

SENIORS TO GIVE AN ANCIENT PLAY

Second Performance of "Sakuntala" in U. S. to Be Staged at Earlham.

"Sakuntala," one of the most beautiful plays ever written will be presented by the Senior class of Earlham college next Tuesday evening on the new Chase Outdoor Stage. The Sanskrit play, which was written several hundred years before the birth of Christ, promises to be the finest class play ever given at the institution, this being its second performance in the United States.

Dressed in the most beautiful costumes, designed for the play by two Hindu missionaries, speaking exquisite language and presented in old Hindu style, the characters will appear on the Earlham stage. During the three acts choruses will sing a number of songs and the action will be accompanied by an orchestra under the direction of Will Earhart.

The play is especially well known in London, Berlin and Paris, where it is frequently presented by the leading actors and actresses of the world. In 1904 the graduating class of Smith college gave the first performance in the East after making a splendid translation and having the music written by the head of the Music department at the University of Wisconsin. The Senior class secured but two copies of the play and since the first of the year has been working for the class day performance.

Costuming Accurate.
Some time ago the class committee secured the services of a missionary who recently returned from Calcutta, India, and he has been at the college designing the costumes and giving suggestions about the customs of the Hindus. Besides this he has brought a number of costumes and ornaments with him which will be used in the play.

One interesting feature of the play is that the two leading parts are taken by the scholarship students of the class, while the leading members of the committee are the alternates. Harmon Maier has the role of Dushyanta, the rajah of India, and Miss Edith Wildman that of Sakuntala, the heroine of the play, while Homer L. Morris is chairman of the class committee and Miss Virginia Graves, of this city the leading girl member. The two former were awarded the Haverford and Bryn Mawr scholarships and the two latter named as alternates. Such an arrangement seldom is made in an American college for the scholarship students are seldom active in class affairs.

Last evening the entire play was rehearsed under the direction of Professors E. P. Trueblood and C. K. Chase and Professor Will Earhart and Miss Laura Gaston.

Seven members of the cast are Richmond students while Jack Grosvenor will take the part of the young son of the Rajah.

COURTSHIP IN MARRIAGE.

Many men are prone to consider that their courting days end with marriage, but the little attentions which the wife used to delight in are still dear to her. Maybe flowers and candy are too expensive now, but a man can bring joy to her heart by making her work easier.

Have her try a cake of Hewitt's clean, white, Easy Task soap. It will do half of the work which has been wearing her out; she can keep her hands soft and white, and the house will be kept neat and clean.

A PLAN OF HARMONY

For Government Buildings Is Considered.

Washington, D. C. June 15.—In response to the call of President Taft the National Fine Arts commission, whose membership includes a number of the most noted painters, architects, sculptors and landscape artists in the country, assembled in the capital today for an important meeting. The chief purpose is to pass upon the plans for the three new Federal buildings to house the Departments of State, of Commerce and Labor, and of Justice. All three buildings are to have architectural features that harmonize. If completed, as now planned, the three great structures will be the most notable single improvement ever undertaken in Washington. The buildings are to be located between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets. The Department of Justice will occupy the building nearest the Treasury, the Department of Commerce and Labor the next, and the Department of State the building farthest from the Treasury.

JUSTICE IN THE LAW

Poor Relief Tax Law Proves Its Economy.

Amos W. Butler, secretary of the board of state charities, in the forthcoming quarterly report of the board, will include a tabulation by townships to show the effect on taxation of the present township poor relief fund as to township poor taxes. In 1898 there were only sixty-four townships that carried no special tax for poor relief, while in 1910 there were 361 townships that carried no such tax. At no other time has the number exceeded that for 1910.

In 1908 there were 515 townships that had poor tax levies of less than 5 cents. In 1910 there 582 such townships, while in 1900, the number was 644, the largest for the period.

In 1898 435 townships had poor levies of 5 cents or over. In 1910 there were only seventy-four such counties, the lowest figures show the present law provides an economical method of caring for the township poor. The highest levies made for township poor purposes in 1910 were in Salt Creek township, Monroe county, and in Ruthertown township, Martin county, where the rate was 15 cents in each township. When the law went into effect, Mr. Butler says, it was not unusual to find a township levy for poor relief as high as 30 cents.

BRAVERY OF CREW SAVED 50 PEOPLE

Smithland, Ky., June 15.—The steamer John L. Lowry, with fifty passengers aboard, burned to the water's edge off Hamletburg, Ill., early today. There was no loss of life, but scenes of wild panic were enacted as the passengers fought their way to the rails and waited with death imminent as the boat slowly made its way to the shore and safety.

Quick work on the part of the captain and the bravery of a "Jim Bludso" engineer averted a fearful river tragedy. The fire had started near the engine and the boat was a furnace when the engineer ran the boat's bow into the bank and held it there until all the passengers and crew had escaped.

The boat, with fifty passengers aboard had been on an all-night excursion and was making its way up the Ohio in mid-stream when the blaze was discovered. Most of the passengers were asleep at the time. Suddenly aroused by the dread cry of fire, they rushed to the decks in a panic and only the coolness of the crew kept many from leaping overboard.

Seeing that the fire could not be checked, Capt. Lowry made for the Illinois side with all speed. By the time the bow of the steamer had scraped ashore, the fire had gained great headway, but the passengers had quieted down and all disembarked without injury.

SUES FENCE CO. FOR EX-HUSBAND'S WAGES

By a suit for support entered in the Wayne circuit court today Dessie Boyer seeks to secure the payment of $7 from the Elliott & Reid Fence company which, it is said is due her husband for work. Mrs. Boyer was divorced from her husband December 17, 1910. By the decree she was given alimony to the amount of $3 a week for the support of two minor children. She charges that he has failed to make any provision of this sort whatever and asks that the $7 be paid to her for this purpose.

QUITE APPREHENSIVE

Two Towns Fear Losing a Railroad.

Should the C. & O. railroad between Webster and Losantville be changed from its present route to the line recently marked out by the road's surveyors and engineers, the towns of Economy and Williamsburg will be approximately a half mile from the tracks. A survey of the proposed new route has just been completed and a rebuilding of the road between the two towns named is being considered by the C. & O. officials.

The reason advanced by the railroad company for the change is to eliminate the large number of curves in the present route. Not only would about a mile and one half of track be done away with but the time of travel greatly reduced. The change in the roadbed would be in keeping with the policy of the C. & O. to better the Indiana line by improving the road and eliminating the large number of curves.

Residents of Williamsburg and Economy are considerably agitated over the proposal to remove the line about a half mile from their respective towns. Economy residents who were prominent in circulating the petition for a subsidy for the old C. C. & L. railroad, believed a clause was inserted by which the road was to pass not more than a quarter of a mile from the town. Investigation of the records in the county auditor's office has failed to disclose any such clause. It is very probable that the residents of both towns will attempt to persuade the company to abandon the project.

TO SELL ALL STOCK WITHIN SHORT TIME

With only a few shares of stock not placed and the outlook for the issue being taken up before July 4 very encouraging, directors of the Commercial club are already giving consideration to the question of how best to carry out the plans for the location of an amusement and camping resort at the Hawkins place in the northeast part of the city. The money which will be raised by the stock subscriptions will be spent in closing the option for the property, which the Commercial club has held for several months.

As soon as this is done, and there is little doubt but that the transfer of the property will be made within the next three weeks, the club will determine on its future plans. Either by issuing bonds on the property or by other means of raising the necessary revenue, the work of plotting the ground, laying out the drives and walks, constructing a dam, which will provide a lake a mile and a half in length, and constructing a pavilion may be carried out. People of the city and particularly those who already have subscribed stock are very much interested in the development of the enterprise. If the actual work of improvement is started this summer, the park will be a reality before this time next year, and its benefits being enjoyed by that time.

ANNUAL PICNIC

The annual picnic of the Wayne county Medical association will be held at Glen Miller June 5. Addresses will be delivered by President Robert Kelly, of Earlham college, and C. S. Houghland of Milroy, Ind.
