

IMPORTANT GAMES SCHEDULED TODAY

Football Fans to Get Some Real Dope on the Various Elevens.

(National News Association)
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Football fans got a line on the actual strength of the big elevens from the gridiron contests, scheduled throughout the East today. All the important varsity teams had games and the opponents were so distributed as to strength as to get something of a line on what the big five will be able to do to each other. Harvard's schedule today called for a clash with Holy Cross at Cambridge and a much harder game was deemed certain than which the Worcester boys put up against Yale last Saturday.

Yale also had a stiff proposition in prospect in Syracuse judging by the secret practice tactics.

Princeton has worked for the Villanova game.
Pennsylvania said they had a stubborn foe in Ursinus, but were confident of rolling up a good sized score. The arrival of Oberlin, from Oberlin, Ohio, brought a feeling of uncertainty into Ithaca. The Oberlin squad has always been a hard nut for Cornell to crack.

Johns Hopkins traveled to Annapolis to open the navy's session this afternoon while the army's session was opened at West Point with the husky Vermont eleven lined up against the cadets.

IN THE WEST.
CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—At least one varsity team will be eliminated from the Western conference race today when the Indiana team eleven and the Chicago university team meet on Marshall Field, according to the belief of fans here. Both teams have been worked hard to perfect their play during the week and a close contest is expected though the maroons are given a shade because of the weak showing of Indiana against De Pauw a week ago.

Other important Western games are Illinois vs. Milliken; Minnesota vs. South Dakota; Michigan vs. Case; Wisconsin vs. Lawrence and North western vs. Monmouth.

QUARTERLY REPORT FOR LOCAL OFFICE

The records for the quarter ending October first at the local post office show that the business done by the Richmond institution is growing steadily. During the months of July, August and September, the postal authorities here took in $19,378.75, $3,275.39 of which was sent to Indianapolis as a clear surplus. Of the remaining amount, $5,839.60 was paid out as salaries to railway mail clerks who have their headquarters here, and the rest was used to cover the expenses of the local office.

The receipts for the month of September were more than sixteen hundred dollars better than for the same month last year, as $7,171.50 was received at the office. After paying the current expenses of the office, and also the salaries of the railway clerks, $1,249.31 of the entire receipts was surplus.

(Palladium Special.)
CENTERVILLE, Ind., Oct. 7.—The funeral of Lawrence D. Commons, who died from Bright's disease at his home south of this place earlier in the week was held yesterday afternoon at the home. It was attended by residents of all parts of the county, and was one of the largest ever held in this community. About seventy-five automobile parties attended and the funeral cortege was exceptionally long.

The Rev. Williams, pastor of the Friends' church at Centerville, and the Rev. S. R. Lyons, pastor of the Reid Memorial church of Richmond officiated. Burial was in the cemetery north of this place. The pall bearers included Will Barefoot of Cambridge City, and John Dagler, in charge of the Reidston Stock farm, east of here, as representing the horse breeders of the county; George Mashmeyer and F. M. Taylor, of Richmond, representing the Elks' lodge, and Joseph S. Helms, of south of here, and Erastus Culbertson, Centerville, representing the Masonic lodge.

Mr. Commons was a prominent horse breeder, and shortly before his death, his ambition to be owner and trainer of a champion race horse was rewarded when his three-year-old pacer "Grace E" lowered the racing records for three year olds on a half mile track at Clarksburg, West Virginia. He was prominent in the Masonic and Elks lodges.

CAMBRIDGE, City, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Jane Ramsey Gray of Cambridge City, died suddenly at 1:00 a. m. today at her home. ## PRESIDENT'S TRIP IS HALF COMPLETED

Thus Far He Has Addressed 750,000 People in 12 Different States.

(National News Association)

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 7.—President Taft completed half of his 13,000-mile trip here today. The president was in fine spirit. He has been encouraged by the large turn-out of crowds and the assurances of leaders in the various states through which he passed that he will capture their delegates to the 1912 convention and that being accomplished, carry the states in the election.

The President feels on coming near the coast that he has made gains on this trip.

The President has now visited 12 of the 27 states he will have visited by the time his trip is over. He has made tariff speeches in every one of the states and has asked the people to stop harsh criticism and get down to "solid facts." He has attacked the "muckrakers," and those who have assailed the supreme court, for its decision in the Standard Oil and Tobacco cases.

Mr. Taft has addressed, thus far, probably 750,000 people. The President is to speak five days in Washington and then enter Oregon. He touches Lewiston and Moscow, Idaho, today and tonight arrives at Spokane. Tomorrow he will be in Tacoma. The President is fully alive to the insurgent strength in Washington. He will work hard while in Washington, making at least twenty speeches. The President spent two hours here today. He spoke in the public park.

IN A PEEVISH MOOD

North E St. Property Owners Oppose Assessments.

Property owners on North E street are highly incensed over the alleged misinformation given them by the board of public works in regard to the amount which the city would pay on the improvement of the street from Tenth to Sixteenth streets. Manufacturers along the line of the improvement declare that a member of the board of works informed them that the city would pay $7,750, in addition to the cost of the intersections of the streets and alleys, which the law requires the city to pay. The board of works and city clerk contend that the city agreed to pay only $7,750 including the cost of the street and alley intersections.

It is said that meetings were held in the offices of the manufacturing concerns on North E street and that a member of the board, in his zeal to have the street paved with brick, misinformed the property owners. Now that the time for the paying of the assessments is at hand complaints are being registered and the property owners are indignant.

The city clerk's minutes show that the board of works, in public meeting decided to pay $7,750 including the cost of the intersections. Some property owners have declared that the clerk's minutes are wrong, but the clerk and board of works members as well as others say that the minutes are correct.
