

SHOE STYLES WILL CHANGE OCTOBER 1ST

All Summer Wear Must Be
Banished Then if You
Want to Be in Style.

Get ready to throw those "Oxfords" or "lowcuts," into the ash heap for on October 1, flimsy footwear will go the way of the straw hat.

In the larger cities in this section of the country shoe dealers' associations have decreed that by October 1, low shoes must go, not to return until late spring. The edict has been sent out that after the first of next month one is to be "shod" as he is hated.

The reasons for this is because of the solicited interest of the retail shoe dealer in the health and comfort of his patrons and the other the usual one that the dictatorial dame on the fashion throne always has to busy herself about one thing or another.

Richmond shoe merchants may not follow in the footsteps of their brother merchants in larger cities, immediately but they will to a large extent, a local merchant said today. Heretofore the local merchants have been accustomed to sell low shoes long after the winter's arrival and after they have been warned of the perils of wearing "lowcuts" in cold weather.

"The sudden fall changes in weather are responsible for many of the winter ills and ailments, the merchant continued. Persons do not consider how much depends upon the shoe man and what might result in case one wore low shoes all winter. We mean to help our patrons, if such a thing is possible and I believe this idea a good one."

The several monuments of Victor Emmanuel, Garibaldi, Gavour, Mazzini and other notable figures in the Italian struggle for independence were beautifully decorated with flowers.

IN MEMORY OF BATTLE

The Massacre of Paoli Is Remembered in a Service.

(National News Association)

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Sept. 20.—On the monument grounds near Malvern the customary exercises were held this afternoon in commemoration of the conflict which historians of the American Revolution have termed the "Massacre of Paoli." Today marked the one hundred and thirty-fifth anniversary of the event. On the night of September 20, 1777, the troops of General Anthony Wayne, while retreating from the battle of Brandywine, were surprised by the British general, afterwards known as "Flintless" Gray. The British general forbade his men to fire a shot, and to make sure of it, took away their flints, whence came his nickname "Flintless." The night was intensely dark and the Hessians fell upon the Americans, without a moment's warning and bayoneted them. Only the genius of Gen. Wayne prevented the destruction of the entire body of troops.

E. G. HILL COMPANY IN INDIANAPOLIS

The Hill-Heller company, florists, have opened a store in Indianapolis. The Italian style of architecture is carried out in the building and furnishings. The front is in pergola style, with white pillars traced in green, and the portico is of red tile. The main room represents an Italian garden, the floor being in Italian tile. A miniature lake and fountain, surrounded by cypresses and vines has been placed in the garden. Green wicker settees and chairs are under the palms, and huge jardiniere of roses and chrysanthemums have been artistically arranged.

The company is a consolidation of the E. G. Hill company, carnation growers of Richmond, and the Heller Rose company, of Greencastle. Raymond V. Kester is manager of the Indianapolis store. Arrangements are being made for a chrysanthemum show at Indianapolis in October.

GOV. H. JOHNSON

FLAYS THE NEWS

Says that Paper Published
Falsehoods About His Indiana Trip.

(National News Association)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 20.—Gov. Hiram Johnson, after cancelling his Gas Belt engagement today passed a quiet forenoon at the Hotel Claypool and obtained some much needed sleep. After an automobile ride about the city with State Chairman Lee, the Governor left for Cincinnati at 3 o'clock with his physical condition and voice greatly improved.

To a reporter Governor Johnson absolutely denied that there had been any friction between himself and the State Progressive committee over the Indiana itinerary.

"I had to cancel the remaining engagements," said the governor, "because human endurance could not go farther without rest."

"The statement in the Indianapolis News was untrue. More than that, the entire report of our tour through the state was garbled by the same newspaper. A representative of the Indianapolis News, by the way, on the train with me, spoke repeatedly during the trip of the great crowds and enthusiasm shown along the line and declared he would write an unbiased account for his paper. The account he did write was filled with what I believe to be malicious falsehoods."

REGIMENT HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION

Election of officers concluded the fortieth annual reunion of the One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Indiana regiment, which was held at the court house this morning. Coates, of Winchester, was re-elected secretary. The next meeting will be held at Lynn.

Following the election of officers and completion of business the members of the One Hundred and Twenty-fourth and the Eighty-fourth regiments were given an automobile ride through the city.

Governor Wilson Speaks Before Large Ohio Crowd.

(Palladium Special)

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 20.—Amid the blare of brass bands, the stirring strains of martial music and the hazards of enthusiastic crowds, the Democratic campaign in Ohio was opened today by Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, the party's choice for president, as the stellar attraction. The gathering, in point of numbers or enthusiasm, was equal to any demonstration of like character held here in many years. During the forenoon every train brought in delegations of visitors from points all over the central Ohio and from Toledo, Cincinnati, Cleveland and other of the larger cities. The big feature of the day was the meeting in Memorial Hall this afternoon. Governor Judson H. Harmon presided. Next to Governor Wilson the chief speaker was Congressman James N. Cox, of Dayton, the Democratic nominee for governor of Ohio.

Liquor Traffic.

Mayfield, city marshal of Lenap and Roy Lockett, assistant United States marshal at South Coffeyville, Oklahoma, were mortally wounded last night. A posse today is seeking the murderers. The officers seized and destroyed four wagon loads of liquor yesterday, which had been illegally transported.

DAY OF ATONEMENT

Will Be Observed This Evening All Over Country.

(National News Association)

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—with the setting of the sun this evening the most solemn, important and strictly observed of all Jewish holidays, Yom Kippur, the day of atonement, is ushered in. It is the tenth day of the month of Tishri and the end of the ten penitential days.

The holiday is strictly observed by orthodox and reform Jews alike. During the twenty-four hours no devout member of the faith eats or drinks or transacts any business of any kind. ## Question

O. E. Dickinson, Richmond.
Sir:—Kindly advise me as to whose initial, the groom's or the bride's, should be engraved on a gift of silver tableware.

Answer

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 10, 1912.
Dear Madam:—Your inquiry regarding the correct engraving for wedding silver has just been received. There is no set rule and authorities differ as to which is correct.

It is argued by some that wedding presents are gifts to the bride and not to the groom, but it is the opinion of the majority that the groom's initial should mark the gift, for why should the silver that she will use in common with her husband all her life bear the initial of a name that is no longer hers? In fact, probably many of her guests would not be familiar with her former name. This latter custom prevails in the fashion centers of America and Europe, and has generally been recognized by us as the correct form, except, of course where the gift partakes of a strictly personal nature, such as Toilet Articles, Jewel Cases, Photo Frames, etc., when the bride's initial is permissible.

Thanking you for this opportunity of serving you, we remain Very respectfully yours,
O. E. DICKINSON.
