

WILLIAM J. BRYAN IS HEARD BY BIG INTERESTED CROWD

Was Introduced to the Audience by Mr. Shiveley as "The Greatest Orator of Them All."

render a more valuable service than he can earn," stated the speaker.

On Social Questions.

Mr. Bryan touched upon the various questions that are agitating society, referring to the drink evil, especially in relation to the complacent attitude of the church toward its communicants whose bank-rolls render them immune from clerical admonition; to the gambling habit, more insidious than the latter. Journalism was brought to the bar and accused of selling its influence. He arraigned the church for lethargy and the law for its deviousness and delays.

He spoke eloquently of our duty as a nation, of the destiny which should be fulfilled that this country should be as "a light set upon a hill," for the guidance of the lesser peoples. He cited as an illustration, a meeting he attended in Brazil where speeches were made in English to the effect that the United States was the ideal for which the citizens of that country strive, of the singing of "America" in English and of the whole atmosphere of the affair toward emulation of our national institutions and standards and of the grave responsibility that was ours.

Mr. Bryan did not, it is true, make any vital political references although he came close to it now and then, veering off gracefully. That his audience was alive to the slightest trend in that direction was shown by the applause that greeted every near-remark to the "political situation." Dr. Bryan's address, however, concerned itself entirely with the moral responsibility of the individual toward society and abounded in epigram, homely truth, brilliant diction, and lofty sentiment.

Above all, however, was his magnetic personality. For his honesty, sincerity, eloquence and gifts he is respected and admired but for that indefinable thing which draws people to him, he is loved. It is possibly Dr. Bryan's aura, which should be easily photographed. It was almost visible yesterday afternoon to human sight. In his peroration Dr. Bryan said:

"What a great destiny God has assigned to our nation, to be the pathfinder among the nations, a torch-bearer to the world. We cannot fulfill our charge unless we apply ethical standards to public life. We as citizens cannot do our duty unless we answer cannot do our duty unless we answer a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul."

Bingham Entertains.

Ralph Bingham gave a personally conducted entertainment last evening that delighted his great audience, the backwater from the Bryan meeting. Bingham is another funny man but, unlike his immediate predecessors, did not seek to inculcate any nice little moral precepts handed out in a joke capsule. It was more on the order of a vaudeville stunt than a less secular one, but anyway it was highly amusing. Bingham is a clever comedian with a large amount of personality as his chief asset and that he can be something besides funny was instanced by his recitation of a pathetic story in verse and preserving the fine line between the sublime and the ridiculous. Not that it did not err in being ridiculous was an artistic triumph for Mr. Bingham. Mr. Bingham is a good fellow on the platform and had his audience with him from the start. He mixes up some funny musical business with the rest and his appearance was, altogether, one of the pleasant successes of the present Chautauqua.

Two more concerts were given by the Apollo Concert Company yesterday, this aggregation of musicians being popular with their audiences and their appearance tonight in an elaborate program is looked forward to with interest.

"UPLIFTER OF THE HUMAN FACE?"

[Dedicated to Byron W. King, who in his Chautauqua Lecture Expressed a desire to be known as the "Uplifter of the Human Face."]

BY ORAF DRAW.

"Uplifter of the human face,"
May your mission here on earth
Help to shorten much the space
Between our sorrow and our mirth.
"Uplifter of the human face,"
May your forte of doing good
Show the world the saving grace
Of gladness heart and smiling mood.

"Uplifter of the human face,"
God give you power now unknown,
To leaven earth with joy and grace
And reap the grain which you have sown.

"Uplifter of the human face,"
Oh, may the years be many still
So you can in a measure place
The seal of pleasure on the will.

"Uplifter of the human face,"
God of Heaven make your power,
Where'er you go from place to place
As forceful as a summer shower.

"Uplifter of the human face,"
Thou who hast fair laurels won,
Wilt be crowned with love and grace
When your work on earth is done.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 30.—An indication of the number of people dependent for the whole or a part of their incomes upon the prosperity of railroads is afforded by the compilation just completed of the holdings of Pennsylvania Railroad stock on August 5th, 1911, the date of record for the August dividend which amounts to $6,764,610.75. The total outstanding capital stock of the company on that date was $450,974,050, divided into 9,019,481 shares. These shares were held by 69,760 persons, the largest number of stockholders in the history of the company. The average holding of each of these persons was 129.29 shares of a par value of $6,464.50.

The ten per cent stock allotment recently made by the company increased the capital stock $38,357,850, to August 5th, 92 per cent having availed of the privilege of paying in full instead of in two installments. The number of stockholders prior to April 12th, when the allotment was made, was 66,046, showing an addition of 3,714 share holders in the past four months.

The figures made public by the Railroad Company today disclose the fact that on August 1st, 15.65 per cent of the entire capital stock was held abroad by 10,000 shareholders, with average holdings of 141 shares each. In this country, there were on the same date, 21,545 shareholders located in the State of Pennsylvania, with average individual holdings of 108 shares. In New York State, there were 12,006 shareholders. The number of women shareholders was 32,801.

When the total number of shareholders of Pennsylvania is added the many thousands of shareholders in other companies controlled and maintained by the Pennsylvania Railroad, not to speak of the other thousands of bond holders in the parent and subsidiary companies, the intimate relationship of the earnings of this railroad to the lives of a very large number of people scattered all over the world, will be appreciated.

I can truthfully say that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is a very good medicine, not alone for kidney trouble, but also for weak and sore back, as well as for rheumatism.

About a year ago I became ill and unable to work, my trouble being a lame back. I read of your Swamp-Root in the newspaper and in an Almanac. Believing it would do me good, I went to my druggist, Mr. Skinner, and purchased a bottle. Finding relief in one fifty-cent bottle, I purchased several more and in a short time was able to continue with my work and am today feeling well and strong. I always recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root to my friends as I believe it is as good a medicine as can be found.

SNEEZEFEEST NOW FORMALLY OPENED

Hay Fever Victims Hold a Convention in a White
Mountain Resort.

(National News Association)

BETHLEHEM, N. H., Aug. 30.—Sneezers, for whom sneezing is a common interest, rounded up in this famous White Mountains resort today for the annual meeting of the United States Hay Fever Association, which derives its name from the fact that all its members sneeze in June, July and August and as much longer as they are afflicted with hay fever outside of the regular hay-fever season.

Hay fever is not a pleasant disease, and it makes its victims suffer and destroys their good temper. But it is by far the best organized disease in America. So far as is known the jaundice sufferers have never held a convention, and no one has ever called a convention of those afflicted with ingrowing toe-nails. But for many years the hay fever victims have gathered here each summer to discuss their common troubles. Every member of the association pays annual dues of fifty cents, and this payment entitles him to receive all of the many pamphlets and other forms of literature that are issued each year on the disease and methods for procuring relief.

Rev. Clayton E. Delamater, of West Bridgewater, Mass., occupied the chair at the opening of the convention today. More than a score of States were represented in the attendance. The initial session was given over to a symposium discussion in which veteran sneezers and physicians told their associate sufferers of all the new discoveries in the line of remedies and preventives. Tomorrow the members of less experience will be given an opportunity to tell what they have learned about the ailment.

INTO SPINAL CORD

Went Surgeon's Knife—Cure Expected.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—An announcement came from Beth Israel hospital last night that the surgeon there had performed an uncommon and delicate operation on a man who had for five weeks been completely paralyzed below the waist as the result of a fall from a scaffold. It was discovered that three of his vertebrae had been fractured and that the fragments of bone were pressing upon the nervous fibres of the spinal cord, cutting off all sensation and motor impulses from the man's lower extremities. The doctors exposed the spine and were obliged to remove the greater part of the three fractured bones.

The patient was Jacob Mehlman, 30 years old, a Russian, who lives at 357 South Third street, Brooklyn. Five weeks ago when he was working on a building in Hoboken he fell several stories to the ground. He was badly hurt but did not lose consciousness. When he was lifted up he was unable to stand and had to be carried to his home. The physicians who first examined the man were unable to discover that he had a broken back nor did the X-ray pictures which they took show any such injury.

The neurologist at the Beth Israel Hospital, where Mehlman was taken a few days ago, decided after he examined the man that there was a fracture of the spine. Dr. I. S. Hirsch, the radiologist, confirmed the diagnosis by a number of X-ray pictures. It was then that Dr. Richard Lewisohn, the attending surgeon at the hospital, was asked to operate.

When Dr. Lewisohn had uncovered the three vertebrae which had suffered from the accident he found the plates of bone enclosing the spinal cord on either side and connecting the large mass of the vertebrae with the processes at the back, splintered in such a way that they pressed in upon the cord. It was necessary to remove the greater part of the three bones leaving only the columns in front of the spinal cord for support. During the operation the cord itself was exposed.

The first indication that the operation had been successful was noticed when the man began to recover from the anaesthesia. His legs moved spasmodically and the organs which had been paralyzed resumed their normal functions. The physicians now believe that Mehlman will recover and that he will be able to walk.
