

PROPOSE TO ERECT SIGNS AT STATIONS

Will Set Forth Various Products Manufactured in Richmond.

POSSESSIONS OF CITY

Reasons Why This City Should Be Considered A Home City.

Specifications and model drawings of the proposed signs which will be erected in this city at railway stations by the Commercial club have been submitted to the secretary of the organization.

Mr. Jordan believes the advertising sign plan will be more appropriate than the sign "Progress and Prosperity" or "Richmond, The Pan-Proof City." The model of the proposed sign which probably be accepted consists of a manufacturing view of the city with reasons why Richmond is called the pan-proof city and advertises materials which are either exclusively manufactured here or in which Richmond leads and excels.

What Richmond is famous for will be shown on one side of the center design and under a head "Why You Should Locate in Richmond." Will be seen on the other side. Facts concerning the city which are put forth by the sign are that Richmond has 125 factories, 34 churches, 150 school rooms, 52 fraternal orders, 250 trains daily and a library of 40,000 volumes. Under the same head that Richmond leads the world in the manufacture of fire fighting helmets, pianos, lawnmowers, threshing machinery, balers, traction engines, grain drills and derricking devices. Reasons why persons should realize that Richmond is a valuable home city are also set forth by facts that Richmond has beautifully shaded streets, a tax valuation of more than $15,000,000, delightful public parks, modern high school, well equipped hospital, fine churches, most sanitary factories, largest hardware jobbing concern, safest banking institutions, one of the best colleges in the middle west, and public spirited citizens.

Lost—Gold cuff button, oval shape, flower design; return 241 South 7th; reward.

$3.50 RECIPE FREE, FOR WEAK MEN

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excessive, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn out and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4295 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

(National News Association)
INDIANAPOLIS, March 8.—Speaker Cook today appointed Representatives Storens and Coons to succeed Cravens and Redwell on the joint conference committee on the general appropriations bill. The speaker also appointed Representatives Endsley and Duncan as the house members of the San Francisco exposition commission. The house passed Senator Van Nuys' bill giving prosecuting attorneys two-thirds of the fee for settling out of court cases brought by the state board of accounts that would have been obtained had the cases been settled in court.

Under suspension of the rules the house passed Kattman's senate bill for the appointment by the governor of a commission to codify the state mining laws. Representative Enslie introduced a centennial celebration bill similar to Stotsenburg's measure which was defeated yesterday, but cutting out the appropriation of $25,000 for the old capitol at Corydon. It was the Corydon clause that defeated Stotsenburg's bill.

A RAILROAD BILL.
INDIANAPOLIS, March 8.—The senate today by a vote of 38 to 0 passed Representative Mitchell's bill prohibiting the employment of inexperienced men as engineers, firemen, brakemen, flagmen or baggagemen on railroad trains.

Rep. Franks' bill giving the state auditor power to release mortgages that have been satisfied where county officials cannot act, was unanimously passed.

A TAX LEVY BILL.
INDIANAPOLIS, March 8.—Representative Cravens' new bill recommending an increase of taxes for benevolent and educational institutions passed the house 59 to 21. It recommends a levy of 10 cents per $100 valuation for benevolent institutions and 7 cents for education institutions.

The house today appropriated $85,000 for a governor's mansion, it is understood that the Rink residence on North Meridian street will be selected.

The senate today passed Representative Hughes bill removing the $500,000 limit on the amount of property a civic can hold and killed the provision in the bill of Representative Franklin which admitted city officials of Indianapolis to eligibility for re-election. Other bills passed were: Requiring 70 per cent of resident property owners to prevent street improvements; requiring fire proof weights on asbestos curtains in theaters; requiring city, town and township teachers to attend monthly institutes in order to receive pay; providing a closed fishing season during the spawning month of April.

Lieutenant Governor O'Neill handed down the Gardner-Fleming ten hour working day for women bill and it will probably be passed under suspension of the rules.

COMPLETE TRESTLE; DEBRIS IS CLEARED

First Train Over New Bridge Was Fast No. 1 Passenger.

After four days and nights of work, the 250 men employed by the C. and O. completed the new trestle over Elk-horn creek this morning. The debris, caused by the wreck Tuesday morning when the old trestle collapsed, allowed eighteen heavily loaded freight cars to drop into the creek bottom, has been cleared. The first train to pass over the new trestle was No. 1, the fast passenger from Norfolk to Chicago. The train passed over the bridge about 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The new trestle is 336 feet in length. Since the wreck all C. and O. trains were detoured over the Pennsylvania lines from Cincinnati to Richmond.

Local railroad officials stated today that it is a physical impossibility to estimate the amount of damage done by the accident.

GAMES STOP AT 12 SATURDAY NIGHTS

Card Room Proprietors Are Complying With Order of Police.

The recent order of the police department, directing all owners of card tables operating in this city, to close their card games promptly at twelve o'clock Saturday night, has been complied with by most card room proprietors, and very few of this order are to be found in the city.

The order was the result of many complaints made to the police by wives and mothers. Some of the card tables were in use until two and three o'clock on Sunday morning or even later. The police were appealed to by many of the women whose husbands and sons were sitting around the tables until the wee sma' hours of the morning, and the order given out two weeks ago was the result.

Action on this subject by the Ministerial association was understood to have been contemplated had the police not taken the situation in charge, and give the ruling. No complaints have been registered with the police since this rule went into effect.

Uncle Sam Takes Warpath Against "Black Plague" -- That Is Smoke Evil

BY SYDNEY ESPEY.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—That many-sided and tireless old chap we call Uncle Sam is on the warpath against that modern form of the "black plague," the soft-coal smoke evil. One of Uncle Sam's experts, H. M. Wilson, chief engineer of the experiment station of the United States Bureau of Mines in Pittsburgh, thinks the smoke nuisance costs the country six hundred million dollars a year. Here is part of what he has to say on the subject:

"The damage done annually in the large towns of the United States by smoke would build in every city of one hundred thousand inhabitants in this country a structure equal to the Congressional Library, considered the most beautiful building in the world. There would be left over enough to maintain the army and navy for the current year—and then plenty left, after that, to build the Capitol at Washington."

"This financial damage, after years of careful computation and comparison with the reports of scores of experts, I figure at six hundred million dollars annually."

If we feel inclined to doubt Mr. Wilson's conclusions, there are other sources of information to which we may refer. In a recent edition of that high-class and conservative trade paper known as the "Iron Age" we find the following table:

Annual loss in Cleveland from smoke, $5,000,000.
Annual loss in Cincinnati from smoke, $3,000,000.
Annual loss in Pittsburgh from smoke, $10,000,000.

Estimated annual financial loss in the United States, five hundred million dollars, or seventeen dollars for every man, woman, and child, living in large cities.

Those figures, it is stated, were obtained from the smoke experts and college professors delegated by those cities to estimate the damage, and were only recently published after many months of careful expert work. More than that, it is also stated, the damage goes far beyond the financial losses set forth in the foregoing table. Here are some other items charged to the smoke nuisance:

Untold damage done to clothing, furniture, buildings, and trees, streets and parks.

Additional expense of lighting houses and offices in the daytime, due to the clouds of smoke shutting out the sunlight.

Large increase in the death rate from lung diseases, caused by breathing sulphuric acid and other poisons in the smoke-laden air.

"Free as air" should be changed to "dear as air," says Mr. Goler, health officer of Rochester, N. Y. "Smoke-polluted air," he continued, "attacks all the organs, but chiefly the lungs. The poor man and for a large part of his time the business man, must breathe this poisonous stuff, and when he suffers the doctors prescribe for him what it is impossible for him to get in any large town—pure air."

Uncle Sam's experts declare there is no good excuse for the failure of the country to rid itself of the smoke evil. Bad firing, more than soft coal, it appears, is to blame for the black clouds that pour forth from so many smokestacks. The government expert had demonstrated numerous times in Pittsburgh, it is recorded, that they can fire any chimney with the softest coal and yet not raise a single cloud of black smoke.

Forty-three per cent of Chicago's smoke, it is said, comes from the engines of railroads passing through the city. To prove that there is no great difference between a factory chimney and a locomotive smokestack—so far as the firing principle is concerned—the following is quoted from a report of Mr. Angus Sinclair, president of the Society of Locomotive Engineers:

"A locomotive fireman in a run of two hours used eight thousand pounds of coal, making steam with difficulty and filling the air with smoke. The next day, another fireman, with the same engine and making the same run in the same time, used four thousand, five hundred pounds of coal, making plenty of steam and no smoke. Result of intelligent firing, a saving of forty-two per cent of fuel and no smoke."

Smokeless fires are not only the best in every way, but they are also the cheapest. The day will soon be here.

Uncle Sam thinks, when firemen who are unable to learn how to avoid clouds of smoke from their fires will find themselves without jobs.

The Bureau of Mines has just issued a bulletin containing not only reports from all the principal cities on their work and progress in abating the nuisance, but setting forth as well the conclusions gathered from the work of the bureau in the last few years.

No locality, it appears, can claim credit for special energy in diminishing the plague, Richmond, Va., is vying with San Francisco, and Chicago with Atlanta in fighting the sooty fiend. An adjunct of the Smoke Inspection Department of Chicago is filled with cartoons culled from the pages of the leading newspapers there, all vigorously attacking the smoke plague.

According to the bulletin, a careful observance of the following rules will do much toward reducing the smoke evil:

First—Education of all firemen so they will fire intelligently.

Second—The installation, wherever practicable, of automatic stokers, or appliances such as blowers and steam jets for thoroughly mixing a proportion of air in the furnace.

Third—Laws and ordinances, reasonable, but sufficiently rigid to make offenders against the smoke laws feel that they cannot offend with impunity.

Fourth—The creation of an intense and widespread public sentiment, based on intelligent knowledge of the baneful effects of the smoke plague which morally will compel men to respect public opinion in that regard. The officials of the Bureau of Mines have more faith in the last rule than they have in the other three, believing that where the fourth is strong the preceding three will be observed as a matter of course.
