

ENGLISH FESTIVAL OPENS THIS WEEK

Festival of the Empire is the First of the Coronation Ceremonies.

(American News Service)
London, May 10.—With but four days intervening between an expected British public and the first of a long line of royal entertainments and celebrations beginning with the Festival of Empire on May 14, including the Coronation on the 22nd of June, and closing with King George's presence at the laying of the corner stone of the Welsh National Library at Aberystwyth, July 15, all England is busy donning the gala attire with which it will greet the hundreds of thousands of spectators, among whom will be numbered the crowned heads of Europe, their retinues, and delegations from every nation of the world, besides throngs of wealthy sightseers, who are even now flocking into London by every boat and train.

Judging by the elaborate preparations and the earnest assurances of those in charge of the festivities, the coming pageants will eclipse anything attempted in modern times and vie with the festivals of the ancients in splendor, cost and attendance. For months and months thousands of British subjects have been at work preparing for the great events at the expenditure of many millions of dollars. London is to be decorated as it never was before. There are to be parades, receptions at the royal court, horse shows, friendly contests between the military of visiting nations, entertainments by the elite of England, and decorations that will astonish the visitors by their lavish magnificence.

Only Few at Ceremony.
Despite the fact that the Coronation is to be the piece de resistance in this long list of events—there are very, very few who will witness the actual ceremony. This no doubt will prove a keen disappointment to many who have been led to understand that the actual ceremony of crowning the King and Queen will be open to all who have the price. Since it is not the case—the Coronation proper, will take place within the sacred precincts of Westminster Abbey, with only members of the royal family of England and invited guests from among the crowned heads of Europe as spectators. A seat within the great cathedral cannot be bought for love of money.

The plebeian visitor need not be disappointed, however, for he will have many opportunities to gratify his curiosity relative to this country's new sovereigns. Five times during May and June their Majesties will drive through the streets of London that all who have money for the extortionate charges demanded for seats of vantage may see, and praise of criticize, as their fancy dictates. That these same high priced window seats will be filled largely by itinerant Americans is foregone conclusion, for already one can scarcely walk a block without seeing dozens of faces and figures well known on the other side of the pond. In fact so great has been the influx of curious Americans that one prominent British newspaper confidentially asserts that there will be more sightseers from the United States, than native English visitors from the towns within, say a day's journey of the metropolis.

The Festival of Empire, with which England's King and Queen will greet visitors in a great "at home," will be held at the Crystal Palace, a vast structure which has been elaborately decorated at a cost of over a million dollars. This celebration will be what the name implies—an exposition showing the progress of the British Empire from earliest historic times till the present day. Among the many features of this interesting exhibit will be the first Imperial concert which will perform twice a day during the whole course of the show, entertaining it is estimated, between twelve and fifteen thousand people daily. These concerts will be preceded and followed by pageants in which every phase of teeming British life will be shown, from dustmen and drapers to Dukes and Duchesses, thus exploiting what is confidently expected to be the greatest social organization ever held in England.

A Victoria Memorial.
On May 16th, the Queen Victoria Memorial, a vast structure which overlooks the Mall and has been years in building, will be unveiled. Among the guests will be the German Emperor. The following day a gala performance will be given at Drury Lane in his honor and he will then be escorted to the royal palace where further entertainments will follow.

On May 22nd, the Imperial Conference opens. This meeting will discuss every point of British interest from coast defenses to the design of postage stamps. May 24th will be given over to a celebration of Empire Day, and on May 27th, the King's birthday will be celebrated. On June 17th a great reception will be tendered the foreign delegates, who are to represent their governments at the Coronation in June 22nd.

Two days later on June 19th, the actual Coronation festivities, so far as the royal court are concerned, will begin with a great reception and ball in Buckingham Palace, ending on the last day of the month when the court will go to Windsor. On June 20th their Majesties will again entertain the foreign representatives at Buckingham Palace and in the evening the State banquet will be held. On June 21st their Majesties will receive the Colonial Premiers and other representatives, and this event will be followed by a dinner given by the Duke of Connaught.

June 22nd, will be taken up with the actual Coronation ceremony at Westminster Abbey, after which the royal family will dine alone. On the day following there will be a public procession headed by their Majesties through South London. On the 24th the royal pair will proceed to Spithead, where they will hold a naval review, probably spending the week end on the royal yacht. On the 26th and 29th, respectively, King George and Queen Mary will attend a good performance at the theater and special services at St. Paul's Cathedral, afterwards luncheon at the Guildhall.

July 8-12th, the royal couple will journey to Ireland and on the 13th will attend the ceremonies attendant upon the investiture of their son, the Prince of Wales, at Carnarvon Castle, terminating the long list of royal activities with the dedication of University college, July 14th and the laying of the corner stone of the Welsh National Library at Aberystwyth, on July 15th.

"BOYS WILL BE BOYS."
"Now, I'll get a lickin'," said a little fellow the other day. "Just look at the dirt I got on my waist." "Gee!" exclaimed his companion, "my mother wouldn't lick me for that. She says it makes boys mean to lick 'em for every little thing, and she don't mind washin' a bit when she uses Hewitt's Easy Task soap. It does half the work itself and makes things awful clean."

At Local Theaters

A Southern Romance.

"A Southern Romance," a drama which, as its title implies, tells a story of the sunny southland will be the offering of the MacLean Stock company at the Gennett tonight. This play is credited with being the finest bit of dramatic writing ever produced by an American playwright, and it invariably scored an emphatic hit wherever it is presented. In the leading part of "Carey Preston" Miss Bryant has a hole which suits her admirably and in which she is said to be irresistibly charming. Scenically the piece is very beautiful. The action occurs during the season of the magnolia blooms and these flowers are used very largely in the settings. In one scene alone over a thousand magnolia blossoms are used and to heighten the effect, perfume is sprayed over them and the odor is then distributed through the entire house by means of several concealed electric fans.

Tomorrow afternoon the fine H. V. Esmond comedy, "When We Were Twenty-one," which was so well presented last night, will be repeated, and in the evening the laughable farce comedy, "Why Smith Left Home" will be the offering.

At the Murray.

Rozell's Minstrels are the attraction at the Murray this week and are making quite a hit with the Richmond theater goers. Nearly every one likes a minstrel especially if they have plenty of good singing, and this one with the University Four furnish plenty of it. The first part shows a scene on deck of the battleship New York. Plenty of good singing and clean comedy is introduced in this part. The olio is composed of the University Four who are all good singers and have a choice selection of songs. The Four Harmony Kings follow, playing string instruments, brass and saxophones, and are one of the big hits of the show. The Waldo Bros. in a Roman ring act are also scoring a decided hit. Special scenery and beautiful electrical effects are another feature of this attraction. Watch for the parade and hear the band concert in front of the theater before each performance.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Valerie Bergere will have six sketches out next season.

Albert Chevalier wants to try another starring tour in this country.

Eleanor Kent is appearing in a one act opera called "Love vit Aero-plane."

Pauline Perry has become the leading lady of a stock company in New Haven, Conn.

Marie Wainwright, who has been playing with William Gillette, is to return to vaudeville.

Mildred Holland will go into vaudeville with a condensed version of "The Power Behind the Throne."

"The Life Guardsmen" is to be produced in London by Charles Frohman and George Edwades next season.

King Alfonso of Spain has offered a prize of $5,000 to be competed for by all the orchestras of the kingdom.

The Russian dancers Pavlova and Mordkin have recently had a quarrel in London and will not dance together.

May Robson will make another trip to the Pacific coast and may not have any vacation at all this summer.

Margaret Townsend is adapting a play from Frederick Townsend Martin's book, "The Passing of the Idle Rich."

Cecil De Mille has recently written a play entitled "The Stampede," in which Lillian Buckingham will appear next season.

H. Beerbohm Tree is out with the announcement that he will confine himself strictly to Shakespearean plays in the future.

"Madame Butterfly" has been successfully launched as a vaudeville sketch by Evelyn Millard at the Palace theater, London, recently.

Henrietta Crossman recently has produced a play entitled "The Peacock and the Goose," which will be her principal play during next season.

Run-Down Conditions

Their Cause and Effect.

Run-down conditions are caused by a lack of iron in the blood and mal-assimilation of food. If you are one of the unfortunates who have drifted into this state, change your diet, eat foods that are rich in mineral elements of nutrition, and take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil), which supplies iron to the blood in the most easily assimilated form.

A case is reported from Mattoon, Ill.—Mrs. O. M. Watrous, was in very poor health for years. She was weak, all run-down, no appetite, and only weighed ninety-seven pounds. She had doctor for a long time without benefit. Vinol was recommended. She tried it, and in less than a year she was in perfect health and weighed 127 lbs.

Vinol creates an appetite, reestablishes perfect digestion and makes good, pure blood. In this natural manner it builds up the run-down, weak and debilitated, and replaces weakness with strength.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Leo H. Fihe, Druggist, Richmond, Ind.

Ivan Caryll, the English composer, is at present working on an opera, entitled "Sweet Pansy," which is to be produced next season by Klaw & Erlanger.

"The Quaker Girl," of George Edwards' recent London successes, may be seen in the United States under the management of Frank McKee the coming season.

Marie Tempest is to change the name of her new play from "The Bill Toppers" to "The Star Turn," which means the same thing and pleases the London philologists better.

Charlotte Walker is to appear as a stock star in Minneapolis, and will during this engagement probably be seen in a dramatization of John Fox's novel, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

Charles Dillingham will produce next season, a play by Eugene Walter called "The Assassin," said to be based upon the murder of the New York Italian detective, Petrosino, some time ago in Italy.

Tickling the Debtors.

John Barrett was only twenty-seven years old when President Cleveland appointed him minister to Siam. The first important task which confronted the youthful envoy was to press a claim against the Siam government for $1,000,000. Experienced ambassadors warned him against using threats in obtaining the money. "Be cunning; avoid arrogance," they said. "That is," responded Mr. Barrett, "you favor tickling with a straw to pricking with a bayonet."

The statesmen nodded assent. When the young minister had finally succeeded in collecting the claim the ambassadors asked in astonishment, "How did you accomplish it?"

"By tickling," explained Barrett. "I had to tickle them 'almost to death, though, before they agreed to pay it."

Quaint Remedies.

Among the members of the Greek church in Macedonia the following recipes are regarded as highly useful: To pacify one's enemies write the psalm "Known In Judea," dissolve it in water and give your enemy to drink thereof, and he will be pacified. For a startled and frightened man take three dry chestnuts and sow thistle and three glasses of old wine and let him drink thereof early and late. Write also "In the beginning was the word" and let him carry it.

AN OLD SAYING.

Showing How Cause and Effect Are Never Far Removed.

It is an old saying "Where there's honey there's bees"—not less true is one which science has coined more recently, "Where there's Dandruff there's germs"—and—to push the inference still further we may truly say "Where there's Dandruff cured Newbro's Herpicide has been at work."

The reason of Herpicide's isolation as a genuine cure for Dandruff lies in the fact that it attacks and destroys the root of the whole trouble—a parasitic germ which feeds upon the material which nourishes the hair follicle.

Other so-called remedies are not directed at this true cause of the disease. Accept no substitute, there is none. Sold by leading druggists. Sent 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

PROMOTED THE COOK.

An Error Made Him a Professor of History in Russia.

Some years ago the minister of education in St. Petersburg was appealed to by a telegraph for a cook, to be hurried to Moscow. The operator got his dashes and dots mixed, but by next train a man arrived and was ceremoniously conducted to the university, where he was introduced to the assembled faculty and students as the new professor in history.

The unhappy fellow protested that, while he might be a professor of pots and pans, he knew nothing about history. But in Russian official life it is harder for a man to correct an error than to make one, so for several years the cook has held his professorship, though no one attends his lectures.

Another laughable story comes from the Swakly school for boys. A door-keeper there who could scarcely read or write had grown so untidy and slow that he was no longer useful, but as the headmaster did not want to set him adrift he promoted him to a teacher's post and had him transferred to a distant school. He, too, will be a professor some day—Moscow Letter in New York World.

Particularly the Ladies.

Not only pleasant and refreshing to the taste, but gently cleansing and sweetening to the system, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is particularly adapted to ladies and children, and beneficial in all cases in which a wholesome, strengthening and effective laxative should be used. ## ANNOUNCE DEFENSE OF DAM DEFENDER

(American News Service)

Hayward, Wis., May 11.—John Dietz, the Cameron Dam outlaw hero, who with his wife and son, Leslie, are on trial here for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Oscar Harp, centered his defense on admissions made by Capt. Robert Kane of Milwaukee, a gun expert, who was in the witness stand for the state. Dietz is his own lawyer.

The outlaw forced Kane to admit that he could see no distinguishing marks on the bullet which killed Harp which would identify it with Dietz's gun and "that bullets do strange things inside a man's body."

FRECKLES GONE

"Simple Remedy from Leo H. Fihe Removed Them." Says Society Lady

"The best skin specialists told me that nothing would remove my freckles and that I would carry them to the grave," said a well known society woman, "but I fooled them all with a new drug, othine—double strength, that I bought at Leo H. Fihe's which cleared my skin and gave me a fine complexion."

The action of othine is really remarkable, for when applied at night, many of the freckles disappear entirely by morning, and the rest have begun to fade. An ounce is usually all that is needed, even in the worst cases.

Be sure to ask Leo H. Fihe for the double strength othine, as this is sold under a guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.
