

STORY IS TOLD OF HUERTA ULTIMATUM FOR THE LAST TIME

Special Envoy Lind Saw Huerta at Midnight About The Note.

STRUCK OUT DEMAND

Following Conference With Representatives of the United States.

(National News Association)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The story of how President Huerta sent an ultimatum to the U. S. embassy Monday night demanding immediate recognition of Mexico by the United States was told today for the first time.

President Huerta, in replying to the note from President Wilson offering suggestions for the pacification of Mexico, rejected all President Wilson's proposals and declared that the Mexican regime must be recognized by the U. S. in twelve hours.

The Mexican minister knew the contents of the note, having had a hand in the drafting of it. Acting Foreign Minister Gamboa, objected to the aggressive tone, but the war minister and the minister of the interior thought that the tone of the note was no stronger than the occasion demanded.

Accordingly this note which had all the qualifications of an international ultimatum, was transmitted to Mr. O'Shaughnessy, O'Shaughnessy and Mr. Lind lost no time in breaking the seal. Both were amazed at the tenor of the note and the threat unless the U. S. recognize Mexico.

"I must see President Huerta at once," said Mr. Lind.

Despite the fact the envoy had not been invited to the palace and that it was nearly midnight, Mr. Lind and Mr. O'Shaughnessy jumped into an automobile and hurried to Huerta's palace.

Lights were blazing in the presidential suite. But Huerta was not "at home" in an official sense to the visitors.

O'Shaughnessy was recognized by the sentries at the gate but they turned questioning eyes upon Mr. Lind. "It is official business. We must see the president," declared O'Shaughnessy. They were permitted to enter the visitors' chamber.

Almost at once, the president entered in civilian attire.

Mr. Lind proceeded immediately upon his diplomatic work. He told Huerta of the consequences which must necessarily follow the transmission of the ultimatum to Washington. The hard lines of determination in Huerta's face relaxed as he listened patiently. Huerta paced up and down the room as he said he believed the course of the United States would wreck the Mexican government and that he did not want to plunge his already impoverished country into war.

He finally consented to cut out the demand for recognition, but no amount of persuasion could induce him to alter the balance of the document.

In the meantime Minister Urrutia not knowing that the demand for recognition had been stricken from the reply, informed the newspaper correspondents that an ultimatum had been served and that O'Shaughnessy had been given his passports.

Mr. Lind said today that the international situation was much brighter.

IS FRAMING REPLY.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—President Wilson today studied the full text of the Huerta rejection of the American proposal and is mapping out the reply on which he bases his hope that Mr. Lind's mission to Mexico may be something more than an irrispective move toward peace. The feverish tension of yesterday, following the sensational statement of Senator Urrutia, the Mexican Minister of Interior, that the relations with the United States soon would be broken, banished today and Washington officials now are prepared to accept without undue excitement the next grand stand play of President Huerta.

WHEAT YIELD ON RICH FARM A STATE RECORD

Agricultural Agen Cobb Will Have Farm Hands Appear Before Notary Public to Swear to Facts.

County Agricultural Agent A. D. Cobb stated this morning that he will bring the men who cut, bound and threshed the wheat harvested on the farm of Oscar Rich, northwest of East Haven, before a notary public to swear to the facts concerning the crop and the record sent to the state agricultural department. The crop will be considered as a state record, according to agent Cobb.

The crop of wheat yielded sixty-two and one half bushels per acre. No farm in the state had produced the yield that this farm has per acre this year.

Mr. Cobb said the record was the result of skillful and practical farming on the part of Mr. Rich. Mr. Rich at one time harvested 100 bushels of oats per acre on the same land.

A series of meetings in various parts of the county have been arranged by the agent in the interest of more and better wheat. To assist these meetings Purdue University will send a good speaker and a series of charts showing results of work carried on by the experiment station. These meetings will be scattered in various parts of the county so that all farmers will be able to attend at least one meeting.

Preparation of the seed bed, fertilizers, seed selection and variety will be the subjects of discussion.

The first meeting will be held Tuesday at 9 o'clock on the farm of O. H. Young, two miles north of this city of the Middleboro road. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon a similar meeting will be held at H. R. Robinson's farm between Fountain City and Williamsburg. On Wednesday the meetings will be held at Frank Underhill's farm east of Greensfork, in the morning and at H. B. Mace's near Economy in the afternoon. Thursday the meetings will be held at O. E. Fulghum's in the morning and at W. P. Hunnicutt's farm, southwest of Cambridge City, in the afternoon. On Joe Helm's farm the meeting will be held on Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Mr. Helm lives five miles south of Richmond in Boston township.

MAY FORCE PRISONERS TO WORK ON THE FARM

Commissioners Will Determine Matter From Report Which County Attorney is to Make September 2.

The county commissioners at their meeting September 2, will determine from the report of the county attorney whether or not the inmates of the county jail can be worked out on the county poor farm. The poor farm has been greatly in need of farm labor and according to the plan of the county officials the inmates of the jail will be worked there.

The law specifies that prisoners may be either sent to the county jail, workhouse or similar institutions, for a term to be determined by the mayor or judge of the circuit court.

The county commissioners this afternoon expressed favor toward the project of working the prisoners and Commissioner Beeson said if it is legal the men will be taken from the jail and made to repair the roads. "Hard labor is the only way to keep men from committing petty offenses such as the inmates of the jail are imprisoned for," said Beeson.

DIGGS WILL KNOW HIS FATE TONIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 20.—Maury I. Diggs, holding his little daughter, Evelyn, 4, on his lap, sat beside his wife in Federal Judge Van Fleet's court room today, while attorneys for the government painted word pictures of him as the arch villain of the alleged white slave law violation in the elopement from Sacramento to Reno of Diggs, Marsha Warrington, Drew Caminetti and Lola Norris.

Nervously the defendant in the trial looked about the court chamber. His eyes sought out the face of each of the twelve men who tonight will decide his fate. One of his hands continually stroked the golden curls of the little girl on his knee. He shifted uneasily in his seat as Special Prosecutor Roche, pointing a finger at him, fairly shrieked that he was "hiding behind the skirt of his wife and child."

Left Handed Stone Slingers. The right hand doubtless owes something of its prominence to the Bible. The Hebrews singled it out for special honor, and the Scriptures contain quite a number of references in which "the right hand" is made the type and symbol of everything noble, praiseworthy and desirable. It is worth noting, however, that the tribe of Benjamin once boasted 700 left handed slingers who "could sling stones to a hair's breadth and not miss" and that among the "mighty men and helpers" of King David were many who "could use both the right hand and the left in hurling stones and shooting arrows with the bow."—London Standard.

Plain and Painful Talk. During a senatorial investigation one time Senator Clapp experienced great difficulty in getting some information from a nervous witness.

"Now," said the senator somewhat sharply, "out with it, my man; out with it!"

"If the committee will excuse me," said the lawyer representing the witness, "I do not like the term 'Out with it.' This is not the office of a dentist."—Popular Magazine.

Merely a Matter of Spelling. "Yes," said the very severe maiden lady, "the word 'mule' is only 'male' spelled wrongly."

"I suppose so," responded the crusty bachelor, "but according to the Latin dictionary a woman is 'mulier.'"—Ladies' Home Journal.

CAMPERS OBEDIENT SAYS CHIEF LITTLE

Head of Chautauqua Police Having But Little Trouble.

Patrolman Mort Little, chief of the Chautauqua police force, consisting of six special police and two of the regular force, stated last night that he is pleased to find the people at the camp so obedient and says he is having no trouble in seeing that the laws and the park and chautauqua rules are enforced.

"While there is always some mischief among the younger tent dwellers," said Officer Little, "I find that in the main, they are good people and are lawabiding at heart. There is nothing unlawful going on out here but we are watching the grounds carefully as there are some people who take advantage of the privileges."

OLINGER RETURNED TO INSANE ASYLUM

Man Who Entered Richmond Home Was Missing For Four Year.

R. J. Olinger, who was arrested Monday night after he had entered the home of R. J. Clinger on South Thirtieth street, and stolen 89 cents, then hiding under the bed to escape the police, was sent to the Ohio state insane asylum at Dayton this morning.

The local police believed Olinger insane and telephoned his home in Bradford, O., where it was learned that Olinger had run away. Olinger's brother asked that he be held until asylum authorities arrive to return him to the Ohio institution.

Olinger was gone from home for five years, his brother stated, and the first heard of him was that he was confined in an asylum in Idaho. He was then returned and remained in the Dayton asylum for a short time. He finally secured his release six months ago and has been living at home until he ran away last week. He is a kleptomaniac.

ARE FACTS WITHHELD?

More Evidence. May Ask Committee to Give

(National News Association)
ALBANY, Aug. 20.—If the assembly committee which will outline the course of procedure of the legislature in regard to the impeachment charge against Governor Sulzer, does not believe there is sufficient evidence to bring about the conviction of Mr. Sulzer, the Frawley probe committee will be asked to produce additional facts of a detrimental character, it was learned today.

The committee met for the purpose of considering the facts in the order of their presentation at this meeting it was suggested that the data which is understood to have been withheld by the Frawley committee admitted to the bill of particulars which the senate and court of appeals sitting jointly will consider beginning September 18.

THREE CARLOADS OF ICE ARRIVED HERE

Local Plant is Working Day and Night to Supply Demands.

Three carloads of ice, two from Connorsville and one from Warsaw, arrived here this morning. Another car is expected tomorrow morning from Warsaw and two cars are ordered from Kalamazoo, Mich., besides a carload daily from Connorsville. Officials of the Rettig and Johnson ice company stated today that all of this shipped ice would be disposed of today. "We will fill the refrigerators of the meat markets and then they will not have to be supplied for several days," one official said. "They must have ice to keep their meat from spoiling. In the case of the ice cream dealers and the saloons, where we feel that a necessity is not at stake, we are cutting down the supply. As long as our machinery at the plant remains in good working order no one will suffer from an absence of ice. By working all night we can manufacture a sufficient amount to give each customer a small amount. We are making every effort to supply the demands on us and I don't think that any one will suffer."

Teaching the Child by Pictures. One of the quickest ways in which to put an idea or a story into a child's mind is by means of pictures, and the material available for Sunday school or club work is both excellent in quality and of great variety. There are Bible stories, films on nature study, films illustrating the trades and industries, films dealing with a pure water supply, warfare on flies, mosquitoes and tuberculosis. In the fine arts are films tracing the progress of architecture, lacemaking, pottery, sculpture and painting, while in literature there are presentations of the work of such authors as Shakespeare, Scott, Dickens and others. Travel and history are also shown.—Farm Journal.

MAKE DAILY TRIPS TO THE CITY DUMPS

Chief Orders This to Prevent Spreading of the Flames.

The fire department has made almost daily trips to the dumps around the city, which are on fire. Although these calls have not been in answer to calls, the fire chief wants to keep the dump fire limited to the dumps and prevent any spread of flames to neighboring properties or fields. There is no danger from any of the dump fires but the smoke or smudge is annoying. The fire chief and city officials believe that it is an advantage to have the dumps burn as this will eliminate disease and will keep the amount of refuse down to a minimum.

The dump fires were the results of spontaneous combustion, the dump material below the top layer of refuse becoming heated by the internal impulses until it bursts into a smoldering fire. There is little or no name and the dumps are gradually eaten away by the slow fire.

CRAIGHEAD RETURNS

Norman Craighead, formerly of this city, has returned and will make his home here. He will engage in business at the Ford and Oakland agency in this city at the Bethard garage on Main street. He will be a partner in the business. Louis Craighead and his father, E. W. Craighead, formerly engaged in the electrical business, will open an automobile salesroom in Columbus, Ind. They will handle the Westcott car.

WAS NOT A FIGHT; FRIENDLY EMBRACE

However, Zimmerman and Tiffon are Given Small Fines.

Locked in each others arms in what was supposed by the police to be a fight, Everett Zimmerman and Louis Tiffon were arrested yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Vogelsong at Sixth and Main streets. The men explained that they were merely showing their mutual affection in the embrace and demanded that they be released. They were taken to the city jail. They were fined $1 and costs each in police court for public intoxication. Tiffon paid his fine.

Craig Wadsworth, one of the former celebrities of the kay white way, whose name was included in a list in a letter alleged to have been written by Harry Thaw in 1903. This was taken as proof that Thaw had planned to slay several others besides the famous architect for whose murder he was placed in Matteawan.
