

$3,400 IS RAISED HERE FOR COLLEGE

Canvass in County for Earlham Progressing in Most Satisfactory Manner.

EARLHAM DEBT FUND
(Richmond and Wayne County)
Previously Acknowledged.....$ 2,000
Today's Pledges 1,400
Total $ 3,400
(State)
Previously Acknowledged$36,101
Today's Pledges 1,463
Total$37,565
Grand Total—$40,965.

Figuratively speaking, belts were tightened and sleeves rolled up to the elbow when the business men who have accepted the responsibility for the Earlham debt campaign in Richmond started work this morning on the second day of the local canvass. At noon, when they gathered at headquarters in the Leeds building, an additional $1,400 had been subscribed, bringing the total for Richmond to $3,400—yesterday's subscriptions being $2,000. Of these, of course, one was for $1,000.

Today's grand total brings the Earlham movement actually into the home stretch, for the fund has now passed $40,000. Since May 12 it has grown slowly but steadily to $20,000, then $30,000—and now it is beyond $40,000. The total fund, which is $40,965 today, represents steady, earnest effort in many Indiana counties, as well as several in Ohio and Illinois. Today a little more than $9,000 is needed to complete the fund and make it $50,000. Of this amount the state is expected to give $2,500 and Richmond approximately $6,500.

Accept Responsibility.
The men appointed by the Young Men's Business club and those representing the Commercial club are accepting with the Earlham campaign committee, the responsibility for the success of the canvass in Richmond. They feel that there is no doubt that Richmond and Wayne county will subscribe the needed $10,000 which has been apportioned here, but they are looking at it as a matter that should be attended to with dispatch. Their attitude is that since this part of the $50,000 fund will be subscribed here without doubt, it should be subscribed quickly and without delay.

The report from Marion county, that another $1,000 would be added to the Earlham fund from Indianapolis has further added to the desire to have Richmond's fund pledged promptly. Marion county had already subscribed $8,000. This other $1,000 when the cards are received at headquarters will bring Marion county's total close to $10,000.

It Would Look Odd.
"Unless the people of Indianapolis and Marion county are headed off," said Chairman Pearson, "they may exceed the amount set apart for Richmond and Wayne county. We want Indianapolis to give all that it feels it should, but we do not want the people of Marion county to give more to Earlham than Wayne county where the institution has its home. It certainly would look odd to the rest of the state."

The Young Men's Business club is represented in the canvass of Richmond by Atwood L. Jenkins, Wilfred Jessup, George Ballinger, Isaac Wilson, Harry Doan and Edgar Hiatt. They are putting in every possible minute and expect to show that the Y. M. B. C. can be relied upon to get results in a cause so near to the hearts of the people of Richmond. Representing the Commercial club are C. W. Jordan, John H. Johnson, Howard Dill, Dr. C. S. Bond, Pettis Reed, Sharon E. Jones and T. A. Mott. They have thrown themselves into the campaign with all of their energy and enthusiasm and are making their efforts count. The regular Earlham campaign committee is represented in Richmond by E. Garney Hill, Timothy Nicholson, E. P. Trueblood, Elbert Russell, Harry N. Holmes and Harlow Lindsey.

The spirit of "Stand Up For Earlham," is not confined to those men who are actively engaged in the canvass. Many others are interested beyond the point of making a subscription. Among them is George L. Cates, of the Union National bank, who drops into headquarters frequently with suggestions that are helpful in directing the campaign here.

Work in the County.
The campaign in Wayne county, outside Richmond, is getting under way although reports of pledges have not been received at headquarters because of the greater distance to be traveled by the canvassers. A force of men has been divided among Dublin, Cambridge City, Milton and Centerville and the campaign will be centered there today and tomorrow at least. Each community of Friends will also be thoroughly canvassed. Chairman Pearson feels assured that the Friends of Wayne county will not be slow in coming to the support of Earlham, and that all others will be quick to express their appreciation of Wayne county's great educational institution.

Some pledge cards are being signed at headquarters in the Leeds building by citizens who are interested and go in voluntarily to make a subscription. Cards are kept there and someone is always on duty to accept such pledges. Bulletins are being posted in the window, showing the progress of the campaign as rapidly as news is received by Chairman Pearson and Dr. Kelly.

CLARK JUMPED ON ROOT'S AMENDMENT

Says Senate Recommendation on Reciprocity Will Not Pass House.

(National News Association)
Washington, June 13.—Speaker Champ Clark today issued a statement declaring that Senator Root's amendment was tacked onto the Canadian reciprocity agreement by the senate, positively would not be accepted by the house of representatives. Clark said: "Since I have been speaker of the house I have been very slow about saying what the house will or will not do at any given date. But I have no hesitancy in saying that I am opposed to the Root amendment."

On its face, it looks fair, but to adopt the amendment would be to throw away entirely all the benefits derived under the reciprocity bill.

So far as wood pulp and print paper are concerned, I am opposed to the amendment.

"No subject was ever more thoroughly investigated by any congressional committee than was this one by the Mann committee. In my judgment its recommendations were correct. They are incorporated in the reciprocity bill and will remain there."

"The Denver platform contains these words: 'Existing duties have been given to manufacturers of paper, the shelter from behind which they have organized combinations to raise the price of pulp wood and print paper, thus imposing a tax upon the spread of knowledge. We demand an immediate repeal of the tariff on wood pulp, print paper, lumber, timber and logs, and that these articles be placed upon the free list.'"

"Thus it will be seen that free wood pulp and print paper are Democratic demands. Most assuredly they are no less Democratic because a Republican President has come around to them. My guess is that the Root amendment will meet with a very frigid reception in the house."

"When Her Love Grows Cold."

The young housewife who starts in to make a happy, ideal home for husband and prospective little ones, loses some of her courage when she sees the results of using the old-time Rosin soaps in keeping her dishes, clothes, bed and table linens and other household washables clean. The poor little hands which were her pride have become red, rough and cracked through using strong soaps, and the more she exerts herself to attain cleanliness the worse her hands become.

Let her try Hewitt's Easy Task soap, dishes will be really clean, the wash will be spotless white, and those little hands will soon regain their fair appearance.

J. ZEYEN EXPIRES WHILE ON STREET

While walking on South C street on Tuesday morning about 8 o'clock, Joseph Henry Zeyen, aged 46, a prominent South End resident, and for several years a piano regulator at the Starr Piano company, dropped to the street and after being carried into St. Andrew's church of which he was a prominent member, died. Death was due to apoplexy. The body was afterwards removed to the residence, 719 South S street.

The decedent was active in St. Joseph's society, Knights of St. John, and the Catholic Benevolent legion. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Rosa Zeyen, five sons, Clarence, Raymond, Herman, Richard and Edward, and two daughters, Mary and Loretta, also his mother, two sisters and three brothers. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.
