

CITY CONTEMPLATES PURCHASING FLUSHER

Board Gets Letters From Other Cities Recommending Machine.

WILL BUILD A SEWER

Adopts Resolution for Construction of Morton Park System.

Purchasing of a street flusher as a substitute for the obsolete method of hand sweeping of paved streets, used in Richmond for many years, was considered by the board of public works today. A flusher will cost about $1,000 and it is probable one will not be purchased until next year because of the city's financial condition. Engineer Charles produced a number of letters from various parts of the country, all of which approved of the flushing system as both effective and economical.

One letter was from J. T. Morris, manager of the Municipal Journal, in which he said flushers had given satisfaction in a large number of cities. He said that paved streets would not be damaged by flushing unless the filling was of sand. Local paved streets are filled with tar and concrete.

The street commission of Columbus, O., wrote to Mr. Charles approving of the flushing system. New Castle, Ind., reported its flusher had reduced the cost of street cleaning one-fourth. Davenport, Ia., reported that under the flushing system it cost $2,800 a year for street cleaning against $6,100 a year under the old system.

Suggests Junket Trip.
Mayor Robbins suggested a trip to Newcastle for the inspection of the flusher used there.

No definite action will be taken on this question, however, until it is known whether under the state commission's new regulations for the local water works company it will be possible for the city to secure free water.

The board today adopted a resolution calling for what probably will be the most expensive public improvement of the year, the establishment of the so-called "Morton Park sewer system." This sewer will open a wide territory within the corporation limits and which is expected to be built up rapidly. It will serve the territory from Seventh street to Twenty-fourth street and from the railroad north to the New Paris pike. The estimated cost to the city for this improvement is $5,000. Before final action is taken on the improvement it may go to council.

Routine of Session.
The board adopted a resolution for another sewer between Sheridan and Boyer streets. This will be of no expense to the city.

Petition for walks on both sides of North Third street was submitted and referred to the engineer for plans and estimates.

President Davis of the board announced the appointment of three insurance men, Messrs. Bradbury, Jenkins and Pichling, to assist in the drawing up of an insurance policy for the city.

A resolution for the paving of North Seventh street from A street to Ft. Wayne avenue was adopted. This petition was presented last year but withdrawn. Many of those who at first remonstrated are now said to favor the improvement.

John Duke was awarded a contract for extending the sewer system west of the C. & O. railroad between C and D streets, wrecked by the flood last spring, for $200. The contractor's estimate. The other bidder was F. E. Slick, whose bid was $313.

Pioneer Says Radium and Sun Are Allied in "Cure-Powers"

Recent exploitation of the marvelous curative powers of radium rays has raised Dr. John Ege, who lives in the outskirts of Reading, Pa., from the position of a modest county practitioner to the dignity of one of the greatest medical saviors of mankind.

It has developed that Dr. Ege was one of the first medical men in this country to realize the value of radium rays as an aid to surgery in curing cancer, appendicitis and tuberculosis of the joints.

Dr. Ege is also known to have cured a man's failing sight by application of radium. Poverty has never been a barrier to those who sought treatment from Dr. Ege, and he declares there are scores of his former patients who are enjoying good health today and who would have been in their graves but for the application of radium.

SUFFRAGETS STUMP PRESIDENT WILSON

Demand Unequivocal Reply to Woman's Demand For Ballot.

SIDESTEPS AN ANSWER

Dr. Walker, in Trousers, Denied Admission to Office of Chief Executive.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—President Wilson today again told the suffragets of the United States that he could not help them.

When 400 working girls representing ten states and more than fifty industries called at the White House the President explained to them that he could not take the initiative in endorsing any legislation and that Woman Suffrage would have to be supported by the Democratic party before he would express his view upon it.

While the speakers went inside to interview the president, the rank and file remained waiting outside. Dr. Walker Expelled.
Dr. Mary Walker attired in a silk hat, frock coat and trousers attempted first to get into the president's office as a suffraget and then as a newspaper correspondent, but was refused admission and waiting outside.

A sensational feature occurred when Mrs. Gwendolen Evans, of Boston, virtually accused the President of duplicity in connection with the woman suffrage movement. She told the president that he had almost told the suffragets at Gen. Grant that he favored the woman suffrage movement.

"That was what you told us when you were running for votes,"

President Wilson laughed and said that he wasn't sure that he was running for votes and dodged the inquiry. "I can only speak for my party," said the president.

"But we want you to speak to it," replied Mrs. Evans with applause. "Can't you use your influence. We have always believed you were a square honest man."

This appeal came at the close of the meeting and as the climax of an explanation by President Wilson that regardless of what his personal views were he could do nothing.

President Wilson was apparently taken back by the fervor of the appeal which followed his little speech and made no attempt to respond except to repeat what he already said.

Then Mrs. Evans fairly shouted at him:

"What answer will you let us take back to the women who wait outside."

President Wilson merely contented himself with saying that they understood his attitude.

FORMER STUDENTS TENDER RECEPTION

More Than 600 Men and Women Honor George J. Maier.

Surrounded by more than six hundred former pupils and friends, George J. Maier, veteran parochial school teacher, and his wife, were guests of honor at a reception given in commemoration of their golden wedding anniversary at St. John's hall on South Fourth street yesterday afternoon.

Tears came to the eyes of many when the aged couple was escorted into the hall, and emotion so overcame Mr. Maier that he was forced to cut short his remarks.

After a congratulatory address by the pastor of the congregation, speeches were made by former pupils. C. H. Hasemeler commented that pupils of Mr. Maier need not be ashamed of the training they received, and said that he believed education in the public schools of today was somewhat too general for effectiveness. He also complimented the love for music engendered by Mr. Maier in his pupils.

George H. Eggemeier called attention to the many pupils of Mr. Maier who had passed into the great beyond and recalled scenes from old school days which aroused a responsive chord in the hearts of his former schoolmates.

Many Make Speeches.
Henry Douker said he believed providence had been especially kind to so many pupils to permit them to extend a courtesy to their former teacher.

Speeches were also made by Will Secker, Will Kluter, George Decker, Henry Weisbrodt, Charles Weissbrodt, John Kemper, the Rev. Joseph Beck, Mrs. Quatz and Mrs. Stauber. At the suggestion of Mrs. Will Weisbrodt, pupils joined in singing German songs taught them years ago by Mr. Maier. Children from the Wernle Orphans' Home sang a number of songs. Other music was furnished by St. John's choir and orchestra. Refreshments were served by the Ladies Aid society. Mr. and Mrs. Maier were presented with a substantial monetary gift.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our most sincere thanks for the expressions of sympathy and for the flowers sent us during the sickness and death of our daughter and sister, Anna Rauch. MRS. RAUSCH AND FAMILY.

RUMELY COMPANY ADDS 40 TO FORCE

Pay Roll of Local Plant is Said to Be Close to Two Hundred.

Thirty or forty additional men were given employment in the foundry of the local Rumely company factory today and the payroll is now close to two hundred, it is said. Prior to the first of this year less than twenty-five men were employed at the big shops. It is understood that the factory has received from the general offices a large order for engines and separators and is anticipating additional orders and it is probable that the force will be further increased before the close of the month. Several of the moulders who formerly were employed under the Gaar-Scott management but have been working in other factories of late are returning to the Rumely shops.
