

CHARITY WORKERS APPEAL FOR HELP

Salvation Army Officer Says
There is Demand for Clothing.

That there will be a great demand for children's clothing during the coming season is the statement of Ensign E. Vandeville, of the Salvation Army. The demand at present is greater than the supply.

Mr. Vandeville stated that there is no unusual amount of hardship in the city now. He has been conducting investigations among the poor and needy of the city and has found that reports of the number of men out of work are false. He stated that only an average number of men are unemployed, some of these because they do not seek employment.

The Salvation army is conducting its investigations along the same lines as formerly but are using different methods. In order to prevent underserving persons from securing help and to assist those who really deserve aid. Ensign Vandeville does not approach a needy family until he has learned from other sources the exact condition of the family.

ALL CHICAGO MAIL LATE IN DELIVERY

Beginning this morning all Chicago mail will be late in delivery in Richmond. By a change in train schedules the morning mail from the Windy City, which formerly arrived here at 4 o'clock, in time for early distribution, will be two hours late, so that it will be impossible to send it out as the carriers make their first rounds.

The cause of the change has not been learned, but it is supposed to have been made at the request of the mail order houses of Chicago, so that the parcels post consignments to this part of the country might be sent out later. Before this the mail order houses were compelled to mail their packages several hours earlier than they desired in order to catch the mails.

The Theatres

"The Haywe" as presented Monday night at the Gennett by the Paul Gilmore Associate players with Frederick Sumner, deserved a packed house. The show was exceptionally good and the cast knew how to present it. This is a play that makes one think and it teaches a lesson that can not be easily forgotten.

The tension existing throughout the entire play is extraordinary and its keen and sound moral purpose, make "The Haywe" one of the most refreshing plays of its time. The story is interesting throughout from the minute the curtain rises until it falls.

The chief characters in the play are Richard Craig, an American railroad man, Kate, his wife, and Paul Hesser, a trusted guest in Craig's home. By mere chance Craig discovers that Hesser has wrecked his home. Instead of shooting Hesser he pretends to accept his cynical views of life and love. Offers to grant his wife a divorce if Hesser will marry her and permit him (Craig) to return a year later and board in the home. The agreement is reached and in the second act Craig turns against his rival the very weapon used to destroy his own happiness. The author employs bitter irony and grim satire in his development of the inevitable consequences that follow the revolt.

The play is in three acts, two of which occur in a New York flat. The third is laid in the general offices of a big railroad company. Jean Elliott, who is seen as Mrs. Kate Craig, is a beautiful woman. Her costumes are attractive. She is especially appealing and refreshing. William E. DeVere as Paul Hesser, was very clever. He interpreted his lines in a noteworthy manner. Frederick Sumner as Richard Craig, was familiar to many as he was seen here last year in "Get Rich Quick Wallingford." He was just as amusing in this production and just as clever as in his last year's vehicle. The play is excellent and deserves a successful season.

STREET STORIES

John L. Rupe, who has been attending the annual meeting of the American Bar association at Montreal, was much impressed with the respect which the lawyers of the continent showed for William H. Taft, ex-president of the United States. Mr. Taft, he said, was the central figure everywhere he went, attracting as much attention as the Canadian Premier, who presided over the sessions.

Invite Former Citizens to Fall Home Coming

The first lot of letters, inviting former citizens to return for the homecoming were sent out by the committee this morning, said Fred White, chairman. The request which the committee made through the newspapers for names of former residents, resulted in a deluge of addresses. In addition the committee had obtained several hundred names, to all of whom letters have been sent.

The committee proposes to bombard the former residents of Richmond with such interesting and attractive literature regarding the Festival and homecoming that they will find it impossible to stay away. On the first day of the Festival, the visitors will be asked to meet at some central location, where automobiles will be provided to take them over the city.

The routes covered by these cars, Mr. White said, would be so arranged as to show the growth the city has made in the last few years, and the principal points of interest.

In the evening a homecoming assembly will be held in the Coliseum, with music by the Richmond concert band, an organization of fifty pieces, which has been rehearsing for several months. Several of the former citizens will be asked to make talks and put on stunts. Mr. White says his committee intends to make the visitors enjoy themselves so much on the first day that they will stay for the entire Festival.

CHINESE SMUGGLING

Systematic Investigation Is to Result.

(National News Association)
CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—A systematic investigation of the smuggling into the United States of girls for immoral purposes, Chinese laborers and opium, was begun over the country today following the revelations contained in a little "Black book of Chinese Secrets" found by the Chicago police in searching for the murderer of Charles Sling. A wealthy Chinese merchant. The contents of the book were kept secret although immigration authorities admitted that they had been told to Anthony Caminetti, commissioner general of immigration and that he had ordered a country-wide investigation.

Treasury officials were given the opium investigation and immigration officers were ordered to look into the importation of Chinese women and men.

A general police alarm was issued today for George Der Norn, Chinese merchant, suspected of the murder of Sling. Mrs. Sling, the white widow of the slain merchant today maintained the silence she has kept since the killing of her husband.

ROOMS RECEIVING ROUGH TREATMENT

The rough usage of the four rooms used as police headquarters in the city building, has necessitated the ordering of a new covering for the lower portion of the wall. Although the walls of these rooms were painted not more than six months ago, the police department, says that the present arrangement is not satisfactory and that unless a heavy wall covering is placed over the lower part of the walls, there will be no plastering left within a short time. Bids for the work of placing Lincolnton on the walls, have been asked for.

COMPLAINTS MADE ABOUT GATHERING OF GARBAGE HERE

The garbage gathering facilities of the city will be investigated by Mayor Zimmerman as the result of complaints which have been made to him. The mayor believes that Richmond is equipped better than other cities of this size along this line.

Four two-horse wagons and two single horse wagons are now used for gathering garbage. The mayor points out that the system of garbage gathering in use in Grand Rapids, Michigan, is cited as one of the best in the country by municipal journals while that city of more than 100,000 inhabitants has only fourteen wagons in use.

The complaints are traced and in many cases found to have come from persons who placed their garbage receptacles away from sight and prevented the garbage men from taking away the contents.

Should the mayor find that the city needs more garbage wagons, he says, he will make an effort to have several more purchased.

WHILE THAW FIGHTS FOR LIBERTY WIFE MAY PLAY IN CITY

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will be in Canada, and probably in the same city with Harry K. Thaw, in case the fight to deport him is long drawn out, and as expected, he is kept in Montreal or released on bail.

Comstock and Gunst have signed a contract with her for 45 weeks at a salary, it is said, of $1,000 a day. She is to appear in Toronto on September 29 for a week and play the following in Montreal in "The Girl in the Green Mask."
