AT FALL RIVER.

Fall River, Mass., June 23.—President Taft paid a brief visit to Fall River today and delivered an address in connection with the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the beginning of the cotton manufacturing industry in New England.

EUCCHARISTIC CONGRESS.

Madrid, June 23.—Hundreds of prelates and priests of the Roman Catholic church throughout the world have arrived in Madrid to attend the Eucharistic congress. The gathering will have its formal opening tomorrow and will continue until the end of June.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

Rockford, Ill., June 23.—The annual state encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans opened in this city today with an attendance of nearly 1,000 delegates and visitors from all parts of Illinois. The gathering will last two days.

AT KETTLE FALLS.

Kettle Falls, Wash., June 23.—Many pioneers of this section gathered here today to celebrate the centennial of the discovery of Kettle Falls and to pay honor to the memory of David Thompson, then Hudson Bay Company agent, who discovered the falls in 1811 and in the year following established the first trading post in the far northwest on what is now American territory.

DEVELOPMENT CONGRESS.

Gulfport, Miss., June 23.—State officials, newspaper editors, railroad men, heads of commercial clubs and many other persons were present here today at the opening of the state wide immigration and industrial convention under the auspices of the Mississippi Land Development association. Governor Noel was one of the speakers at the opening session.

BETWEEN TWO STATES.

St. Croix, Wis., June 23.—Public officials of Wisconsin and Minnesota took part in the exercises today attending the formal opening of the new bridge which spans the St. Croix river and connects the towns of St. Croix on the Wisconsin side and Taylor's Falls on the Minnesota side.

ICELANDIC SYNOD.

Winnipeg, Man., June 23.—The Icelandic Lutheran Synod of America began its twenty-seventh annual meeting in this city today with an attendance of delegates from many points throughout Canada and the United States. The synod will continue its sessions until next Tuesday.

PRINCE EDWARD IS 17.

London, June 23.—Next to King George it is probable that most public attention has centered this week in his eldest son and heir, Prince Edward, who celebrates his seventeenth birthday today. At the present time Prince Edward is giving much attention to the preparations for his investiture which is to take place at Carnarvon Castle next month. Whether he shall go to Oxford next fall or enter Sandhurst for a short military course seems not to have been determined as yet. In any event it is regarded as likely that his royal highness will soon have a separate establishment of his own. Various places have been mentioned already, among them Frogmore.

CONFERENCES OPEN.

East Northfield, Mass., June 23.—The students' conference, the first of the religious gatherings established here by the late Dwight L. Moody, opened for its twenty-fifth annual session today with delegates present from many colleges of the United States and Canada. The conference will remain in session until July 2 and will have as speakers John R. Mott, Robert E. Speer, Bishop A. S. Lloyd and other noted religious workers.

James J. Hill says he doesn't want to die with his boots on, and accordingly he is preparing to retire from active business life.

Savage Sense of Humor.

There are whole people who cannot laugh. When some of the Veddas of Ceylon were asked why none of their people ever laugh they solemnly replied that they never see anything to laugh at. On the other hand, some savages appear to have a more robust sense of humor than their civilized brethren. Dr. Livingstone tells of an African tribe who, when dressed in clothes for the first time, "rolled about on the ground in uncontrollable fits of laughter" and spoiled their clothes. If they had but known what clothes would cost them!—London Chronicle.

The river of Life.

Love is the river of life in this world. Think not that ye know it who stand at the little tinkling rill, the first small fountain. Not until you have gone through the rocky gorges and not lost the stream: not until you have gone through the meadow and the stream has widened and deepened until fleets could ride on its bosom: not until be through the meadow you have come to the unfathomable ocean and poured your treasure into its depths: not until then can you know what love is.—Henry Ward Beecher.
