

GAAR PLANT PLANS DEPEND UPON CROPS

According to the latest information received by James A. Carr, of the manufacturer's committee of the Commercial club, which was planning to entertain C. S. Funk, president and general manager of the Rumely company upon his trip of inspection to this city next Tuesday, it is probable Mr. Funk will be in Richmond only an hour or two, so plans for a reception in his honor will not be carried out.

Mr. Carr wrote asking Mr. Funk to arrange to give the committee as much time as possible, and received an answer saying that he would be glad to do so, but that owing to business engagements his time here would have to be short. This is the president's first visit to the local plant since his connection with the company.

Anxious to Impress Him.

Thinking that the future of the plant may depend largely on this inspection, the committee is anxious to give Mr. Funk a good impression of the manufacturing facilities of the city. At present the only entertainment being planned is an automobile ride about the city.

At present neither Mr. Funk nor the other company officers know what the future of the local plant will be, was the statement made by Mr. Funk to a local manufacturer, who met him in Indianapolis the other day. Mr. Funk intimated that the plans for the Gaar-Scott branch would depend largely upon the crops this year.

MILKING BY HAND OPPOSED BY DAVIS

Cows milked by hand would be a thing of the past, said City Health Officer T. Henry Davis today, if he could make rules governing dairies. Dr. Davis returned recently from a visit to the Polk dairy at Indianapolis, where the milk is procured entirely by milking machines. Dr. Davis calls the Polk farm a "heaven for conscientious dairymen."

A model dairy farm is pictured in the mind of Dr. Davis as being one where the hands touch nothing in connection with the milk. He says that there are not more than two dairies furnishing milk in Richmond which comes near to conforming with his ideas.

The dairy, as the health officer would have it, would resemble a small machine shop, scrupulously clean, the machines operated with electricity to make them almost noiseless. Even the cans and bottles for the milk would be brought into the place on carriages and would be removed to the refrigerating plant by the same means on a revolving belt.

A few bottling machines. There are several bottle-filling machines in use in the dairies near this city. These are the only kind of machines, however, that are to be seen in dairies furnishing the local milk supply. Prior to five years ago such machines were not known in this vicinity, and were scoffed at later by many of the dairymen. They are now thought to be eminently practical and are labor savers.

The idea of milking cows with machines, the health officer believes, would be made fun of by most of the local dairymen, although he thinks that in time their use will be general. The only objection met with is a small one. The cows must be trained to get used to the machines, and for a short time after the installation of such machines, the production here would be materially decreased.

Dr. Davis says that dairying is gradually becoming a practical science, and although it is not generally known, the dairymen must study their business more closely than many manufacturers and merchants.

WANTS HER CHILD RETURNED TO HER

Hazel Hawekotte filed a habeas corpus suit this afternoon to procure her daughter Hazel Morrow who was recently adopted by Earl and Hazel Peek. Mrs. Hawekotte agreed to the adoption of her child by Mr. and Mrs. Peek and recently asked that the child be allowed to visit her. She then refused to give the child back to its adopted parents, it is alleged. Judge Fox refused to permit the adoption proceedings to be dissolved this morning.

WHY RESINOL SOAP KEEPS COMPLEXIONS CLEAR AND HEALTHY

When you wash your face do you realize that it is not enough to remove the dirt—that your skin needs a soothing, healing influence to keep your complexion fresh and free from blemish?

Ordinary toilet soaps do not assert this influence. Many of them contain free alkali which tends to dry the skin and destroy its delicate texture. Even the best of such soaps can only clean, they cannot heal and protect the skin. Resinol Soap, besides being an absolutely pure toilet soap, contains the same soothing, healing, antiseptic balsams as Resinol Ointment, the value of which in the treatment of skin affections is known throughout the medical profession. That is why Resinol Soap does for the skin what cosmetics are supposed to do—it insures not only a clean skin, but a healthy skin, and a fair, clear complexion. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are sold by all druggists. Trial free; Dept. 4-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

CRIMINAL CHARGES ARE PROBABLE NOW

(National News Association) WASHINGTON, July 9.—Acting Comptroller of the Currency Kane today announced that there will be no delay in ascertaining whether criminal proceedings shall be instituted against officials of the First-Second National bank of Pittsburgh, closed by his order on Monday. The department of justice expert will begin an examination of the bank's books within a few days. The lines of inquiry will be to learn whether the bank published a false statement of its conditions in Pittsburgh newspapers, and to find whether the bank has been making dummy loans.

TO NAME RECEIVER.

PITTSBURGH, July 9.—Federal Judge Orr this afternoon announced that he would appoint receivers for six subsidiary companies of the American Water Works and Guaranty company.

HAD SALESMAN HERE.

Local bank officials stated that several times during the past few months a salesman for the American Water Works and Guaranty company had visited Richmond trying to dispose of bonds in that company. However, the local banks do not know of any one who purchased such bonds.

NOT IN FAVOR OF DEPUTY TREASURER

"I am in favor of anything that is for the good of the people, but I do not see how a deputy-treasurer to collect taxes in the surrounding towns will be any better than the present methods," said County Treasurer Channess this afternoon. The people living near Cambridge City, Hagerstown and Centerville have been asking for a deputy treasurer in each of these places to receive the taxes.

The first objection to such a plan, according to Treasurer Channess is that each deputy would have to be supplied with a different set of duplicates, and that a man to do this work would be obliged to have some knowledge of the system and workings of the county office. Also the treasurer's salary is not sufficient to employ a great number of deputies. Some arrangement to pay them would have to be made by the county, Channess says.

This year arrangements were made with eleven banks in the smaller towns of the county to receive taxes. Each bank was supplied with certificates which they filled out with the amount of taxes paid. When amounts collected by the banks were called for by the treasurer, they were brought in, and receipts issued to the banks for the sum collected. The records were then made in the county office.

This plan provides a responsible institution for the collection of the taxes where the treasurer could not trust the work to an individual with perfect safety without bond. Mr. Channess believes that people would rather do business through their banks than a deputy.

INSTITUTE HERE TO BE INTERESTING ONE

The program arranged for the teachers' institute at the 1913 Chautauqua is one of the best ever offered here. The speakers are well known to all Wayne county pedagogues. One of the most interesting features will be the addresses of Hon. S. D. Fess. Mr. Fess spoke here several years ago and since that time he has become prominent in national legislative work. He will deliver four addresses. The cost of procuring his services for the last two days of the Chautauqua will be $125.

The following program has been drafted for the institute:

Monday, August 25.
10:00 a. m.—Prof. Elbert Russell.
11:00 a. m.—Deputy State Superintendent John I. Hoffman, "New Legislation."

EXPERIMENT WITH PULVERIZED FUEL

C. D. Young, engineer of tests on the Pennsylvania railroad, has announced that the Pennsy is soon to begin experiments with powdered fuel.

The powdered, or pulverized fuel is to be tested in a locomotive type boiler, but not on a locomotive. A thorough investigation of kinds and sizes of burners and all the minor details of the new fuel will be made. It is believed by heat experts that the powder will be much superior to present methods.

A better and more prompt intermixing of air and gas will result, and the efficiency of the engine and the speed of the heat will be greatly increased.

Mr. Young is well known in Richmond.

FREIGHT IS HEAVY ON PENNSYLVANIA

Business in Richmond is unusually good with the manufacturers if the amount of business may be measured by the amount of freight shipped from Richmond, according to Freight Supt. Siffer of the Pennsylvania freight department of the local division. The business is unusually large for July up to the present and traffic was heavy through June, he reported. It is estimated that the freight shipped from Richmond daily is fifteen per cent more than last year at this time.

Only a few of the factories are taking invoice at this time and many of them are working full force. Laborers are scarce and manufacturers are having difficulty filling positions with reliable factory hands.

TWO NEW BRIDGES.

The construction of two bridges along the Pennsylvania railroad line at Summerville, thirty miles south-east of Richmond will be done by W. M. Brode & Co., of Newcomerstown, Iowa. The firm secured the contract from the railroad company and will begin work in about a week. The job of constructing the bridges is an immense one and will not be finished until three months have passed.

The bridges were washed out by the flood of last spring.

TWO PAY CARS HERE.

Two pay cars on the Pennsylvania lines passed through Richmond today. The first was on the Cincinnati division and arrived Tuesday night, leaving here at 6:30 a. m. today and distributing the pay envelopes to men on that division. The second was on the Indianapolis division and arrived here at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

WORK IS SLACK NOW.

Because at this season the work on the Pennsylvania lines is slack, new employees for the company are not being hired. Several men in the various departments are furloughed and are spending annual vacations.

NEW STATION JANITOR.

Benjamin Jones, colored, Greenwood avenue, is new janitor at the Pennsylvania station, taking the place of Harry Smith, who has been given duties in the basement.

MUNGAVIN RETURNS.

Dispatcher Mungavin returned to his duties at the Pennsylvania station after spending his regular vacation.

VALUATION ENGINEER.

Official announcement has been made of the appointment of William D. Wiggins, superintendent of the Peoria division of the Vandavia, with headquarters at Decatur, Ill., as valuation engineer of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh. Mr. Wiggins is a brother of Mrs. Demas Coe of this city.

RAILROAD PERSONALS.

C. L. Nesbit, traveling passenger agent for the Pennsylvania railroad, with headquarters in Indianapolis, was a visitor in Richmond Tuesday. James Powers, traveling passenger agent of the Rock Island railroad, whose headquarters are in Indianapolis, was also a business visitor in the city Tuesday.

Roy Bryson, representative of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in Richmond, went to Hamilton, Ohio today in the interests of the Brotherhood.

J. K. Deem of the Pennsylvania railroad has gone to the lakes on his vacation.

Because of a reduction in crews, Oscar Miller has been returned to duties of brakeman.

Walter Ashinger, engineer, was a visitor in New Hope, Ohio Tuesday.

George Fleming will return soon from his vacation. He is employed by the Pennsylvania railroad.

RICHMOND PEOPLE GOOD DRESSERS

Very few cities in the United States can show as many well dressed people as Richmond, a large percent of them have their clothes made to order. Men can get fine suits made from $15 to $25, when the same goods a few years ago cost almost twice as much. For years Emmons Tailoring Co., have been making fine suits from $15.00 up and the business has increased every year. They are now showing the largest stock they have ever shown. Over 600 styles in Spring Suits and are "Leaders in correct tailoring for good dressers." Corner Ninth and Main streets.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The house overwhelmingly adopted a resolution ordering an investigation of the Mulhall charges and existence of any lobby for influencing legislation.

WAGNER RECEIVES INSPECTION ORDER

C. O. Wagner, meat inspector at Stolle's packing house, has received a copy of the new set of rules and regulations governing the prevention, spread and control of infectious diseases among swine. The rules, which were published by A. F. Nelson, state veterinarian, are designed to check the spread of diseases, especially cholera, among swine, and are very drastic. It is probable that many careless persons will be prosecuted for violating them, according to Inspector Wagner.

The law provides that upon receipt of information at the state veterinarian's office that any person has swine affected with a transmissible disease, the case will be investigated, and if it be found that the report is true, a quarantine will be issued in writing, which shall read as follows: "You are hereby notified that the swine owned or kept upon your premises are affected with..... a transmissible disease, and that said animals must not be removed from your premises, nor allowed access to a running stream, nor run at large in fields or pastures adjoining other farms owned by other persons, firms or corporations, or moved or hauled over a public highway, nor other swine allowed to enter upon said premises except upon permission, in writing, by the state veterinarian or an authorized deputy, as provided in an act of the state legislature, and approved by the governor on March 7, 1913."

As to the handling of diseased swine, the law provides that all affected animals shall be moved only for immediate slaughter, after which the carcasses shall be burned. All railroad companies must thoroughly cleanse and disinfect all cars in which swine have been transported, and all stockyards, fair and stock show associations shall disinfect the pens and crates. No swine shall be transported into this state unless accompanied by a health certificate stating that they have not been exposed to disease.

Persons are prohibited from offering for sale any swine which have been vaccinated with the virus of an infectious disease. No swine shall be moved from a public stockyard unless a permit has been previously granted by the state veterinarian, except for immediate slaughter. All persons wishing to ship swine into this state must secure a permit from the state veterinarian, if the swine are shipped for breeding purposes. These swine must be carefully transported by wagon, must be vaccinated by the Dorset-Miles method, and must be quarantined for a period of thirty days after arrival.

All carcasses of swine that have died must be cremated immediately or buried and covered with quicklime. No permits will be issued for handling, manufacturing or dispensing serum, vaccine or other remedy unless a sample has been submitted and approved by the Purdue agricultural experimental station.

These laws are to be strictly enforced and will do much toward checking the terrible ravages of cholera and similar diseases among swine.

PLAN TO ENTERTAIN SOCIETY OFFICERS

The Wayne County Horticultural society will convene Saturday to discuss plans for the reception of officials of the State Horticultural society which will be held in Centerville next month. The county society will be the hosts of the state organization. The session will be held in Centerville as a courtesy to Edward Y. Teas of that town who is an executive member of the state board. The reception otherwise would have been held in Richmond. Mr. Teas is one of the oldest members of the state organization.

The State Swine Breeders will also hold a meeting in Wayne county either next month or in September. Though there are no fancy hog breeders in Wayne county, swine are bred here by nearly every farmer in the county.

HORSE IS STOLEN DURING DAYTIME

A horse was stolen yesterday morning from the farm of Charles O'Brady, who lives five miles south of this city on the Straight Line pike. O'Brady reported the matter to the police who have a description of the missing animal and are now looking for it.

The theft is a mysterious one. O'Brady having seen the animal grazing in a pasture at 9 o'clock from another field where the owner was working. Shortly afterwards, the horse could not be seen and investigation was made. It was found that bars of the fence had been let down and the horse had been taken from the field to the road. No one who saw any suspicious looking characters in the neighborhood have been found but the case will be closely investigated by O'Brady.

The horse is described as being a chestnut-colored, left hind foot white, barb wire cut on right hind foot, about 15 hands high, weight 1,000 pounds.

2 MEN ATTEMPT TO ENTER MEAT MARKET

An attempt was made by two men last night or early this morning to enter the rear of Zeller's meat market on Main street between Tenth and Eleventh streets, but the men were seen by Patrolman Menke who frightened them away. A dog, evidently the property of the men, bit the patrolman on the right hand, lacerating two fingers.

Menke heard noises while passing the place. He went to the rear where there is a court. As he approached the place two men suddenly sprang from the shadows and ran down an alley towards a street.

A dog followed them and stopped when it reached Menke. The patrolman stated that "the dog was a pleasant looking one," and he patted it on the head. The animal jumped at him, seizing his hand and inflicting deep gashes. The animal then followed the men.

Menke's wounds were examined today by a physician who stated that there is no danger of hydrophobia. Precautions against it were taken, however.

CHOLERA EPIDEMIC RAVAGING ARMIES

(National News Association) SOFIA, Bulgaria, July 9.—An epidemic of cholera resulting from the great number of unburied bodies lying upon the battlefields in Northern Macedonia, has broken out in the Bulgarian and Serbian armies. Camperdown in the field today opened negotiations for an armistice in order that the dead may be buried.

BULGARIA ASKS PEACE.

VIENNA, July 9.—Bulgaria has addressed a circular note to the European powers offering to enter into peace negotiations with the Serbians. A copy of the note was received here today.

FIVE PRIESTS KILLED.

ATHENS, Greece, July 9.—Five priests of the Greek Catholic church and the Metropolitan of Lachona were executed by Bulgarian soldiers on their retreat across the Struma river, before the advance of King Constantine's army, it reported today in war dispatches from Salonika. This followed the report that seven hundred Greeks were burned in a mosque near Kiklis by Bulgarian "Irregulars."

Lachona was pillaged and partly destroyed and a number of Greek women were carried off by the retreating Bulgarians. Lachona is thirty-five miles northeast of Salonika and lies near the Southern branch of the Orient railroad.

BELIEVES A LOWER RATE CAN BE MADE

"I stand firm on the principles which I announced as a candidate for the Progressive nomination for mayor," said Will J. Robbins when asked if he favored the city receiving free lighting from the municipal plant.

"It is unfair for the only citizens who get their light from the city plant to pay for the city lights. The expense should be borne by all the citizens alike."

Mr. Robbins stated that all received the benefit of the street lights no difference what company supplied the lights for their homes, and that these street lights were paid for only by the patrons of the city plant.

He believes that if the city paid for its street lighting a lower rate could be made to the patrons of the municipal plant.

PICNIC ON AUGUST 6

The township trustees in session today decided to hold their annual picnic at Jackson park, August 6. The families and relatives of the trustees, with County Superintendent Williams and Secretary Jordan of the Commercial club, ex-superintendent, will attend.

The officials also took up the matter of preparing the township consolidated and township schools for the domestic science departments. The schools will be furnished with equipment by the various township where possible. Other schools which have not the necessary room will be provided with a course similar to the experimental departments in other schools, except that the experiments will not be done. Credits will be given pupils who do the work at home after their cooking and sewing has been approved by the teacher of the school. Corn schools will also be a feature of the new work. Experimental work will be done by boys on land donated by farmers.

OSTEOPATHS MUST SECURE LICENSES

Local osteopaths have been informed by the state board of optometry that they cannot practice optometry unless they obtain a license from the state board. Licensed medical practitioners are allowed by statute to practice optometry without a license from the state board. The licenses granted the osteopaths by the state board of medical registration and examination give only the right to practice osteopathy, the state officials have decided.
