

MAN OF PEACE BUT WANTS STRONG NAVY

Rep. Fess Declares in Delivering Address on the Panama Canal.

"I believe that the future trade route of the world is through the Pacific," said S. D. Fess, M. C., in an address on the significance of the Panama canal, at the Chautauqua yesterday afternoon. "Japan has done things in fifty years past which have made the world take notice. What Japan can do, China can do better. China will be our competitor in the future when her vast resources are opened up she will supply the world, along with the products of India. There is the trade of the world, and the shortest and best route to Europe is through the Panama canal. I believe in a program which will make the nation safe, but I also believe in enough of a navy to patrol our possessions. So I will vote for two modern warships, but I will cast my vote as a peace man. These two vessels will cost $20,000,000. If this money was spent for twenty merchant vessels to take up this trade through the Pacific ocean and the canal, we would start a great merchant marine that would be the best in the world, for over this route will pass the trade of the world."

He Visited Canal Zone.
Mr. Fess was in the canal zone this spring as a delegate from congress to inspect the work. "The first thing that I asked to see was the fortifications, and I saw the guns mounted on an island in front of the entrance, where they could readily protect the canal. We have a right to fortify, we have fortified, and there is no possibility for a foreign vessel to enter against our will," he said.
A very interesting discussion of the construction of the canal was given by Mr. Fess. "No one can have any conception of the stupendous effort which has been put forth there except by a personal visit, no matter how much you may have read on the subject. I met many persons from foreign countries who were there as representatives of their different governments, studying the methods used by our government. They said to me, 'The world is paying tribute to the states for what they are doing.'"

OLD FAVORITES AT LOCAL CHAUTAUQUA

Kellogg-Haines Singing Party Enthusiastically Received Last Night.

Before a crowd of people which practically filled the big tent at the Chautauqua, the Kellogg-Haines singing party made their second appearance in Richmond this season last night, when they rendered musical selections from "Dolly Varden" and staged one act of the comic opera "Lovely Galatea."

The latter scored universal success with the audience, and the former was appreciated to its deserving extent. The singer and actors were enthusiastically applauded, and encores were demanded to various selections.
The one act taken from the comic opera was especially well received by the audience. The lines were light, with witty repartee, and humorous sayings form a large part of the conversation. It appealed to young and old. The cast for this act was as follows:
Pygmalion..... John Eichenberg
Ganymede..... Miss Matzner
Galatea..... Miss Fahlen
Mydas..... Mr. Goldberg
The Kellogg-Haines Singing party has appeared at Chautauquas in this city three consecutive seasons. The members have many personal friends here, and these turned out in large numbers.

DAVIS RESIGNS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Representative Davis of West Virginia, who was named solicitor general of the U. S., tendered his resignation to the house today.

FRENCH FAMILY DINNERS.

People Who Eat Sensibly and Make the Most of Their Food.

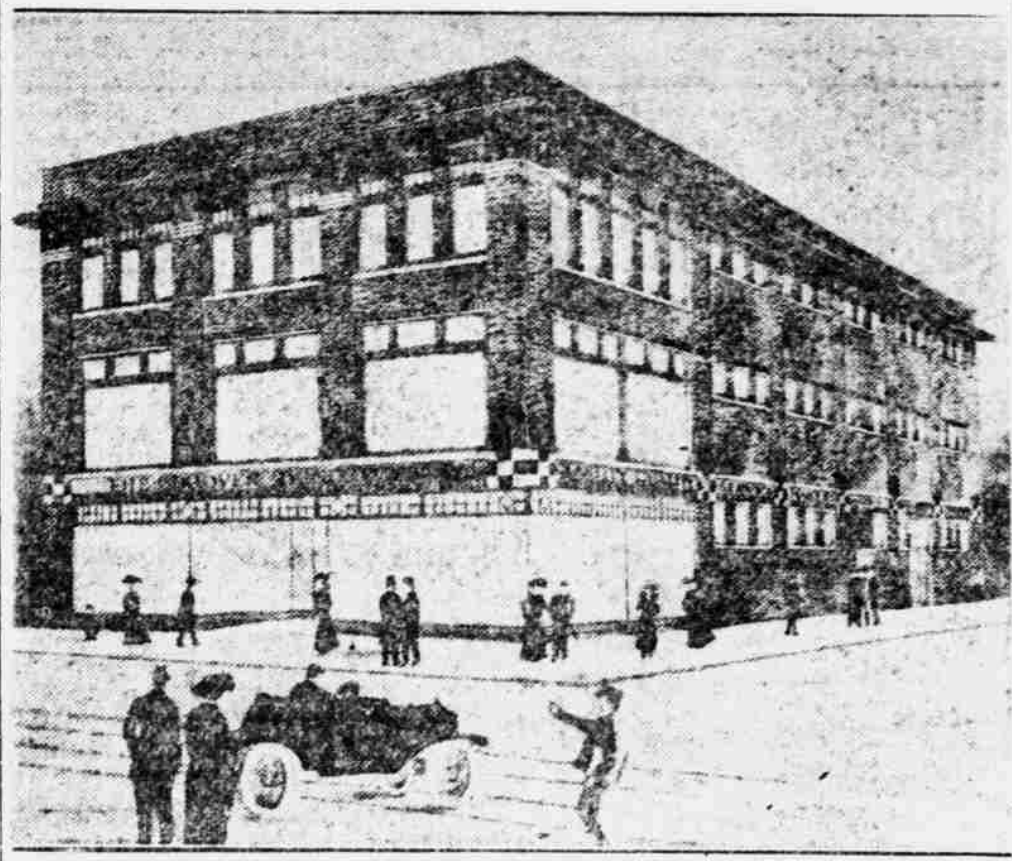

A typical French dinner—not an exceptional one, mark you, but such a dinner as a small tradesman's family would have—is incomparably superior to the plain roast dinner.

There would be, first of all, a few relishes, according to the season of the year. Radishes, ice cold; sardines, olives, caviare. Just a little of each with which to awaken the appetite, then the soup to excite gently the liquids of the throat and stomach, then a little entree—usually a bit of fish with its appropriate vegetable, or a handful of vegetables flavored with meat sauce. Then, and not till then, does the chief course appear.

It may be a roast, or game, or chicken, or chops, but in no case will it be anything which is not in harmony with the previous courses and it will be eaten in moderation, for the edge of the diner's appetite will have been dulled by the lighter foods which have preceded it. With it comes the salad—varied throughout the year by all the possible changes of the season, and never, never by any possibility will it be such a dreadful hybrid as the romaine, strawberry and green pepper thing. After the salad there will be fruit or mellow cheese, and then coffee.

It will take two hours to eat such a dinner, but it will take only half what the typical American dinner costs to pay for it and there will be no indigestion afterward no matter of what the dinner is composed.—Princess Hassan in an interview by Louise Rice in the Delineator.

Realty Deals of Week

Real estate deals did not show up so strong this week as compared to past weeks of summer months. Many small building lots were sold and transferred and a few houses and lots. The sale of farms was at a minimum for the week.

According to opinions expressed by well known real estate men, the work of the Wayne county agricultural extension department will materially and numerically increase the sale of large and small farm lands. Formerly what was considered poor farm land, can now be made to produce crops with careful fertilization in the same year in which a crop of soy beans and alfalfa can be reaped. Naturally this resultant condition increases the sale of hitherto unproductive land by a wide margin.

The largest sale this week was that of a farm of 41½ acres by Harriet Gant to Allen Taylor, one of the finest crop producing properties in the north west section of Wayne county, for a consideration of $4,150.00.

Important Local Deal.
The most important house and lot sale was in the Mendenhall and Price addition, formerly owned by Euphemia Meyer. The premises were sold to Henry A. Kromer of this city for $3,400.00.

John C. Nicholson sold his seven and a half acre farm to Chester C. Life for a consideration of $775.

John C. Hahn sold and conveyed three lots in Hagerstown to W. R. Bowman for $1,600.

Elmer J. Smith sold his lot in the Haynes addition to Ida B. Smith for $1,000.

Harry G. Strickland sold his lot in Centerville to Albert B. Dunbar for $800.

Zori H. Brown sold a lot in Williamsburg to Bessie O. Meadows for $800.

Other transfers were:
George E. Kemper to August F. Kemper lot in Reeveston place addition, consideration $1,000.

Herman E. Johnke to Marie S. Hausman, a lot, consideration $1,000.

Patrick Ennis to Mary Ennis, a lot in Price's second addition, consideration $1,000.

Aside from these sales and transfers no other transfers have been executed. Many deals are pending which will decidedly increase farm holdings, in the next few weeks.

Desirable locations for residence purposes are constantly sought, inquiries multiplying daily.

Funk and Miller report the consummation of an important deal the first of next week.

The average rate of interest still hovers around 5 and 6 per cent on average loans.

Thaw Experiences His First Setback Today

Writ of Habeas Corpus Granted By Canadian Judge Ordering Him Into Court Tuesday—Jerome Jubilantly Says, "Harry Now Is On His Way to Matteawan."

(National News Association)
SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 30.—Judge Hutchinson of the superior court on application of John Boudreau, chief of police of Coaticook, issued a writ for the production of Harry K. Thaw in court next Tuesday to show cause why he should not be immediately discharged from custody.

THAW IS DEFEATED.

SHERBROOKE, Aug. 30.—A fight by which counsel for the Canadian government and the State of New York hope to present further delay in the deportation of Harry Thaw was begun in court here this morning. The writ of habeas corpus secured by ex-District Attorney Jerome, ordering that Thaw be produced in court before Judge Hutchinson at 10 o'clock this morning was the contention about which the battle raged.

Thaw did not go to court at 10 o'clock and his lawyers immediately began fighting to block the attorneys representing the prosecution.

Sent In a Hurry Call.

Attorneys C. D. White and H. B. Frazer, of the Thaw legal army, were in court. They saw that things were serious and telegraphed to Montreal for J. N. Greenfield, another of the Thaw counselors, to come at once. Greenfield had a special train and set out at once to break all speed records between Montreal and Sherbrooke, a distance of 100 miles.

GRAND JURY TODAY FINISHES UP WORK

The grand jury today continued its investigations of the county penal and charitable institutions today after having investigated conditions at the jail yesterday afternoon.

The report will be submitted to Judge Fox Monday, it is expected, as that official was not at the court house this afternoon. The Home for the Friendless and the County Poor Farm were investigated today.

Upon the recommendation of the January term of the grand jury, conditions, so far as the sanitation and safety of the woman's jail at the home were concerned, were improved. The institution was never in better condition than now. The same jury's report on the county jail resulted in improvements being made at the county jail and the infirmary.

No indictments were returned today as Judge Fox ordered the report to be made to include everything the officials had done since their last session.

In the mean time after arguments had been presented the court by Jerome and Jacobs, Judge Hutchinson issued a writ at 11 o'clock, ordering Thaw produced in court at 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning. The government lawyers exhausted every agency to rush the case through today and got Thaw into the hands of the immigration authorities before night. Counsel for Thaw fought bitterly, contesting each step.

The writ issued by Judge Hutchinson was applied for by Chief of Police Boudreau at Coaticook, Quebec, who arrested Thaw on Canadian soil. This was the third habeas corpus proceedings to come into the case.

This was the first setback that Thaw has suffered since he began his fight for liberty and his counsel say that the writ will not hold because of the manner in which it was secured.

On the other hand Jacobs and Jerome were jubilant.

"Harry is just as good as on the way back to Matteawan now," said the former New York district attorney.

Boudreau's application for a writ of habeas corpus, took Thaw's lawyers completely by surprise. It put the constable in the position of a man trying to get the liberty of a man he had put in jail. Thaw's lawyers are contemplating asking that their client be released on bail Tuesday, the day when the Boudreau writ is returnable.

M'DERMOTT BEFORE LOBBY COMMITTEE

(Palladium Special)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Representative J. T. McDermott of Illinois was questioned by the house lobby inquiry committee as to his relations with Washington pawn brokers who, according to previous testimony, loaned him money and were quite friendly with him about the time the loan shark bill was before the house. This bill threatened to drive all pawn brokers here out of business. On today's cross examination depends whether the committee will recommend McDermott's expulsion from the house.

Arrangements have been made to bring the Indianapolis News Boys' band of fifty pieces here for a series of concerts on one of the Festival days. In addition the large Richmond Concert band will give daily concerts. The program also announces the presence of the Beating Concert band, the Teeter Band of Hagerstown, and the Fountain City Band.

Cups for Decorations.

As an inducement to get the business men to decorate their stores, two cups will be awarded for the best decorated buildings, two for the most attractive show windows, and two for the most attractive interiors.

The entries for the Industrial parade which will be an important part of the second day's program have been divided into six classes with appropriate prizes. The classes follow: clothing, dry goods, groceries, miscellaneous, coal and manufactures.

In addition to the premiums offered by the live stock committee, special prizes will be given by Omer Whelan and J. J. Hanes. ## MASON CAR LEAVES COURSE AT ELGIN

DePalma in Mercer Plays for a Sensational Finish.

ELGIN, Ill., Aug. 30.—Ed. Rickenbacher in his Mason car narrowly escaped death when his machine went off the track, overturned and threw the driver and Edward O'Donnell, his mechanic, over the wrecked machine. Both miraculously escaped serious injury but the car was so badly wrecked that it was withdrawn from the race course.

Bob Burman and his Keeton car were out of the race on the Nineteenth lap. His engine collapsed and he was forced to push the car off the course.

When 136 miles had been covered, the race had been between Spencer Wishart and Ralph Mulford for second place. Gil Anderson was holding first place with more than five minutes' lead. At the end of the sixteenth lap he was forced to make his first stop to take on oil and gasoline. Wishart drew up to the Mercer pit at the same time, and Ralph Mulford, who had been running two seconds behind him, rushed into second place.

DePalma Playing Game.
It was apparent that the race of the two Mercer cars was being ordered from the pit. Ralph DePalma who is the present holder of the cup, being raced for today was, not attempting to get all the speed out of his car that was in it. He was laying back more than a lap behind contented to keep the race at a comparatively moderate pace during the early part of the race.

Wishart, his team mate, was setting the pace for the other drivers and compelling Anderson to keep up a pace that taxed his Stutz to the utmost. It was plainly the object of Wishart to have the other drivers exhaust the power of their machines so that DePalma could make a sensational finish.

Ancient Coffins.

The coffins of the ancient Egyptians were made of marble and stone. The Romans used similar receptacles for their dead, and Alexander the Great is said to have been buried in a coffin of solid gold. In parts of England glass coffins have been found. The Athenian heroes were buried in coffins made of cedar, owing to its aromatic and incorruptible qualities, while the first record of wooden coffins in England dates back to the days of King Arthur. This monarch was supposed to have been buried in the hollowed trunk of a gigantic oak tree.

The Lesson of Experience.

"Why?"
"They've been living in the flat above us for two weeks now, and they haven't started to quarrel about each other's relatives yet."—Detroit Free Press.

ALFALFA LECTURE IS NOW ARRANGED

County Agent Cobb Will Give the Farmers Practical Instructions.

Announcement has been made of an alfalfa lecture tour through Wayne county, the middle of September, by the County Agricultural Extension Department.

County Agent Cobb has planned to visit every alfalfa grower in the county on this tour.

The lecturers will leave Richmond in automobiles going from one farm to another, investigating its cultivation. The experience of every alfalfa grower will be given and a discussion of conditions entered into.

Every angle of the cultivation of a future alfalfa crop, will be thoroughly gone over and every effort will be made to persuade the farmers to adopt the best method of growing alfalfa according to soil conditions in his section of the county.

Farmers have benefited by the wheat lectures given in the past week, judging from opinions expressed by prominent farmers in Wayne county, and genuine interest is strongly manifested in the work of the Extension Department.

One hundred and ninety farms were visited this week, covering a distance of 144 miles. On every farm more than the anticipated number of farmers attended the meetings. Charts were used to illustrate the wheat lectures and many questions were asked and answered, imparting valuable information on wheat production in different sections of Wayne county.

The last two wheat lectures were held yesterday morning on the farm of Joseph Holmes, champion corn grower of the United States, and in the afternoon at Beeson Station. Both meetings were attended by thirty-five farmers. The personal and communal interest of all present has greatly encouraged County Agent Cobb for the farmers voluntarily co-operate and good results are obtained from the meetings. Maurice Douglas, wheat lecturer, was well pleased with the week's work and is satisfied that the future crop will be decidedly increased in Wayne county.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO ADVISE EXPERT

To Draw Up An Inventory of the Valuation of Water Works Plant.

Appointment of an expert to draw an inventory of the assets of the Richmond City Water Works will be urged upon the city attorney and the board of public works by the Richmond Commercial club following the report of the waterworks committee at the monthly meeting of the board of directors to be held Monday evening.

The report of the valuation of this company as fixed by the expert will be submitted to the public utilities commission for its consideration, together with the report that will be submitted by the company itself for the use of the commission in fixing the rates that may be charged the citizens of Richmond for water.

While the nature of the report that the company will submit to the commission cannot be foretold, it is thought by many that it will follow closely on the lines marked out by D. B. Maury in checking the accounts of the company four years ago. It is contended by the special committee that the items in this report over-estimate the true assets of the company, so that any supposedly equitable fixed rate would enable the company to earn more than it should on the actual money invested in the business.

Exception is taken by the committee to the former report as it includes the service pipes of the city which connect the mains with buildings, in the list of the property holdings of the company. These pipes, the committee asserts, are the property of the users of the water because they paid for them. These pipes alone are valued at nearly $64,000, less a depreciation of approximately $8,000.

Exception is also taken to the item of the Maury report, which gives a "going concern" valuation of over $110,000 to the company. This covers the cost of duplicating the business the company was enjoying at the time of the report.

Gennett's Comment.

Commenting on the report to be filed by the special committee with the board of directors Monday evening, Henry Gennett stated yesterday that the contemplated action of the committee in urging the appointment of some one to go over the holdings of the company should not be construed as condemnatory of the management of the waterworks, for it was simply desired in order that the Commercial club might possess itself of complete information for submission later to the public utilities commission should it be deemed necessary or desirable to do so.

The idea of having a special appraisal of the property of the waterworks company made was referred by the city attorney and the board of public works to the Commercial club for an expression of its opinion in regard to the desirability of such action. It is estimated that such a report will cost the city $2,000. The Maury report cost $1,900.

Dean George Hodges, of Harvard Theological school, says the world never was socially better than it is now.

TWO INSPECTORS OF SCHOOLS ARE HOME

Advocate Increased Attention to Physical Training of Children.

Increased attention to the physical training of the school children of the city will be recommended by Drs. J. E. King and A. L. Bramkamp, medical inspectors of the city schools who have returned from Detroit where they attended the fourth international convention on school hygiene.

Dr. Bramkamp stated this afternoon that more time was given to a discussion of the necessity of such action than to any other subject. It was the consensus of opinion that a sound body is absolutely necessary before a proper cultivation of the mind can be attempted.

At the present time the teachers of the city schools are giving some little attention to exercises in the school room for the benefit of the pupils. This work will be advanced under the new supervisor of physical training, who will have charge of calisthenics and playground sports.

"The mere examination of school children for the prevention of the spread of communicable diseases is only a small portion of the duties of a medical inspector of schools," said Dr. Bramkamp. "It should embrace the examination of all physical conditions that will even tend to affect the mental efficiency of the child, from physical defects to home surroundings. Some day when the school system of this city is more highly organized we will have a school nurse to assist the medical inspectors in their work."

A PRINTING COURSE

For the High School Is in Prospect.

The Richmond high school has more work along vocational lines than is required by the state law, and more than is found in many other schools, said Superintendent Giles this afternoon. Extended vocational training will not be undertaken in the graded schools for a year or two.

Superintendent Giles and a member of the school board favor the installation of a printing office as a part of the vocational training in the high school. The board is now looking for a good printer to take charge of the plant and give instructions.

Richmond is one of the few high schools that does not publish a paper of some kind, either daily or weekly. With the installation of a plant the students would print a paper, doing all the work themselves, from the preparation of the copy, to the typesetting and press work.

NO WILLS LEFT BY MATHER AND CLARK

Their Estates Will Be Inherited By Their Immediate Families.

Neither the late D. L. Mather, of Richmond, nor Braam W. Clark, of Economy, left a will and their property will be inherited by their immediate families. Mrs. Emma E. Mather will receive, it is estimated, approximately $15,000 and Mrs. Clark and her son, Albert Clark, inheriting the entire Clark estate of approximately $25,000 value.

Mr. Mather did not leave any children.

Both estates will be affected by the inheritance tax law, though neither to any great extent because of the relationship of the decedent to the beneficiaries.

The sum of $10,000 on estates of less than $30,000 is exempt from taxation, in case the decedent leaves a wife. The sum of $2,000 is exempt for every child left by the decedent.

It has not been definitely learned that Mr. Clark did not leave a will, but if he did, it can not be found. No will was left to the knowledge of Elsa D. Clark, of Modoc, Ind., who has been Mr. Clark's guardian for the past five years.
