

REVISED CONTRACT PRESENTED TODAY

Police Telephone System to Be Installed Within a Short Time.

At the meeting of the board of works this morning, a revised contract for the police telephone system was presented by William Bailey, manager of the Richmond Home Telephone company. The system includes standard telephone stations such as are used in larger cities. The system will be on six circuits, all controlled at the desk of the sergeant at police headquarters. The entire cost will be about $400 annually to the department. The contract will be signed at the next meeting of the board. The system will be in working order within sixty days after the signing of the contract, Mr. Bailey said.

Arrangements have been made by Nimrod Johnson, superintendent of the city light plant with Mr. Bailey for placing five concrete poles at the light plant to carry the wires over the building and across the river. The poles will be made by the telephone company and will be furnished to the light plant at cost price. All poles except concrete poles were washed from the river bottom during the flood.

TO HAVE LOVE JURY

A New Experiment Undertaken By a Cleveland Church.

(National News Association)
CLEVELAND, April 21.—Cleveland has a church that has established a love jury. The departure was inaugurated at the fashionable boulevard Presbyterian church where Rev. Dr. R. J. McAlpine is pastor. He proposes to continue it through the summer.

The idea, given its first tryout last night, is to permit young women and young men to send their heart problems to the pastor who will present them to the congregation and designate twelve members to serve as jurors upon the question, the verdict being sent by the minister to the lovers in a laddie. The test last night came in the case of a young woman troubled because in love with a man several years her junior. Her query was "Shall I marry him?"

The pastor selected six men and six women for the jury, all married. They voted in favor of the love match, 10 to 2. Five women and five men voted aye, and one woman and a man voted no. In charging the jury, McAlpine said: "Answer yes or no. Remember you are helping a woman to make a life decision. Pray as you consider the question."

McAlpine has been preaching sermons designed to help solve problems of domestic life and his love jury he expects will further aid this plan.

ART NOTES

GALLERY OPEN.

The guests at the Art Exhibit yesterday enjoyed the exhibit now hanging in the galleries. The Richmond artists are delighted with the favorable comment which has been heard on all sides. The gallery will open every afternoon and Wednesday evening.

BEAUTIFUL PICTURE.

Girardin's "Hues of Winter," and Nordyke's "The Old Homestead," are striking examples of the individuality of these two artists' conception of winter landscape.

MANY LANDSCAPES.

There is probably not another collection of pictures today in any art gallery in America where so many canvases are on display showing "winter" in her varying moods as now displayed in the collection at the high school galleries.

MANY PICTURES.

Never before have the people of Richmond had the opportunity to see so many of Mr. Bundy's canvases in one collection. Every one represents Mr. Bundy at his best and all show his wonderful skill in interpreting nature's changing moods. Here is seen "Last Day of Winter" (Mary T. R. Foulke prize 1911), "Adele to Autumn," and "Path of Light," each showing most forcefully Mr. Bundy's poetic expression of these ideals.

MISS NEWMAN'S ART.

Among the several professional artists of exceptional talent, who are Richmond products, Miss Newman ranks high in the opinion of critics. Her work has been most favorably recognized by having been awarded prizes and honorable mention in collections of high class. Miss Newman's ability is equally evident in both oil and water color and in figure and landscape subjects. Her portrait of Mr. Bundy in oil and landscape "Brookville," the latter now in the collection, are striking examples of her ability and thorough training. A conscientious attention to true art values is manifest in all the productions of Miss Newman's brush.

DON'T GIVE UP.

People are apt to "give up" a great deal too easily. After all, if you fail in one thing you still have life and health for something else. Never sit down under misfortune. Go to work at something at once. Above all, keep up your spirits, determine to succeed and work hard, and you will be up in the world again.

WHAT MEN WILL WEAR THIS SPRING

BARS SICK PERSONS FROM THE SERVICE

New Rule Makes Examination of Dining Car Employes Necessary.

The Pennsylvania railroad has established a rule which shall bar from employment in its dining car and restaurant department any person with even a tendency toward a communicable disease.

There is to be a quarterly physical examination of every employee who has anything whatsoever to do with the preparation or serving of food. Dishwashers, kitchen helpers, cooks and waiters, both white and colored, must undergo a rigid examination every three months, and only a 100 per cent. report on their physical condition will permit their remaining in the service.

While those suffering from tuberculosis, diseases of the eye or skin, and any other communicable disease, may not be employed in any capacity where they might come in contact with food, the further precaution is taken in barring them from employment in places where linens and tableware are.

If a Pennsylvania railroad dining car or restaurant employee becomes disabled through any cause, he shall not be permitted to return to work until he receives a "Certificate of Ability" from one of the company's doctors.

In order to surround the service with every possible precaution, there are provided at "lay-over points" for dining car stewards, waiters and cooks, special lodgings with clean linens, clean beds and every sanitary protection. These lodgings are inspected personally by the superintendent of dining cars and restaurants, by service inspectors and by medical examiners of the company.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The work, play and all other activities of women's clubs of the United States will be discussed by the five hundred women who constitute the Midbiennial council of the General Federation of Women Clubs when that body opens its session at the New National Museum here tonight. The sessions continue tomorrow.

The meeting is the first the Federation ever held in Washington and is attracted to this city by reason of the increased activity of clubwomen here during the last year. Beginning only two days after the adjournment of the Daughters of the American Revolution Congress which for the past week has brought the interests of club women all over the nation to a focus on the city, the Federation hopes to achieve large results.

Mrs. William E. Andrews, president of the District of Columbia branch of the organization, will deliver the address of welcome at the session tonight and Mrs. Percy V. Pennypacker, of Texas, president of the Federation will respond. Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, wife of the vice-president, is also expected to speak. Although she is not scheduled to address any of the meetings, Mrs. Wilson, the president's wife will attend them.

The real business of the council is to supervise the work of the Federation for the coming year. This task will be begun tomorrow morning. Enterprises to be undertaken by the Federation during the next two years will be considered and discussed and decided upon.

After the business of the day has been completed tomorrow, the delegates will go to the White House where they will be received by Mrs. Wilson, and will later go to a reception by the Chamber of Commerce of Washington. The following day Mount Vernon, Washington's home, and Arlington, the home of General Lee, will be visited.
