

GEO. W. THOMPSON SPOKE HERE TODAY

Noted Lecturer Makes an Address at Noon Hour to Gaar, Scott Workers.

ASKS BEVERIDGE SUPPORT

SHOWS THE WORK THE SENATOR HAS DONE FOR THE WORKING CLASSES AND FAITH HE HAS ALWAYS KEPT.

George W. Thompson of Indianapolis, who is a noted lecturer and will begin on his winter lecture tour on Friday, addressed about a hundred voters at the entrance of Gaar, Scott & Company's shops on Thursday at noon. He spoke under the auspices of the republican county central committee and urged the election of republican representatives who will support United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge from Indiana in his fight to return to the highest legislative branch of the government.

Strict attention was paid to the speaker by the factory men of this large concern. They apparently were much interested in the senator's labor record, which was passed among them by Secretary John E. Peltz of the committee. The report is prepared by officials in the different labor organizations of the country.

Voters Want to Know. "Party prejudices do not blind the voter," said Mr. Thompson in his introduction. "Neither do the voters care what parties have accomplished in the past for both parties have done much for the country's welfare. The voters want to know in this day and age what the parties stand for. The voters want to vote intelligently and for this reason they must be informed. I find that the great majority of them are well informed on the issues which surround this campaign."

The republican party, the speaker said, has adhered to tariff for protection of the laborers and industries. The time has come when these industries, which were nourished by the party, are now able to protect themselves, he said. They, in many instances, have begun to steal from the government which furnished them with life, Thompson said.

The Payne-Aldrich law met with general condemnation on the part of the speaker. If Senator Beveridge had supported this bill he would have led to the public for he had pledged himself to vote for the reduction of certain schedules and fought for the reduction, he said. He pointed to the fact that Beveridge was one of the few senators who kept the faith with the people.

The trouble with a tariff bill lies in fixing the schedules and, Mr. Thompson said, it will always be a troublesome feature until a tariff commission, for which Senator Beveridge is fighting, is authorized. The average congressman knows about as much about tariff making as those whom he represents, the speaker said. The result is that congressmen with some feature of protection for certain industries in their districts bring trading votes with other congressmen to secure the protection desired, instituting a system of log rolling, Roosevelt, Mr. Thompson said, has recommended a tariff commission composed of laborers and expert non-partisans.

TO BUILD A CHURCH

On the Earham Campus in Memory of Allen Jay West End Meeting Votes.

TO BE A LARGE STRUCTURE

The West Side Friends' meeting decided by a practically unanimous vote, at a meeting last night, to build the Allen Jay memorial meeting house on the Earham campus. Committees will be chosen from the board of trustees of the church and Earham college to locate the church exactly on the campus, this organization to have full charge of this feature of the work. Only three votes opposed the location of the church on the campus. A few members of the meeting wished to place it on the site of the Charles Tebbets residence, which is opposite the Earham campus.

Certain requirements will be made regarding the construction of the church by the trustees of the college, but these are regarded as reasonable by the church authorities. The church must be constructed of brick or stone and the seating capacity of the auditorium must be at least fifteen hundred. It is the intention of the Earham authorities to hold the commencement of the college in the church auditorium, as Lindley hall has for a long time been too small for the purpose. Another meeting of the West Side meeting will be held November 16.

ALL MY PIMPLES GONE

Girl Tells How a Blotchy Skin Was Cleansed by a Simple Wash.

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Minnie Pickard of Altamahaw, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that Eczeema, and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in Eczeema and all other serious skin diseases, that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash, pimples, black heads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of Eczeema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use, perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. A 25-cent bottle will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy.

OHIO DESIRES A SLICE OF WAYNE

Old Boundary Agitation Will Be Opened Again by Toledo, O., Engineers.

ACTION MEANS BIG FIGHT

ALL BUCKEYE STATE DESIRES IS A SLIVER OF HOOSIERDOM FROM MICHIGAN THROUGH OLD WAYNE COUNTY.

Will Wayne county lose anywhere from one-quarter to one-eighth of a mile of its territory now bordering the Ohio state line?

A movement has already been started in the neighboring state to annex quite a strip of Indiana territory to Ohio, extending from a point near the Michigan boundary to a point in the west, about half way between Wayne county and the Ohio river.

Probably the largest town Ohio would acquire from Indiana, if the Buckeye state succeeded in its plan would be Union City, Randolph county, Wayne's northern neighbor.

The Ohio movement for the annexation of an Indiana strip of territory will be formally launched on November 4, at a meeting of the Toledo Society of Civil Engineers. It is argued by the Toledo engineers that the disputed strip of land rightfully belongs to Ohio.

To Monument Boundary.

This will be brought out on a paper to be presented by former County Surveyor Joseph Hoffman. Back of this, however, is a well-defined movement to determine the Ohio boundaries and to monument them fully.

"The Toledo Society of Engineers has determined that there is a strip of land one mile wide at the north end, gradually reducing to nothing at the south end, 200 miles away," says Walter Sherman, "now in possession of Indiana, that is actually the property of the state of Ohio."

If the Ohio agitators decided to push their project a bitter controversy is certain to result. The entire state of Indiana, especially the eastern border counties, would vigorously oppose the movement and it is quite probable the national government would be called upon to arbitrate the dispute.

No doubt Preble county, Ohio, would rejoice in securing some of the rich land of eastern Wayne county but Wayne county would never surrender its title to the disputed strip unless ruled against by the United States supreme court.

The agitation to be started in Toledo next month is not a new one. The Indiana-Ohio boundary line has been disputed for years and several years ago the agitation became so warm that the people of the border counties of the two states almost severed "diplomatic relations," so to speak.

PITIFUL CASE IN THE POLICE COURT

Aged Man, for Years a Wanderer, with No Home to Go to, Begs for Release.

PAINFULLY HURT IN JAIL

BY FALLING OFF SEAT AND FOR HUMANITY'S SAKE HE WAS SENT TO COUNTY JAIL TO GET TREATMENT.

Seventy-nine years old, worn out with long wandering over the country, William Warren, who said he had no home, was in police court this morning, and even the police attaches of police court, hardened by many sad sights, were moved to emotion by the scene. Warren was arrested on South Seventh street, where he had fallen to the ground, dead drunk.

The old man came into court with his head swathed in bandages, scarcely able to walk from age, his hands crippled and only able to see from one eye. He sat down on a bench in jail and was so intoxicated he rolled off, striking his temple and back of his head on the iron bars. Three severe cuts, one laying the scalp bare, were inflicted and the man was weak from loss of blood. A doctor was called to attend his injuries.

"I Have No Friends." "I have had no friends nor home for twenty years," pitifully cried Warren to the court. "I've wandered around Indiana and Ohio without any particular destination, doing odd jobs when I can get them, which is not often. My wife is dead and my brothers, sisters and children are dead, too, and I have nowhere to go. A nephew of mine lives near New Castle, but I don't know whether he would take me in or not, nobody seems to want a poor, sick old man. If you'll let me go I'll get out of town."

Many men have come to the court with a similar plea but there was a ring of truth in the old man's words. He was given a fine of $1 and costs and sent to the county jail, in order to give his wounds time to heal, as it was feared if he was released he would die from exposure.

After his time is up the old man will be furnished transportation to New Castle, as he says he will try to live with the nephew. Sheriff Meredith was ordered to write the New Castle man immediately. If this fails steps will be taken to have the unfortunate man placed in the Grant county poor farm, as he said he formerly came from Marion.

TALK ON MISSIONS

Two Missionaries Make Addresses at the Methodist Laymen Meeting.

TELL OF WORK REQUIRED

The Methodist Laymen's Missionary convention opened yesterday with Dr. E. H. Richards, of thirty-one years an African missionary, as speaker. He made an address on "The Man of Ethiopia." According to Dr. Richards' idea it is impossible to open up a country commercially until the missionaries have blazed the trail.

"The Difficulties With Which a Missionary Must Deal," was the subject of the next address, presented by A. B. Caldwell, a Chinese missionary. One great difficulty is the opium traffic, with which the Chinese government is now battling, and also the lack of belief of the heathen peoples.

More than 100 men were present at the evening services, when a banquet was held in the First M. E. church. J. C. Floyd, secretary of the mission work in the western division, made an address on "The Task Before Us." This morning Dr. Richards and Mr. Caldwell and Mr. Floyd addressed audiences at the First M. E. church. This afternoon the Rev. Moore, formerly a missionary in Korea, gave a talk and also two other missionaries, Rev. E. Davis, and Rev. C. W. DeSousa.

A FIRE AT VICTORIA.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 27.—The loss from fire which ate its way through a block in the heart of Victoria last night, was estimated today to be at least $2,000,000. Several of the city's finest buildings are in ruins today and several yachts in the harbor were ignited by flying sparks. Spencer's department store, valued at a quarter of a million dollars, was the scene of the fire's origin. The Deyard hotel was destroyed and the Times and Pemberton buildings gutted.

HE ASKS MORE TIME

William G. Newman of Centerville who stole a mule on Saturday night and after the hearing, knocked through a gate west of the city, did not know whether it was a horse or a mule he had been driving, was brought before Judge Fox on Thursday morning. After a few minutes spent in the presence of the court, Newman was undecided what to do and asked for a few days more in which he might consider the matter. It is probable he will be arraigned in the circuit court in the first part of next week.

Newman, it is alleged, was drunk when he stole the mule and wagon at Fourth and Main streets. The outfit belonged to William Clendenin of this city. Newman has been implicated in several thefts in the county. Several years ago he was connected with the gang which raided hen houses in Center township.

"Fighting Bob" Says Our Powder Supply Too Small

Rear-Admiral Evans, in Sensational Magazine Article, Produces Amazing Figures to Prove Inadequacy of America's Smokeless Powder Supply.

New York, Oct. 27.—Under the title of "Is the United States Prepared for War?" in the November Munsey, Rear-Admiral Evans produces an array of figures which cannot be taken to mean that emphatically are not.

"Fighting Bob's" statements must inevitably cause a sensation in congress, for if it is true that a branch of the service costing $133,000,000 a year is hopelessly inadequate to cope with a real fighting force, it is only to be supposed that the matter will be made a question of congressional inquiry.

"Fighting Bob" says in part:

"The people of the United States are justly proud of their navy and of what it has done, but if they are under the impression that we have a sufficient force to play peace-maker for the world, or to have any weight in such a role, without the assistance of some first-class naval power, they are sadly mistaken. How many or how good our ships may be, and no matter how many guns of the best quality they may carry, our fleet will be useless for war purposes, or as peace-makers, unless it has a bountiful supply of powder of the most reliable kind. Have we this absolutely necessary supply? A little figuring will, I think, surprise the average reader, and give a rude shock to our dream of security.

"The Atlantic fleet, in an engagement lasting one hour, and without using any except its heaviest guns, might use 5,360,000 pounds of powder. This is the expenditure for sixteen battleships only; no account is taken of the other battleships that would be in commission in time of threatened trouble, or of the many cruisers and torpedo-boats. If to this amount we add the powder that will be burned by the six-inch, five-inch and three-inch guns, we find that the fleet, as at present constituted, would fire in one hour 6,243,000 pounds of powder.

"We must certainly have enough powder on hand to allow the fleet to fight for three hours, and this would amount to 18,729,000 pounds. If we allow an equal amount for the fleet in reserve, and for all other purposes, we find that we should require for use in a sudden emergency 37,458,000 pounds of smokeless powder.

"To further illustrate this important subject, let us assume that the active fleet will be composed of sixteen battleships—one division of four dreadnoughts, each carrying twelve twelve-inch guns; one division of four such ships, carrying ten twelve-inch guns; and two divisions of four ships each of the present Atlantic fleet. The fleet thus constituted would fire in one hour 7,038,600 pounds of powder, and in three hours, 21,115,800 pounds. If we allow the same amount of powder for the reserve fleet, and for all other purposes, we find that the government should have ready for use in a sudden emergency 42,231,600 pounds of the best grade of smokeless powder.

"How long would it take all the powder factories in the country to supply this demand, even if the worked day and night?" "How much we actually have on hand, and how long it would take to secure the amount necessary to make up the deficiency, if there is one, are questions which for obvious reasons I cannot answer. It is safe, however, to say that the answer would startle the people of the United States."

The Needy of Life. Married people should learn what to do for one another's little life, and for the life of the children that may come. They are sure sooner or later to have occasion to treat constipation or indigestion. When the opportunity comes, remember that the quickest way to obtain relief, and finally a permanent cure, is with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound. A bottle should always be in the house. It costs only 50 cents or $1 at drug stores.
