

MRS. HENRY DAYTON MARRIES DR. MAUPIN

Widow of Murdered Man Again Makes Matrimonial Venture.

It was revealed last night at police headquarters that the former wife of Henry Dayton, whose bones were found in the cellar of the Dayton home last November, has been married to Dr. G. C. Maupin for more than three weeks. Dr. Maupin and Mrs. Dayton were married in Newport, Ky., June 12. According to Mrs. Dayton, the couple and the three Dayton children will probably stay in this city for only a short time.

The marriage of Mrs. Dayton was not known to the police or even the close neighbors of the woman until Dr. Maupin was arrested for intoxication. He told the police to send a taxi-cab to Mrs. Maupin, 1106 North I street and bring her to headquarters. She was notified and came to the city building at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, bringing with her $25 necessary for Maupin's release bond.

Married For a Joke."

"We were married for a joke on the neighbors," said Mrs. Maupin today. "I have known Mr. Maupin for the past six months and he has been coming to see me. People started to talk so we just went to Newport and were married. They can't talk any more because we have the papers to show we're married."

"I've stayed in this house long enough now," said Mrs. Maupin, "and I don't see why people should be suspicious if I move now. Dr. Maupin and the children and I will probably move to Kentucky soon."

Rent Here Too High.

Dr. Maupin stated that he would either purchase a small house in this city or move to Kentucky. "The owner of this house won't improve the place for my wife although she has lived here four years," he said. "The rent is too high so I think we will leave the city."

Dr. Maupin has not been living with Mrs. Dayton but has been staying at his boarding house at 201 North Eighth street where he manufactures patent medicine. He was ordered to leave the place following his arrest yesterday for public intoxication.

Mrs. Dayton appeared at police court this morning and sat beside her husband in court. When he was fined $1 and costs she paid the $11 necessary for his release. Dr. Maupin took up his residence with her this morning.

Third Matrimonial Venture.

The last marriage is Mrs. Dayton's third matrimonial venture. She was married when very young to a man by the name of Bowles. To this union was born two children. Shortly after obtaining a divorce from him, she married Henry Dayton, whom she met through a matrimonial bureau. To Mr. and Mrs. Dayton three children were born. Dayton's bones were found by Chief of Police Gorman and others, December 19, 1912, following the written confession and the disappearance of the murderer, Joe Snyder. Dayton was murdered in 1910.

It is believed by authorities that Snyder will come back to Mrs. Dayton, should she leave this city. The police having been keeping a close watch on her since she was incriminated in the killing of Dayton in Coroner Pierce's verdict of the death.

Keep Eye On Her.

"If Mrs. Dayton leaves for Kentucky," said the chief of police today, "we shall keep track of her. Snyder is much more apt to come to see her in Kentucky than he would be in Richmond. We have no reason for wanting to prevent her from moving away from here."

Dr. Maupin was arrested yesterday morning following complaints to George Staubach, traffic policeman at Eighth and Main. Maupin sat on the front porch of his boarding house at Eighth and B streets, flourishing an old fashioned revolver. He had a box of cartridges and stated that he was going to celebrate the Fourth of July.

DOEFER IS BEFORE U. S. COMMISSIONER

Post Office Inspector Takes Case Up This Afternoon.

The trial of William Doefer, aged 17, charged by the federal authorities with breaking into a building used for postoffice purposes, was started this afternoon before Deputy United States Commissioner Perry Freeman. Doefer robbed the Quigley drug store on North E street last week, stealing $14 worth of stamps.

Postoffice Inspector Charles Swain, who is a resident of this city, is in charge of the case. Until this morning it was not decided who should prosecute the case, the state or the government postofficials, but on account of the youth's past criminal record, the case was taken up by Swain.

The statutes provide a fine of not more than $1,000 and imprisonment at hard work of not more than five years.

Doefer came to this city about ten days ago from Chicago. He was given food when he arrived here by James Quigley. Doefer was given work, and last Wednesday night he robbed the Quigley store. He was arrested the following day by Chief of Police Gorman to whom he admitted the burglary. He escaped from jail, but was recaptured.

REV. LEONARD DISCUSSES THE DOCTORS' RESPONSIBILITIES

Members of the Wayne County Medical Society held their annual picnic today in Glen Miller park. The address was delivered by the Rev. Mr. Leonard, pastor of the Central Christian church, who took as his subject, "The Responsibility of a Physician," pointing out the care which must be given a patient, and furnishing the doctors with an idea of the layman's view of the medical profession. The physicians were keenly interested in his talk.

WOMAN FINED FOR CUTTING ANOTHER

Mrs. Maggie Ralston, Defendant, Said Another Committed Offense.

An attempt to prove that cut on the arm of Anna Ladd, colored, was self inflicted, was made in police court this morning by Mrs. Maggie Ralston, colored, who was charged with the cutting. After hearing testimony of witnesses Mrs. Ralston was fined $1 and costs.

The cutting scrape occurred Saturday night at Eighth street and the Pennsylvania railroad, following a quarrel between Mrs. Ralston's sister, Emma Burden and Anna Ladd, over which one of the women was to accompany a colored man who was also there. The Ladd woman carried a knife in her sleeve and she slashed at Mrs. Ralston when the latter interfered with the quarrel. Mrs. Ralston asserted that the cut was inflicted when Miss Ladd's arm was struck by a fourth person who tried to prevent the cutting.

Charles Pauls was fined $1 and costs for public intoxication in police court this morning.

MAKES OBJECTIONS TO FETZER'S PLAN

C. W. Jordan, secretary of the Morton Park and Lake company, today entered an objection to the proposal of Charles Fetzer, privilege holder at Glen Miller park, to secure a ten-year contract with the city for the privilege of placing amusement devices in the park.

"Richmond is to have a white city at Morton park," Mr. Jordan stated, "and it would be unnecessary to provide amusement features at the Glen. Also, the Glen is not intended for such purposes. It is a public park, where people go for rest and recreation."

The Morton Park company has received a number of inquiries from amusement promoters who are anxious to secure privileges at the "white city" section of the park, which will be located at the extreme northeast end of the lake. A number of legitimate attractions will be permitted to be established there, such as a scenic railway, a figure eight, Ferris wheel, shoot-the-chutes-into-the-lake, moving picture houses, etc. The Park company will receive a per cent of the receipts of these amusement concessions.

Two Public Parks.
It has been determined to locate a small public park about Hawkins' springs, which are just south of the lake. A little to the west on the south shore, near the Chautauqua site, will be another public park and a bathing beach. On the south shore, near the dam, will be the steamboat landing. The boat is now under construction, and will accommodate two hundred passengers. It will make regular trips between the dock and the white city.

A public boathouse on the south shore is also planned, where people who do not own cottages can keep rowboats, motorboats and canoes at small expense. A small fee will be charged to such class of boat owners for the use of the lake.

The small boys of Richmond are looking forward with keenest interest to the completion of the lake, and scores of them are now busily engaged in constructing canoes. The dam is going up rapidly, and it will not be long until it is finished and the lake basin will begin to fill.

BODY OF A WOMAN FOUND, THROAT CUT

(National News Association)

CHICAGO, July 2.—The body of a well dressed and apparently refined woman about 40, was found today on the freight loading platform of a large West Side furniture house. Her throat had been cut and her head badly bruised. She wore several pieces of valuable jewelry that were not stolen by the slayer. The police admitted that they confronted one of the most mysterious crimes in recent years, and that they would be unable to proceed far with their investigation until the woman had been identified.

WILL WATER MAIN LOWER FIRE RATE?

Local fire insurance men have been unable to determine what effect the new water main which is being laid will have on rates in this city.

The present rates were listed by the bureau in 1907, taking effect in May, 1908. Richmond was then placed in Class 3. In order to change the classification from three to two the bureau said that certain improvements in building, in fighting and preventing fire would have to be made. Among these were the laying of another main, underground wiring and an aerial ladder.

The pages containing the latest reports and the tariff corrections of the bureau on them have just been received. The report says that the hydrants of the water works are sufficient and well placed, and as a whole the mains of the city are fair and well laid together.

The fire stations, according to the report, are well located and within easy access of all parts of the city, with the exception of West Richmond. The alarm boxes are also numerous and well located.

The report says: "Water supplies are apparently adequate and are furnished by the infiltration system through galleries in yard and the Cooper well which lies three miles south of pumping station."

The men employed by the fire department are sufficient for all ordinary demands, but would not be sufficient to handle the apparatus in time of a great conflagration, says the report.

The point that one block on Main street can command twelve streams without laying over three hundred feet of hose, is commented on as exceptionally good.
