

UNDERWOOD GIVES NOTICE TO HOUSE

That Bill for Direct Election of Senators Will Be Passed Today.

(American News Service)

Washington, April 13.—Rep. Underwood, majority leader in the house, served notice today that the majority intend to adopt an amendment to the federal constitution, providing for popular election of United States senators before today's session adjourned. After a lengthy wrangle it was agreed that there would be four hours debate on the measure.

Some of the Republicans, including the minority leader, Rep. Mann, were inclined to criticize the Democrats for rushing the bill through the house. "The house has been talking about direct election senators for decades," responded Underwood. "The bill is only twelve lines in length, is well understood, and, while we are willing to allow you reasonable debate, I may say that representatives who are responsible for legislation in this house intend to pass this measure at today's session."

The bill was expected to come to a vote late this afternoon. Representative Rucker, of Missouri, opened the debate with a resume of the past attempts to secure legislation of this character and the need of changing the system of the election of senators.

CUT GLASS AND CHINA.

Delicate pieces of china and sparkling gems of cut glass tastefully arranged bespeak a housewife's sense of the beautiful. The most essential factor in the care of china and cut glass is freedom from dirt and grease, the enemies of brilliancy. Best results in this regard can be obtained by the use of Hewitt's Easy Task Soap. It loosens the dirt and cuts the grease, but does not scratch. Costs five cents and keeps things sparkling.

DISCIPLINED MINDS.

Unreflexive minds possess thoughts only as a jug does water—by containing them. In a disciplined mind knowledge exists like a vital force in the physical frame, ready to be directed to tongue or hand or foot, hither, thither, anywhere, and for any use desired.

EVERY MAN READ THIS

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the east, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, dependent, nervous and who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, inability in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and over-indulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By preparing the treatment at home secretly, no one need know of another's trouble, while the ingredients are much used in filling various prescriptions, so that even the purchase of them separately need occasion no timidity.

BURGLARS FOILED IN DARING THEFT

(American News Service)

Winchester, N. H., April 13.—Six burglars broke into the Winchester National bank early today and blew the outer door of the huge vault, but were frightened away before they had time to blow open the inner door behind which was $26,000. The burglars fled in the direction of Keene. It is believed they used an automobile in making their escape.

The police of all the surrounding cities and towns have been notified and officers are watching at all turnpikes and roads in the hope of catching the thieves before they get out of the state. The noise made by the explosion awakened half the inhabitants of the town. A posse of citizens headed by deputy sheriff Webster L. Rixford followed the robbers for several miles into the country. The bank wreckers had too big a lead, however.

Her Dogs Broke All Alaska Race Records.

Nome, Alaska, April 13.—Breaking all records for speed in dog races, Mrs. Mark Crimmon's team in the $10,000 all-Alaska sweepstake, driven by Frank Eastbaugh, dashed into First Chance yesterday afternoon, having covered the 160 miles from Nome in 26 hours.

Hall's team was the second into First Chance. Fox Ramsey's dogs, driven by Charles Johnson, came in next, with the team driven by John Johnson, for Sir James Ramsey, pushing them hard. Delzene's dogs came next, and those of Mrs. C. E. Darling, of Berkeley, Cal., driven by A. A. (Scottie) Allen, brought up the rear. Before mid-afternoon all the teams had resumed their way toward the pole, expecting to reach Candle without rest.

Rivalry between Mrs. Crimmons, who is a resident of New York, and Mrs. Darling is particularly keen this year, and both have spent fortunes in an endeavor to win the 1911 event.

Last year Mrs. Darling's team finished third, first place going to the team owned by the earl of Dalhousie, and driven by the earl's brother. Second place was captured by Mrs. Crimmons's dogs, who galloped into Nome only a short distance ahead of Mrs. Darling's team.

The Berkeley contestant announced that she would win the 1911 trophy, and began at once to get together a team for the event, which began with a dash out of Nome Saturday.

The sweepstake is the greatest dog race in the world, and $100,000 had been wagered on the result.

"CHANCE BOARDS" GAMING DEVICES

Judge Collins of Indianapolis, Gives His Definition of Gambling.

Indianapolis, April 13.—By the finding of Judge Collins in the case of H. B. McColley, druggist, at 270 Central avenue, the latter's little cardboard game is as much a gaming device as any of the regulation paraphernalia. McColley pleaded guilty to displaying in his store three cardboards, from which were sold chances on cigars or other articles in stock. A fine of $25 and costs was assessed by the court.

The court said it was the general understanding that such devices were in practically all cigar and drug stores about the city. In view of the fact that McColley was the first one to be haled into court, Judge Collins said he felt that a fine on one charge instead of all three would be severe enough.

"There is no question but that these things are, technically speaking, gaming devices in the eyes of the law," declared Judge Collins. On the other hand, though, I don't know anything seen more frequently about the city in stores and clubs than just such things as these cards. In this case, however, I feel that the court will have to assess the regulation fine for keeping a gaming device, and the same will be given to any other dealer who is brought in here for such an offense.

When asked what effect the finding of Judge Collins would have in the attitude of the police toward such devices, Superintendent Hyland said the members of the department had received standing orders about a year ago to watch for such violations.

At that time two plain clothes men were detailed for some time to make a special canvass for violations of this kind. This was done in addition to the general orders which were issued to every man on the force.

"If there are stores and clubs about the city where such things are displayed it is in direct violation of the law, and the proprietors of such places run the risk of being arrested if any policeman sees such things in their stores."

In the police bulletin last night was a special notice calling attention to the fact that orders had been issued in the past relative to the display of a form of gambling device on cards in drug stores, barber shops, cigar stores and confectionary stores. The notice concludes:

"I am receiving a number of complaints along this line and you are in-
