QUAKERS TO FIGHT FOR SECOND PLACE

Franklin Games Here Friday Will End 1913-14 Season for Earlham.

Second place in the secondary race will be at stake Friday night when "Abe" Rowes' Earlham basketball teamers line up against Thurber's crew of Franklinites, at the Coliseum, in the final contest of the season.

Wabash now occupies undisputed possession of the top rung of the secondary ladder, with Earlham, Rose Poly and Franklin each having a hold on the second rung. A victory over Franklin Friday night would leave the Quakers in sole possession of the second place, with Franklin and Rose claiming third, Hanover and State Normal bringing up the rear.

Franklin has caused other secondary schools to sit up and take notice in the last three weeks, wallowing the Rose Poly outfit and holding the Wabash champs to a 20-19 score.

Earlham beat Franklin in the early part of the season by a 20-15 count and hopes to repeat the trick. The Quakers are none the worse for the Wabash battle and with a week of hard practicing should round into fit enough condition to give the invaders a good drubbing at the same time coping second honors in the race.

MURRAYS PREPARE TO ARRANGE GAMES

Fast Semi-Pro Team Desires Bookings With Clubs of Other Cities.

The Richmond Murrys, one of the fastest semi-pro nines in the city last season, will take the field again this spring with practically the same lineup that made the record of that team last summer. The management has already made bookings for the coming season and will meet some of the best amateur nines in this section.

The Murrys will play their first game at Xenia, Ohio, in the latter part of April. Some of the other semi-pro teams that will be met by the local club are Piqua, Anderson, New Castle, Muncie and Danville. The club will likely furnish the Richmond nine with several practice games, before the opening of the regular season.

The lineup of the Murrys is intact with the exception of a pitcher. The management of the club would like to hear from some fast fingers of the city who desire to try out for this position on the team. Teams wanting bookings for the coming season address John W. Taggart, American Seeding Machine Company.

PLAN IMPROVEMENTS AT BASEBALL PARK

If the plans of the backers of the Richmond ball club materialize, local fans will have the opportunity of supporting a club that will be up to date in every respect. Not only do the directors of the organization intend to put the fastest nine obtainable in the field, but other departments of the game will not be overlooked.

Among the improvements contemplated, is an up to date score board that will furnish fans with scores of the big leagues, hot off the wire. This plan is now under consideration by the management of the club and it is expected that it will be carried out.

Improvements at the grounds will start soon. Ditches that line the outfield fence in the right field, and the miniature hills and valley that have caused garden men trouble in the past will be graded. The diamond will be put in shape and the stands overhauled before the opening of the season in April.

CENTERVILLE HOPES TO WIN BIG MEET

Prepares for State Basketball Tourney at Indiana University, March 13 and 14.

CENTERVILLE, Ind., March 3.—The Centerville high school basketball team is working hard in preparation for the Indiana high meet to be held at Bloomington, at the Indiana University gymnasium, March 13 and 14.

Centerville hopes to make a better showing in the meet this year than last, as the team has been going at a far better gait this season. The local five was eliminated in the meet last year by the Thorntown outfit by a close score, but does not expect to have much trouble in taking the preliminaries this time.

Steele and Stivers, of Dayton, Richmond, Thornton, Shelbyville and Fairland, are some of the teams that have gone down before the locals and Centerville bids fair to be a big contender in deciding the state championship of 1914.

HOOSIERS TO PLAY FOUNTAIN CITY FIVE

An interesting battle is billed for tomorrow night when the American Seeding Machine basketball team meets the Fountain City Independents at the "Y" Gym.

The Seeders have been going at a lively clip since holding the strong "Y" machine to a low score and are confident of taking the number of the up-country quintet.

The Independents, on the other hand, are equally certain of coping in the game, as that team will be reinforced by a couple of Hudson stars, who, with the remaining men that have seen service on college teams, ought to give the Hoosiers a run for their money.

SPORT JABS

A large sale of shoestrings has been reported ever since Mister Murphy announced that he commenced proceedings with such a simple commodity and "ran it up to a million."

Folk are so busy now slipping sympathy to Henny O'Day, of the Cubs, and Charles Herzog, of the Reds, that they have overlooked the recruit Athletic infielders. Can anyone have a tougher job than attempting to depose Messrs. McInnes, Collins, Barry and Baker?

"What'll Ty Cobb do with the mace this season?" is a question random is asking just now. Ty himself isn't making any predictions. You see he hasn't had a chance, as yet, to lamp the doings of the man who intends to give him a race for batting leadership.

But it's a cinch bet that when the 1914 returns are in they will show Ty leading his nearest rival by a comfortable margin whether his rival bats .330 or .500. Ty's habit in the past has been to "see" the other gent's efforts and then go him a number of points better.

MORE TOWELS USED IN SUMMER

To substantiate the theory that boys are often more neglectful about bathing in the winter than during the spring, summer and fall, one only has to confer with Y. M. C. A. officials as to the number of towels used during the months when ice supplants dust. Even with the old slavic conditions when young men had to thaw out the old galvanized tub and then put it on the stove to melt the ice far removed, and now the white enameled swimming pool and the showers the boys don't seem to fall in line for increased number of baths.

Y. M. C. A. officials look with inquisitive eyes at their apparent dilemma, for there is the gurgling, boiling aqua pura standing in the pipes in the bathroom ready to be liberated at the mere turning of a small wheel.
