

ROOSEVELT AIDS HIS OLD FRIEND

Ex-president Goes to Massachusetts to Speak in Behalf of Sen. Lodge.

HIS ASSISTANCE NEEDED

SATURDAY EX-PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WILL GO TO NEW HAMPSHIRE WHERE HE WILL SPEAK FOR R. R. BASS.

(American News Service)

Boston, Oct. 21.—Former President Roosevelt arrived in Boston today to deliver a campaign speech in behalf of his friend Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, whose term in the United States senate will come to an end next March and who is a candidate for reelection. Colonel Roosevelt, it is understood, is going to tell the Massachusetts voters how Senator Lodge stood by him in the trying times when he was striving to secure progressive legislation from a reluctant senate and how they could not hope to have an able representative in the upper branch of the national legislature.

The fact that it has been deemed advisable to have the former president speak in his behalf is taken as an indication that Senator Lodge for the first time in seventeen years feels that his hold on his senate seat is not past the breaking. The fact that the senator abandoned his annual vacation trip to Europe this summer and has been busy with his campaign since the middle of July is regarded as further evidence that he realizes the gravity of the situation.

Proud of Senator Lodge.

Massachusetts has always been proud of Senator Lodge, whose career in many respects has been distinguished and worthy of the best traditions of the state. But the republican leaders admit that if the senatorship were to be decided at this time by a direct vote of the people Mr. Lodge would likely be defeated. No one believes that Representative Butler Ames, who is the only announced candidate for the Lodge tag, has much of a chance to break into the senate. There is believed to be a chance, however, that Mr. Ames may have following enough in the legislature to prevent the caucus selection of Mr. Lodge. The greatest danger, however, to the senator lies in the chance which admittedly exists that the democrats may control the next legislature on joint ballot.

While the republicans of Massachusetts have controlled the legislature for many years by a safe margin, there are many districts in the state in each of which the party majority at the last election for members of the legislature was less than 300 votes. The democratic hope for supremacy is based on expected changes in these districts where the republicans have control by very narrow margins. An overturn in one-half of the districts where the republican majority always has been small will give the legislature to the democrats and with it the power to name a senator to succeed Mr. Lodge.

The tariff is in part the cause of republican troubles in Massachusetts as it is in other states. It is to be assumed that Massachusetts is a protective tariff state and that the dissatisfaction is directed against the method rather than the principles. Many republicans are restive and there is a feeling in places that there have been few signs of progress to prove that the makers of the national platform were sincere in their promises.

The republican leaders hope that the speech of Colonel Roosevelt will hold the insurgent republicans in line and also assist in reclaiming the independent and mugwump vote and drawing it back to the republican fold by an appeal to partisan spirit.

IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 21.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is expected in New Hampshire tomorrow to speak in behalf of Robert R. Bass, the republican candidate for governor. Mr. Bass was nominated by the progressive wing of the republican party and Colonel Roosevelt is keenly interested in his success.

The candidates for state office are hopeful that the visit of the former president will have the effect of healing the breach in the republican ranks and thereby insure the success of the party at the polls next month. The split between the progressive and standpat elements of the republican party is probably more pronounced in New Hampshire than in any other section of New England. It began four years ago, when, after a heated campaign, Winston Churchill, the novelist, and a leader of the progressive faction, was defeated for the gubernatorial nomination by Charles M. Floyd, the machine candidate. Mr. Floyd failed of election by the people, and was made governor by the legislature. Two years ago the progressives were again defeated and their success this year has but tended to widen the breach between the two elements.

Because of the difference of opinion between the rival republican factions the democrats are much encouraged, and with a united party back of their candidate the leaders hope that they will be able to place New Hampshire in the democratic column this year.

Twelve Year Old Girl Dramatically Accuses Prisoner of Father's Death.

MAN SHOWED HIS CHAGRIN

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 21.—A dramatic scene was enacted in the criminal court when Blasius Polder was placed on trial for the murder of Michael Redmar.

Polder cringed and turned white and red by turns, exhibiting signs of fear and cowardice when the twelve-year-old daughter of the man he killed was on the witness stand. She was an eye witness to the slaying, and when District Attorney W. A. Blakeley asked: "Which man did the shooting?" the girl stood up, and, pointing directly at the prisoner, answered: "That man sitting at the table killed my father."

Polder dropped his head and trembled like a leaf.

DYNAMITING CASE NOW BEING TRIED

Allegation Made That Woman Tried to Have California Judge Killed.

A GREAT TROUBLE-MAKER

ACCUSED WOMAN HAS BEEN THE SOURCE OF MORE WORRY TO OAKLAND POLICE THAN ANY OTHER ONE PRISONER.

(American News Service)

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 21.—Mrs. Isabella J. Martin, the alleged dynamiter who has been a source of more trouble and worry to the local authorities during the past two years than any other prisoner with whom they have ever had to deal, is again prominently in the public eye. Her case comes up this week for its second trial. The woman was convicted in December, 1908, of having instigated her minor son, "Baby John" Martin, to blow up the home of Superior Judge Ogden. She had had litigation in his court, and imagined that she had not been fairly treated.

At the First Trial.

At her first trial the contention of the prosecution was that the boy's act was in fact her own, as he was acting in fear of his life when he blew up Judge Ogden's home. The convicting testimony was that Mrs. Martin kept the youth "Baby John" terrorized with the threat of death to the point of compelling him to do her bidding in setting off the bomb. But the appellate court ruled that the danger imminent to free him from being an accomplice and without corroboration the testimony of an accomplice is not sufficient to convict.

The Supreme Court, to which the district attorney took the case, refused to disturb the finding of the Appellate Court and the case was therefore assigned for retrial.

During the period of nearly two years that Mrs. Martin has been confined in jail she has caused much trouble for the jail authorities by her eccentric conduct. She has written many letters to persons of prominence complaining that she has been mistreated and that her health and life have been endangered by confinement in a poorly ventilated cell and by lack of proper nourishment. When brought into court last July to have the date fixed for her second trial the woman attempted suicide by cutting her wrists with a piece of broken glass.

The jail attendants insist that Mrs.

Martin is shamming and continuing to play a part. They admit that she may be insane but insist that her mind is clear enough to realize what she is doing, and to distinguish between right and wrong. As a result of her erratic conduct and her insistence upon conducting her own defense the attorneys who defended her at her first trial and who successfully carried the case to the higher courts have reluctantly withdrawn from the case.

What to Do for a Sickly Child—Trial Free

Many a mother has written thanks after following these suggestions

It has always been a mooted question just what to do with an ailing child, for mothers disagree and few doctors specialize in it. But there is much evidence that in the majority of cases family bowel movement is at the bottom of the trouble.

The first thing, then, to do with a complaining child is to give it a laxative, not a more fruit-stew or such thing but a genuine, scientific laxative. Many are recommended but few have been found worthy. Among the latter stands out more prominently than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Peppermint, which mothers in all parts of the country have used for a generation.

It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. No child will refuse it as it is not only tasting and violent cathartic pill, but a direction to directions and now have healthy, round, gentle, non-griping liquid. It has also tonic properties that strengthen and tone the little stomach and bowel muscles so that they begin to do their work much more easily. Mrs. Ella N. Williams of Waukesha, Wis., and Mrs. Emma Blakenship of Bedford, Ind., always give their children Syrup Peppermint.

If you hesitate to get even a fifty cent bottle and do not care to ask your neighbor about it (who probably is a user of Syrup Peppermint), then write Dr. Caldwell and he will cheerfully send you a sample bottle free of charge, and in this way you can make a test without personal cost.

Simply send your name and address to the doctor, who has had success in most cases, gave it to the children according to directions and now have healthy, round, gentle, non-griping liquid. It has 20 years' experience in our business.
