

RICHMOND GETS A TASTE OF WINTER

First Snow Fall Was Today and "the Beautiful" Came Down in Big Flakes.

GALE RAGING ON LAKES

TEMPERATURE HERE TOOK A DIPPING TONIGHT IT IS PROBABLE WE WILL BE A LITTLE COLDER.

AT CLEVELAND, O. Cleveland, O., Oct. 28.—A heavy snow storm is raging in Cleveland today. The streets were covered with snow this morning and a heavy fall tonight was predicted. Storm warnings were flashed over Lake Erie.

GALE SWEEPS LAKE

Dunkirk, N. Y., Oct. 28.—A high wind has been sweeping Lake Erie the past 24 hours and shipping has been tied up in the local harbor. This morning snow began falling and the temperature dropped fifteen degrees in the last seven hours.

SNOW FALLS HERE.

Richmond Gets Its First Glimpse of the "Beautiful" This Winter.

A sharp fall in the temperature, accompanied by a heavy snow storm this morning and afternoon, brought out overcoats, mufflers and heavy clothes in great abundance. The snow began falling just before noon and for an hour a regular "north-wester" was in progress. At times the flakes were so large and numerous that it was impossible to see across the street.

The fall of temperature was quick. At 4 o'clock this morning the thermometer stood at 40 degrees above zero but within five hours it was standing two degrees below freezing, registering the coldest weather of the season, up to this time. About 2 o'clock the mercury was around freezing.

The weather predictions are for a killing frost tonight, accompanied by falling temperature and fair weather. Continued cold is the prediction for tomorrow and the weatherman promises no relief from the early fall freeze for several days. Fair weather is expected after tonight.

Probably little damage will result from the cold weather. The wheat is out of the ground but at such a stage that, according to the farmers, it will not be damaged. Many flowers in the city were frosted by the cold weather last night, although the frost was light on account of the high wind and cloudy conditions. The heaviest frost of the season is expected tonight.

PICKETS ON DUTY AT LOCAL FACTORY

"It's a minute! Are you a he union moulder are on duty at that factory?"

The union has a representative at the union hall at all times. Fred Manning, who is chairman of the striking moulders, is in charge of the situation as far as the men are concerned. A few of the moulders have made an attempt to enter the factory but were led out by one of the foremen. They offered no violence. They know little of what is going on within the factory it seems.

The department is working short of hands. The officials of the factory stated that they have made no effort to fill the places of the union men who walked out on Monday. They will give the strikers their jobs back if the men will agree to the open shop policy, which the factory officials recently decided was the better plan. The other departments of the factory in which union men are employed have not been affected by the strike as none of the other unions have been asked to declare a sympathy strike against the firm.

The purchase of the mules was made at a time when the Indianapolis & Louisville traction line was being built and it was impossible to hire teams. The board consented to buy them as a matter of economy and they were regularly disposed of when the work could go on without them.

FEDERATION HELD CLOSING MEETING HERE LAST NIGHT

Major, General Federation secretary at this convention, made a report in behalf of the credentials committee, showing that the total enrollment of the convention was 263, in addition to which there was 55 out-of-town visitors. This is much larger than last year. The Sixth district had the largest number in the convention—47. In 1908 the Federation had a membership of but 16 clubs while now it has 61 clubs and a total membership of 2,532. This announcement was received with cheers. It was shown that the federation spirit is growing and the prospect is for a great advance in membership the next year.

Musical Features. Other features of Thursday evening were musical numbers by Miss Alice Knollenberg and Mrs. F. W. Krueger, the presentation of the new Federation officers to the audience by Mrs. Grace Julian Clarke, the selected president, a resolution of appreciation by the convention for the courteous treatment in Richmond, announcement of the gift of a picture from the Woman's Club at New Harmony of the house where the first women's club was organized, and the announcement that Miss Frances Goodwin, the New Castle sculptor, who has been residing in Paris, will sell for the United States on November 17, bringing with her the bronze bust of Robert Dale Owens. Miss Goodwin was commissioned some months ago by the Robert Dale Memorial Association to make a bust of Owen and she made the plaster cast while in Indianapolis and took this to Paris with her, where she superintended the casting of the bust in bronze. The bust is to be placed in the state capital at Indianapolis and will be formally dedicated later. The action by the memorial association is in an effort to show the appreciation of the women of the state for the efforts that Owen put forth in behalf of womankind generally and the money raised by the club to pay for the bust was contributed by the club women of the state.

A message of greeting was read from Mrs. Martin Evans Martin, who was to have appeared on the program, but who was unable to come. Mrs. Martin, who formerly was of Richmond, was present at the organization of the first woman's club in this city and was to have told of that occasion. Greetings were also read from Mrs. Major, of Shelbyville, General Federation secretary for Indiana, expressing her appreciation of the message sent her by the Federation. Mrs. Major was a former president of the federation.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

Child Labor Discussed in Effectual Way by The Rev. F. S. Wicks.

The welfare of the child was given a special consideration at the session of the convention on Thursday afternoon, two valuable addresses on this subject being delivered by C. N. Kendall, superintendent of the Indianapolis schools, and the Rev. Frank S. C. Wicks, pastor of All Soul's Unitarian church, Indianapolis. Mr. Kendall's subject was "The School for the Child," and in this he gave expression to a number of progressive views in educational work, showing that he is himself well to the fore in this great field. He considers public education the most important business of the state and there is a need of more teachers, teachers with higher attainments and better support for the boards of education. In the general consideration of his subject, Mr. Kendall, who has brought the Indianapolis schools to a very high standard, divided it into five divisions, the material school equipment, the teacher, the course of study, health and the school administration. Mr. Kendall believes that the best possible system should

DYSPEPSIA, GAS, SOURNESS, HEARTBURN, OR INDIGESTION WILL PROMPTLY VANISH.

Your out-of-order Stomach will feel fine in five minutes.

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapiesin and realize not only immediate but lasting relief. This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your Pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There be evolved for the benefit of the child and that it is not possible to evolve a system that meets the needs of the child as a general rule, it being necessary to consider the child as an individual and deal with it in that way.

Rev. Wicks' Address.

The address of the Rev. Wicks dealt more especially with child labor, his specific subject being, "The Value of Child Conservation in Indiana." He laid tremendous emphasis upon the conditions that now prevail among the children of the state, it being his belief that compared to the iniquity and injustice of the child-labor system, all the other evils are insignificant. He attributed this condition to greed, or, as he termed it, it is "the Moloch of commerce into whose fiery breast little children are being cast by hundreds of thousands." He gave statistics to show the numbers and conditions of the wage-earning children of the nation, the total approximating two million, a half million between the ages of ten and fourteen being unable to read or write. He also referred to the condition of the messenger service in the larger cities. Rev. Wicks believes that the remedy lies not so much in securing legislation as in getting an aroused public opinion, the rest of the thing being easy.

At this session, which was presided over by Mrs. Virgil H. Lockwood, chairman of the department of child labor and industrial education, Mr. Crocker, of Ohio Valley, secretary of the Child Labor Commission, was presented and spoke briefly. As stated in the report of Thursday, special effort will be made the coming year in behalf of the child laborers and the state legislature of 1911 will be asked to afford what relief is possible through favorable legislation. The Federation feels sure that some real advancement in this regard will be made the coming year despite the determined opposition of those who profit from the labor of the children.

At the session Thursday afternoon Mrs. McFarland, of Connersville, completed the report of the district chairmen, this having been interrupted earlier in the day. A new by-law was adopted by which the president and federation secretary shall, by virtue of their office, be delegates from the Indiana Federation to the General Federation. Graham R. Taylor, who was to have appeared on the program yesterday afternoon, speaking on "Recreation and Social Welfare," did not reach the city because of some railroad trouble and the afternoon concluded with the organ recital at Reid Memorial church, mentioned elsewhere. Mrs. Clarke, the president, received a cluster of yellow chrysanthemums previous to the adjournment, these being the gift of the club women from the Seventh district.

ARREST J. H. RUNGE

Feed Dealer Accused of Mixing Stock Feed and Selling Without Label.

For mixing stock feed and selling it without it being labeled and all contents of the food being given, John Henry Runge, a feed dealer on South Seventh street, has been arrested and charged with violating the state stock food law. He has given bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance in the circuit court. Sheriff Linus Meredith made the arrest.

The evidence on which the affidavit was based was furnished by O. S. Roberts with headquarters at Indianapolis. He is a state stock food inspector. The trial probably will be held in the circuit court in the near future. The law is one which is being violated generally over the state. It is said largely because the dealers are not familiar with its provisions, it is said. The fine for the first offense is a comparatively small one.

CHARGES AGAINST MARION OFFICERS

State Board of Accounts Holds Several of Them Accountable for a Big Sum.

DEMAND $11,735 RETURNED

OF THIS AMOUNT $9,765 IS CHARGED FOR MONIES RECEIVED IN FURNISHING SUPPLIES TO THAT CITY.

MURDERER TO HANG

(American News Service)

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 28.—Unless saved by a respite Bert M. Taylor, convicted of murder, will be executed at the state penitentiary late tonight or early Saturday morning. Taylor's crime was committed in the town of Minden more than two years ago. He attacked his sister-in-law, Pearl Taylor, and abused her younger sister. He then set fire to the home and fled. Pearl Taylor died as a result of the assault some days later. Taylor escaped to California, where he was captured several months later and returned to Nebraska.

Richmond's Lake and Park Project

The movement that is now on foot and is pushed vigorously by the promoters of the Lake and Park project, means not only a Park where the citizens of the community may have their own lot and summer home, but it is a part of the greater movement which will ultimately improve all that part of the adjacent to this addition, placing a street car line through that will finally extend on across the river to the New Paris pike, thence west to Spring Grove, making a circuit throughout the northern part of the city.

With this park established, the street car company will be glad to build their lines in that direction.

The people are very generally enthusiastic about the prospect of having such facilities for enjoying the summer months within reach of them and are subscribing for the stock that is being offered on very favorable terms. The following is a list of the subscribers who have already taken stock:

MANUEL GETS A HUG

Deposed Ruler of Portugal Was Warmly Embraced by King George.

BOYISH MONARCH SOBBED

(American News Service)

London, Oct. 28.—King George and ex-King Manuel, the deposed and exiled monarch of Portugal, met in royal embrace at Woodnorton in Worcestershire today. King George personally consoled with the royal exile and Manuel accepted the sympathy in a deeply affected manner, with tears in his eyes. King George was accompanied by Queen Mary. They went by train and will return to London this evening. Manuel and the Queen Motehr Amelle are living in strict seclusion upon the Woodnorton estate of the Duke of Orleans.

Manuel wept when the British monarch affectionately placed his arm over the sturdy shoulder of the young man who six weeks ago, was apparently secure upon the throne of Portugal.

The trip of King George and Queen Mary was originally set for last Saturday but was postponed on account
