

FLOCKMASTERS TO HEAR FAMOUS MEN

At Their Annual Convention, Which Will Be Held at Omaha, Soon.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 22.—When the sheepmen of the west meet in annual convention at the forty-eighth annual meeting of the National Wool Growers association in Omaha on December 14 to 16, they will have an opportunity of hearing authorities on various subjects discuss what is good for the sheep men and for the general public as well.

The program includes prominent speakers, men who are at the top in public life. Every conceivable phase of the wool situation will be discussed pro and con. Chief among the speakers, who have signified their intentions of being present are: Joseph E. Wing, of Washington, D. C., a member of the tariff board. Mr. Wing will speak on "Wool Growing in South America." This address, which will be delivered the afternoon of December 15 will be full of interesting facts, relative to wool producing in the Southern part of the continent.

Discusses Free Meat. Another topic that promises a lot of interesting data is "Free Meat and Its Dangers," which will be handled by Judge S. H. Cowan of Fort Worth, Tex.

Senator Joseph M. Dixon of Montana, will speak on "Wool Growing and the Tariff," while Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho, will deliver an address on Conservation.

Other men, prominent in public life who will talk to the flock masters are Dr. A. W. Melvin, of Washington, D. C., chief of the United States bureau of animal industry; Honorable John D. Holliday, of Helena, Mont.; Hon. F. C. Graves, Washington, D. C.; chief of the forestry department of agriculture; V. O. Johnson, Shoshone, Ida.; F. W. Gooding, Chicago, Ill.; P. G. Johnson, Blackfoot, Idaho; C. B. Stewart, Salt Lake City, Utah; W. O. Stillman, Albany, N. Y.; J. M. Wilson, Douglas, Wyo.; and Hon. W. M. Hays, Washington, D. C., assistant secretary of the department of agriculture.

The presence of these men means that the coming convention will be the greatest in the forty eight years of the association. This coupled with the mammoth sheep show, which will be in conjunction with the convention, insures a record attendance from all over the western states. The sheep show will be the biggest and best, for that is the way Omaha does things.

A band of music of thirty pieces has been secured to enliven things and whenever there is a minutes rest from the convention, the musicians will be there with the harmony, which so appeals to the members of this association.

The sheep show management, of Locomotive Engineer Has Remarkable Experience

I have been thinking that word from me would benefit those who may be suffering as I was before I began taking your Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. I am a locomotive engineer, employed on the Tyrone & Clearfield Branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Three years ago I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble so bad that I was compelled to lay off duty from my engine and was in the care of two doctors. However their medicine did not benefit me. One day, I noticed your advertisement, to send name and address for a sample bottle of Swamp-Root. At this time my trouble had reached a serious stage. I sent for the sample bottle of Swamp-Root which I took according to directions, and by the time I had taken the contents, I could pass water more freely. I was so pleased with my experiment that I sent my wife to the drug store of W. H. Millick, Phillipsburg, Pa., and secured a one-dollar bottle. I continued taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root until I was entirely cured. Now whenever I feel any pain or soreness after being exposed to bad weather or hard work, I take a dose or two of Swamp-Root. I cannot recommend this remedy too highly, especially to brother engineers who are more or less troubled with their kidneys (more than any other class of men).

Yours truly, T. J. VAN SCOYOC, Tyrone, Pa. 1206 Lincoln Ave. State of Pennsylvania County of Blair Personally appeared before me, a Notary Public, T. J. VanScoyoc, who being duly sworn, doth depose and say that the foregoing statement is true. Sworn and subscribed to before me this 15th day of July, A. D., 1908. H. B. Caldwell, Notary Public.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Daily Palladium. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

Half a dozen of the advantages claimed for the new Soyer System of Cooking in Paper Bags, briefly put, are—

- 1. It makes every dish more savory and nutritious. 2. It is economical; the food weighs practically the same when drawn from, as when put in, the oven. 3. It is labor-saving—no cleaning of pots or pans. 4. It is hygienic—no germ-haunted cooking utensils. 5. No smell of cooking—the bag is sealed with a common metal clip, such as is used by business men in offices. 6. It saves fuel and, therefore, money.

"The County Sheriff."

One of the strongest plays that will be presented here this season is "The County Sheriff." The plot is novel, the central idea is clear, and the incidents are worked up with a degree of skill and good taste, that are eminently satisfactory. Its humor is one of its best qualities. Throughout the four acts, one breathes everywhere the fresh, crisp air of the western plains. It will be produced with a capable cast and beautiful scenic equipment at the Gennett tonight.

"Alma, Where Do You Live."

The continental musical success, "Alma, Where Do You Live?" which scored such a great hit in Paris, Berlin and other European cities, will be seen for the first time at the Gennett theater next Monday night. The book is by Paul Herve, the music by Jean Briquet and the English translation by George V. Hobart. The comedy is said to be of the most wholesome variety, and the melodies are of the haunting kind. In fact, the Alma waltz which runs through the play is said to originate the famous strain in "The Merry Widow." Mr. Weber has engaged a splendid cast to play it.

"Madame Sherry."

"Madame Sherry," the sensational musical production of a decade is to return to the Gennett theater next Saturday, November 25th matinee and night, this being one of the cities included in the second trans-continental tour of this greatest of all musical plays. Each year in the theatrical world, there are just so many successful plays—plays that immediately grip the public and cause them to go to the theater night after night, and applaud and enjoy the work of the artists appearing. Out of these successes there is generally one that strikes a note

Simplicity is the Keynote Of Briquet's Latest Score

One of the most charming numbers in Jean Briquet's tuneful "Alma where do you live?" is the delightful little duet "Childhood Days," sung by Alma and Pierre. While the refrain is light, simple and unassuming, it is also warm, joyous and expressive. There is no false, exaggerated coloring, except just what is needed to make the subject youthful. The melody, so direct and complete, is of appealing sentiment, and its great musical charm is found in its simplicity. Written in the easy two-four tempo, this little "Motif" is the embodiment of childhood, and leaves its hearers full of gentle humor

In Terrible Shape

Rheumatism routed with just one bottle of marvelous RHEUMA. The best thing about this letter is that it is true—every word of it. "I have taken only one bottle of RHEUMA and the result is wonderful. I was in terrible shape from Rheumatism, but that is all past."—Bert Higley, 25 Grove St., Union City, Pa. Read it again, you Rheumatics, full of Uric Acid poisons, who are going around saying Rheumatism can't be cured. Then read this one: "I want to get a bottle of RHEUMA for my mother. My mother-in-law used it. Two bottles cured her of Rheumatism completely."—Wm. H. Phillips, Box 45, Hedgesville, W. Va. We could give you a hundred more if we had the space. Leo H. Fife guarantees RHEUMA or money back. Ask Leo H. Fife for ENGLISH MARHUE, the greatest remedy for Indigestion and Stomach agony, 25 cents. Mailed by Rheuma Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The best acrobatic work that has ever been seen in a vaudeville performance in this city is to be seen at the Murray this week and yesterday the local public demonstrated how well it loves good shows by crowding the comfortable play house to its utmost capacity. The Three Walsey Bros. have an act that is certainly to be appreciated. Their work in tumbling is perfect in every effort and the climax of the act when one brother stands on the head of another who stands in the center of the stage and each play a mandolin, could not be a better exhibition of difficult balancing.

Scott and Wallace, comedy singing and dancing have a very clever act. Mr. Scott's work as an eccentric comedian is distracting, and Miss Wallace is dainty, pretty and a graceful dancer. Their act was received with marked favor.

Jones and Walton, with a comedy sketch, depicting some of the mistaken ideas of the country cousin visiting in the city for the first time, is a scream. Mr. Jones is a natural born comedian while his partner, Miss Walton, most successfully impersonates two characters, that of the aunt and the cousin. This is one of the best sketches of the kind seen here for some time.

Emil Cheveriol, the violinist uses to make anything from a regular bow to a wash board and with each succeeds in drawing from the violin some of the sweetest notes ever heard.

The motion pictures telling a western story full of love and pathos are most excellent.

GEOGRAPHICAL NAMES.

Racial Marks Left by Our Early Explorers and Settlers.

While most of the states of the Mississippi valley, besides countless rivers and lakes in all parts of the country, bear Indian names, but a small number only of the towns that are the work of the white man have adopted names borrowed from the original owners of the land. Not one in ten, it has been pointed out, of the 150 large cities has an Indian name, and among those that have it is usually an adoption from some neighboring lake or stream.

The early explorers and settlers have left their racial marks. Up the Hudson and Mohawk the trail of the Dutchman is pretty clear. The French influence in northern New York and Vermont and along the line of the great lakes is familiar in many names. Mississippi has no "swains" in its list, whereas, across the river, Louisiana, by nine parishes and many towns, rivers and lakes, perpetuates the religious tenets of its early settlers. Kentucky and Tennessee evidence the vocabulary of the hunter and trapper; Montana and Idaho that of the miner. All the region acquired from Mexico, particularly southern California, maintains in its place names the memory of its Spanish explorers and settlers. There are relatively few Indian names on the Pacific coast. North of the Spanish belt capes and towns frequently reflect the loyalty of early settlers to the older states of the Union.—Pittsburg Press.

The Stepmother in the Classics.

The ancients were as bitter on the subject of the stepmother as any modern could be. Their metaphorical uses of these words for a stepmother are cruelly significant. Thus the Romans had an expression "to complain to a stepmother" (noverca, meaning to complain in vain, and "novercae," beginning no doubt as slang, came to be a recognized term for rough pieces of land or for ditches which drained off the water imperfectly and slowly. The Greeks were as bad with their word "metrix;" Hesiod spoke of lucky and unlucky days as "mother and stepmother days," and Aeschylus brands a dangerous seacoast as "a stepmother to ships."—London Chronicle.

FIERY DRAGONS.

They Spat Out Fury From Tongues Barbed With Flame. Dragons were important animals in ancient and medieval natural history. Until comparatively recent time no scientist ever thought of questioning the existence of this most formidable of beasts. The annals of Winchester for 1177 gravely state that "in this year dragons were seen of many in England." Gesner, professor of natural history at Zurich, gave a detailed description of the dragon, while Aldrovandus in his "History of Serpents and Dragons," published in 1640, devoted fifty pages to the monster. A good specimen of a dragon would seem to have been a beast about the size of a sheep, incased in a coat of scales which shone like silver. Its back was serrated like a saw. It possessed a long tail, a pair of batlike wings, four heavily clawed feet and a voracious head, the jaws of which were armed with very formidable teeth. The tongue was barbed with fire, and fury issued from the monster's mouth, and the head bore a crest. Dragons were the most wicked and vindictive of creatures. They seem always to have been in a towering rage and spent the greater portion of their time in rushing up and down the earth destroying everything that came in their path.

THE FRUGAL ARABS.

They Live on Two Simple Meals of Bread and Dates a Day.

The daily routine of the Arab is simple and well ordered. He is up with the daybreak and as soon as possible loads his camels; then he rides for some four or five hours before he has his first morning meal; then he is off again until late in the afternoon, when a halt is made for the night. Supper usually consists of warm bread, with an onion or dates as a relish. Bread is prepared in as simple a manner as possible. While the coarse flour and water are being kneaded into dough a large fire is made, which provides a good heap of hot ashes. On top of these the fattened dough is laid, then covered with the remainder of the ashes.

Utterly Wretched

Nervous Prostration Long Endured Before Remedy was Found.

Miss Minerva Reminger, Upper Bern, Pa., writes: "For several years I had nervous prostration, and was utterly wretched. I lived on bread and beef tea because my stomach would not retain anything else. I took many remedies, but obtained no relief until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, when I began to gain at once. Am now cured." Pure, rich blood makes good, strong nerves, and this is why Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and enriches the blood, cures so many nervous diseases. TEMPERANCE DAY

Plans for Services Sunday Discussed. To arrange for the observance of anti-saloon league day, next Sunday, in the churches of Richmond, ministers and others interested in temperance work in Wayne County met this morning at the Y. M. C. A. Rev. R. H. Moore, of Indianapolis, superintendent of temperance work in this district, was the principal speaker of the morning, most of his time being consumed with telling the local people of the general plans for furthering the cause of temperance.

TEMPERANCE DAY

In the discussion, it was announced that a dozen or more Indianapolis ministers who are prominent prohibition workers, will appear in local pulpits next Sunday. The assignment of these men to the various churches will be made the latter part of the week. Owing to the interest taken by the Richmond men in the possibilities of extending prohibition, a scheme was adopted at the meeting today to have a county meeting for temperance workers during the middle of December. It is also expected that Richmond will be well represented at the state meeting, to be held in Tomlinson Hall, Indianapolis, on the fifth of December.

TEMPERANCE DAY

Local ministers, who formed a large part of the audience at the Y. M. C. A. today, believed that there is an opportunity to push prohibition work now. Collections for the work will be taken in many churches next Sunday, and efforts will be made to interest

A kitten is not proper matter to send through the mails, and when the mail collector found one in a package in Des Moines the other day he turned it over to the police. Some one had mailed the kitten without attaching an address. The kitten was taken to the police station as an "unclaimed package."

TEMPERANCE DAY

The next day, desiring to go to the same place again, he called a cabman and pointed to the address that he had written down. The cabman looked him over, cracked his whip and drove away without him.

TEMPERANCE DAY

This experience being repeated with two or three other cabmen, the Russian turned indignantly to the police, with no better results. One officer would laugh, another would tap his head and make a motion imitating the revolution of a wheel, and so on.

TEMPERANCE DAY

Finally the poor foreigner gave it up and with a great deal of difficulty, recalling the landmarks which he had observed the day before, found his way to his friend's house. Arrived there and in company with one who could understand him, he delivered himself of a severe condemnation of the cabmen and the police of London for their impertinence and discourtesy.

TEMPERANCE DAY

His friend asked for a look at the mirth provoking address and the mystery was solved. This was the entry: "Ring the Bell."
