

GALLINGER STARTS LIVELY ROW TODAY

Tells Lobby Committee That President Wilson Is Also a Lobbyist.

REED THE CHAMPION

Of President and Says Wilson Has Perfect Right to Do As He Is Now.

(National News Association)

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Senator Gallinger transformed the lobby investigation today into a hot political debate when he declared that President Wilson's recent warning to business men not to cut wages unfairly nor attempt to start a panic because of the tariff situation, was about the worst kind of influence imaginable. He added fuel to the fire when he stated that the president's charge of an insidious lobby was a kind of lobby influence that was most unfortunate. Gallinger also stated that a press censorship would be valuable and characterized the public press as a great source of misinformation. He said it would be a good plan to have all news labeled as to its source.

Wilson Able Defended.

Senator Reed, defending the president, asked Mr. Gallinger if the supply of inspired boilerplate articles, sent to the country press was not a species of lobbying. Gallinger replied that it was sharp practice. He has previously upheld the right of the sugar interests to come to Washington and present their case. He did not regard this as lobbying if publicity or other legitimate means were employed.

"Then you believe that the sugar interests may make their arguments, but that the president should not?" inquired Senator Reed.

"I am an old-fashioned believer in the three co-ordinate branches of government," replied Senator Gallinger, "and I am sorry to see the executive encroach upon the legislative powers."

"Then a private graft, a law that taxes all the people for the benefit of an individual, or one class, has a right to speak while the president elected by all the people and without selfish interest should not do so?" interrogated Senator Reed.

The New Hampshire senator's only retort was that any one whose business is jeopardized by the tariff has a right to defend himself.

PALLS WIN AGAIN

After eight eventful innings in which the Palls sent fourteen men round the bases, Thursday afternoon, to seven for the Fakes who had succeeded in making the tour, the Fakes began nagging the umpire Carlos Haas, and left the grounds.

Bob Jordan, Walter Fogelson, and Carl Meyerhofer acted as challengers for the Palls. For the Fakes W. O'Neal heaved them up to the batters.

PUT AWAY PICKLES

Mathematician Figures Out the Food Question.

If anyone requires a clear head it is a teacher of mathematics. He must reason in the abstract as it were, and full concentration of mind is necessary if correct results are to be forthcoming.

An Ohio man writes:

"I am a teacher of mathematics and for 15 years prior to four years ago, I either took a lunch composed of cold sandwiches, pickles, etc., to school or hurried home and quickly ate a hot dinner."

The result was that I went to my afternoon work feeling heavy, dull of brain and generally out of sorts. Finally I learned about Grape-Nuts food and began to use it for my noon-day lunch.

"From the first I experienced a great change for the better. The heavy, unpleasant feeling and sour stomach caused by the former diet disappeared. The drowsy languor and disinclination to work soon gave way to a brightness and vim in my afternoon work, a feeling entirely new to me."

"My brain responds promptly to the requirements put upon it, and what is more important, the results have been lasting and more satisfactory, the longer I have used Grape-Nuts as a food."

"My wife had been suffering from weak stomach accompanied by sick headaches nearly all her life. She is invariably relieved of these when she sticks to Grape-Nuts, either eaten dry or with milk. Her stomach has gradually grown stronger and her headaches less frequent since she began to eat Grape-Nuts." "There's a Reason" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Hard on the Man.

Shortly after Mr. Dubb returned from his vacation he met a young woman he knew one morning and stopped to have a chat.

"Della has been telling me," said the girl, "that you were up in the mountains with her last month."

"Yes, I was," replied Dubb. "I thought she wrote about it at the time."

"Why, no," said the young woman amicably, "All she wrote me was that she was having an awfully stupid time."—Lippincott's.

A SUMMER COURSE IS TO BE OFFERED

Opportunity to Complete Work in Typewriting and Stenography.

A special summer course in typewriting and stenography will be given at high school during the summer. The course will begin June 30 and continue for eight weeks in which time the pupils will be given as large amount of work as it will be possible for them to do in that time. The hours are from 8 o'clock to 11 o'clock in the mornings. A small tuition will be charged. E. R. Heitman, head of the business department of the school will probably have charge of the classes.

The school board decided to allow the course to be given in order to accommodate a few who wish to finish the business course of the high school instead of returning to high school next semester. Others wish to review the work which they have had. It is not expected that there will be more than fifteen to take the course. Pupils who pass the examination in the work at the end of the eight weeks will be given credit for one term's work.

LOVED A POOR DAY TO VISIT RICHMOND

"Jim" Jordan, well known in this city, took "French leave" from the County infirmary this morning and is now lodged in the city jail. He will be charged with public intoxication in police court tomorrow morning. Jordan was recently committed to the County institution and when last seen here early this morning was weeding an onion garden. It was warm work and he decided to take a trip to Richmond. He believes Friday the thirteenth is a poor day to visit Richmond. He will probably be returned to the institution. His health will not permit confinement in the jail.
