed from a point between Chestnut and the Indiana division of the Pennsylvania railroad to the corner of Third and Chestnut street. Box No. 55 from the corner of State and Boyer to the corner of Boyer and John streets. Box No. 49 from a point on First street between Chestnut and the Pennsylvania railroad to the corner of First and Lawrence streets.

Chief Miller says that there were many high tension wires of both light and power near the old locations of the boxes, so that it was very dangerous to work on the wires and line to cause them to turn in storms. A death would result if one of the high tension wires should fall over the fire alarm wires.

Change in the department was made today when Dale Hopkins, recently resigned, left the department. Robert Ray took his place. Robert is popular extra, goes to the home house.

Heinze's "Dear Little Slob" Promises to Make Lot of Trouble For Copper Magnate

Fac similes of some of the love letters from Heinze to Mrs. French when they were much nearer and dearer to each other than they appear to be now are produced. The letters show that Mr. Heinze, while engaged in deals involving millions, still appeared to have time to write "My dear little slob" and other significantly affectionate titles to start missives sent to Mrs. French. The latter is now suing him for $25,000.

NICE FOR AUGUSTUS.

Mrs. Lillian Hobart French, who claims that she was jilted by F. Augustus Heinze, the copper millionaire who married Mrs. Bernice Henderson yesterday afternoon, said today: "Well, I wish him joy, but I am not through with him yet. I regard myself as his wife. He may marry fifty times, but my occult philosophy tells me that should he marry fifty times prior to the next reincarnation I shall in the last analysis wed him and become in the fullest sense of the term, Mrs. Frits Augustus Heinze."

New York, Sept. 1.—Frits Augustus Heinze, copper millionaire, and his bride, who was Mrs. Bernice Golden Henderson, are today on their honeymoon, but Mrs. Lillian Hobart French, who claims to be the "Occult wife" of Heinze, continues to carry out the role of Nemesis.

The first wedding present for Heinze was a summons and complaint in Mrs. French's $25,000 suit, handed him by a process server.

Following the marriage, which was performed yesterday afternoon by the Rev. Dr. Hamblet of Brooklyn, an Episcopalian clergyman, the wedding party motored to the Waldorf-Astoria for a wedding supper. There the bridal couple remained till today, when they started for Butte, Mont., on their honeymoon. Mr. Heinze's plans include a month of inspection of his mining affairs and then a trip to Europe.

The bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. Golden, the best man being Carlos Warfield of Butte. Among the guests at the wedding supper were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Heinze Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Otto C. Heinze, Charlie Watjen, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Warfield Jr., and Mrs. Geo. Potter, Mrs. Stanley Clifford, M. M. Joyce and K. A. Appleton.

The feast, began early in the evening, lasted till the early hour of this morning.

HAD A ROUGH HOUSE

Charged with tearing down a stove and throwing soot and other dirt onto food in the restaurant of Charles Skillon, colored, on North E street, Elkanah Simmons, a second hand dealer, was in police court this morning. As his attorney was out of the city the case was postponed until Monday morning.

Skillon says he was renting a stove of William Lyons, who it said bought it from Simmons. The stove had not been paid for. Simmons came down to take the stove away.

ORDER TO REBUILD

Property owners in the vicinity of Fourth and Main street near the blind alley running east from Ft. Wayne avenue were ordered by City Attorney Gardner to rebuild a number of vaults which are considered by the city a menace to life and health. They will be prosecuted on the charge of public nuisance if the vaults are not rebuilt.

SALE OF LICENSED VERY HEAVY TODAY

Owners of Vehicles of All Classes Made Rush on Controller's Office.

ONE SUPPLY EXHAUSTED

ALL THE BICYCLE TAGS WERE SOLD OUT AND MORE ARE ORDERED—AUTOMOBILISTS SLOWEST COMING IN.

A number of the city officials are at work assisting Controller E. G. McMahan selling vehicle licenses today. Fully $3,000 will be taken in by tonight, from the present prospects for over $2,500 is now in the hands of the controller from sale of licenses. Tags for bicycles were exhausted early this morning and another supply will be ordered immediately by the controller. The sale of bicycle tags is going far beyond expectations and this morning $69 had been issued, while not more than five hundred were expected to be sold.

From the sale of bicycle licenses about $500 is counted off, almost equal to the amount on automobiles. Bicycle tags cost 50 cents.

Corporations Are Solved.
At nine o'clock this morning 101 $2 licenses for wagons, and 673, $1.50 licenses had been issued. Only 99 automobile owners have so far taken out their licenses. This comes to approximately $600. Corporations are coming in very slow.

The mayor announced this morning that those found on the streets without licenses would be fined heavily in police court. The police department has been ordered to keep a sharp lookout for any violation of the ordinance.

There have been rumors reaching the board that several liverymen of the city will fight the ordinance.

"I just wish they would try it," said the mayor. "We'd fix 'em."

It is believed by the board that any court will uphold the tax and therefore they are paying little heed to the rumors.
