

BENZOATE OF SODA MAY BE DISCUSSED

What Will State Dairy and Food Commissioners Do at Their Meeting?

(Palladium Special)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Whether the Association of National and State Dairy and Food Commissioners at its next annual convention, which will be held in Duluth this month, will again take up the question of benzoate of soda, remains to be seen. The State officials are almost entirely in sympathy with a genuine enforcement of the pure food laws including the prohibition of benzoate of soda, but at present, for the most part are afraid to take action against it because of doubt as to whether the courts will sustain such action while the federal government adheres to its present attitude.

In any event it is not expected that Solicitor McCabe of the Department of Agriculture will undertake to assume the same domineering attitude or pursue the offensive tactics and ward political methods that characterized his attitude as the personal representative of Secretary Wilson in the last two conventions. It is presumed he will be somewhat subdued in view of the clamor caused by the recent attempt of McCabe and Secretary Wilson to oust Dr. Wiley.

Is Called Twaddle.

As the Moss investigating Committee pursues its way the facts which have long been known to the insiders have been revealed to the public. It has become patent that the talk of Wiley's attempted usurpation of power is the veriest twaddle; his "insubordination" consisted merely of refusing to stultify himself at the behest of his superior officers. When Secretary Wilson went over to the benzoate users he expected to carry with him the Department of Agriculture forces "horse, foot and dragons," but he reckoned without the hard-headed Wiley. The latter had decided against benzoate of soda and while Secretary Wilson was able to effectually muzzle him and to deprive him of practically all the power which Congress intended to invest in his Bureau, he was not able to make Wiley reverse himself. Wiley stood pat, with the American Medical Association, the Association of Dairy and Food Commissioners, the American Institute of Homeopathy, and other organizations behind him. He was therefore marked for slaughter and as a first step Solicitor McCabe and Associate Chemist Dunlap joined hands and controlled the Board of Food and Drug Inspection. Then came the Denver convention and for weeks Solicitor McCabe toured the country arranging for delegates favorable to the preservative. Secretary Wilson was on hand and the cheap political methods employed by the representatives of the Department of Agriculture in behalf of benzoate of soda were extensively featured in the Denver newspapers and scandalized the convention to such an extent that some of the delegates refused to vote. A resolution endorsing the Remsen Board's report was finally forced through by the votes from the Department of Agriculture and the District of Columbia, all of which were controlled by Secretary Wilson and Solicitor McCabe. The States divided equally on the question. Dr. Wiley was present but the Secretary forbade him to speak in his own behalf; on the other hand, the expenses of McCabe, Secretary Wilson and all the members of the Remsen Board who were present at the direction of the Secretary to defend benzoate of soda, were paid by the Department of Agriculture. In this connection it is interesting to note that Dr. Remsen informed the Moss committee that the expenses of the members of the Remsen Board who appeared in the Indiana courts to testify in behalf of Curlee Brothers and Williams Brothers, who are testing the constitutionality of the Indiana anti-benzoate of soda law, were paid not by the manufacturers interested, but by the Department of Agriculture. Secretary Wilson refused to allow Dr. Wiley to testify in this case.

THE GERM WHICH PRODUCES DANDRUFF
Finally Causes Baldness.—Kill the Germ and Save Your Hair.—Newbro's Herpicide Will Do It.
Did you ever try to discover a reason for the dying of a valuable plant? You perhaps found that life was destroyed by some insect or parasite working about the roots and sapping away the elements which go to support plant life.
The dandruff germ exercises the same destructive influence upon the life of the hair. It forces its way down the follicle around the hair bulb and thus prevents the hair from getting proper nourishment. The hair dies and drops out.
Newbro's Herpicide prevents this by killing the germ. It also frees the scalp from the accumulations of dirt and sebum. With the removal of these obstacles to a clean, healthy scalp, the hair will grow naturally and luxuriantly.
Herpicide is known as the original Dandruff Germ Destroyer.
One dollar size bottles are sold and guaranteed by all druggists.
Applications may be obtained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors.
Send 10c in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., for a nice sample of Herpicide and a booklet telling all about the hair.

Goodwin and Divorced Wife

Eccentric actor says he is going to sue the publishing company who published the book written by wife No. 3, Edna Goodrich. He objects to a chapter she devoted to him, and he also doubts if she wrote the book as he says the fair Edna has not sense enough to be an author.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Alla Nazimova will appear next season under the management of Charles Frohman in a new play from the French.

James K. Hackett will have two plays next season, one by the author of "The World and His Wife," the other by James Fagan.

The coming season Wm. A. Brady will make two musical productions, "The Violet Widow," by Dorothy Usher, and "The Merry Bachelor," by two well-known writers.

Early in October the first New York production of George Broadhurst's latest play, "Bought and Paid For," will be made, with Charles Rishman in the leading role.

When Wm. A. Brady produces "The Earth" at the Playhouse, New York, Mrs. J. Bernard Fagan, wife of the author, will have a part. The leading role will be played by Grace George.

Ethel Barrymore's first New York engagement in "The Witness for the Defense," will be played at the Empire, following the season of John Drew. Her leading man will be A. E. Anson.

Wm. A. Brady has acquired the American rights to "The Gods of the Mountain," a sensational short play by Lord Dunsany, which has been running at the Haymarket Theater, London, for six months.

In November a new American melodrama will be produced at the Manhattan Opera House, New York. The scenes of the play are laid in New York City and the Far East. There will be more than fifty speaking parts.

Edmund Pollock, an English actor, has been engaged for the role of Dallas Brown in "Seven Days." Mr. Pollock, who will make his first appearance in this country in that play, is a brother of Allan Pollock, the original Dallas Brown.

Mrs. Annie Pixley, the mother of Gus Pixley and the late Annie Pixley, died at her home in New York the other day, of old age. In the days when Annie Pixley appeared in "Miss," her mother made it a rule never to miss a performance.

One of the early productions to be made this fall by Henry W. Savage will be a Parisian farce, "Le Million," which in some respects follows the lines of Sardou's "A Scrap of Paper." The American adaptation has been made by Leo Dietrichstein.

Hilda Spong has been selected to play the title role in "Everywoman" when James C. Williamson produces the play in Australia coming season. Miss Spong originally came from Australia to join the Daniel Frohman stock company at the old Lyceum Theater.

"Charlemagne, the Conqueror" is the title of a new play by Justin Huntley McCarthy, which W. A. Brady has acquired for the use of Robert Mantell, who will produce the play on tour during the early part of the season, taking it to New York next spring.

Henry W. Savage has brought with him from Europe the manuscripts of "Baron Good-for-Nothing," a comedy success from Berlin by Heinrich Schrottenbach; "The Lieutenant's Ward," another Berlin comedy hit, by Leo Walther Stein, and "The Summer's Folly," a German comedy on the lines of "Old Heidelberg." He also has the rights to "Weeping Josephine," by Julius Engle.

At Local Theaters

Murray

To find a bill more pleasing than that presented at the Murray this week would be hard to find. The show consists of plenty of good singing, dancing, music and novelty. The Carter Sisters and J. Frank Holliday appear in an act called "Studies and Song" which leaves a good taste in one's mouth. The act is introduced by song by Holliday sung to models in a store window and the models suddenly step forth and join the chorus. This breezy trio deserves thanks for giving something new in a vocal offering. A number of changes of attractive costumes, several special sets of scenery, good voices, catchy songs, much comedy and a fine appearance make this trio a valuable act.

Perhaps never in the history of the house has there been a musical act which carries so much and such beautiful scenery as the Musical Toys. These two people attractively dressed in band costumes renders selections upon numerous wind instruments. Miss Toy having the reputation of playing upon more wind instruments than any other lady musician in the business. Both are musical artists and should be heard to be appreciated.

Bele Myers in a singing and dancing act has made quite a hit. Her songs are all new and catchy. Her rendition of the one song "Sleepy Head" being quite catchy. As a dancer she is a very graceful little body and as a Scottish dancer meets with unlimited success.

The Ardell brothers are seen in a series of novel acrobatic stunts and acrobatic dancing that are decidedly clever.

On Saturday, August 12th, the theater will close for the annual renovation and will be reopened on Monday, September 4th, Labor Day.

Synopsis—Morning. The Sleeping Camp. Dawn appears. Birds sing and a cock crows. Breakfast call is heard and the camp is soon in motion. Assembly call. The infantry forms in line and marches to the scene of action. Adjutants call. The cavalry approaches. Prayer. The battle is on. Grand melee of infantry, cavalry and artillery. Firing a cannon, rapid fire guns, etc. Triumph of American arms. The Star Spangled Banner. Finale.

Salome—Salome has been repulsed by John the Baptist after she has exhausted all her powers to enchant him. She appears before King Herod at his birthday feast. She dances at his request. Herod is pleased with her dancing and promises to grant whatever she may ask. Salome, still smarting under her repulse and urged by her mother, Herodias, asks for the head of John the Baptist. Herod, with great reluctance, grants her request. The feast is over; the head of John is brought in a charger to Salome, whose revenge is now complete, for John, who would not as much as turn his head to look at her, shall now be held in her all her beauty. In her mad frenzy, she caresses and kisses the head. She attempts to dance but is stricken with fear. She is terrified as she realizes the horror of what she has done. She is overwhelmed, abject; but a ray of hope flashes over her sinking soul; can she earn forgiveness by constant prayer and sacrifice? She swoons in a heap upon the floor.

Humoresque—What's the Matter With Father. Synopsis—Brother takes Father with him to supper with a bunch of college chums and discovers that Father is a "Sport." He astonishes all with his ready wit and "repatee." It is voted all around that "He's all right." The merriment is interrupted by the clock striking two and the cock crowing in the distance. After bidding all good-night in as nice a manner as his condition will allow, Father departs quietly for home. Having arrived there and after some difficulty in stifling his exuberant spirit, he sneaks upstairs to bed; alas! he collides with the parrot's cage and falls all the way downstairs with it just as the cuckoo clock, in spite of his efforts to stifle it, gives out the hour as three. The noise awakens Mother and Sister, who rushing to the top of the stairs, hysterically cry, "What's the Matter with Father?"

Selection—Les Contes d'Hoffman. Selection—The Flying Dutchman. Selection—Faust. Selection—Meritana. Selection—A Dervish Chorus—In the Sudan. American Sketch—By the Swanee River. Selection—The Chocolate Soldier. Selection—The Newlyweds. Selection—Madame Sherry. Selection—Naughty Marietta. Selection—The Girl on the Train. Selection—The Girl of My Dream. Fantasy on Scotch Irish and English Air—Albion. Humoresque—The Tearing of the Green. Fackeltanz. Meyerbeer.

Ekimo Mourning Customs. All Ekimos are superstitious about death, and, although they hold festivals in memory of departed friends, they will usually carry a dying person to some abandoned hut, there to drag out his remaining days without food, medicine, water or attendance. After the death of a husband or a wife the survivor cuts the front hair short and fasts for twenty-five days.

PROMOTED THE COOK. An Error Made Him a Professor of History in Russia. Some years ago the minister of education in St. Petersburg was appealed to by telegraph for a cook, to be hurried to Moscow. The operator got his dashes and dots mixed, but by next train a man arrived and was ceremoniously conducted to the university, where he was introduced to the assembled faculty and students as the new professor in history.

The unhappy fellow protested that, while he might be a professor of pots and pans, he knew nothing about history. But in Russian official life it is harder far to correct an error than to make one, so for several years the cook has held his professorship, though no one attends his lectures.

Another laughable story comes from the Suwalki school for boys. A doorkeeper there who could scarcely read or write had grown so untidy and slow that he was no longer useful, but as the headmaster did not want to see him drift he promoted him to a teacher's post and had him transferred to a distant school. He, too, will be a professor some day.—Moscow Letter in New York World.

Didn't Want It Flattened. This story is told of Jerome K. Jerome, the humorist. Returning from abroad one time, he fell into good company, with the exception of one man, who was what is known as "a walking encyclopedia." This man persisted in giving all sorts of information, much to the annoyance of Mr. Jerome and others. One morning, as the travelers leaned over the rail, admiring the rising sun, the man with the information turned to them and said almost solemnly: "Gentlemen, if the earth were flattened out the sea would be two miles deep over the whole world."

Mr. Jerome turned around, seemingly stunned. Then he grew indignant, and, walking over to the other man, he said, shaking his finger menacingly: "Look here, man, if you catch any fellow trying to flatten out the earth shoot him on the spot. I can't swim."—Philadelphia Times.
