This Is My 58th Birthday

JAMES SMITH REID.

Professor James Smith Reid, the eminent English historian and educator who came to the United States this spring as one of the Lowell Institute lecturers, was born in Scotland, May 3, 1846. He received his education at the City of London school, and finished it at Christ's college, Cambridge. At Cambridge he took the Browne's Medal in 1863, the Chancellor's Medal in 1869, and the Whewell Scholarship in 1870. From 1870 to 1880 he was classical lecturer of Christ's college, and since 1889 he has held the chair of ancient history in the University of Cambridge. Professor Reid has brought out notable editions of Cicero's Academicus, De Amicitia, De Senectute, Pro Archia, Pro Balbo, Pro Milone, Pro Sulla, and he has translated De Finibus and the Academicus. He has also written many scattered papers on classical subjects.

Cleaning Day

The time grows closer to Cleaning Day. There is, perhaps, that is necessary to say about it. It is one of those things which is so self-evident in its purpose and in the good that it can accomplish that there is little that can be said which is not obvious.

It is obvious for instance that there is but one purpose of a Cleaning Day. That is to make things clean.

In the same manner the benefit is apparent.

But perhaps there is an intangible asset of pride which is as personal to a town as to an individual. After a man has been hard at work, careless of his personal appearance and thinking only of the job under hand he does not realize until he has done it what a bath, a shave, clean clothes mean. They are not only a real rest from the fatigue of work, they are not only more comfortable, but pride comes ringing back into his nervous system in fresh vigor.

Scientists have proved that the relation of slovenliness is not only the well known relation of disease to dirt, but that the mental outlook is also affected.

And if this thing applies to individuals it applies to towns. The long stretches of gray streets, disordered, ill-kempt, muddy, filled with paper and garbage and tin cans which make up the sordid districts of western cities are just as much slums as the crowded tenements in the congested cities of New York. The effect is the same on the people that live their lives under those conditions.

Is Richmond a good town to live in?

Every man who contemplates coming to this city will decide that question very soon from looking at apparent conditions. If one is observant it is easy enough to tell from the first appearances the efficiency of the city government, the conditions of politics and business and the characteristics of the town.

John MacVicar said a year ago when he came to Richmond to attend the conference of city officials from all over Indiana that the city of Richmond was one of the cleanest towns that he had ever seen. He looked in the alleys and streets and the back yards all over the town. He was on practically every street in Richmond. He has been all over the country looking at conditions. He is not only the commissioner in charge of the streets and public improvements of Des Moines but he has been secretary of the League of American Municipalities for many years.

And what impressed MacVicar was not North Tenth nor East Main —the supposedly aristocratic parts of town—but the homes of the men who work in the shops. He noted that there was a greater self respect manifested in proportion by the men who receive pay envelopes than there was by men who give them. This struck him as being remarkable.
He was told that most people in Richmond either owned their homes or wished to. "That's a mighty good sign," said MacVicar.

And it is because Richmond has a reputation to maintain—more wide spread than any of us know who do not travel for or often that Cleaning Day should mean something to everyone—and not because Richmond is dirty as many other cities are.

UNCLE JOE AND JIM MANN ATTEND CIRCUS

Washington, May 3.—"Say Jim, it smells like spring. Let's get out."

These were the words that Uncle Joe Cannon, former speaker of the house of representatives, addressed to Representative James R. Mann, who is now minor leader of that body, as things were drifting along in a leisurely manner in the house after the noon hour.

They "got." When they emerged on the porch and saw the greensward they thought of things youthful and their minds turned to the circus.

The parade had made its round and the three rings were beginning to make the youngsters' heads swim when the two youngest of them all, "Uncle Joe" and "Jim" Mann began their march around part of the ring to their reserved seats. They were soon "spotted" and attracted all the attention and most of the applause. They shamefacedly acknowledged it by raising their hats.

A bee can carry twice its own weight in honey.

HEED THE WARNING

Many Richmond People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are sick they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Sick kidneys expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only; they help sick kidneys, and rid the blood of uric poison. If you suffer from any of the above symptoms you can use no better remedy.

Richmond people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. F. P. Brooks, 215 S. Fifth St., Richmond, Ind., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills in our family for years, getting them at Loken & Co's Drug Store and would not be without a supply in the house. I took this remedy for a weakness of the kidneys and pains in my back and sides and I found great relief. Doan's Kidney Pills are deserving of the highest endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Mulburn Co., Buffalo, States.

MEN SOLD GARTERS

South Bend, May 3.—Men masquerading as saleswomen, that they might dispose of garters to a better advantage, is the latest type of agents to be brought to the attention of the South Bend police. Scores of women in the city have been approached by the trio selling garters, and information was brought to the police that the peddlers were men and had disguised themselves. Mrs. George F. Steel, 2066 Paris street, received a call from one of the agents, she admitted and she stated the agent had succeeded in acquiring the part of a woman. It may be added that the agent displayed a very nifty looking set of underpinning.

SOME EXCUSE FOR POOR SERVICE

Evansville, Ind., May 3.—Haunted in the still hours of the morning by a ghostly figure of the night force of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company here believe the shadow is the ghost of Miss Josie Gray, former bookkeeper for a furniture store in this city who was brutally murdered four years ago.

Miss Gray was assaulted and her body then locked in a vault in the rear of the store, where she had been working late on the night of the murder. The cash drawer in the safe was robbed.

Guy Prescott, a porter at the store, is under indictment, charged with the murder, but he disappeared from the city the day after the murder occurred and has not been found. The furniture store is back of the Cumberland Telephone building and the girl operators have seen mysterious lights in the rear of the furniture store and a ghost like figure that flits across the windows.

There is great consternation in the telephone exchange building every morning after 2 o'clock.

Dr. Alice Hardman has been appointed by the Federal government to make an investigation of the lead industries similar to the investigation made for the Illinois commission on occupational diseases.

Health Suggestions

Don't worry.
Eat sparingly of well cooked food.
After forty, eat little meat.
Live in the open air as much as possible.
Sleep with plenty of fresh air in the room.
Take a tablespoonful of Duffy's pure malt whiskey in a half glass of milk or water before each meal and on retiring.
If you follow these rules you will not only enjoy good health, but you will be happy, the world will look brighter and you will live much longer.

suit for divorce brought by A. R. Gow-ard, a Baptist minister and photographer. Goward and his wife are more than fifty years old. They have been married twelve years.

Butter-Krust

No Baker, however proficient, can produce bread of BUTTER-KRUST quality without being trained how to make it —no matter how good his materials, he must know the exact way Butter-Krust is made before he can produce even an imitation. In the manufacture of Butter-Krust the first necessary thing is the finest of materials.
