

CITY PROPOSES TO BUILD A BOULEVARD

Construction Would be Made Under Three-mile-road Law.

NO ESTIMATE OF COST

One Driveway Would Be Along River and Other Through Park.

Two boulevards, each several miles in length, to be constructed by the township under the three-mile-road law, is the plan of Attorney Wilfred Jessup, who presented the outline to the board of works this morning. A majority of the persons affected along the lines of the proposed boulevards have already petitioned for them and have asked that either brick or cement roadways be used in preference to macadam.

One of the proposed boulevards, that on the west bank of Whitewater river, has been discussed by the board for more than a year, but the city has not the funds to construct it.

It is proposed to construct the other boulevard through Glen Miller park.

No estimate has been made of the cost of the improvement, but the money for it will be secured by issuing twenty-year bonds paying 4 or 4½ per cent interest.

The boulevards will not be constructed of macadam as was originally planned by the board of works for the Whitewater boulevard, but will be permanent roadways, either of cement or brick.

It is proposed to start the Whitewater boulevard at the Liberty road. One of the features of the plan is that the boulevard would run over the proposed south end bridge.

From this point, the boulevard will gradually ascend the river bank until it runs along the top of the bluff overlooking the river. At Southwest First street and the National road, the boulevard would leave the bluff and run under the Main street bridge where the National road was formerly located. On the north side of the bridge it will again take to the bluffs running along the parking space to the Doran bridge. The route of the boulevard will then be on city streets to Tenth street. On the north side of the river a new road will be constructed below the hospital, running to the new Paris pike, through the new Hawkins Lake and Park addition and from there to Glen Miller park.

The other boulevard will start at South Sixteenth and E streets, running east on E street to the Henley road, north on Henley road to the National road where it will join the Holloman road into Glen Miller park. Instead of following the Holloman road, the boulevard will run straight from the National road to the Lincoln tablet in the rear of the park.

PRESIDENT WILSON READS A MESSAGE

It Only Took the Executive Ten Minutes to Do So—Was Applauded.

(National News Association) WASHINGTON, June 23.—President Wilson reached the capitol at 12:55 o'clock, accompanied by his secretary, Joseph Tumulty, and two secret service men. He went at once to Speaker Clark's private office, where he was received by a joint committee of representatives and senators. After remaining in the speaker's office for less than one minute, the president was escorted direct to the house-chamber for the reading of his currency reform measure.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, who helped to frame the currency bill, and Secretaries Houston, Lane, Wilson and Garrison occupied seats on the floor. Misses Wilson, accompanied by Misses Jessie and Eleanor Wilson, occupied seats in the executive gallery.

The president concluded the reading of his message at 1:07 o'clock, having used but ten and one-half minutes in its delivery.

When the president finished, he bowed his head, shook hands with Speaker Clark and Vice President Marshall and departed amid generous applause from both galleries and the senators and congressmen.

DEFINITE ACTION HAS BEEN DELAYED

No definite action was taken by the "New Homes" committee of the Commercial Club at the office of John L. Rupe Saturday evening. Several plans for building rental houses in the city were discussed and taken under advisement. The plan considered most favorably was the taking over by a company of houses erected on the installment by contractors, the paper to bear six per cent.

As soon as he has conferred with a number of financiers, Chairman Rupe will call the committee together for definite action.

His Preference.

"Don't you think we ought to have laws providing that no man shall leave his family over $100,000?"

"No. I'd rather have it that no man shall leave his family less than that."—Washington Star.

A FAMOUS NOVELIST BECOMES A DIPLOMAT

SOCIALISTS WILL ELECT COMMITTEE

Resignations of Present Committeemen Asked Because of Technicality.

Varied opinions regarding the application of the corrupt practices act to political organizations whose treasurers are not under bond eventually led to the passage of a resolution at the socialist city committee meeting calling for the resignations of all its members.

James Kerr, treasurer of the committee had not secured bond, as required by law, but at the meeting he stated that inasmuch as the city ticket had not yet been completed, two councilmen-at-large and a councilman from the sixth ward still to be selected, he did not think it was necessary to file bond at this time.

The fact that Kerr was not under bond converted many to the belief that this might invalidate the legality of all the committee members so their resignations were requested. These resignations will be filled Friday and the first of next month a regular election of committee officers will be held.

Sunday Wayne county Socialists held their annual picnic at Jackson park and over four hundred men and women attended. In the afternoon John Grill and Joseph Sharts, prominent Dayton Socialists, spoke. A dinner was served at noon and in the afternoon there was dancing.
