

WAYNE WORKS DROPS GAME TO ROBINSONS

Founders Hold Track Meet on Paths in Commercial League Contest Piling Up a 20-6 Count.

RUN WILD IN THIRD

The Robinson Founders trimmed the Wayne Works nine, 20-6, last night at the Y gym. The result of the game ties the Founders with the Wayne Works and the two other nines for second position in the commercial race.

The Robinson victory was largely due to the stellar battery work of Newby and Creager, combined with the backing given by the infielders. Newby had the Wayne bunch eating out of his hand at all times, and never let his opponents get dangerous. The few connections that his opponents did make with the horsehide were scooped up by the infield men.

Light in First. Neither team counted in the first inning, but the Wayne men opened up in the second. H. Gray started things by hitting the pail for a safe one; Miller followed suit and Bailey came to the front with a timely swing that put two runners across the pan. Bailey scored a moment later on an infield error, giving the Wayne crew a three-run lead.

Robinson started the fireworks in the third frame. Sixteen base hits for a total of thirteen runs were garnered in this stanza. The batting list worked around twice in this inning and every man on the team broke into the box score with a couple of hits or a run or two. The inning closed when Robinson was thrown out at first by Zeyen.

In the remaining frames the Founders counted seven times while the Wayne crowd added a trio of runs to their score. Newby, Smith and Brose led the attack for the winners with four bingles each. Score:

Herzog Has Work Cut Out For Him As "Red" Leader

Followers of the national game agree that Charley Herzog, the former Giant, has a big job cut out for him in developing a team that will land the Cincinnati bunch in the first division. Herzog is confident that his men will spring the surprise of the major organization this spring.

WEATHER HANDICAPS REAGAN'S HOPEFULS

Earlham Coach Has Wealth of Material But Soggy Grounds Hold Up Much Needed Practice.

BUTLER OPENS HERE

With the opening game of the season with Butler only two weeks distant, Coach Reagan is far from satisfied with the work of the Earlham team. Weather conditions have made practice on the diamond an impossibility, and only scant fielding has been possible.

Another thing that will hold back the development of the nine is that most members of the squad have left on their spring vacation. This means that the full nine will not be together again before next Wednesday, giving the team but one week's work before the game.

Reagan is, however, satisfied with the material on hand, and if weather permits rounding the men into shape, expects to have a team the equal of which will not be met in the secondary ranks of the state. The coach has plenty of material for the infield and outfield positions and a pair of good backstop men.

Battery a Question. The battery is the only question bothering the leader. Evans, who was expected to return to school this year, has failed to show up, and his loss will be felt by the team. Of the other mound men that look good, Wallace seems to be the one best bet. He has had some experience in the game and should develop into a first-rater. Little, Bakmeier and Davis should round into good flingers to do relief work for Wallace. Bogue will work behind the bat.

The infield looks strong. Kemper practically has the initial sack cinched, while Ross Williams will be seen at his regular stand at the keystone sack. In Logan, the youngster, who made such a hit on the basketball team, Earlham will have a shortstop that will rank with any in the collegiate ranks of the state. He is a sure fielder, and can clout with a consistency that bids fair to place him at the top of the batting order of the team. Third base has not been decided, as a host of good men aspire for the place.

Just who will hold down the fielding points has not been settled, although Zack Stanley and Hobbs seem sure of their berths in left and center field, respectively. Stanley has been on the nine for several years, and

BULL DURHAM GETS BACK INTO CLOUTING

Will Wield Willow for Oshkosh Club of Wisconsin-Illinois League.

"Bull" Durham, who performed on the old Richmond I.O. circuit, and working up a reputation as being the champ home-run clouter of the bushes, will be seen this year with the Oshkosh club of the Wisconsin-Illinois league.

Durham holds the record of the number of circuit smashes poled in that organization last season, although not hitting at his old-time pace. While performing on the Richmond team in the days of the I-O, Durham was the nightmare of the pitchers and fielders.

"Bull" is anxious for the season's opening, as he wants to get in trim again. A season's loafing has done the former light no good, and he feels anxious to cavort in the fields again to work off a superfluity of fat that has collected since the close of activities last fall.

much is expected from him this season. Hobbs, who is trying for the center garden, is a freshman, but the class he has been shown in the early workouts ranks him as a man to be watched. He is one of the fastest men on the team and can field like a leaguer.

Other candidates are showing up good in practice. They are Cox, Bowen, Leonard, Hurst, Mills, Wildman, Doggett, Fischer and Hodap. Cox is a local boy who has had experience in the game and should make good.

DAVIS BIG STICKER

The A. S. M. company nine walloped the National Tool company last night by a 22-4 count. The result of this game puts the Seeders in the initial position in the race and classes that team as the most likely contender for the Commercial rag.

The Seeders performed in big league style, never giving the Toolmakers a chance for the big end of the score. Every man of the Hoosier bunch crossed the pan and hit the leather from one to five times. G. Davis led the artillery work with five bingles out of as many times up.

Hoosiers Get Busy. Neither side counted in the first round, although the Hoosier bunch saved four across the pan in the second session. A couple of timely biffs contributed by O. Davis, Clements, Diggs and Bosworth doing the trick. G. Davis added another marker before the period closed.

From this point on the Seeders seemed to take more interest in the proceedings with the result that every round saw the score growing at a steady clip. In the fourth stanza the Hoosier crew added four runs to their total, while five more came across the pan in the fifth frame.

The Natcos were dangerous in but one round, the third. The Toolmakers got to the delivery of Davis this session for their first hits of the game. Lavenstein hit safely and romped home on a two-base swing donated by Yedding. A base on balls and a biff from Hockett brought home the other scores.
