

ENROUTE TO JAIL TRAMP BEGS DIME

Hobo, With His Companion,
Two Worst Bums Ever
Arrested in City.

When Patrolman Vogelsohn was taking two bums, Floaters and Blubbers, as they called themselves, to police headquarters this morning, one jerked away from the officer and demanded a dime of a man passing by. These two tramps are said by the police to be the most typical bums that have ever been arrested here. At least a dozen complaints came in against them during the morning, but they managed to dodge the police until almost noon.

Blubbers held up a milk wagon at Tenth and South A street early this morning and demanded a drink of milk, while Floaters was asking for a loaf of bread from Zwissler's wagon. When arrested they had enough lunch to last a week, according to the police. When an officer entered the jail this afternoon, they begged that he get them something to eat. Then one of them wanted change for a dollar, a nickel, a drink at water the time of day and half a dozen other things. Chief Gorman spent the entire afternoon trying to find the heaviest penalty which might be inflicted on the two bums. They will be arraigned in police court tomorrow morning. Blubbers and Floaters refused to give their real names.

MEXICAN TROOPS ARE SENT NORTH

And Martial Law Today Is Existing Throughout the Republic.

(American News Service)
Mexico City, March 13.—The entire republic of Mexico is under martial law today. Without awaiting the assent of the permanent commission of congress to the setting aside of constitutional guarantees the government has begun the movement of additional troops to Chihuahua and Coahuila.

Though the action of the permanent commission is merely a matter of form it will give its approval of the plan for a war of extermination against the insurgents.

The rebels will be hunted down like wild beasts and anyone found interfering with the railroad service will be shot without trial.

Hopes to Crush Revolt.
With a living wall of American troops along the border, President Diaz is confident that the regulars which he will now hurl against the revolutionary forces will be able to crush the insurrection.

Other government officials, however, are not so sanguine. The situation in Mexico City alone has been dangerous for some time and it is feared that the sending of the main strength of the army to northern Mexico will allow the insurgents to spread the revolt even into the southern states that are now in a condition bordering upon anarchy.

The latest appearance of Diaz in order to contradict rumors that his health is in a precarious condition has not served to clear the situation.

The aged president is understood to be suffering from heart trouble and during his entire interview with newspaper men yesterday, his son, Col. Porfirio Diaz, Jr., was at his side every moment.

The presidential palace is guarded night and day by picked troops of the army. President Diaz has been in fear of assassination for a year and more elaborate precautions than ever are being taken now.

RESIGNED POSITION

Mr. Robert L. Saunders has resigned his position with the Davis Carriage company to accept one with an Indianapolis company.

A Boomerang.
"What's the matter with your head?" asked the first bumbo man.
"A farmer I met today just banged me there with his carpetbag," replied the other.
"It must have been a pretty hard carpetbag."
"Yes; it had a gold brick in it that I sold him yesterday."—Catholic Standard and Times.

GRAND JURY TODAY STARTS ITS PROBE

Investigation of Wrecking of Carnegie Trust Company
Is Being Made.

(American News Service)
New York, March 13.—The grand jury today began an investigation of the Carnegie Trust Co. scandal as a result of the confession made by Joseph G. Robin. Indictments will be handed down within a few days and many prominent men will be among those named. Among the witnesses subpoenaed were Chas. M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Co., and once a director of the Carnegie Co.; Bradley Martin, Jr., president of the 19th Ward bank; John V. Coffey, a Tammany district leader former chairman of the charities and formerly a director in the 19th Ward bank.

District Attorney Whitman appeared before the jurors with the evidence he has gathered in his investigations of the affairs of the Carnegie company. It was known that he would ask for indictments against three of the company's officials and others said to be implicated in the surprising financial deals which presided the failure of the company.

It was said that Mr. Schwab had been summoned to help prove the charge of forgery, which Mr. Whitman alleges against three Carnegie officials. This charge can only be substantiated by showing that certain transactions vitally affecting the solvency of the institution were kept from the knowledge of the Carnegie Trust board of directors.

Juries in the Old Days.
In olden times when a jury in England remained impervious to the judge's gentle mode of persuasion fine and imprisonment were resorted to. The jury that acquitted Sir Nicholas Throckmorton was condemned to eight months' imprisonment in addition to the payment of a large sum of money. In the reign of Queen Elizabeth a jury, having reduced a prisoner's alleged crime of murder to that of manslaughter, was at once sent to prison and bound over in a large sum to be of good behavior. Penalties were likewise inflicted upon the innocent wife and children of the offending jurymen.

A Moving Sermon.
"I once had a parishioner who was a miser," said an English clergyman. "For this man's benefit I preached one Sunday a strong sermon on the necessity of charity, of philanthropy—a sermon on the duty and the joy of giving. The miser, at whom I gazed often, seemed impressed.
"Next day I met him on the street.
"Well, John," I said, "what do you think of yesterday's sermon?"
"It moved me deeply, sir," he answered. "It brought home to me so strongly the necessity of giving alms that honestly, sir, I've a great mind to turn beggar."

GO BACK TO NATURE

Washington Smart Set Gives Up Corsets.

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Dealers in corsets are not pleased with the latest fad of the Washington smart set.

On excellent authority it is said that to be strictly swaggers nowadays a woman must discard the engirdling stays—a thing not impossible with the present style of girdled frock.

The younger set promoted the "back to nature" idea. There have been many smart dances this winter, and one after another the youthful damsels have cast aside the artificial form.

Innovation Causes Mild Sensation.
The first girl to appear at a dance uncorseted created a mild sensation. But so materially did her innovation affect her career as a belle that the subsequent dances were remarkable for the number of girls who had suddenly taken up the dress reform she started.

The older folks didn't like it so well being of the opinion that the girls were going back to nature with a vengeance, and the criticism stirred up even drowned the commotion caused by Justice Harlan's overhauling of the swaggers set for its disregard of proper Sabbath observances.

But it was different elsewhere, and not to be outdone by the younger circle a number of the smart matrons introduced some novelties into their costumes.

Heelless Slipper Attracts Attention.
Mrs. Huntington Wilson attracted much attention by adopting the heelless slipper. Mrs. Wilson, who is one of the most picturesque women in Washington society, "dresses to her own style." Her gowns, which follow the lines of her supple figure, are unlined and weighted by a fall of crystal embroideries.

Her hair she dresses with Grecian simplicity—the whole ensemble agreeing perfectly with the satin shod feet, guileless of the erstwhile popular Cuban heel.

TEN BODIES FOUND IN AN OPEN MINE

(American News Service)
Duluth, Minn., March 13.—Ten bodies had been recovered early today from the Norman open pit mine at Virginia, Minn., where a cave-in occurred Saturday evening, burying twenty-six miners. The other sixteen bodies are still in the mine and experts believe it is past belief that any of them escaped.

The bodies were crushed beyond recognition. Wives and mothers of the miners besieged the morgue today in an effort to identify the bodies. Thaws in the last few days are said to have caused the cave-in. The thaws are said to have loosened boulders and earth and forced the whole body to slide to the bottom of the pit.

FOUR WERE KILLED IN BIG SNOW SLIDE

(American News Service)
Denver, Col., March 13.—The bodies of four persons, three of them women who were killed when a snow slide overwhelmed a boarding house at Gold King Mine near Gladstone, Colo., today were recovered. The dead: Mrs. F. O. Drue, Mrs. Carrie Lewis, Miss Maria Fahn, Samuel Hoar.

F. O. Drue, manager of the boarding house, was dug out alive, although his hands and feet were frozen.

TWO UTAH ROBBERS MAKE A BIG HAUL
