

KING LUITPOLD IS UNIQUE CHARACTER

Regent of Bavaria, without a Throne, Rules a Prosperous Nation.

Berlin, April 4.—The German reigning Princess, headed by the Kaiser, contributed a series of royal mottoes to a remarkable volume, written and illustrated by the most famous living Germans, as a present to the Prince Regent of Bavaria on his nineteenth birthday, which fell on March 12. The Kaiser's rhymed contribution is:

"Ready, aye, ready, for the glory of the Empire."

The Austrian Emperor writes: "Consciousness of duty, well and truly done, exalts us in good fortune and comforts us in gloomy hours."

The King of Saxony's motto is: "All for one; one for all." The King of Württemberg's "Sans peur et sans reproche," and the Grand Duke of Hesse chooses "Faithful Unto Death."

Luitpold, Regent of Bavaria, occupies a position unique in the monarchies of the world. He is the doyen of European rulers, yet he is a King without a throne. He is the younger son of Ludwig I., and so is not the heir to the crown, yet the succession lies in his family and he may yet be King, for, though more than ninety he is hale and sane.

Insanity Curse of House. For it is insanity that has made the tragedy of the House of Bavaria. His father was driven from the throne; his elder brother, Maximilian II., who became King, was a physical and mental nonentity. His nephew, Ludwig II., was mad and drowned himself, and his other nephew, the uncrowned Otto, is madder yet.

Fortunately neither Ludwig nor Otto married, while this same Prince Luitpold, the Regent, has a son, a grandson and a great-grandson.

Prince Luitpold married the Archduchess Augusta of Austria, and their son, Prince Rupprecht, married the beautiful young Duchess Marie Gabrielle, youngest daughter of the eminent royal oculist, Duke Charles Theodor of Bavaria, and their little son, Prince Luitpold, is the third in the order of succession after his namesake and great-grandfather, the present Regent.

Elevation to Throne Urged.

Peace and prosperity have prevailed ever since Luitpold took up the reins of government, on June 13, 1886, and his proclamation as King of Bavaria has at various times been mooted on the ground of King Otto's incurable insanity. The opposition to such a step has come chiefly from the lesser German rulers, who consider it a dangerous precedent.

When quite a young man, Prince Otto showed various signs of brain trouble, but the first serious symptoms occurred during the Franco-Prussian war, when he called out a squadron of cavalry and ordered them to charge a stone wall, under the delusion that it was a body of the enemy's infantry. This was in 1870, just before the siege of Paris, and the old Kaiser William immediately summoned him to the headquarters of the general staff and kept him there under the close observation of Bismarck and Von Moltke.

His dementia did not, however, become so acute as to necessitate complete measures of isolation and restraint until 1876—at a time when his brother Ludwig, already tainted with the same malady, had been on the throne for twelve years. He was then put away in the Castle of Nymphenburg, not far from the capital. Thence, two years later, he was transferred to the more solitary spot of Schleissheim. In the woods of Berchtesgaden, and finally to Fürstentum, so that for thirty-five years he has been permanently shut up.

King Growing Worse.

The mock court at Fürstentum consists of a few of the old nobility of Bavaria, certain mental specialists and attendants, and a group of faithful family retainers. Every month an official health bulletin is sent to the Regent and the government in Munich, and once a year a responsible member of the government pays a visit to

INDIGESTION Cured or Money Back

Don't worry a minute longer; it's easy to get rid of indigestion now-days. So if you have gastritis, catarrh of the stomach or simply fermentation of food, cheer up; for Leo H. Fihe has a prescription called MI-ONA that turns old stomachs into sweet ones in a few days or money back.

There's happy days ahead for you and for your poor flabby, tired old stomach if you won't be obstinate. Just lay down 50c and say "I want a box of MI-ONA tablets." They are made from the formula of the most successful prescription for indigestion, catarrh of the stomach and all stomach distresses ever known.

Take one or two tablets with or after meals for a few days and then if you don't agree with us that MI-ONA is a marvelous prescription you can have your money back. We'll leave it to your good sense of fairness whether that's a square deal or not.

MI-ONA stomach tablets promptly relieve belching, heaviness, pain in stomach, heartburn, sour stomach, foul breath, coated tongue, dizziness, nervousness, sick headache and sleeplessness. MI-ONA is sold by Leo H. Fihe and leading druggists everywhere.

Fürstentum to report on the King's condition, which grows increasingly hopeless each year.

At one time he used to pass the whole day in the park, and when indoors would amuse himself studying the operas of his favorite composer, Verdi. Then came "Rigoletto," which would pervade the castle. He also consumed innumerable cigars, a martyr to the horrors of insomnia, he would spend his nights sitting up, staring steadily at the door, as if haunted with the expectation of some phantom or real apparition.

Now he never speaks; his functions are merely mechanical, and he usually sits on the floor in a state of appalling apathy.

HAPPY HOUSEKEEPING.

The worst kind of toil which housework has in the past demanded is dish washing and laundry work. Conscientious housewives made their work a real burden by constant scrubbing, while the indifferent kind sacrificed their families on the altar of cheap soap reeking with rosin, alkalies and unpleasant smelling fats.

The constantly increasing army of users of Hewitt's Easy Task soap find their labors divided in two and their hours of recreation doubled. And, even more important, every item of household washing shows an improvement which would make the most exacting rejoice.

At Local Theaters

At the Gennett.

The McNavin Stock Company opened a week's engagement at the Gennett Theater last evening in "The Way of the World." The company created an excellent impression and Miss Charlotte Leighty won well deserved applause for her rendering of the leading role. This evening "In Idaho" will be presented. Daily ten cent matinees will be a feature.

At the Murray.

Menetekel or the Mystic Ball at the Murray will have you guessing. A tennis ball, apparently unguided, wanders freely across a swing board, leaving in its trail a string of words. You are invited to the stage to examine the apparatus and assure yourself that there are no traps, mirrors, wires or similar helpmeets. How is it done? If you find the right explanation you will be the first one who has done so.

Jack Harlow, George Lewellyne and Miss Claudia Korinek present a clever little playlet entitled "The Dickey Bird" in a way that captivated.

W. L. Werden, assisted by Marie Gearin, introducing the Multicomposite was well received.

His Promotion.

"Pa," said little Johnnie, "teacher is thinking about promoting me."

Envious.

"We've just had a letter from my daughter, the countess," said the proud mother.

Epictetus.

The "Discourses of Epictetus" were written not by the philosopher himself, but by his faithful pupil Arrian, after ward the historian of Alexander the Great. Arrian tells us that he took down the sayings of his master at the time they were delivered, and thus we may rely upon the substantial correctness of the discourses. Epictetus wrote nothing, and but for the thoughtfulness of his affectionate disciple we would have known nothing of his wonderful teachings—teachings which have inspired many of the greatest men who have lived during the past 2,000 years.

75 BOMBS THROWN ANNUALLY IN N. Y.

However, in the Past Five Years Not a Bomb Thrower Was Arrested.

(American News Service).

New York, April 4.—Inquiry shows that, so far as any one at the District Attorney's office or at police headquarters can recollect, not a single bomb thrower has been tried or even indicted in New York in the last five years.

The inquiry was based on the fact that the other day, for the third time within a little more than two years, a bomb was exploded at the four-story tenement of 299 East One Hundred and Sixth street.

It is estimated at the Italian bureau of the central detective office that an average of about seventy-five bombs are thrown or "placed" in Manhattan every year, so that this destructive kind of crime, even more demoralizing than murder on the localities where it is practiced, it is said, has been going on for years without any of the guilty being brought to punishment.

Detection and punishment are largely relied on by the authorities as deterrents to evil doing, but in the case of bomb throwing these deterrents are lacking. It is pointed out by those giving out this information.

Convictions Are Difficult.

They do not reproach themselves at police headquarters for these conditions. They assert there that bomb throwing is one of the most difficult of all forms of crime to ferret out. They point to the fact that there is scarcely ever a conviction in New York for arson and a comparatively small number of convictions for those whose motives are different from and who rank socially much above the so-called Black Handers.

Clerk Kennedy of the District Attorney's office, who has charge of compiling statistics of that kind in the District Attorney's office, said he could not remember a case in the last five years where a bomb thrower in New York had been convicted or brought to trial.

William Dean Embree, one of the two deputy assistant district attorneys, who looks after the drawing of indictments in that class of cases, said he, too, was at loss to call to mind a single case in the last five years of a bomb thrower in New York who was convicted or brought to trial.

There have been several instances in that period he continued, of persons indicted, or at least brought before the grand jury on the charge of having bombs in their possession; but when it comes to a record of an actual bomb thrower convicted there is none. Embree said as far as his personal recollection goes.

Many Criminals, Few Caught.

A table taken from the district attorney's records, show the convictions etc., for blackmail and also for extortion—the two kinds of crime done by the class of people who throw bombs—during the last eleven years.

Under the head "Blackmail" are classed the cases where the crime was done or attempted by letter. The head "Extortion" takes in the cases where the dealings between the criminal and his victim were by word of mouth.

The figures show that out of the thousands of cases where Black Handers in New York each year get or try to get money from persons there is an average of less than one conviction a month for the entire period of eleven years.

In all these thousands of cases of blackmail or attempted blackmail there is hardly one, the police say in which threats to use the bomb, the knife or the torch is not made; but such is the fear among the class of people preyed on that those who actually throw the bombs are never caught, or at least if taken into custody are never convicted of that particular crime.

Envious.

"We've just had a letter from my daughter, the countess," said the proud mother.

Epictetus.

The "Discourses of Epictetus" were written not by the philosopher himself, but by his faithful pupil Arrian, after ward the historian of Alexander the Great. Arrian tells us that he took down the sayings of his master at the time they were delivered, and thus we may rely upon the substantial correctness of the discourses. Epictetus wrote nothing, and but for the thoughtfulness of his affectionate disciple we would have known nothing of his wonderful teachings—teachings which have inspired many of the greatest men who have lived during the past 2,000 years.

Doctor Praises D. D. D.

Although an M. D. I acknowledge to my patients and patrons that your remedy, D. D. D., reaches cases of Eczema and permanently cures them.—Dr. Ira T. Gabbert, Caldwell, Kan.

"My cure began from the first application of D. D. D. My skin is now as smooth as a baby's. I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for what D. D. D. has done for me," writes August Santo, of Chillicothe, Ohio.

These are just samples of letters we are receiving every day from grateful patients all over the country.

"Worth its weight in gold." "All my pimples washed away by D. D. D." "I found instant relief." "D. D. D. is little short of miraculous." These are the words of others in describing the great skin remedy, D. D. D.

Proven by thousands of cures, for ten years to be absolutely harmless and reliable in every case of skin trouble, no matter what it is.

Get a trial bottle today! Instant relief—only 25c.

Conkey Drug Company.

ENCAMPMENT ORDERS

By Ass't Adjutant General of the State G. A. R.

John R. Fesler, assistant adjutant-general of the Indiana G. A. R., with headquarters at Indianapolis, has sent to the G. A. R. posts of the state general order No. 4, calling attention to the state encampment, to be held at Richmond, May 17, 18, and 19. According to the order, department headquarters will be established at the Westcott hotel, where the council of administration will meet on the afternoon of the opening day. The credentials committee has been announced as follows: Mr. Fesler, Oscar Rankin, senior vice-commander; Nelson J. Bozarth, junior vice-commander; Benjamin W. Skelton, judge advocate; John F. Hammel, department inspector; M. M. Justus, chief mustering officer, and J. D. Alexander, department instructor.

No definite arrangements have been completed concerning transportation, and the department is unable to say whether reduced rates can be obtained. Negotiations are now on with the steam and electric lines leading from this city to Richmond and with other lines entering that city.

Accompanying the state department order is general order No. 6, from John E. Gilman, of Boston, the commander-in-chief of the national organization, calling attention to the national encampment, which will be held in Rochester, N. Y., beginning August 21.

The national order contains the announcement of the appointment of Will Emery Brown, of South Bend, as an aid-de-camp on the staff of the commander, the only appointment to the staff from this state.

Every house needs cleaning now. So does the system. Do it right, best and surest with Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Cleans the bowels, drives out winter's impurities, makes you sweet and healthy, Conkey Drug Company.

CAPTOR OF MORGAN

Major George Rue Dies at Hamilton, Monday.

Hamilton, O., April 4.—Major George W. Rue, aged 83, to whom was generally given the credit for the capture of General John W. Morgan, near Salineville, O., July 27, 1863, although the honor was claimed by General Shackleford, upon whose staff Major Rue served died Monday at his residence in North Eleventh street of pneumonia.

Historians, however generally agree that it was Major Rue's command that intercepted the rebel general, as the major was acting as advance guard of General Shackleford's army, which was four miles away when Major Rue by taking a short cut came in front of General Morgan's men.

Major Rue was born in Mercer county, Ky., and was educated at Harrodsburg, where he enlisted in the Second Kentucky Infantry, serving through the Mexican War. He was promoted to a lieutenant for gallant services at the battle of Buena Vista. During the civil war he served as a major in the Ninth Kentucky cavalry and participated in many of the battles between the north and the south.

Major Rue was a charter member of the Wetzel-Compton Post G. A. R. of this city who will have charge of the obsequies. A widow and one daughter, Mrs. Mary Black of Chicago survive.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Lida M. Watts to Lucy L. Bond, March 7, 1911. $1,000. Lot 73, blk 3, M. & P. ad Richmond.

Frank Penny to Lillie Cassel, Jan. 24, 1911. $700. Lot 144, Johnsonbaugh add Germantown.

Frank Stample et al to Harry P. Harvey, et al. March 29, 1911. $350. Pt. lot 28, Lamb & Bos. add Richmond.

Epictetus.

The "Discourses of Epictetus" were written not by the philosopher himself, but by his faithful pupil Arrian, after ward the historian of Alexander the Great. Arrian tells us that he took down the sayings of his master at the time they were delivered, and thus we may rely upon the substantial correctness of the discourses. Epictetus wrote nothing, and but for the thoughtfulness of his affectionate disciple we would have known nothing of his wonderful teachings—teachings which have inspired many of the greatest men who have lived during the past 2,000 years.

MADERO SENIOR IN FEAR FOR ESTATES

Wants Peace Soon Before Diaz Confiscates All of His Property.

(American News Service).

El Paso, Tex., April 4.—That Francisco I. Madero, Sr., father of the insurrecto commander-in-chief, and head of the provisional Mexican government is strongly urging his son to end the Mexican revolution so that the vast Madero estates in Mexico will not be confiscated by the Diaz government, was strongly indicated here today.

The elder Madero, accompanied by several of the brothers of Francisco Madero, Jr., are in this city awaiting couriers from the front bearing important dispatches from Gen. Madero.

Francisco I. Madero, Sr., sent an urgent request to his son that the Diaz peace terms be considered carefully. Accordingly Madero called a council of his officers.

The elder Madero declares that if the revolution is continued the family will be pauperized and their wealth swept away. As a result of the constant fears of trickery on the part of the Mexican government, it is likely that the final peace negotiations will be held on United States soil. The Maderos are afraid to venture across the border because of the possibility of arrest. They say that they will not enter upon Mexican soil for peace negotiations unless guaranteed safety in passports signed personally by President Diaz and their fears have been increased by the arrest of Salvador Madero, an uncle of the rebel commander-in-chief while hurrying to the bedside of his dying father in Nuevo Laredo. Although the Madero under arrest is being held incommunicado, it is not believed that an extreme penalty will be exacted from him.

Would Then Mean War.

In the event that Gen. Madero decides to sacrifice the family fortune and reject the peace plans, fighting in the field will continue indefinitely. In the event of a favorable attitude a conference will be held between representatives of both sides without delay. The Jaurez authorities today started a roundup of all the insurrecto sympathizers in the city as a result of a campaign of bomb throwing which has already cost one life and serious injury to three others. Francisco Sonora was killed by a bomb intended for Col. Manuel Tambores, commanding the garrison. The others were intended for federal soldiers and officials. The Mexican officials have made a dozen arrests. Captain Ortiz, one of the soldiers wounded, will probably die from his injuries.

Gen. Madero is near the city of Chihuahua at the head of his army. Fighting is going forward in many communities.

Juan Gabral, the rebel leader whose band captured the town of Itzapae, state of Sonora, is holding several municipal officers captive with a threat of death hanging over them unless William Norman, an insurrecto messenger, captured while bearing dispatches from Madero to Gabral, is released.

A report from Sonora today, declared that after the fall of Heupac, many residents of the town, being friendly to the insurrectos, gave a great dance. A letter from Magdalena, Sonora, states that the insurrectos have captured three wagons laden with ammunition, which were enroute from the Federal garrison at Hermosillo to the regulars at Ures.

They ambushed the train which was guarded by 200 Yaqui Indians.

Water bills due April 1st. 23-10t

Keep pure the mouth, the gateway of health.

Mother, you should realize how unclean teeth destroy your child's health and prospects in life. Teeth not brushed every day decay, become tender, and the child cannot comfortably chew his food. Coarse food will not digest; poor digestion means lack of nourishment to the little body; the blood becomes thin; the constitution weak; the child is an easy victim to disease, suffering the while from the bitter pain of decaying teeth.

For generations children have loved

SOZODONT

Its fragrance makes the tooth brush lesson easy. Its efficiency makes results certain. Made from the choicest and purest ingredients, and containing antiseptics of high merit, SOZODONT stands out pre-eminently the greatest of American dentifrices.

SOZODONT TOOTH POWDER AND SOZODONT TOOTH PASTE are absolutely free from grit and acid, and are strongly recommended for use in connection with LIQUID SOZODONT. The LIQUID penetrates and cleanses; the POWDER and PASTE polish the surface of the teeth.

Sold at Toilet Counters the World over.

Sold at Toilet Counters the World over.

ARCADE

Daylight Pictures on the Mirror Screen

MAXIM'S MAXIM.

Modest Claims Often Carry More Conviction Than Loud Boasts.

When Maxim, the famous inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be considerably below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a triumph of surprise instead of disappointment as it might have been if he had overestimated his gun's efficiency.

Our claim regarding Newbro's Herpicide is based on actual scientific facts.

If a living germ is causing your hair to fall out its the most sensible thing to kill that germ.

Newbro's Herpicide does this quickly and effectually. Destroy the cause you remove the effect.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. One dollar bottles guaranteed. A. G. Luken & Co., special agents.

Willing to Tell It.

The check which the comely young German woman handed in at the window of a Walnut street savings bank the other day was made payable to Gretchen H. Schmidt, and she had indorsed it simply Gretchen Schmidt. The man at the receiving teller's window called her back to rectify the mistake just as she was turning away.

"You don't deposit this quite this way," he explained. "See, you have forgotten the H."

The young woman looked at her check and blushed a rosy red.

"Ach, so I haf," she murmured and wrote hurriedly:

"Age twenty-three."—Philadelphia Times.

EVEN IF YOU HAD A NECK AS LONG AS THIS FELLOW AND HAD SORE THROAT ALL THE WAY DOWN TONSILINE WOULD QUICKLY CURE IT.

A quick, safe, soothing, healing, antiseptic cure for Sore Throat, briefly describes TONSILINE. A small bottle of Tonsiline lasts longer than most any case of Sore Throat. TONSILINE cures Sore Mouth and Hoarseness and prevents Quinsy and Diphtheria. 25c. and 50c. Hospital Size $1.00. All Druggists.

MURRAY'S MENETEKEL

The Mystery of Babylon

Mat. 10c; Evenings 10c-25c

JORDAN, M'ANUS & HUNT

FUNERAL DIRECTORS & EMBALMERS

Automobile Service for Calls out of City. Private Chapel and Ambulance. Telephone 2178. Parlors 1014 Main Street.

DR. J. A. WALLS SPECIALIST

21 SOUTH TENTH ST., RICHMOND, IND.

OFFICE DAYS MONDAY, TUESDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY OF EACH WEEK.

Consultation and one month's Treatment Free.

TREATS DISEASES OF THE THROAT, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, LIVER AND BLADDER, RHEUMATISM, DYSPEPSIA AND DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, Epilepsy (or falling fits), Cancer, Private and Nervous Diseases, Female Diseases, Loss of Vitality from Indigestion, Piles, Flatulency, Stricture, Hemorrhoids, and all other diseases of the Rectum, without detention from business. RUPTURE POSITIVELY CURED AND GUARANTEED.

LOUCK & HILL CO.

has taken over the entire stock of the CAIN LUMBER CO. and as we have an unusually large amount of all kinds of LUMBER on hand, we are making very low prices to reduce our stock. Our lumber yard will be under the management of O. H. BRUBAKER, formerly with the CAIN LUMBER CO. and we assure you prompt attention on all orders and estimates whether for one board or an entire house or barn.

PHONE 1412. No. 200-210 NORTH 4TH STREET.

SKATING COLISEUM

TUESDAY THURSDAY SATURDAY MORNING, AFTERNOON & EVENING

Moonlight Skating Thursday Night

Germans, Attention!

On Monday and Tuesday we are showing a vivid picture of the forms of Duelling Current in Berlin.

Post Toasties

With a package of this sweet, crisp food in the pantry, you dodge the fuss and bother of early morning cooking, yet have a breakfast which makes a happy start for the day.

Serve direct from the package with cream, and sometimes fruit.

"The Memory Lingers"

Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.