

THE SOCIAL WHIRL

.. Edited by Miss E. Elizabeth R. Thomas ..

TELL HER.

(Puck.)

You can burn all the furniture,
smash up the house,
You can tear down the roof
that's above her;
A woman will stand for it quiet as
a mouse
So long as you tell her you love
her.

You can spend her inheritance,
blacken her eye
You can leave her, ill-treat her,
or shove her;
She'll faithfully suffer your acts till
you die
So long as you tell her you love
her.

You may tenderly nurse her, and
all things endure,
Her weakness carefully cover;
But she's never believe your affection
is sure
Unless you inform her you love
her.

You may purchase the gems she
wanted through life,
Persistently round her may hover;
But things such as these all mean
naught to your wife
If you don't tell her, too, that you love her.

PORCH PARTY.

A porch party was given yesterday afternoon by the Misses Ada and Ruby Kelly at their home in North Twelfth street as a courtesy to their guests Miss Wahnera Hamill, of Bloomington, Illinois, Miss Lois Guild of Wheeling, West Virginia, and Miss Grace Stout of Kokomo, Indiana. SILVER WEDDING.

Twenty-five years ago Frank F. Hosea and Jessie C. Chambers were married at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Chambers, at the family residence, Cherrywood. Last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Chambers and Miss Lillian, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hosea and children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chambers, Fred and Robert Mr. and Mrs. George Chambers and son of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. James Shiveley and daughter of Mt. Summit, and Dr. and Mrs. Bailey of Richmond, gave Mr. and Mrs. Hosea a complete surprise and one they will not soon forget, when they went to their beautiful country residence, "Highland Home," to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary with them.

At noon an elegant dinner was served. In the middle of the long table at which twenty persons were seated, was the big, white, wedding cake, made by a professional baker of Richmond. This feast of good things was followed by remarks by D. D. Chambers, some rhymes by Dr. Baily and "Thoughts" by Mrs. Baily.
David W. Chambers reviewed very briefly, the life of his father, Alexander Chambers, and spoke of his love for America. He said that "he, too, loved America as a whole and especially Indiana as a state, and considered the counties of Henry, Wayne and Rush the garden spot of the world."—New Castle Courier.

VISITING FRIENDS.

Mr. A. W. Kirkman, a well known contractor of Muncie, Indiana, is visiting with friends and relatives in this city.

THE NEW WAY FOR WOMEN.

The Monday washing is a small tragedy when performed by the old-fashioned method of "rub, rub, rub, boil a while, and then rub." Science, by the production of a pure, clean, white laundry soap has evolved a much easier way—soaking the clothes with the help of Hewitt's Easy Task soap. This is much quicker, lots easier and costs no more than the poor, old-fashioned kinds. Five cents at your grocers.

MEETS WEDNESDAY.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the First English Lutheran church will meet Wednesday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock with Mrs. George Mashmeyer at her home in South Fourteenth street.

CROSS STITCH.

Some Hints For Making This Simple Yet Effective Embroidery.
Cross stitching may be done on canvas of several different degrees of fineness of mesh, a fact which is full of meaning for the worker who wishes to lessen or increase a pattern without harming the symmetry of the design.

The stitches must, of course, be counted on the material itself and on the printed pattern, but by making due allowance for greater or less coarseness in the canvas the above effects can be obtained.

A blunt pointed rug needle and mercerized cotton, which can be doubled when the pattern demands it, are the best implements to employ.

Of course a great deal of the attractiveness of this work depends upon the color effects, due to the color of the canvas and the thread. In general, quiet, chair-like shades are best—dull reds, blues and greens, such as those used for Bulgarian embroidery. It is easy and charming work for a long summer afternoon on the porch or in the hammock under the trees.

CHIPPENDALE REVIVAL.

Popularity of Last Century Models at English Court Its Excuse.

Chippendale furniture is enjoying quite a revival of favor, together with many other artistic fads of the reign of the Georges. King George V. of England is keenly interested in anything that concerns his predecessors, and Windsor castle, which is the favorite residence of the royal couple, contains some fine specimens of the handwork of the great craftsman.

CHIPPENDALE CHAIR.
The chair illustrated here is a handsome yet typical specimen of Chippendale style, showing the lightness and grace yet strength of the style. The framework is of mahogany. The square chair seat is upholstered in tapestry.

The reproductions of Chippendale workmanship are so accurate and painstaking that, although most of us cannot afford real old Chippendale furniture, these imitations, especially in the form of chairs, are not beyond the means of most.

Sweeping.
"She swept the room with a glance."
"Humph! A lot of help that was to her mother."

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctors said I had tumors, and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sensitive Wash relieved me. Your Liver Pills have no equal as a cathartic. Any one wishing proof of what your medicines have done for me can get it from any druggist or by writing to me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 106 Mound St., Peoria, Ill.

Another Operation Avoided.
New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. LILY PRYOR, 1111 Kerlerec St., New Orleans, La.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.
