

A MEDICAL REPORT ON SCHOOL PUPILS

Submitted by School Physicians to the New School Board Last Night.

At a special meeting of the reorganized school board Miss Sarah Hill, elected to the board by council last Monday night, sat in the place of S. S. Strattan, resigned. Miss Hill was the first woman in the history of the city to hold such a position. The board held its election, Dr. M. F. Johnston being president, Miss Hill the secretary and Lee B. Nussbaum the treasurer.

The most important matter brought before the board was the report of the school physicians, Dr. J. E. King and Dr. A. L. Bramkamp, on the medical inspection in the schools for the fifteen weeks they have been doing this work. The report was submitted by Superintendent T. A. Mott.

The physicians visited each school building in the city except the high school twice a week or oftener. The teachers of the city were directed to refer to the physician at the time of his visits for special examination of all pupils who had been ill, or who were suspected by the teacher to be in need of medical treatment.

In addition to this special examination of pupils referred to them by the teachers, the physicians are required by law to make a thorough physical examination of each child in school at least once a year. This work of physical examination was carried forward as rapidly as possible.

Each pupil in the Starr, Whitewater, Ruxter, Warner and Sevestopol districts was given the complete physical examination, 1211 pupils in all. The physical examination of pupils in the other districts will be given in the fall.

The school physician is forbidden by law to prescribe, but he must recommend parents to consult physicians or dentists.

The reports of the school physicians to the school board show the following totals for the fifteen weeks:
No. visits to school buildings . . . 513
No. special examinations of pupils referred to physicians . . . 1293
No. pupils given regular physical examination . . . 1211

No. pupils excluded temporarily from school on account of contagious disease . . . 79
No. pupils recommended to parents for treatment . . . 836

The work done by the school physicians has been popular with most parents, and has done much good. Many parents have thanked the physician for his suggestions made in the report concerning their children. If parents follow the recommendations of the school physician and consult their family doctor regarding the physical defects of the pupils no more important work can be done in schools, the board believes.

NEAR PROGRESSIVE PLATFORM ASSURED

Roosevelt and Taft Platform Builders Willing to Give and Take.

(National News Association)

CHICAGO, June 21.—The subcommittee of nine selected to make the draft of the platform for submission to the entire committee, again resumed their trading conference today. The full committee had been called to meet later, but the report came from the committee room that the platform would probably not be ready for submission until late this afternoon. The Roosevelt members of the committee took up their duty in earnest. They found that the Taft Platform makers were willing to give and take. The platform they will finally fix will be far more progressive than the original draft framed by the President's friends.

Governor Hadley was represented in the committee by Hugh McIndoe, state senator from Joplin, Missouri.

Dr. William Draper Lewis, of Pennsylvania, who refused to sit with the committee in previous sessions, was present today. The two factions have practically agreed upon a tariff plank. It will pledge the party to a revision of the tariff in accordance with the findings of a non-partisan tariff commission.

The Taft people assert that the committee will recommend the President's anti-trust plank. It is certain, however, that the Roosevelt men will insist upon so revising the plank as to include a declaration for government regulation of interstate corporations.

Woman's Suffrage.
The subcommittee is not agreed on the woman's suffrage plank, but it is admitted that there will be some kind of a suffrage plank in the platform.

The plank which meets the approval of the Taft members is the one which will recommend the extension of woman suffrage in state elections.

A plank recommending the revision of the federal laws relating to the currency so as to make the monetary system of the country more responsive to moderate demands is offered. The phraseology of this plank has given the committee a great deal of worry. The La Follette members of the committee demand a drastic currency plank. It is announced today that the La Follette plank will be submitted to the convention as a minority report. It will contain a preamble citing that a money trust exists in the United States today, and citing its crimes and acts.
