

TAMMANY MACHINE WELL OILED TODAY

After Nominating Sulzer for Governor, Rest of Ticket Easily Chosen.

(National News Association)
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 3.—With the Democratic machine oiled to perfection the slate of state officials that went through two years ago with Governor Dix was renominated a second time by the state convention here today. The names were presented in a perfunctory manner, the delegates, and at times the presiding officer, of the convention relieving the monotony of the roll call by reading the newspapers. The convention completed its work without a ripple of excitement and several of the nominations were made by acclamation.

The great majority of the delegates to the Democratic state convention were enthusiastic today over the nomination early this morning of Congressman William Sulzer for Governor, and Martin H. Glynn, of Albany for lieutenant governor, and with these two men heading the ticket and assured of the co-operation of Tammany can see nothing but success in November. And next to the ticket the matter commanding the most attention by the delegates was the attitude of Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, who, according to a great many of those seen, is still in control of the situation and has put one over for Tammany, through shrewd politics and diplomacy.

The nomination which came after a long evening replete with exciting events was not much of a surprise to those who have watched for the past two days the steady drift of sentiment away from Gov. Dix.

On the first ballot last night the vote for Dix was mostly complimentary and he was never in it from the start of the second ballot. It was seen from the first that Murphy had given his delegation a free hand. They cast a few votes for each of the candidates and it was soon seen that Tammany would not stand in the way of Sulzer's nomination or apparently that of anybody else. Mr. Murphy has it known for three days realized that the renomination of Dix was impossible and shrewd politicians that he is Murphy let it be known quietly that he would not object to Mr. Sulzer. He sent word to the governor that it would be impossible to nominate him for another term and that he thought Sulzer would win. Murphy first assured himself that there were enough "up state" sentiment to nominate Sulzer and then sitting back in his chair he let the convention drift along without a stir from Tammany until the result was announced at half past 1 o'clock this morning.

Wiley, former chief chemist of the agricultural department of the United States and known the country over as a pure food expert, who will deliver an address tomorrow evening at the Gennett theater. OVERLOOKED A LAW TO CHANGE SCHOOL

New Rooms to the Fairview School Have "Cross Lights."

(The two new rooms, constructed during the past summer at the Fairview school building, were not constructed according to the state law passed by the 1911 General Assembly, in respect to the lighting of the rooms.

The matter has been called to the attention of Dr. T. Henry Davis, city health officer and he has placed the matter before the school board. The present school board was ignorant of the law, but it has informed the health officer that immediate steps will be taken to change the rooms to conform with the state law.

The act passed by the last legislature specifies that all school rooms constructed after the passing of the act shall have windows upon one side only and that the windows shall not be less than one-sixth of the floor area. The law also states that the windows shall not be constructed less than four feet from the floor and shall extend to one foot from the ceiling.

Through ignorance of the state law, according to the statements of the oldest member of the present school board, windows were constructed upon both sides of the school building and the windows were placed about twenty-eight inches from the floor and did not extend to but one foot from the ceiling. Consequently there are "cross-lights" in the two rooms.

When Dr. Davis called the school board's attention to the defect in the construction the board members informed the health officer that a meeting of the board will be held within a short time and the rooms remodeled to comply with the law.
