

RICHMOND REPEATS ON RANDOLPH FLOOR

Wayne County Lads Again
Tounce Winchester Quintet
By 28-17.

PLAY STELLAR GAME

Work of Hoover and Ball in Second Period Worthy of Mention.

[By Chalmers Mutchner, Staff Correspondent of Palladium.]

WINCHESTER, Ind., Nov. 22.—In a game replete with fancy floor work by both teams, the Richmond high school quintet last night again defeated the Winchester high school, this time on its own floor, by the score of 28 to 17. On a floor with which they were familiar, the Winchester boys put up a very different game from the half-hearted exhibition they made in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium a week before. Determination to win the contest was written on the faces of the Randolph county lads when they lined up at the first call of the whistle.

During the first half it looked as though they might do it, as neither team during this period was able to establish a lead of more than two points, while the score was tied a greater part of the time. The half ended with the score 12 to 10 in favor of Richmond.

Richmond Tightens Up.
In the second half the Winchester team was able to hold the Richmond quintet to equal terms for just a few minutes, then Director Nohr's scoring machine began to run just a little more smoothly and grew steadily away from its opponents.

In this period the fancy work, before mentioned, was very much in evidence. It became almost commonplace to see a player start under his own basket, dribble the ball the entire length of the floor, and then pass it to a teammate for a clean throw. Winchester in the last half undoubtedly played in ill luck. Many shots from the field missed dropping in the basket by just a hair's breadth, while if a Richmond player shot the ball anywhere near the receptacle it seemed to drop luckily every time.

Show Team Work.
The Winchester boys put up an excellent exhibition of team work. At times it seemed that the team had been overtrained in that line, as the players often hesitated, looking for some one to pass the ball to instead of taking a chance at the basket from a little more difficult angle.

Owing to the cramped dimensions of the floor the Richmond team had little opportunity to work the long passes which they use to advantage. The played well together, but no man overlooked the fact that they were to make scores, and accordingly took a shot at the basket the moment they had an opening.

In the second half Ball brought the crowd to its feet by throwing a sensational field goal from the center of the floor. Ball played an excellent game.

Templins Hands Tied.
Great credit is due Captain Thornburg for the way he guarded Templin, the acting captain of the Winchester team. Although Templin is credited with being a dangerous man he did not score a single point last night. Thornburg got close to him at all times, and when Templin received the ball, the former promptly smothered the Winchester guard.

Quigg was substituted for Meranda in the second half and made a splendid showing, his one field goal being shot from very close quarters. Hart, at guard, was in the game at all times, and in the second half, becoming so impressed with the necessity for action that he worked the ball down the field, receiving it again from Ball and caged a basket. Coats, a Winchester guard, also threw a field goal. Hoover and Meranda gave a satisfactory demonstration of how to play the forward position. There was no weakness or hesitancy in their work. The Winchester forwards were unable to put this spirit into their throws, although the at least equal Richmond in determination.

Winchester Guards Better.
The Winchester guards, Mendenhall and Coats, played a much better game than they did here, paying much more attention to the man they were supposed to guard, and there was none of the easy work for the Richmond forwards, so noticeable here last week.

Stonerock and Bales divided the honors for Winchester. Captain Davis who played a few minutes of the last half in Richmond when he was not in a fit condition to take the floor, did not get into the game at all last night, thus depriving Winchester of the services of one of its most useful players.

The game was remarkably clean. Winchester committed but one foul, while four were chalked up against Richmond.

FIGHT TO SETTLE 5-YEAR'S GRUDGE

Methodists and Quakers
Meet At Greencastle
This Afternoon.

COACH TAKES 15 MEN

During Last Five Years Earlham
Has Won Three
From DePauw.

"Beat DePauw" has more than ordinary meaning to the remnants of the Earlham College football team as the college boys and girls gathered in front of Bundy Hall, yesterday to give the Yellow and White squad the final farewell before the journey to Greencastle. Fifteen members of the squad accompanied by Coach Reagan left the city shortly after 8:30 o'clock.

Today is Earlham's last game. The team has not won a victory for the Yellow and White this year but the Quaker squad hopes against hope to beat DePauw. The weatherman is favoring the Yellow and White squad for today's game is the first and only one that has been played on a dry field. This gives the Quakers as good a chance as Coach Bogle's men.

Will DePauw "Come Back."
During the past five years DePauw and Earlham have met each year. The Yellow and White squad has captured three of those contests to a couple by the Methodists. The 1908 game went to DePauw with a 10-0 score. Earlham "cameback" in 1909 and noosed out a 14-11 score over the Methodists. DePauw captured the 1910 game by a margin of 6 points, the score being 18-12. In 1911 Earlham again "cameback" and shut out the DePauw squad 10 to 0. Last year's game was easily taken by the Yellow and White squad at 12-3. So a five years' grudge must be settled today.

The pickin' chasers making the trip were: Coach Reagan, Capt. Bogue, Calvert, Semler, Kinneman, Wright, Lewis, Lamb, Cox, Thistlethwaite, Stanley, Lancaster, Trueblood, Bowen, Thornton, Mills and Hobbs.

TO THE PUBLIC:

As the time draws near for the natural gas to be turned into the city lines we find that there is more or less confusion as to the manner of using natural gas in the artificial gas appliances now in use. To this we say it can be used satisfactorily by reducing the flow of the natural gas by regulating the valves and opening the air supply if necessary for proper combustion in all gas burning appliances such as ranges, hot plates, Welsbach Lights, etc.

Natural Gas Cannot be Used for Lighting in Open Flame Burners or Tips

If for any reason this adjustment does not give entire satisfaction the Company will have a sufficient corps of men to call and make all proper adjustments. We will make no changes of meters unless we find the meters now in use are not of sufficient capacity and in that event we will make the change without charge to the consumer. Meters will also be installed for new consumers free, as usual.

If prospective users of natural gas will call at our office instead of listening to all the misleading statements now being circulated throughout the city, they will be fully informed as to the real facts and conditions and the matter of deposits will be satisfactorily explained to every one. It is absolutely necessary for all prospective users of natural gas to make application in person promptly, as the gas will be turned in Nov. 25th, barring mishap.
