

MISSION EXHIBIT A WONDERFUL ONE

Works of Home and Foreign Missionaries Will Be Shown at Boston.

(American News Service)

Boston, April 21.—With the foremost religious and mission workers here preparing for participation in "The World in Boston," the most elaborate exhibit of the works of home and foreign missionaries ever attempted in this country or abroad, everything is in readiness for the opening of the exposition tomorrow in Mechanics hall, the largest in New England.

Some twenty thousand persons, who will take part in the exposition itself, which will be in progress until May 29, thronged about the points of interest of Boston today. Many of the visiting Christian workers inspected the Revolutionary landmarks, but the exposition hall itself was by no means a place of inactivity. Swarms of men and women were busily engaged in putting the finishing touches to the exhibits, so that nothing will be left undone by the time the formal opening takes place tomorrow.

Caven Will Preside.

Samuel B. Caven, L. L. D., president of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Mission and president also of "The World in Boston," will preside. Bishop Lawrence of the Episcopal Diocese of Eastern Massachusetts will declare the exposition open, and Mrs. Helen Barrett Montgomery, of Rochester, New York, and Booker T. Washington, will speak. Others who will have a part in the opening ceremonies are Rev. Cortland Meyers, pastor of Tremont Temple; Bishop Malalieu of the Methodist church; Rev. A. Conrad, and Rev. F. A. Bisbee, D. D. The exposition itself will be thrown open to the public immediately at the close of the ceremonies.

"The World in Boston" embraces the reproduction on a large scale, of conditions which have marked the inauguration and progress of all missionary work. Exhibits show what is actually taking place in the "home field" by the reproduction of scenes illustrating contact with the Indians and the settlers of the Western states; of efforts to reach the immigrants as they land in New York and advances in Cuba, Hawaii and Porto Rico. Other exhibits trace progress in China, Japan, India and the "islands of the sea." To make this real, missionaries who have had a part in the scenes depicted, implements which have been used, natives who have responded to the appeal of the Gospel, relics, curios, models, even buildings are employed, while demonstrations, lectures, tableau and moving pictures, will be introduced.

Has Been Big Task.

To bring the enterprise to perfection has been the task of many months. Besides the projectors, there is literally an army of volunteer helpers, or "stewards," who have been studying and undergoing training to take part in the exposition as impersonators, demonstrators or lecturers, or as singers or participants in the "Pageant of Darkness and Light," the musical drama, to be presented twice, daily, which is to be one of the principal features of the exposition. These volunteers number over 20,000. One-fourth of the volunteers, or about 5,000 persons will take part in the "Pageant."

A larger number of people have volunteered as stewards than performed the same service in the great English missionary exposition of 1908 and 1909. "The Orient in London," and "Africa and the East," held in the British metropolis.

The stewards are to wear the native dress or costume of the people they impersonate. These rang from American Indians and cowboys, to Arabs, Chinese, Brahmins, and native Africans.

Hundreds of these stewards will attend the opening ceremonies, clad in costumes of all nations. Every missionary in or near Boston has been invited to wear the native dress of the country in which he works, and occupy a seat on the platform.

There will be four special denominational days during the exposition as follows:

April 25—Baptist Day.
May 2—Congregational Day; Universalist Day.

May 9—Episcopal Day.
May 16—Methodist Day; Presbyterian Day.

There will also be a Students' Day, Monday, May 1. Special days for Young People's societies, Women's Day, Foreign Mission Day, and Home Mission Day have also been arranged. Six special days, one for each New England state, are scheduled. All the Saturdays will be called Children's Days, with a special program for children from Sunday schools or day schools or any large group of children accompanied by adults.

BERTSCH COMPANY NAMED DEFENDANT

The Hutchens Car Roofing company of Terre Haute has brought suit in the Wayne circuit court against Bertsch and company of Cambridge City, demand $400. The Cambridge City corporation manufactures high powered steel and iron sheers, and disposed of a machine on January 24, 1910, to the complainant for $340. It is alleged that after the machine had been used a short time it broke and it was then discovered that the machine was a second hand one, so the complainant alleges. The company was asked to return the machine, but it is averred this proposition was refused, and now the Terre Haute concern seeks to recover $400 which includes the principal, freight rates paid in shipping the machine and the interest on the investment.

BUSY CORNER NOT PLACE FOR AUTOS

Says Attorney T. J. Study in Argument in Moss-Neff Damage Case.

In order that the public may be safeguarded, former city attorney, T. J. Study, one of the counsel for the complainant in the $10,000 damage suit of A. J. Neff against Perry J. Moss, in the Wayne circuit court, in the opening argument to the jury Friday, said that it would be well if the city would prohibit automobiles from passing down Main and across Eighth street, particularly when the city cars are lined up at the corner every fifteen minutes for the purpose of discharging, transferring and receiving passengers.

It was at this corner on July 4 last that Mr. Neff was struck by the Moss automobile driven by the defendant. The machine was going very slowly. When stopped one of the front wheels was resting on the aged man's legs. Mr. Study, who had been making observations at Eighth and Main streets, especially when the cars are assembled at this point declared while he had not seen any other accidents, he had noticed many narrow escapes. As a precautionary measure, he says a law which would prevent automobiles passing while cars are assembled would be most popular.

The defense rested its case early this morning and a few witnesses were examined in rebuttal. Arrangements for the arguments were then made and at 9:30 o'clock Mr. Study opened for the complainant. He will be followed by Attorneys Robbins and Johnson for the defendant, and Wilder Jessup for the complainant will close. Each side is allowed three hours for argument and by this arrangement, it is not probable the jury will receive the case before Saturday noon.

HARRY MILLER WAS ELECTED DIRECTOR

Harry I. Miller, a former resident of this city, and one of the county's most prominent railroad men, was yesterday elected director of the Missouri-Pacific railroad. Mr. Miller and James Speyer, of the banking firm of Speyer and company, fill the gap left in the directorate by the resignation of Kuhn, Loeb and company's representatives when George Gould forced the election of B. F. Bush as president of the road. Mr. Miller, who is receiver of the Buffalo and Susquehanna railroad, will serve in an advisory capacity. The two now directors succeed Paul Warburg and Cornelius Vanderbilt.

ROBBERY ATTEMPT AT C. & O. STATION

Thieves pried the iron rods off the ticket office window at the C. & O. station last night, and although they opened the windows, did not enter the building. It is supposed they were frightened away, by some of the night trainmen. In the safe, which was standing in the corner of the office, was a large sum of money.

INCONSIDERATE PUP TEARS UP CLOTHES

When Mrs. John Sauers, 513 South Thirteenth street, went to her back yard to take in some washing a terrible sight met her eyes. There was a large brown "pup" jumping at the clothes and tearing them up, all the while yelping with delight. Probably $15 worth of clothing was ruined. The matter was reported to the police but neither the owner of the dog, nor the animal itself can be found.

HOUSTON HONORED WITH A MONUMENT

Unveiling Ceremony Today
at the Grave of the Famous Texas Patriot.

(American News Service)
Huntsville, Texas, April 21.—The memory of General Sam Houston, who seventy-five years ago today, broke the power of the Mexicans by administering a decisive defeat to the forces of Santa Anna in the battle of San Jacinto, was fittingly honored today by the unveiling of a handsome monument over the grave of the famous soldier and statesman in the Huntsville cemetery. The unveiling was an event of state-wide interest. Visitors from every section of Texas attended, among them being many members of the Society of the Daughters of the Texas Republic, whose annual convention has been in session here this week. Several members of the Houston family were present as guests of honor, together with W. P. Zuber and Alonso Steele—the only survivors of the battle of San Jacinto. The committee in charge of arrangements was fortunate in securing William J. Bryan to deliver the principal address at the unveiling exercises.

The monument, which cost $10,000, was erected through an appropriation of the Texas legislature. The memorial consists of a low granite shaft bearing a bas-relief figure of General Houston, mounted upon his favorite charger, with his hat in one hand, waving his troops onward in their attack upon the forces of Santa Anna in the battle of San Jacinto. Upon the two sides of the main shaft are allegorical figures representing war and peace. Upon the reverse side of the shaft appears the Masonic emblem. The memorial was designed by Pompeo Coppini.

(GERMAN COMEDIAN
SAVED THIS PLAY

How a play with little merit, if any, in plot and with a weak cast can be made entertaining and meet with a fair measure of success through the efforts of one man, was shown to Richmond theater-goers last evening when "The Newly-weds" occupied the stage at the Gennett theater. It was solely through the work of George P. Murphy, playing the role of a waiter, who is a comedian in his own line probably unsurpassed, that the play passed muster.

Murphy, though it would hardly be guessed at in view of his name, has a line of comic German talk, which, coupled with a unique and eccentric style of expression and acting, evokes almost continual laughter. The burden of almost the entire second act fell upon his shoulders and he carried it through with great success.

James E. Rosen, taking the part of the Newlywed baby, proved acceptable, and the make-ups of Leo Hayes as "Ferdinand Newlywed" and Olga Von Hatzfeldt as his wife, were surprising because of their remarkable resemblance to the cartoons of George McManus. Hayes was very good in his part, but he had little to do.

STANDPAT OUTFIT DELAYS THE VOTE

But Reciprocity Bill Will Go
Through with Ease—
A Job for Kern.

(American News Service)
Washington, April 21.—With but three principal speakers yet to be heard for or against the Canadian reciprocity agreement the house met today determined to take a vote if possible on the bill tonight.

This vote can be taken unless Republican standpatters, who are fighting the agreement, offer more amendments than are now expected. In that event, Representative Underwood said today, the debate under the five minute rule might run throughout the entire day, thus postponing a vote until tomorrow.

It was estimated today that the reciprocity bill will pass the house by the overwhelming vote of 2 to 1.

KERN ON FINANCE

Washington, April 21.—Senator Kern will probably go upon the finance committee and Shiveley remain on the foreign relations committee in the reorganization of the senate. Shiveley desired to go upon finance but complications arose that made it impractical.

Authorized denial was made at the White House today of the published statement that Harry S. New was to be referred for the Taft administration in post office appointments in Indiana. New will be consulted, it was said, but to have him sole arbiter was putting it too strong.

BOOM FOR HARMON IS NOW LAUNCHED

Ohio Congressional Delegation Take Definite Action at a Meeting.

(American News Service)

Washington, April 21.—The presidential boom of Governor Harmon of Ohio was formally launched by the sixteen Ohio Democratic congressmen at a meeting in Senator Pomerene's room today. Committees on ways and means and resolutions were appointed. Press agents will be put to work and funds gathered to help along the Ohio governor's ambitions. Some of the Ohio men expressed more fear of Champ Clark than of Wilson and "Jimmie" Cox of Dayton warned his colleagues to keep an eye out for Bryan. Lieutenant Governor Nichols declared the wind would be taken out of Wilson's claim of being the progressive candidate when the Ohio legislature adopts and Governor Harmon approves the Oregon plan of the popular election of senators.
