DAISY IN JAPAN.

Salt enters largely into the superstitions of Japan, as it does with others. It is placed in three little heaps in front of the shop when opened in the morning and is also sprinkled in front of a person who has returned from a funeral and before he is allowed to enter a house.

A funeral procession is supposed never to go out of the front gate of a house, the back gate being generally used, and if there is no back gate an arch or ring of bamboo is held by two men within the front gate, and the bier passes through that. After a funeral salt is sprinkled on the ground and the house is swept out.—St. Louis Republic.

An Optical Phenomenon.

The specter of Brocken is a striking optical phenomenon seen under peculiar atmospheric conditions at sunrise or sunset from the summit of the Brocken of Blocksberg, the highest of the Harz mountains in Saxony. It consists of a gigantic figure of the observer, projected on the mists that rise out of the valley on the side of the mountain opposite to the sun. This phenomenon is seen about eight or nine times every year and was formerly the cause of many popular superstitions.

8647—GIRL'S DRESS

A smart dress for wash or woolen fabrics. A smart little frock is here portrayed. The front and back have box plait over the shoulder, while groups of tufts hold the fullness at the center. In white linen with stitching for a finish, or of laws with the box plait of insertion, this model will be very effective. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes—2, 4, 6, 8 years. It requires 3 yards of 36 inch material for the 6 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.
