

T. MARSHALL FOR PRESIDENT BOOM

Campaign Buttons Appear and National Interest Has Been Created.

Indianapolis, March 1.—The "Marshall for President" boom which was started a few days ago through the appearance of campaign buttons bearing the legend "For President, Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana for me," is exciting national interest and growing apace.

The "boom" has reached Washington and Representative Korbly of Indiana sprung a decided sensation in the halls of congress by appearing on the floor of the house displaying a "Marshall" button pinned conspicuously on his coat. Mr. Korbly was instantly besieged by members of the Indiana delegation and other Hoosier Democrats who asked that he furnish them with similar buttons. Many have telegraphed and written for these buttons and a supply will be sent to Washington for distribution.

Col. William C. Liller, who is reported as being the promoter of the "Marshall boom" and the head of the campaign committee which is putting out the buttons, has been beset with letters and telegrams from Democratic editors and others all over the state asking that supplies of buttons be sent them at once, offering their services and expressing a willingness to co-operate in spreading the "Marshall for President" movement.

It is reliably stated that the Marshall boomers have invaded Michigan and Illinois and found considerable sentiment for Gov. Marshall already exists there. Requests for buttons have come from Michigan, Illinois, Missouri and Minnesota, and will be honored promptly. In speaking of the "Marshall for President" boom Col. Liller says:

"We are making no noise, nor are we blowing any trumpets but preparing in a quiet way of our own to promote the nomination of Gov. Marshall for President. We feel that if we make an active campaign at this time it might only serve to embarrass the governor, who has not expressed any intention to be a candidate for President, nor do we expect him to announce his candidacy. However, his friends and the Indiana Democrats feel that now is the time for Indiana to put him forward and create such a strong and favorable sentiment for him that he will allow his name to be presented to the next national convention."

"It is surprising how rapidly the people took to the 'Marshall for President' idea. The most significant and gratifying indication of popular favor—an element of incalculable prestige and weight in a national convention—is evidence by many Republicans who are wearing the Marshall buttons and enthusiastically proclaiming their willingness to back Gov. Marshall for President and vote for him if he is nominated."

"The men are interested with me in seeing Gov. Marshall nominated agree that he should put out 5,000 buttons to see how they took and ascertain the real sentiment of the people. This supply has gone like wildfire. Everybody wants a Marshall button and we have had to order more."

"We believe that now is the time to begin a campaign to educate the Democrats of the country on the advisability and adaptability of nominating Gov. Marshall, his availability must also be considered. We have assurances of loyal support in Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and find some influential champions of the governor in Missouri, Ohio, and Kansas. We hope to crystallize this sentiment into substantial form in the near future and inaugurate plans for an active and aggressive campaign that will result in the nomination, election and inauguration of Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana as the next President of the United States."

BREAKING OUT ALL OVER BODY

Itched Dreadfully. When Scratched It Would Bleed and Become Very Sore. Could Scarcely Sleep as the Itching was Worse at Night. Dreaded Putting Hands in Water.

Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment 3 Weeks. Trouble all Disappeared.

"Some time ago I had a breaking out all over my body. It first started like what we call goose flesh and itched dreadfully. When I scratched it, it would bleed and become very sore. I tried almost everything for the itching but none gave me much relief. I could scarcely sleep as the itching was always worse at night. My hands were so sore I dreaded putting them in water and after I would wash dishes or do laundry work that required the use of other soaps they were always worse. This went on for about six months. Then I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and in two or three weeks the trouble all disappeared. I always found that my hands were worse (with a dry scale on them) after using any cheap soap but the Cuticura Soap produced such a soothing feeling on my skin that it was a pleasure to use it. I also know what wonders the Cuticura Remedies have done for a friend of mine, so I would recommend them to any one. Mrs. Delaware Barrett, 613 E. 12th St., Wilmington, Del., Nov. 15, 1908."

Cuticura Remedies sold throughout the world. Puticura Soap & Ointment. Beware of cheap imitations. 25-page book on skin diseases. Addressed to you, 25-page book on skin diseases.

Enoch Cromer, 309 N. Fourteenth St., Richmond, Ind., says: "I have no need of Doan's Kidney Pills since they cured me of kidney trouble in 1906. At that time I gave a statement for publication, recommending this remedy and I do not wish to withdraw anything from that testimonial. Rall-roading is very hard on the kidneys and my case was no exception to the rule, as I suffered from kidney complaint for some time. The passages of the kidney secretions were irregular and painful and I often felt dizzy and weak. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at A. G. Luken & Co's Drug Store and their use brought prompt relief. In a short time I was entirely free from kidney trouble and since then, whenever I have heard anyone complaining of backache, I have advised a trial of Doan's Kidney Pills."

ADDICTED TO DRINK

The American Women Drink More Than English Is Charge.

New York, Mar. 1.—American women drink as much as, if not more, than the English women according to Dr. John D. Quackenbos, who has made a study of the question. Unlike Dr. Murray Leslie, a London physician, who asserts that there is far more secret drinking among women than is generally known, Dr. Quackenbos says that in America women make no effort to conceal their drinking, but proclaim their overfondness for highballs, cocktails and champagne by indulging to excess in public cafes, restaurants, and the big hotels. Smoking too, he says, is a vice coupled with the drink habit that is working havoc among women as well as girls.

Dr. Quackenbos is preparing a paper to be read in Baltimore before the Society for the Study of Alcoholic Beverages and Narcotic Drugs.

"The women of the middle classes in America drink beer, but not to excess, as a rule," he said. "It is the custom to have beer with dinners, and if the stuff was pure the harm would be less than what it is."

"But tobacco is doing just as much harm as alcohol, for the two go together, and I know that too much tobacco leads to too much alcohol."

"American women in doing anything good or bad generally go to extremes, and my experience in New York shows it is very difficult to control the drink habit among them because of their unwillingness to make any social sacrifices."

"For instance, they keep going to social functions where punch and other alcoholic drinks are served, and they give wine dinners themselves. They play with fire and tempt providence continually. And the most unfortunate thing about it is that the habit is developing among young girls and debutantes at their luncheons and dinners, coupled with smoking cigarettes and playing games of chance for money."

WRITES OBITUARY BEFORE HER DEATH

South Bend, Ind., Mar. 1.—Shortly before her death, Mrs. Margaret J. Tritt, a pioneer resident of Mishawaka and a woman of literary attainments, wrote a poem and obituary notice for insertion in the newspapers the day after her death. Mrs. Tritt died yesterday and the funeral notice was found tucked under the pillow. She had also written an explanation. Mrs. Tritt was the mother of Mrs. C. W. Slick and passed away at her home after a long illness. She was born in Franklin county, Pennsylvania, May 9, 1824.

After preparing the funeral notice she had composed the following verses:

The curtain's falling and the lights burn low,
So with God's help I am ready to go.
I've seen life's melodrama, paid the price,
Have known its loves and losses, hopes and fears,
The laughter and the tears.
And now, God knows, I would not see it twice.
I've crossed life's ocean, faced its blinding foam
But now heaven whispers, I am nearing home.
And though a storm tossed hull I reach the shore,
A thing of battered sheets and broken spars
Naked against the stars;
I soon shall be at peace for evermore.

MILE TRACK SOON TO BE CONSTRUCTED

Fences were torn down at the old fair grounds leased by the Richmond Driving club on Monday and work will be started soon on plowing up the grounds, to prepare it for the construction of the mile track, which will be built for the association.

Already over seventy of the desired 100 members have been secured. In case the project proves a success, a fair association will probably be formed, according to Mayor Zimmerman who is interested in the project.

SNAKES FIGURE IN SUIT CASE COMEDY

Pet Reptiles Crawl Out as Passenger Opens Baggage to Get Pajamas.

New York, Mar. 1.—After Raymond L. Dittmar, curator of the zoo, got through exhibiting four of his pet snakes before the Rocky Mountain club at the Waldorf Monday night he put them in a suitcase and left it in care of Zayas, manager of the club.

Morning came and with it John Tommy, a park keeper. The suit case and its snakes were joyfully turned over to him. Swinging the case Tommy journeyed back to the zoo. Dittmar instructed him to put the snakes in their proper house. Tommy went to the snakehouse, opened the suit case and removed one pair of pajamas, two shirts, several collars and some underwear.

Tuesday passed without news of the snakes. Night came. In the early watches Elmer A. De Pue, a member of the Rocky Mountain club, went to the Pennsylvania station, got a ticket and engaged a sleeping car berth to Washington. As the porter was taking down his berth De Pue lifted the suit case he had been carrying. Putting it on the vacant seat opposite, he undid the straps and flung back the lid.

Four heads were uplifted and waved to and fro. De Pue gave a horrified gasp and banged the lid down. Then the agitated club member called to the porter.

"Never mind about that berth. I—I—I guess I won't go to Washington after all."

The porter was so much astonished he almost dropped his whisk broom when De Pue got off at the first stop, Harrison N. J. Racing to the nearest telephone booth De Pue excitedly called up Zayas to straighten out the tangle.

De Pue subsidized a negro porter. To him he entrusted the suit case, telling him it contained glassware of great price, and that he must not lose or drop it. The porter went to the zoo, found Dittmar, turned over the precious case and asked for the one De Pue had said would be given in exchange.

Anxious to know how his snakes had stood the long confinement, Dittmar hurriedly opened the case. The negro got one glance at the contents and fled.

DO PAINTINGS OVER

Redress Works of Art in Pajamas and Overalls.

Albany, N. Y., Mar. 1.—As a result of the efforts of the Rev. J. A. McCullagh, a well known purist, who recently made a tour through Albany's underworld, valuable oil paintings in a local saloon have been "done over" to conform with the rules of decorum and the mandates of the police.

When the owner of the pictures was informed by officers that his paintings must either be "draped or removed" by today he hired an artist and put him to work. The result was startling.

"Diana at the Bath," said to have been valued at $10,000, is no longer shocking. Diana herself has been clad in a bathing suit of brilliant hue, while her attendants wear suits of rainbow varieties. The man in the painting appears in a convict garb, wearing a silk hat and smokes a pipe.

Another valuable work, "The Awakening of Adam," has been "done over" so that Eve wears a suit of blue pajamas and Adam a pair of overalls. Both have on boxing gloves.

DELIRIOUS PRINTER LEAPS FROM WINDOW

Hammond, Ind., Mar. 1.—Andrew Flaherty, a Chicago linotype operator, while delirious with pneumonia and clad only in his nightgown, jumped twice from St. Mary's hospital. The first time he escaped from the nurse, climbed out of a third story window, walked thirty feet across an eight-inch water tabling and leaped into a tree fifteen feet from the building. He escaped unhurt. Though supposed to be dying with pneumonia he performed several gymnastic feats in the tree, using branches for a turning pole.

When brought back to the hospital, Flaherty's delirium had left him. He was put on the second floor in charge of a male nurse. The nurse walked around the bed and Flaherty threw off his clothes, rushed to a window and again leaped out, alighting on the frozen ground. He was only slightly injured, but was so delirious that he had to be strapped to his bed.

The London market for the importation of plumage for women's hats is the largest in the world and it is estimated that five thousand persons are employed in the manufacturing and other work incidental to this trade. The value of the imports is said to be $3,500,000 to $4,000,000 a year.

CHICAGO PAPERS HURT BY STRIKE

Printers of Hearst Papers Walk Out, All Papers Reduce Their Size.

(American News Service)

Chicago, March 1.—Because of a strike of compositors on the Chicago Examiner and Chicago American, all newspapers in the city are publishing in abbreviated form today. The strike was called yesterday afternoon over a difference in wages and the reduction of the sizes of the other papers was in conformity with a publishers' agreement.

James M. Lynch, president of the International Typographical Union, sent a telegram to the American and Examiner declaring that the strike was unauthorized, illegal and without warning. His telegram reads:

"American and Examiner, Chicago, Illinois: Strike unauthorized, illegal and without warning. You are authorized to publish this dispatch."

The trouble was over the demand of the printers to be paid on a larger basis than they worked following the installation of a new wage scale. The management of the American and Examiner agreed to submit to an arbitration, but the strike was ordered in the face of a most binding contract, which according to the publishers, violates not only the arbitration agreement with the Union, but also the by laws of the organization.

Publishers' Statement.

The Chicago Publishers' association issued a statement in which they announced that in consequence of the strike, all the Chicago morning newspapers would publish four page papers. None of the morning newspapers carried any advertisements and the columns were devoted entirely to news of big importance, principally with regard to the local election. The editorial pages were all dispensed with. Sporting news was handled in the briefest possible manner.

The publishers' statement also sets forth that February 4 the Chicago American and Chicago Examiner accepted the scale of wages for printers agreed upon by the international board of arbitration, consisting of James M. Lynch, president, and J. W. Hayes, vice president, of the International Typographical Union, and Hugo Miller, vice president, and Herman Ridder, president of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, George C. Hitt, publisher of the Indianapolis Star, and H. M. Kellogg, labor commissioner, of the Publishers' association.

The local union had nine months' notice that the Examiner and American would accept the award. Meantime, these papers continued to pay wages on a scale on an expired contract, amounting to many thousand dollars in excess of the award.

The publishers yielded several points to the union, but when the union ordered the foreman to pass his payroll through at a higher rate than the one allowed in the award, the publishers balked. The money was paid before they knew what had happened and then they ordered a correction.

Then the strike was called. The president of the local union refused to arbitrate the question.

PRESIDENT LYNCH'S ORDER

(American News Service)
Washington, March 1.—President Lynch of the International Typographical Union today ordered the striking Chicago printers by telegraph to return to work as their strike was illegal and unauthorized.

ROBIN IS GUILTY FAVOR LOW LICENCE

Sky Rocket Financier Asks Court's Mercy.

New York, March 1.—Joseph G. Robin, the sky rocket financier, today abandoned his insanity defense and pleaded guilty to the indictment charging him with the larceny of $37,000. He will be sentenced on March 27th. The maximum penalty is twenty years. Several more indictments are still pending. He threw himself on the mercy of the court.

In an effort to secure a light sentence, Robin confessed he had been shamming insanity, and agreed to expose the details of his financial operations. The indictments against certain prominent officials of trust companies are expected as a result.

MEDICAL SOCIETY HOLDS A MEETING

The Wayne County Medical society held its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the high school auditorium. The meeting was largely attended and much interest manifested in the different subjects under discussion. The treatment of a blood disease with the powerful drug 606 was discussed and illustrated with stereopticon views by Dr. M. L. Heldinsfeld of Cincinnati. Other subjects under consideration were: "Chlorosis," by Dr. S. E. Bond; "Diabetes," by Dr. V. N. Falkner; "Ethereoptosis" by Dr. I. Allen.

DID NOT ATTEMPT TO KILL HERSELF

Physicians who attended Mrs. Catharine Forkner, 123 North Seventh street, reported to have attempted suicide by taking carbolic acid, say that there was no presence of acid detected. Mrs. Forkner was once in the asylum for treatment and some time ago attempted her life by jumping into a cistern. Her illness, Monday, when she is reported to have attempted to take her life, is said by physicians to have been from natural causes.

Senate Appointments Lends This Impression.

Indianapolis, March 1.—The appointment of Senators, who favor a low license as members of the conference committee, today, practically assured that license fees fixed by the house in the regulatory liquor bill will be unchanged. Senators Hauck and Durre, were named, Senator Proctor being ignored. The latter is fighting for $700 and $500 license.

GOOD BLOOD.

Given good, clean, healthy blood, Nature will do the rest with any case of catarrh, inflammatory rheumatism, scrofula, eczema, erysipelas, boils, pimples, scrofula, or skin disease of any kind. Good blood invariably means vigorous appetite, good digestion and strength.

Thus it stands to reason that an effective "alterative" or blood purifier, while it will not cure all diseases, will cure in fighting any disease and will cure those mentioned above, all of which comes from bad blood.

Forty years ago Dr. A. B. Simpson, of Richmond, was known as one of the most successful physicians in three states. His success was founded almost exclusively on one prescription, the most powerful blood purifier ever known. After his death this prescription was regularly put up as Dr. A. B. Simpson's Vegetable Compound.

It has been used extensively all over the country and in forty years has never failed, even in that most dreadful of all blood diseases, syphilis in its worst stage. And when an alternative will do that, it, of course cleans and rebuilds blood affected with other troubles. Simpson's Vegetable Compound is purely vegetable and as harmless as it is effective. It is sold at $1 per bottle at all drug stores.
