

FORGER AND BIGAMIST IS CAPTURED BY CHIEF GORMON

P. P. Apkins, Arrested Here Last Night, May Also Have to Answer Murder Charge if One Wife Dies.

bled a second, then recovering his composure said:

"Why, what for?"

He was informed that the police had been looking for him during two months and had traced him over many states. After learning that Gormon was a police officer he refused to talk. He is in the city jail, but may be transferred to the county prison today or tomorrow.

is a "Big Catch."

Chief Gormon's catch is a big one, probably one of the most important ever made by a Richmond police official and with the evidence Gormon has he feels certain he will send Apkins to the penitentiary for a long term of years.

The information elicited from Apkins is meager. About all he would say is that he has relatives in Stegar, Illinois.

After the forgeries had been reported from the Second National bank here, and following his confession with Mrs. Kohler, Gormon sent Apkins photograph to the Pinkerton Detective Association and to the Burns agency.

Apkins' forgeries show his cunning. All his checks were made out for small amounts, and many, uncashed, were found in his belongings. At the end of each check is written: "Payment in full for labor. Rate... per hour. Total hours.... Total amount" It is supposed he had intended to cash here the check to which he had forged Hensley's name.

A bundle of Checks.

A bundle of checks signed and endorsed were found. They were written on blanks of the National City Bank, of Ottawa, Ill., for the amounts of $14.50, payable to Fred Snyder, signed by E. H. Morrow; $12.15, payable to E. Turowsky, and others for small amounts payable to Anton Miller, P. P. Apkins, Robert Schultz, all signed by Ed Shiple. All these names have been taken by Apkins at different times as aliases.

While in Richmond he boarded with D. U. Atkinson. This afternoon Mrs. Kohler said that she married him because she wanted a home. He appealed to her, it is said, and she thought him a good man. Mrs. Kohler says that the man never asked her for any money and she knew nothing of his other matrimonial intentions.

With a collection of love letters many speaking of him in the most endearing terms and photographs of girls, found in his suit cases, were also discovered several copies of matrimonial papers published at Toledo, O., in which the names of numerous girls were marked.

A Silk Producing Caterpillar. In Assam, where the natives call it "eri," a silk producing caterpillar has been used for silk spinning for centuries, but, strange to say, its employment for the purpose has been restricted almost exclusively to that region. One of its advantages is that its cocoons are not sealed like those of the common silkworm. One end of the cocoon is closed only with converging loops of silk. This renders it unnecessary to kill the insect when its silk is used.

Rubbing It In.

"What made the boss glare so at that man who just went out?" said one waiter to another.

"When he paid his bill for a fifty cent dinner he asked if there was any place in the neighborhood, anyhow, where a fellow could go and get a decent meal for fifty cents?" New York Press.

ROBBIN' A ROBIN MILTON SPECTACLE

(Special.)

Milton, Ind., July 20.—A peculiar thing among birds attracted some attention on the street yesterday. A robin had caught a very large green worm and was about to fly away with it when a plucky little sparrow came up and deliberately took the worm away from the robin, and began eating it while the poor robin looked on disconsolately and hopped about the sparrow, as though it would like to take the worm away but was afraid of the sparrow.

The sessions of the convention will begin tomorrow and will conclude Sunday with special meetings to be held in forty Milwaukee churches.

Tame Eagles.

A man living near Tromso, in Norway, is a great lover of wild birds and has succeeded in taming three eagles. He took them on the mountain side while they were young and, according to the London Field, kept them a couple of years in captivity. As their craving for liberty, however, grew stronger and stronger he at last let them loose, but they have settled down in the neighborhood of his home, and when he ascends the heights which have become their favorite resort with fish or a newly shot seal they quickly discover him from afar and come majestically sailing through the air, settling down beside him. Their meal over, they willingly allow him to pet and stroke them before they again make for the rocky islets, but they will not allow a stranger to approach them.

Etiquette.

The very high sounding word etiquette had a very humble origin, for etiquette meant simply a label. It derived its present meaning from the fact that a Scotch gardener who had laid out the grounds at Versailles for Louis XIV, was much annoyed at the courtiers walking over his newly made paths and at length had labels placed to indicate where they might walk. At first these labels were ignored, but a hint from high quarters that in future the walks of the courtiers must be within the "etiquettes" or labels was promptly attended to. To keep within the "etiquettes" came to mean to do the correct thing.

As It Used to Be.

Mildmay is a philosopher in his way. The other evening Mrs. M. gave him a scolding that would have made almost any other man crazy. But Mildmay said never a word in reply. He only murmured to himself:

"And that is the woman I used to hold on my knee and call my little tootsy wootsy!"

WIRELESS TELEPHONE

Proves Worth in Big Army Maneuvers.

(National News Association)
San Francisco, July 20.—The thing that overshadowed all else in the National Guard army maneuvers here was the wonderful success of the wireless telephone. Communication was established with the tug Barrett, which was towing targets out in the bay and during the two hours that target practice was held the tug was directed by this means from shore. It is the first time wireless telephony has been introduced in the regular army and officers of the militia are jubilant over its success. Later the transport Sherman, 600 miles away, was picked up.

Today was the big day at the encampment. For the first time in twenty years a governor of California is to make an official visit to the Presidio. At night the big invasion by land and sea will take place.

Noisy Malcolm.

Sir John Malcolm, the first chairman of the Oriental club, was a great talker and had been nicknamed "Bahawder Jaw"—it was said by Canning. It was a family failing, as we learn from Mr. Ralph Neville's "London Clubs." "There were ten Malcolm brothers, two of them admirals. All ten seem to have possessed the same characteristic, for when Lord Wellesley was assured by Sir John that he and three brothers had once met together in India the governor general declared it to be 'impossible—quite impossible!' Malcolm reiterated his statement. 'I repeat it is impossible. If four Malcolms had come together we should have heard the noise all over India.'

FELL OFF WHEEL—BLACKBERRY JAM

(Special)

Milton, Ind., July 20.—John Hunt had an accident whereby he spilled all of his blackberries and then crushed them. He was riding his wheel, and carrying a bucket of berries which he had just gathered. Something happened to the wheel just as he was nearing home causing him to fall. The bucket went down also and the wheel went over the berries.

An Instantaneous Wrinkle Remover

(From Eastern Styles.)

The average woman is always surprised to learn, after experimenting with all sorts of patent so-called "wrinkle removers," that the most effective remedy in the world is a simple face wash which she can make herself at home in a jiffy. She has only to get an ounce of pure powdered salsolite from her nearest druggist and dissolve it in half a pint of witch hazel. Apply this refreshing solution to the face every day. The result is charming—marvelous. Even after the very first treatment the wrinkles show less plainly and the face has a nice, firm, comfortable feeling that is thoroughly delightful and lends self-confidence in one's appearance. This harmless home remedy is used by thousands of women to obliterate the unwelcome traces of time.
