

EDUCATION WILL SOLVE THE PROBLEM

Publicity Also a Factor in Solving the Great Riddle of the Railroads.

Education and publicity from every point of view were today declared by James O. Fagan to be the keys to the "riddle of the railroads." Mr. Fagan is the Boston and Maine towerman who started the country recently with his remarkable "Confessions of a Railway Signalman."

"On American railroads," said Mr. Fagan, "the superintendent represents and is responsible for the service. In a general way the service means equipment, the movement, handling and supervision of equipment, and the direction of employees connected with it. In the United States today, legislation, organized labor, the press to quite an extent, and a certain section of public opinion are engaged consciously or unconsciously in a sort of conspiracy to destroy the influence and power of the superintendent, to minimize the personal responsibility of the employee and as a consequence to undermine the confidence of the investing public upon whose financial co-operation the railroads are dependent for betterments and expansion."

"Confronted with these adverse conditions, what is today the prospect for the service in general?"

"Now this is a new view of the matter from the standpoint of the traveling public, who are interested in good service, and safety on railroads. Personally, I know absolutely nothing about vested interests or watered stock. I will say, however, that if the press were half as interested in educating the people of the facts in the industrial situation as it appears to be absorbed in ferreting out financial scandals, we would soon have a different story to tell about accidents on American railroads. But for political and sensational reasons the people have been kept in the dark in regard to these fundamentals. Education and publicity from every point of view are the keys to the 'Riddle of the Railroads'."

MAGNANIMITY.

Magnanimity is never coupled with weakness. The large soul that embraces all mankind in love and sympathy, that is tender, compassionate and generous, is also strong, resolute and firm whenever principle, justice and truth are concerned. There is no cruelty like that of weakness, no power or courage or energy like that of true magnanimity. Be magnanimous.

CROSS OR FEVERISH HALF-SICK CHILDREN

Mean their bowels are waste-clogged; liver sluggish and stomach sour.

Your child isn't naturally cross, irritable and peevish, Mother! Examine the tongue; if coated, it means the little one's stomach is disordered, liver inactive and its thirty feet of bowels clogged with foul, decaying waste.

Every mother realizes after giving delicious "Syrup of Figs" that this is the ideal laxative and physic for children. Nothing else regulates the little one's tender stomach, liver and bowels so effectively, besides its delectable and its delightful fig taste.

For constipated bowels, sluggish liver, biliousness, or sour, disordered stomach, feverishness, diarrhoea, Sore Throat, bad breath or to break a cold, give one-half to a teaspoonful of "Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged up waste, sour bile, undigested food and constipated matter will gently move on and out of the system without griping or nausea, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful. Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

GAVE THE WRONG ANSWER.

And Yet His Stenographer Had Only Followed Instructions.

"Say," inquired a prominent lawyer of several companions the other day, "do you know that the training of stenographers is one of the professional man's most tedious tasks? Why, you no more than get them acquainted with the way to handle your clients than they make trouble for you by giving your wife the wrong answer."

"Upon entering my office a few days ago I heard my new stenographer—the other one left to get married—say: 'No, he has not been to the office yet this morning.' I turned and had been talking to a person I had an appointment with at 9 a. m., and I had neglected to reach the office until 9:15 o'clock."

"Always tell them I have just stepped out," I told her. "Never again let them know I failed to reach the office on time."

"The other night I found my wife peevish when I reached home. 'You have deceived me,' she said. 'You told me you were going to be out of the city last night and that your train home would not reach Kansas City until 10 o'clock this morning. A few minutes after train time I called the office, and when I asked your stenographer if you were there she said, 'Oh, yes; he was here at the usual time this morning, but just stepped out.'"

"And, believe me," added the lawyer in conclusion, "I had one great time convincing my wife that I really had been out of the city."—Kansas City Journal.

The Murray.

One of the best bills for several weeks opened a three days engagement at the Murray yesterday afternoon and the large audience that was on hand both afternoon and night were not backward in showing their appreciation.

Bailey and McCrea presented a singing and dancing act with a new conception of that style of art which is refreshing. The Nagry's offer a fire eating and magic act that is the best of its kind that we have had this season and the audience put the stamp of approval on their work. Harry Linwood & Co. in their comedy sketch "His Only Way" proved to be one of those little skits carefully rehearsed for the purpose of pleasing all classes and are a success. The Star Trio are entertainers aristique. We have had a trio of this nature received the greeting and applause that these three did yesterday. While the boys feature their comedy to a degree it is very plain that all possess a musical education and the entire act is surrounded with an artistic atmosphere that is delightful.

The Juggling LaBells close the bill with a new and novel juggling act, with ideas characteristic of originality and a desire to be ahead of all others, and their act is a fitting closing for a bill that will no doubt draw extra large attendance.

The Gennett.

Miss Christie MacDonald, the brilliant little star of the Viennese opera, "The Spring Maid" has a new humanitarian project which she means to put in force very shortly. It is nothing more or less than a winter refuge for pets of stage people.

For years Miss MacDonald, who is a great lover of animals and an enthusiastic member of the New York Bide-a-Wee Society, has noted with positive grief the neglect and suffering that pets of her professional brothers and sisters are subjected to, during their turns on the road. In almost every case, the poor little creatures are left with disinterested servants or careless hotel or boarding house people.

Accustomed to every care while their owners are with them, these little animals suffer untold misery during their absence. Miss MacDonald has a project under way to establish her

Want Feet That Never Hurt You?

25 Cent Jar of EZO for the Feet Banishes all Misery

George Umoltus, Latrobe, Pa., spent $700 for foot remedies. Hadn't stood on his feet for years; one jar of EZO and he ran and jumped like a boy.

Pretty strong talk; but it's true, and if you suffer from tired, sore, weary, aching, burning feet from Corns, Bunions or Callouses, get a 25 cent jar of EZO for the feet.

It's a refined ointment and if it doesn't banish all misery and make your feet feel strong and fine Leo H. Fife will gladly give you your money back. No fussing—just rub it on. Use it for rough skin and chaps; it's splendid. All druggists.

home for pets somewhere in the theatrical district in New York. For a nominal sum they will be housed comfortably in heated wards, care being taken to separate the various species. They will be under constant surveillance of attendants who really love them. Not a single thing that will increase their comfort and happiness will be overlooked, and, aside from their grief at the enforced separation from their masters and mistresses, the little animals will be just as well off as they are when at home.

"Ready Money."

"The high cost of living got a terrible jolt at the Maxine Elliott Theater last night, when the playhouse opened for the season with a play in which a man went through the last 15 minutes of New Year's Eve, the next day, and then along up to Jan. 2nd with a 25 cent piece in his pocket, lived through 36 hours of strenuous check collecting, cleared up $60,000, payments for stocks in a mine he did not own, and then gave his best girl the 25 cent piece to keep as a mascot."

"And in this apparently trifling outline lies one of the best financial plays that New York has ever seen. Where H. H. Frazee dug up Mr. James Montgomery is no matter; where Mr. Montgomery secured his idea for a financial play is broadcast, but the point is, that between the combination of producer and author fuel for a great production has been found with the result that "Ready Money" will be one of the big successes of the season.

STORM BUGGIES

WITH OUTSIDE SLIDING DOORS
This is our outside sliding door storm buggy which has the freaks and faults of other outside sliding door storm buggies eliminated. It is not an experiment or uncertainty, but the result of our efforts to reach the ideal in the construction of an outside sliding door. The greatest fault heretofore with outside sliding door storm buggies has been the operation (or rather non-operation) of the doors. Most of them are made with the doors to slide on tracks that are on the outside of the top, exposed to the weather. The tracks being made of iron and not protected, become rusty and form a catch-all for mud, sand and water, which freezes and prevents the doors working freely. We have overcome all these objections common to other outside sliding door storm buggies by our method of construction. The upper track is protected from the elements of the weather by the side quarters, which extend over it, and the lower track is on the underneath edge of the frame. Thus the doors always slide perfectly smooth and easy.
