Tuesday, November 8.

Nine days off. Nine days and the polls will open in the gray of the morning. The day may be bright and sunny—or the chilly damp of November may fill the leaden morning. But none the less the day will come with the swift and unerring accuracy of the movements of the sun—and then election day.

In times gone past they would have called this an "off year." They would have said that there being no governor and no president to elect that there was little to worry the average man and that he could stay away from the polls without worrying much about the consequences.

But this year is of more importance than many of the presidential elections.

Because there are no armed men in the streets—because the papers do not daily tell of some fresh danger by arms to the republic is no sign that we are not undergoing the same condition a little different in its form which decided what was to be the fate of the nation in the sixties.

Pick up any magazine of national circulation—pick up any newspaper from outside of Indiana—is there anything strange in that the election this year in Indiana is causing people all over the country to center their hopes and their fears on this state?

Why is it?

You know.

You know that down in your heart the issue remains with you. If you do not feel this way the fault must still lie with you—for you can not escape the responsibility.

Some one has said that this is the Third American Conflict.

And it is so.

What part did Wayne county take in the Second American Conflict? Drums beat in the street. Men went out and did their duty without a whimper and the county of Wayne had men at the forefront—in the conflict.

Do you think it an "off year" when the international forces of organized predatory wealth have poured their money into this state to decide this "off year election?" When up and down the land the greatest men have come into this state for the purpose of telling people about the great struggle against the forces of graft in the national capital?

It does no good to tell a man that his vote is a reproach and a dishonor to him if it is not used. This is not a question of good citizenship—this is a question of citizenship.

The time has come to strike and to strike hard with the full force of the arm.

Do you remember that exciting day in the spring when the fight on the Cannon rules broke and how men cheered in the street when it had won? Do you remember the thrill of the fight for the restoration of popular government?

Do you remember that fight against the unholy tariff and the fight against the railroads in which the insurgent won out?

At each time this paper came out and said that it was a victory for the people.

And we said that the men in congress should stand on their records and by their records they should be defeated or returned.

We said that the men in congress who had stood by the people had done all they could—and that now it was up to you! You can't escape the responsibility.

Who invented this phrase the "off year?"

It is the very men who have profited by that invention to keep men away from the polls.

The man who tells you that this is an "off year" means that he does not think the congress of the United States is as of much importance as his ward—when his next door neighbor runs for council.

And yet this fight means food and clothes and the lives of men and women and children.

An "off year!"

YOU CANNOT ESCAPE THE RESPONSIBILITY.

You can sleep; you can go out in the country; you may go into an adjoining state—but the responsibility and the following regret—you will never forget or escape.

What right have you to be an American citizen and not to vote when even that right of citizenship is threatened?

The honest man who does not go to the polls is a worse criminal than the crook who sells his vote.

The crook knows no better—the honest man aids him.

Where do you line up on Nov. 8?

A BIG MISSIONARY MEETING THIS WEEK

Eighteen of the Protestant Churches of the City Are to Participate.

ALL PLANS FORMULATED

MEETINGS WILL BE HELD AT THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH UNDER AUSPICES OF Y. P. M. MOVEMENT.

The final meeting of the executive committee for the union missionary institute has been held and the reports from the various sub-committees indicate that a splendid attendance and great interest are expected for all the sessions this week. From Wednesday night until Friday night. The sessions are to be held in the First Presbyterian church under the auspices of the Young People's Missionary Movement, and the eighteen churches of the city are united in the work.

It is the aim of the workers who are to conduct the institute to bring the greatest possible uplift to the city, to enlist the young people in the campaign of mission study, to introduce wide plans of missionary work in the Sunday school, to secure delegates to the summer conferences of the Young People's Missionary Movement, to disseminate general missionary information, and to aid the local churches by increasing the efficiency of every missionary worker.

This institute is part of a campaign of missionary education that is to cover the United States and Canada in the next five years. The campaign is being begun in Indiana, and not for another five years will there be opportunity to hear such speakers again in Richmond.

The men who will conduct the institute here are among the strongest missionary leaders in America.

Mr. Ward Everett of New York, will teach one of the classes and will operate the stereopticon and moving picture apparatus.

Rev. J. E. Crowther of Chicago, western field secretary of the Young People's Missionary Movement, in addition to having general oversight of the campaign will teach one of the classes and conduct conference on missionary work in the young people's societies.

Rev. George H. Trull of New York is the Sunday school secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church. He is a man of wide experience and national repute as an expert in missionary methods for the Sunday school.

Rev. W. E. Doughty of New York, assistant secretary of the Young People's department of the Methodist Episcopal church, is a platform speaker of unusual power and a skilled worker with young people.

Tebbetts is Active. Rev. Charles E. Tebbetts of this city, general secretary of the American Friends board of foreign missions, attended the institute conducted by these four men at Kokomo, Ind., recently, and he has addressed a letter to all the Friends' churches of this part of the state in which, urging them to attend this institute, he says among other things:

"The institute aroused very great interest. Mr. Crowther, Dr. Doughty and Dr. Trull are each national leaders in their departments of work. Their work at Kokomo was most inspiring. Their meetings were largely attended, there being over 1,200 in the evening audiences. Dr. Doughty's address the first evening was regarded as one of the strongest ever given in Kokomo. The display of stereopticon and moving pictures views, the second evening on home mission work and the third evening on foreign missions were most fascinating and instructive. The afternoon institute on practical methods of creating interest in missions was ably conducted by Mr. Crowther, and will be most helpful to workers who attend."

Mission study classes will be conducted, the following books being used: "Servants of the King" by Robert E. Speer; "Conversion in Transition," by James S. Gale; "Advance in the Antilles," by Howard B. Groce, and "Uganda's White Man of Work" by Mrs. Fahs.

ECZEMA ON HANDS FOR TEN YEARS

Were Raw All Over—Was Spreading to Body and Limbs—Used Cuticura and Was Cured—Also Cured Daughter's Eczema.

"I had eczema on my hands for ten years. At first it would break out only in winter. Then it finally came to stay. I had three good doctors to do all they could but none of them did any good. I then used one box of Cuticura Ointment and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent and was completely cured. My hands were raw all over, inside and out, and the eczema was spreading all over my body and limbs. Before I had used one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, together with the Cuticura Ointment, my sores were nearly healed over, and by the time I had used the third bottle, I was entirely well. I had a good appetite and was busier than I ever was. To any one who has any skin or blood disease I would honestly advise them to fool with nothing else, but to get Cuticura and get well. My hands, cured by the use of Cuticura, have never given me the least bit of trouble up to now. I cannot recommend Cuticura highly enough, it has done me and my family so much good. My daughter's hands this summer became perfectly raw with eczema. She could get nothing that would do them any good until she tried Cuticura. She used two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent and one box of Cuticura Ointment and in two weeks they were entirely cured. I have used Cuticura for other members of my family and it always proved successful. I recommend it to any one with eczema. After one using it you will never use anything else. Write to Mrs. M. E. Fahn, Speers Ferry, Va., Oct. 19, 1909."

Cuticura is the most economical treatment for Eczema of the skin and scalp. A tube of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient, sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Mfrs., Boston.

WRESTLES WITH BULL

Young Giant at Muncie Grabs Animal by Horns and Saves His Life.

FIGHT IN SLAUGHTER PEN

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 29.—Literally duplicating the feat of the fabled man who "took the bull by the horns," Taylor Stewart, seventeen years old, of Yorktown, son of John Stewart, butcher, of that place, thereby saved his own life and all but killed the bull. The youth, who weighs 280 pounds and who has strength to correspond with his weight, was in the slaughter pen owned by his father, when he was charged by the infuriated bull that had been sent there because of his mean disposition to be slaughtered. After vainly trying to escape and seeing that he only had one course left, Stewart grasped the bull firmly by the horns and threw him, dislocating the animal's neck. The animal was so badly injured that it was found necessary to slough it immediately. Stewart was unhurt.
