

GREAT MACK TEAM WINNER OF WORLD BASEBALL HONORS

American League Champions Defeat Cubs in the Fifth Game Sunday by Great Rally in Eighth.

COOMBS MAKES RECORD WINNING THREE GAMES

Chicago Team Was Played Off Its Feet by the Brilliant Play of Opponents—Barry Was a Star.

BY C. E. VAN LOAN.
Chicago, Oct. 24.—The King is dead. Long live the Jack. At exactly 7 minutes after 4 Sunday afternoon a young man named Barry reached down, nipped a ball off the ground, gallered over to second base, touched it with his spikes, and by that token there passed into history the world's championship series for this year of grace, 1910, won by the Philadelphia Athletics by the score of 4 games to 1—great baseball team, gentlemen. All credit and honor to them, for they won fairly on their merits, whacking their way to fame with many a long hit. Philadelphia may well be proud of them.

We do not doubt that for seven innings we believed our illustrious patient to be doing well. You will recall that on Saturday Charles Albert Bender stepped out to nail the lid upon the coffin, but the ceremonies were indefinitely postponed. The patient objected to being buried alive.

Cornelius McGillicuddy, the undertaker of our hopes, then handed the hammer and nails to one J. Coombs, who had already driven two nails into Chicago's sarcophagus. Mr. Coombs may now be mentioned reverently in the same breath with Christy Mathew-son and "Babe" Adams, two pitchers who scored three victories in world's series. Coombs beat the Cubs three times inside of six days, justifying the confidence of his now famous chief, the aforementioned McGillicuddy.

Patient Did Not Survive.

The patient was not entombed without a struggle. There were several times when he seemed about to break out and kick Mr. Coombs all over the cemetery, and he was still struggling victoriously as late as 3:30 in the afternoon. The score, remember, was 2 to 1, with the undertakers leading by an ace.

Dr. Mordecai Brown, who assisted in reviving the patient on Saturday, was sent out to administer oxygen and digitalis, and for seven innings he seemed to be fairly abreast of his duty. Then came the fatal eighth, when the patient blinked, rolled his eyes a few times and settled back as dead as Rameses I. Ram, old boy, may have been dead a lot longer, but you can take our word for it that if he stays dead for the next million years he will never be any deader than the Cubs were after that eighth inning.

The entire batting order of the Athletics marched against Mordecai in the eighth inning, and with three doubles, a single, two bases on balls and one large juicy error, the patient was neatly handstitched into his shroud and the lid clamped down for keeps. Five runs went upon the score board after that inning and nothing but respect for the dear departed kept the mourners from leaving in a body.

Chant the Doxology.

And nothing was added to the pleasure of the occasion by the singing of the Doxology, a bit of gratuitous impertinence contributed by the Philadelphia rooters in the grand stand.

The wake, as we understand it, is to be held in Philadelphia—an excellent location for the service.

The game went along to the bitter end with the Quaker rooters singing their polite little songs and waving their perfectly correct little blue bannerettes. We do not mind being ticked off, but we hate to have people sing about us.

Mr. Kling hit the last ball in the series, and he hit it quite some pelt, but Barry waltzed over, picked it up and forced Archer at second base.

Now, if you have any floral offer-

ORVAL OVERALL.

ings we will oppose no objections.
Will some one start the first verse of Hymn 23?

"She was a grand old wagon—but, she done broke down."

Thanking you one and all for your kind attention, &c., &c. Good night.

Toronto, Oct. 24.—The themes to be discussed at the Toronto convention of the Young Men's Christian vision and expertise, there are fewer platform speakers and speeches than heretofore.

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the entertainment of visitors.

On reaching Toronto delegates who have not already been assigned to their hotels or boarding houses are requested to report immediately to the convention headquarters in Massey hall. Representatives of the convention reception committee will be on hand to meet delegates on arrival of trains. Boy scouts in uniform will meet all trains and guide delegates to tainment.

The Hub of the Body.

The common round which all the other organs revolve, and upon which they are largely dependent for their welfare, is the stomach.
When the body becomes fat, the liver becomes overburdened and the bowels become disarranged. To cure a disease of the stomach, liver or bowels get a 25 cent or $1 bottle of Dr. Calder's Tonic. It is the best medicine for the stomach and the best laxative for the bowels. It is the promptest relief for constipation and dyspepsia ever compounded.
